UAW Will Drive For Negotiations With Ford Next

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther, with a Chrysler agreement which he estimated to be worth 54 cents an hour over the next three years, will begin a drive at Ford Motor Co. Friday for the equivalent or better.

From Ford, Reuther said he would proceed to General Motors Corp.

The union is expected to demand the same pattern — including a possible pension in 1965 of up to $400 a month at age 60 — from American Motors Corp., scores of supplier plants and the agricultural implement industry.

The Big Three of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler employ more than a half million

Crime Rate in Springs Rises 18.3 Per Cent

Crime so far this year in Colorado Springs has increased 18.3 per cent over the same period in 1963, compared with a nationwide increase of 15 per cent, reports Police Chief Cecil J. McKissick.

There were 1,618 major, or part 1 offenses, known to police during the first eight months of this year compared with 1,368 for the same period in 1963.

The police chief noted there have been sharp increases in aggravated assaults, auto thefts, robbery, burglary and larceny cases under $50 in value.

On the other side of the crime picture, there have been less manslaughter cases and larceny involving $50 and over. The same number of rape cases, six, have been reported this year as last.

McKissick said there were 33 robberies this year compared with 25 last year, the increase being about 32 per cent.

Aggravated assaults have jumped 340 per cent from 10 cases last year to 34 so far in 1964.

Burglaries have jumped 24.4 per cent with 336 such cases reported so far in 1964 and only 270 for the same period in 1963.

The auto theft increase has been 47.1 per cent as there have been 128 cases this year compared with 87 for the same period in 1963.

Political Payoff Probe in Baker Case Reopened

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate investigation of an alleged $35,000 political payoff by Matthew H. McCloskey, former ambassador and Democratic fund raiser, was in the making today in a revival of the stormy Bobby Baker case.

But Democrats and Republicans were divided over whether the probe should be conducted by the Senate Rules Committee or the Government Operations Committee.

A Senate vote late in the day was in prospect.

The Democratic leadership threw its weight behind a resolution to turn the job over to the Rules Committee, which Republicans have accused of whitewashing an investigation into Baker's money-making deals while he was secretary to the ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Dora smashed at St. Augustine and Jacksonville today, devastating a vast area with a 10-foot tide and 100-mile-plus winds.

The massive storm, tormenting 100,000 square miles of land and sea, sent gales whistling all the way to South Carolina and battered Brunswick, Ga., with 65-mile gusts.

Unofficial estimates put damage so far in the tens of millions.

Water flowed hip deep in the ancient Slave Market Square in the heart of this picturesque city of 15,000, the nation's oldest.

Giant old oaks that have weathered tempests through the centuries were uprooted. Most streets were inundated. Power was out.

In Jacksonville — a city of 250,000 with a modern, gleaming skyline — homes were unroofed, streets flooded, power lines, poles and trees tossed to the ground in a tangle.

Where tides did not reach to damage buildings, torrential rains lashed by the shrieking, moaning winds did. Hundreds of homes had wind-driven rain on their floors.

Shortly after daybreak, Dora was centered about 30 miles southwest of downtown Jacksonville, moving erratically toward the west of west-northwest at seven miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau advised that more battering was to come.

Rains of 10 to 15 inches were predicted for the rest of northern Florida and southeastern Georgia, producing flooding in rivers and streams, some severe.

Hurricane warnings flew as far as Charleston, S.C., with gale warnings up to Myrtle Beach, S.C., and along the Gulf coast of Florida from Sarasota to Apalachicola.

"We think the storm will go up through the center of Georgia," said a forecaster at the National Hurricane Center in Miami. "That would take some of the steam out of it."

When Dora's calm eye finally pressed ashore, St. Augustine and Jacksonville Beach already had been hammered by hurricane-force winds, slashing rain and huge waves for more than 12 hours.

This morning, the hurricane's tide pushed the waters of the St. Johns River over its banks into a residential area in the middle of Jacksonville.

National Guard trucks were dispatched to the area to remove residents.

St. Augustine's water supply was low, causing a critical problem at shelters housing evacuees. The storm shut down pumps used by the water utility.

"My big problem is deciding whether to let these people out of shelters," said Civil Defense Director Fred Willis. "I've got no water pressure in the shelters. We can't flush the toilets."

An estimated 50,000 persons fled the northeast Florida coastline as Dora approached Wednesday. Other thousands left their homes for higher ground in Georgia and South Carolina.

Dora was a nightmare at Jacksonville Beach, 35 miles to the north. Pounded by hurricane force winds and crashing waves, the seawall began to crumble.

Floodwaters swirled three or four blocks from the beach and ran in some streets like small rivers. Live wires hissed like snakes.

The top of a 47-year-old hotel was destroyed. The roof was ripped from a motel. The living room of a home was swept away. Flood waters sucked at the foundations of other buildings.

Twelve hundred refugees from the storm tried to sleep on the floor of a high school gym as rain swept in through broken windows.

Store windows were smashed at mainland Jacksonville, 18 miles from the beach. Police reported some looting. At least three men were arrested.

Power was out to 92 per cent of the city. Trees were bowled over and minor debris littered the streets.

Most of the power was also

Water Level in Reservoirs Drop 2.5 Per Cent

Water levels in Colorado Springs storage reservoirs dropped 2.5 per cent during the last week because of hot weather and heavy usage.

City Water Superintendent Jack A. McCullough said reservoirs were 54 per cent of capacity Tuesday with 5.6 billion gallons.

This compares with 56.5 per cent and 5.8 billion gallons in storage Aug. 31. Reservoirs contained 5.9 billion gallons in storage Aug. 10 and again on Aug. 17.

Usage Sept. 2 soared to 54.3 million gallons and was nearly 50 million gallons two days later. Low usage day during the period was Aug. 30 with 31.8 million gallons.

Water levels in reservoirs would have dropped considerably without substantial amounts of water from three well sources: Cherokee, Clear Springs and Venetucci.

McCullough has repeatedly urged customers during the past few weeks to conserve water whenever and wherever possible and to adhere to sprinkling regulations.

PICKETS KILLED—The bodies of two NFO pickets are shown in roadway leading to Equity Livestock Co-op at Bonduel, near Green Bay, Wis., after the men were struck and killed by a cattle truck attempting to enter the co-op. The NFO has been engaged in an organized drive to withhold livestock from markets. The victims were identified as Howard Falk, 64, and Melvin L. Cummings, 44. Three other pickets were injured. The truck driver, Ivan Mueller, 40, was taken into custody and transferred to the Shawano County jail. (AP Wirephoto)

Killing of Two Men Halts Farm Market Boycott

BONDUEL, Wis. (AP) — The deaths of two National Farmers Organization members under the wheels of a heavy truck and the cries of other demonstrators that the driver be lynched have brought a truce in the Wisconsin part of a campaign to withhold livestock from market.

Gov. John W. Reynolds said Wednesday night that Oren Lee Staley, national NFO president, had ordered cancellation of all Wisconsin demonstrations pending a meeting in the governor's office Friday.

Staley has agreed to attend the meeting, according to Reynolds, who said the meeting was called "to discuss the manner and method by which the NFO can properly conduct its holding action and demonstrations.

In a statement announcing the conference, Reynolds referred to the deaths Wednesday as "the senseless shedding of blood." He said "acts of violence will not be permitted within the state of Wisconsin."

Staley said at NFO headquarters in Corning, Iowa, that the deaths were tragic. He added "they should serve as a symbol for greater effort on the part of farmers in an orderly and determined manner to price their products at the market place.

The two NFO members were killed when a cattle truck lurched forward as hundreds of angry demonstrators attempted to block the entry to yards of the Equity Cooperative Livestock Sales Association in this northeastern Wisconsin community.

Killed were Howard Falk, 64, of rural Bonduel, and Melvin L. Cummings, 43, of rural Antico.

The truck was driven by Ivan Mueller, 40, of Cecil, an independent trucker who hauls livestock for farmers under contract. Authorities said he held a pistol in his hand as officers pulled him through the angry crowd.

Mueller was charged with homicide by reckless conduct, a charge carrying a maximum penalty of a fine up to $2,500 and up to five years in jail. He was held in the Shawano County jail under extra police precautions.

Roger Robson, Equity manager, said that after the accident the crowd surged after the truck shouting, "Lynch him! Kill him! Let's string him up."

The deaths were the first recorded in the NFO withholding campaign, launched Aug. 19 in 23 states.

The NFO seeks higher prices for farmers through marketing contracts with livestock buyers and meat processors. It wants a basic price for farmers of $32.45 per hundredweight on cattle, $22.75 a hundred on hogs and $29.45 a hundred on sheep. Choice steers sold at $24 to $26 a hundred in Chicago on the day the holding action was launched. Choice steers were quoted at $28 on the same market Wednesday.

Enrollment in Dist. 11 Exceeds All Predictions

Enrollment in Colorado Springs District 11 schools is exceeding all growth predictions, School Superintendent Thomas Doherty reported this morning.

"We'll have to hire a few more teachers," said the administrator of the largest school system in El Paso County.

At the end of the first day of school Wednesday, Doherty said 24,942 youngsters had been enrolled.

This was a 2,279 increase over the first day of school last year when 22,663 youngsters showed for classes.

Statistically, Doherty said, the enrollment increase was 1,402 at the elementary level, 427, junior high; and 450 senior high.

He said that District 11 statisticians had predicted an enrollment increase of only 1,800 for the first day of school.

Doherty predicted that another 600 to 800 students will enroll in the school by the end of the next month. "Then we'll reach our peak enrollment," he said.

He called the two high schools "quite crowded" but said that other school facilities were not overtaken by the increased enrollment."

To handle the expected increase, District 11 opened two elementary schools and a junior high school this fall and added to five existing schools.

GOP Announces 'Meet Miller' Event in Denver

Vice Presidential Candidate William Miller will arrive in Denver Tuesday, September 15, to address a state-wide Republican dinner at the Grand Ballroom of the Hilton Hotel.

State Chairman Paul Wolf announced in Denver that "Rep. Miller's special Lockheed airplane will arrive between 3:00 and 4:00 p.m. at Stapleton Field. He will then proceed to the Hilton Hotel where the dinner will take place at 7:00 p.m. This will kick off the National Republican campaign activities in our State and a large turnout is anticipated. Miller will depart later that evening."

Wolf also said, "The 'Meet Miller' dinner will be sponsored jointly by the Republican State Central Committee and the Colorado Federation of Republican Women."

Mrs. Mabelle Darrow of Glenwood Springs, President of the Federation, added "We are happy to participate in this gala event and look forward to wide support from our clubs throughout the State."

Mrs. Fletcher Swan, Colorado National Committeewoman, acting as liaison between the two sponsoring groups, announced that tickets to the Miller dinner can be obtained throughout the State by contacting Republican County organizations or Republican Women's Clubs.

Tickets for the dinner may be

Arthur B. Fannin Appointed to Manitou Council

By JOHN KUGLIN
Gazette Telegraph Staff Writer

The vacancy on the Manitou Springs City Council caused by the resignation of Floyd Lee Aug. 5 was filled Wednesday when the council appointed Arthur B. Fannin to the job.

"I hope I can do a good job," said Fannin, who is in the real estate business and served a full two-year term on the city council from 1958 to 1960.

While on the council he was chairman of the water and sewer committee. Fannin said he had not been appointed to any Council Committees. Councilman William Cochran, chairman of the street committee, has been temporary chairman

Trailer Court Residents Plan Street Blockade

Residents of Three Lakes Trailer Court plan a blockade Monday at the South 8th Street and Cimarron Street intersection.

This decision was made this morning, according to Mrs. Mary Langdon, one of three mothers living in the trailer court who are leading a protest movement about the lack of pedestrian safety provisions at this crossing.

Mrs. Langdon, along with Mrs. Byron Moffat and Mrs. Roger Bishop, were the guiding force Wednesday night at a meeting held by residents of the trailer court, and interested persons from the neighboring courts, A-1 Village, 8th Street Court, and Western View.

Residents drew up a petition Wednesday night demanding that four options be accepted: a crosswalk, overpass, push button signal, or a safety patrol operated by either the city, county or the state.

Mrs. Langdon said this morning the petitions will be submitted to the City Council, the County Commissioners, the state and District 11 School Board.

She said approximately 100 children are involved who attend Washington School, West Junior High School, and Palmer High School. She said she and the other two women had got-

71-Year-Old Conquers Pacific Ocean With Raft

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — William Willis has proved once again that an old man can beat the sea.

The 71-year-old American adventurer completed a 10,000-mile two-stage solo trip across the Pacific on a raft Wednesday. He said the exploit nearly killed him.

"I was at the point of death many times," the bearded New Yorker reported after he beached his raft Age Unlimited at Tully, 1,150 miles north of Brisbane. He had set out from Peru on July 4, 1963.

"I came in on my last set of nerves," said Willis.

"The weather was extremely bad and I had many catastrophes. I think a vertebra in my back is broken."

Willis, who sailed from Peru to Samoa on a balsa raft in 1954, started his second transpacific voyage last year "to show that a man past 65 is still in the running if he wants to be."

For his second trip he used a steel raft 33 by 18 feet, equipped with three self-sealing pontoons, one fore and two aft. With a hand-cranked radio transmitter he occasionally was able to communicate with passing ships.

When his rudder was smashed off Samoa last November, he went home to New York while repairs were made. He flew back to Samoa in June and resumed his voyage.

He injured his back Aug. 6 off the New Hebrides.

"I was taking in sail when the ropes on a block gave way," he reported. "The ropes were rotten. I crashed into an iron jib boom and hurt my back.

"I had two sails up and was unable to take them down. One, the mainsail, was ripped to pieces. I was able to crawl to my cabin to get food and water."

For six days, Willis said, he was paralyzed from the waist down. To keep from being washed overboard by the pounding seas, he lashed himself to the deck.

In this condition he took pictures of himself by movie and still cameras, to show doctors and use on lecture tours.

Disaster nearly struck again as he neared the Great Barrier Reef off the northeast coast of Australia.

"The weather was bad and I had a terrible struggle. I had only charts for Brisbane and Sydney and had to rely on

Board Proposes Expansion of AFA Facilities

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received recommendations that the Army and Air Force be provided with bigger and better cadet academies at West Point and Colorado Springs.

The White House said today Johnson has received 1964 reports from Boards of Visitors that study facilities at the two institutions.

The Military Academy Board urged that consideration be given to completing expansion of the West Point campus in five years, rather than 8½ to 10 years as now planned.

The board that visited the Air Force Academy in Colorado recommended that additional facilities be built to permit an orderly increase in cadet strength from 2,529 to 4,417 by 1972.

In addition, it was suggested that efforts be continued to provide the academy with an airport "suitable for modern primary training aircraft."

Tailors Complain About New 'Middle-Sex' Styles

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP) — The voice of British tailoring complained today that it's getting harder and harder to distinguish between the British male and the British female.

What with long hair on the men and pants on the women, it said, a new sex seems to be emerging — "middle-sex."

The complaint came from Tailor and Cutter, weekly organ of the British clothing industry.

Its editorial said: "Where once the trade was clearly defined into men's and women's sections, the advent of this growing army of twilight boys and girls is inducing a kind of industrial schizophrenia.

"Designers of both types of clothing are poaching unforgiveably on the styles of each other.

"The main hope must be for the evolution of an entirely different style of ensemble for the new phenomena and a new branch of the industry to supply it.

"The gentlemen's tailor and the ladies' tailor could be supplemented by the don't knows' tailor.

"Then these weird unrecognizable lads and their equally formidable female equivalents could be usefully catered for in sympathetic surroundings."

Hardy Amies, one of the queen's dress designers, made a bid Wednesday to deck the male in gaudier plumage. At a showing of male fashions he displayed dinner jackets in royal blue or gold and skintight black pants tucked into knee-length boots.

For day wear, Amies went strong on buttons. Jackets had four and sometimes five; waistcoats at least five.

Elsewhere in London, 20 husky six-footers appeared in blazers, club ties and skirts. It was the Fiji Islands football team, arriving in national dress for their first British tour.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Did you ever try to find a blown-out fuse in the box, when the fuse box is in the cellar or some other far-off place? If you are alone in the house, it might mean endless trips, running back and forth, to see if you have found the culprit.

I solved this problem by connecting my vacuum cleaner, "turned on," to the dead outlet. Then when I found which fuse had blown out and had replaced it with a good one, I could hear the noise of the vacuum cleaner! —E. P. A.

Gal, go to the head of the class!

The light really went on when you got this idea. A million thanks for sharing this hint. Have you any idea how many fuses go out right here? —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have a tip for those who do not have contour mattress pads.

I sewed a strip of material along each side of my mattress pad and tuck the strips between the box spring and mattress. No more slipping pads. —B. K.

Dear Heloise:

Here is my idea for making hamburger patties:

I divide a pound of hamburger into six or eight balls, put each one in a waxed-paper sandwich bag, then roll them to the desired thickness with my rolling pin!

I fold the top end of the bags under, and stack and freeze the patties.

These little individual packages are easily separated when sack off the patty, and grill or fry away. —Zelma Campbell

Dear Heloise:

To keep tubular, steel chair legs from cutting through the rubber or plastic tips, insert a metal washer in the caster tips before putting them on the chair legs.

Make sure the washer is the right size to cover the edge of the tubular steel.

The washers will make the tips last longer and also protect the floors and rugs. —L. Kersey

Dear Heloise:

For those who have little ones who are at the age of throwing their bottles out of the crib, here is what I did:

Using my five-year-old's unmatched socks, I cut off the foot, seamed the leg part on one end, and slid the bottle inside.

These covers prevent dents or scratches on floors, eliminate some of the noise when the bottle hits the floor, save on bottles . . . and they look cute, too! —Mrs. C. Payne

Dear Heloise:

I have found that two cement building blocks, placed one on top of the other (so that the holes are vertical), make an excellent holder for mops, brooms, shovels, rakes, etc., on the back porch or in the utility room.

One can put two or three implements in each of the holes.

This way you can easily pick out what you want to use; also the cost is practically nil. —Dorothy Wilhelm

Dear Heloise:

We keep a bank in the kitchen and encourage all members of the family to make small, regular contributions.

When a birthday or anniversary rolls around, we use the accumulated money for gifts. This makes it possible to buy a nicer present than any one person could manage by himself.

Even the smallest children feel they have a part in the gift bought with the money from the family bank. —Melida Reeves

Humphrey Will Clash With Goldwater

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has decided to pit Vice-presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey against GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in a traditional two-party clash on farm policy.

Johnson has assigned the Minnesota senator to present the Democratic viewpoint on farm problems at the annual National Plowing Contest near Fargo, N.D., Sept. 19.

After some indecision over his campaign schedule, Goldwater has told sponsors of the event he will be on hand. He also has agreed to speak at the National Corn Picking Contest in Sioux Falls, S.D., Oct. 16. There is no word whether Johnson or Humphrey will appear for the Democrats.

The plowing contest, held in a different state each year, traditionally has attracted presidential candidates by offering a large audience for the airing of their views. Sponsors expect a crowd of 50,000 to 100,000 farmers and their families Sept. 19.

Johnson is reported to have decided that as a Midwesterner familiar with recent agricultural legislation Humphrey was well equipped to state the administration's position.

Whether his decision indicates a pattern of turning over much of the work-horse campaigning to his second man remains unclear. It seems certain that Humphrey will be seen much oftener in the Midwest than the President.

Humphrey has said he is going to campaign in the South, where his strong stand on civil rights has not been popular.

He got an invitation Tuesday from Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who gained national attention on the other side of the Civil rights fence in the Little Rock controversy, to make two speeches in Arkansas Sept. 17 and 18.

In his appearance at Fargo, Goldwater will have an opportunity to expand on the Republican platform pledge to provide our farmers "with the maximum opportunity to exercise their own management decisions of their own farms, while resisting all efforts to impose upon them further federal controls."

Goldwater has celled in the past for a "gradual withdrawal of subsidies" from agriculture. There are doubts among some other Republicans about taking price supports away from the farmers. Among them is Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

SCOTT MAKES PURCHASE

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Scott Paper Co. announced Wednesday the purchase of a ground wood pulp mill in Sheet Harbor, Nova Scotia and 110,000 acres of timberland, also in Nova Scotia, from Fraser Companies Ltd.

Purchase price was not disclosed. The pulp mill's capacity is about 100 tons daily.

FBI Is Ordered To Study Pattern Of Riots in U.S.

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has diercted the FBI to compile hundreds of reports on recent street violence so he can see if any common pattern exists and decide whether any new laws are needed.

The President told an impromptu news conference in his office Wednesday that he has already informed mayors and governors where such rioting has occurred that the federal government will "make available the full information we may have" and offer any extra help under present laws.

Johnson said such offers have been made to officials in New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Mississippi and Georgia.

About 50 reporters were present for the late-afternoon conference.

In his announcement, the President said the FBI is gathering reports on "riots and disturbances of the peace" at the rate of "about 40 a night." He said the reports might reveal "some particular pattern that will need to be pointed up, and that will lead us to make further recommendations," including proposals for new federal laws.

He said he referred "specifically (but) not exclusively," to riots such as those in Philadelphia and New York's Harlem.

The FBI compilation, Johnson said, would include "the various problems that we have encountered in cities and in states that could involve a violation of federal laws, and that do involve disturbances, such as riots and disturbances of peace."

Johnson said it was evident from reading the newspapers that there had been "considerable agitation in these disturbances." He declined to say if the FBI had found that known Communists were helping to foment trouble in such areas as Harlem.

Johnson used the news conference to reel off another long list of the latest economic statistics to bolster his belief that "confidence in economic prosperity is growing."

He said consumer spending ncreased by a record $15 billion in the first half of 1964, while financial savings of individuals reached a record level of $7.7 billion in the April-June quarter.

On other subjects, Johnson:

— Opened the conference by reporting that Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor had given him and congressional leaders "a full and frank examination" of the situation in South Viet Nam.

— Announced he would meet with Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson under the International Peace Arch between Washington State and British Columbia to commemorate the Columbia River treaty. The two leaders plan to make an aerial survey of the region.

— Indicated he approved of the Senate's plan to reopen the investigation of former Senate aide Bobby Baker. Johnson said he favors a "thorough investigation and study of any indication that federal law may have been violated."

— Expressed pleasure that the United Auto Workers Union and Chrysler has agreed on a new contract which neither thinks is inflationary. He declined to comment on the terms because he had not yet studied them.

— Said the administration-sponsored tax cut earlier this year was based on a considered judgment that this was the amount of tax relief that was justified. Asked to comment on a call by GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater for a 5 per cent annual tax cut for five years, Johnson said he would indicate in his State of the Union message in January whether further relief was justified.

— Announced formation of a panel of distinguished private citizens to advise the president and secretary of state and the secretary of defense on international developments, individually or cellectively. Members will include Arthur Dean, Eugene Black, Dean Acheson, John J McCloy, Omar Bradley and Allen Dulles.

—Announced formation of a panel of distinguished private citizens to advise the president and secretary of state and the secretary of defense on international developments, individually or collectively. Members will include Arthur Dean, Eugene Black, Dean Acheson, John J. McCloy, Omar Bradley and Allen Dulles.

— Asked if he was disappointed that Mississippi Gov. Paul Johnson had endorsed Sen. Goldwater, replied: "I think every person in this country ought to support the candidate of his choice."

Jesuit Restoration Observed by Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI noted the 150th anniversary of the restoration of the Society of Jesus Wednesday saying the Roman Catholic Church continues to need "courageous soldiers" to carry its message.

European Kings forced Pope Clemente XIV to suppress the order in 1773, claiming the Jesuits disturbed public order. Pope Pius VII restored the society in 1814.

Pastor Rescues Drowning Youth After Service

A possible drowning tragedy was averted Monday afternoon by a Canon City pastor who had gone down to the banks of the Arkansas River to baptize members of his congregation.

It was about 1:15 p.m., just after the baptismal ceremony held near the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway bridge at Canon City, when the Rev. Paul Wilson, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, observed a youth floundering and shouting for help in the water. The Rev. Wilson dived in from the bridge and pulled the youth safely from the river.

The youth was identified as Jack Colbert, about 15, who was swimming north of the bridge with two other youths, identified as John Colbert, about 15, his cousin, and Glen Rouse, 10, all of Canon City.

Apparently young Colbert suffered cramps causing him to flounder and go under, just after diving off the bridge into the river. His cousin attempted to pull him out but was unable to do so, before the pastor dived in after him.

Mrs. Wilson, the minister's wife, said the church did not usually perform its baptisms at the river, but Roy Linscott, a member of the church, requested that he be baptized as soon as possible.

The Wilson family was attending a church picnic in Rudd Park when Lindscott asked that he be baptized. Others went along also to be baptized in immersion in the river.

Rev. Wilson, wearing a short sleeved shirt, trousers and tennis shoes, performed the ceremony. He had walked up on the bridge, when looking down, he saw the Colbert youth in difficulty. He dived in fully clothed to rescue the lad.

Linscott's son, LeRoy, took a motion picture camera along to take pictures of his father's baptism. It was reported that he was able to photograph the rescue.

There seem to be cycles in human psychology, with people having a definite rhythm of happiness and unhappiness. For some people, the cycle may be a period of two weeks while, in others, the cycle may be longer and nine weeks or more may elapse.

Two East Berlin Families Escape

BERLIN (AP) — Two East Berlin couples and their 11 children escaped to West Berlin during the night hidden in a refrigerator truck beneath meat.

The children were drugged with sleeping pills to prevent them from making any noise while border guards were inspecting the truck.

West Berlin police said the children ranged in age from 1 to 11 years. They were taken to a refugee camp to join their parents after a checkup.

Dangerous Dam Will Not Be Built in Italy

ROME (AP) — The Italian government has given new assurances to townspeople that it will not resume construction of a north Italian dam they consider a danger. Two protest bombs were set off at the dam earlier this week.

Work on the dam was suspended last November after townsfolk demonstrated, complaining that the dam was as insecure as the Vaiont Dam in northern Italy. A landslide into the Viont reservoir killed an estimated 3,000 persons in October.

UAW Will Drive For Negotiations With Ford Next

U A W-represented workers. Their contracts often set national patterns.

Most significant gains at Chrysler were in areas of earlier retirement, where workers would get a bonus for quitting at 60 instead of 65, and in higher pensions generally.

The union, however, managed to hold onto annual wage boosters and a cost-of-living escalator and to gain company payment of full hospital-medical insurance premiums for retirees, as well as workers.

The new Chrysler contract, yet to be signed but agreed upon in principle, was described by Reuther as "the most historic agreement in the American labor movement."

It is one destined to "raise tremendously" the government's Social Security benefits scale, Reuther said, "as the Ford pension agreement (first in the industry) unlocked them in 1949."

The UAW chief described the Chrysler agreement as non-inflationary, declared it would require no price increase, and added, that as a matter of fact, the company could cut car prices "and still make a profit much more satisfactory than for the average American industry."

John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president - administration, agreed the settlement was non-inflationary, but said no decision had been made as to what effect, if any, it would have on prices of 1965 Chrysler models.

President Johnson said in Washington he was gratified by statements from company and union officials "that this settlement takes full account of both public and private interests, that it will mean more jobs and that it will be non-inflationary."

The President also expressed pleasure that differences were "settled peacefully and privately on the good faith and collective bargaining" 55 minutes before the UAW's 74,000 Chrysler employes were to have walked out on strike at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, hailed the agreement as a development that "bodes well for the future of the economy," adding: 'Responsible management and responsible unionism have been able to come to a responsible and just settlement."

In winning its gains at Chrysler, the UAW agreed to give up an annual wage increase due to go into paychecks this month.

This so-called annual improvement factor gives workers a yearly boost of 2½ per cent or 6 cents hourly, whichever is greater, and is designed to compensate workers for cost-saving technological advances.

While passing it until next September, when the current rate will apply, the union won a long-sought boost from 2.5 per cent to 2.8 per cent for the third year of the contract.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics figures the current average hourly wage for the auto industry as a whole is $3.01, but the Big Three contend their average straight-time pay is higher.

Reuther said if increased and added benefits at Chrysler finally did not eat up 54 cents hourly, what was left would be "factored into the base wage." In addition, the company estimated insurance payments it took over in full would add one per cent to take-home pay.

Chrysler pensions beginning next Jan. 1 for both present and future retirees, according to Reuther, will jump from $2.80 to $4.25 monthly for each year of service.

He described this as the "highest plateau" yet reached by industrial pensions and predicted it would have "a profound impact on other collective bargaining."

Most startling in the agreement, however, was an early retirement incentive — effective Sept. 1, 1965.

Under it a worker with 30 years service at age 60 could collect 70 per cent of his weekly straight-time wage, up to a maximum of $400 a month, for not working at all.

Actually he would get a larger pension between 60 and 65 than after 65. At the latter age he would get $4.25 monthly for each year of service, plus Social Security benefits.

Quitting at 60 would be the worker's choice. If he did so and earned the average $3.01 hourly, his 60 to 65 pension from Chrysler would total $357.60 monthly.

If he quit at 65 his company pension — at the $4.25 rate — would total $510 monthly for himself seamanship to get myself in where I am now.

"I came through the Great Barrier Reef two days ago through the Family Islands. I don't know what brought me through. There were rocks on each side and it was touch and go."

Willis hit the shore among mangroves between the mouths of the Tully and Murray rivers at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

He sent up rockets to attract attention but without success. Finally he left his raft and walked two or three miles to the mouth of the Tully River.

Hank Penning, a schoolteacher, spotted the long-haired figure on the opposite bank at 4:30 p.m.

"I had no idea who it was," Penning said. "But I could see that he wanted help. I took a boat and went across to him. He put out his hand and said, 'I'm Willis from New York.' "

Willis told him he was about to swim the 400-yard-wide river.

"He wouldn't have lasted five minutes," said Penning." The river is teeming with crocodiles."

Penning drove Willis to the Tully police station where Sgt. Arthur Moylan questioned him.

"He looked like the Ancient Mariner," Moylan said, "a leathery looking bloke about 5 feet 8 inches tall with keen sea blue eyes, gray beard and long brown hair."

Willis told Moylan he planned to have his raft shipped to the entrance of Sydney harbor, then sail up the harbor.

Penning took Willis home for dinner.

"He waded through a huge meal," the teacher said.

Willis said he had finished his last onion Tuesday and had only a few cans of food left.

Penning and his wife offered the old man a bed for the night, but he insisted on returning to his raft.

"The raft is the clumsiest looking thing I've ever seen," said Penning." The only living area is the tiny 10 by 5 foot cabin that is crammed with every conceivable object."

Willis planned to move his raft today to safe anchorage inside the Tully. He said he wants to get to New York as soon as possible to lecture at the World's Fair on his voyage.

Willis' wife said in New York that she was "happy that he got to land." She said she had had no direct word from her husband since he landed.

Senate's Democratic majority.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who leveled the payoff charge in a Senate speech last week, said he had "no confidence whatever" in the Rules Committee and offered a substitute resolution directing the Government Operations Committee to conduct the inquiry.

The Operations Committee is headed by one of the Senate's best known investigators, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

Williams said an investigation by the Rules Committee, headed by Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., would result only in "another batch of whitewash."

Jordan has denied any whitewash of the Baker case and contended the Republicans wanted to prolong the investigation in hopes of making political capital for this year's election campaign.

The reopening of the Baker case was touched off with Williams' speech charging that McCloskey, a Philadelphia contractor, had made a $35,000 overpayment on a performance bond for building the District of Columbia Stadium.

Williams said that $25,000 of this was funneled through Baker into the Kennedy-Johnson 1960 campaign fund.

He displayed a copy of a $109,205.60 check from McCloskey's firm to Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent with whom Baker was associated, and said this was $35,000 more than the amount due Reynolds as insurance broker on the performance bond.

Arthur B. Fannin Appointed to Manitou Council of the water and sewer committee.

Fannin was recommended by Councilman Frank Altman of Ward II. The recommendation was seconded by Councilman Z. A. Nevins and the appointment was unanimous.

The new councilman will be sworn in next Wednesday by City Clerk Georgetta Shaw during a special council meeting.

Fannin was president of the Manitou Springs Businessmen's Association in 1951 and was a director of the Manitou Chamber of Commerce which he was active in organizing to replace the Businessmen's Association.

He resides at 719 Manitou Ave., with his wife, Aletha. The couple has a daughter, Mrs. Delmar Burkepile of Security.

Lee, who represented Ward II, resigned after leveling charges at various city officials and the police department.

Councilmen discussed what to do about exploding populations of skunk, dogs and rats in the city dump. Mayor L. Longaker ordered the dump poisoned again. Altman suggested that the city hire a dog catcher. No action was taken on his proposal.

In other business the council:

— Paid R. W. Beck and Associates, water engineers, $1,815 for previous work on the city water system.

— Approved an ordinance to vacate a portion of Glen Road.

— Tabled an ordinance to adopt the 1964 Uniform Building Code. The city operates under the 1958 code. Councilman Altman wanted some exemptions to allow persons who are not professional builders to undertake projects without building permits.

— Decided to remove a small triangular park on Old Mans Trail and make the area part of the street.

— Approved new licenses: John S. Julian, Loop Liquor, 953 Manitou Ave.; Harold W. Pudge, Kenny's Cafe, in the Arcade, subject to Health Department approval.

and his wife would total only $318 a month — a figure to which it would drop then, even if he had retired early.

Retirement now is permissible at 65, mandatory at 68. The latter is not changed, but Reuther expressed the view few would go that far now with the monthly rate raised from $2.80 to $4.25 for each year of service.

Reuther emphasized at a news conference Wednesday night what he described as a "major breakthrough in taking care of widows."

Chrysler explained this new provision thus in a statement:

"The wife or dependent husband of an employe who dies on or after Sept. 1, 1964, and who had reached retirement age with 10 or more years of credited service would receive a monthly survivor's benefit for life, beginning Jan. 1, 1965, equal to 55 per cent of the basic monthly benefit the employe would have been eligible for had he voluntarily retired and elected a survivorship option."

After Jan. 1, 1965, the company also agreed to raise Supplemental Unemployment Benefits for hourly workers from a maximum of $40 to $50 a week plus $1.50 for each dependent up to four.

SUB is paid from a company-maintained fund to laid off workers on top of regular unemployment compensation and is designed to give the worker at least 62 per cent of his normal straight-time wage.

Salaried workers would be raised from $50 to $60 a week, with the additional $1.50 for each dependent up to four.

SUB would be payable for up to a year, even if a worker exhausts all unemployment compensation benefits or is ineligible for them in his home state.

An additional week's vacation also is added, with workers getting a month's vacation after 15 years service.

Good Friday and a worker's own birthday are newly added holidays. Workers now get six full days, plus half-days on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve.

A worker also will be entitled to up to three days off with pay in the event of death within his immediate family. Those pursuing job-related courses of study will be reimbursed up to $250 a year for tuition.

Burned Car Listed As a Total Loss

A 1953 car belonging to Herbert E. Stineorff, 1015 E. Vermijo St., caught fire and was considered a total loss, the sheriff's office said Wednesday.

According to Stineorff, he left the car about one mile north of the El Paso Service Station on Kelker Road as it had a flat. Investigation showed it had been pushed to the Daniel Sand Pit on Bradley Road. Deputy Sheriff Wayne King said it is still unknown if the fire was deliberately set or accidental.

NEW MEDICAL PRESIDENT — Dr. James V. Carris, left, turns over the gavel to the new president of the El Paso County Medical Society, Dr. James J. Pattee. Dr. L. T. Kircher, right, was elected President-Elect at the meeting Wednesday night. Highlight of the last twelve months was the successful K-O Polio program and the formation of the Medical Education Foundation.

Dr. James Pattee Heads County Medical Society

Dr. James J. Pattee, anesthesiologist, became the new president of the El Paso County Medical Society at the conclusion of a meeting Wednsday night in the El Paso Club. He succeeds Dr. James V. Carris.

Prior to turning over the gavel to the new president, Dr. Carrise praised the public health committee, headed by Dr. William Stone for the success of K-O Polio, the largest mass vaccination program in the history of the Pikes Peak Region and for the creation of the Medical Foundation which was launched with the proceeds.

Because of the volunteer assistance of several hundred persons and the donation of supplies approximately, $30,000 is now on deposit for use as student loans.

As president-elect during the past year, Dr. Pattee headed the public policy committee. He has been active for several years in the 200-member organization.

Two years ago he headed an active Speakers Bureau which embarked on a project to inform all residents of the benefits, restrictions and possible pitfalls of the controversial medicare legislation under Social Security. He is also past treasurer.

Dr. Pattee is a graduate of Harvard College and the University of Chicago Medical School. He served in the medical corps with the Navy during World War II. Following the war he began his career in general practice in the Pikes Peak Region.

In 1950, he left Colorado Springs to practice in California. He was called into the Army during the Korean conflict and was awarded the bronze star. He decided to specialize in anesthesiology and took his residency at the University of Colorado School of Medicine. He came to Colorado Springs in 1957 and has been here ever since. He has four children, Nancy, 12; James J. III, 9; Richard, 6 and Lisa, 4.

Dr. Pattee is a member of the board of trustees of Colorado Blue Shield and the legislative reference committee of the Colorado Medical Society. He is a former chief of staff of Memorial Hospital and past member of the House of Delegates of Colorado Medical Society.

Dr. L. T. Kircher, surgeon and last year's chairman of the Speakers Bureau of the county society was elected President-elect and will head the public policy committee. Dr. Kirchers speakers committee was responsible for the numerous appearances before clubs, organizations, on radio and television during the K-O Polio program last winter.

Other officers are: Dr. Joseph Pollard, vice president Dr. David J. Greiner, secretary; Dr. Barton L. Lewis, treasurer; Dr. H. H. Rodman, board of supervisors and Drs. R. E. Meatheringham, William F. Stone, M.H. Christensen and R. F. Dillon, members of the house of delegates of the Colorado Medical Society.

Runaway Rock Blamed For Broken Window

A runaway rock was responsible for a broken window in the front door of the fire station at 31 S. Institute, police reported Wednesday.

A 14-year-old youth said he threw the rock at some power wires in front of the station. It apparently bounced off the driveway and broke the window.

Since no one was at the station at the time, the youth waited until an officer arrived, then reported the incident to him.

The youth's father agreed to pay for the window.

Trailer Court Residents Plan Street Blockade

ten the run-around this week when they made their pleas to city officials for safety measures to allow the children to cross the intersection with safety.

In their plea for a school bus, Mrs. Langdon said she was informed that this could not be granted because the bus ride would be less than one mile, and the children are not allowed to take their lunches.

Mrs. Langdon also said that the children at Washington School are let out at 15-minute intervals for lunch and when school closes in the afternoon, but are not allowed to wait in the school grounds for older children who might help them cross the intersection.

She said she watched the intersection this morning and only observed some 10 children crossing the intersection, and said she assumed parents were driving the remaining children to their schools.

Residents of the trailer park have complained about the lack of pedestrian safety provisions for this intersection for more than a month, Mrs. Langdon said, but nothing has been done to help the situation.

She said approximately 65 persons signed the petition at Wednesday's meeting and other signatures are being requested this morning. If no solution is forthcoming within the next few days, Mrs. Langdon said the residents plan to form "some type of blockade" Monday morning at the corner.

TB Skin Tests To Start at Cascade, Manitou

Five thousand first grade school children in El Paso County will be tested for tuberculosis infection between now and Dec. 4.

The El Paso County Tuberculosis Association will begin Friday by giving skin tests to the children of Cascade and Manitou Springs, according to Joel A. H. Webb, association president.

Schools in the county areas will come first, with Colorado Springs and parochial schools to follow.

Webb said the success of the drive to discover TB lies in finding the children who have come infected, but also in discovering where they got it. "The child may have caught TV from a friend of the family visiting from out of town, or even from a baby sitter who is infected but does not know it.

"When we find a child who is infected, we know there may be someone else, too, and quickly make an effort to find out who it is if we can."

The skin test is simple to conduct, and goes over well with the children. A small medical instrument — without any long needle which might scare a youngster — barely breaks the skin, and it is painless. A smear of harmless vaccine is applied, and three days later a registered nurse can tell whether the TB germ is present.

Making sure the children do not become alarmed as they can over some vaccinations, the TV workers and board members devote their first visit to a school to making friends with the childen. They make a game out of it.

The children are told that they must have a ticket to get in the next day — this "ticket" is the form which parents fill out to give approval for the skin tests to be taken. The second visit is to actually give the tests, and the third is to read the results.

There is no charge for the tests, which are paid for with the contributions receive through the sale of Christmas Seals.

Conducting the school program is Mrs. Alice Christensen, a Registered Nurse qualified to work also as a public health nurse. She is a graduate of Mcalester College at St. Paul, Minn., with an A. B. Degree. Working with her is Registered Nurse, Mrs. Norma Arthurs, who graduated from Michael Reese Hospital of Nursing in Chicago; she received her public nursing certificate from St. Louis University, and she served as a Navy Nurse.

Deaf and Blind School Opens Its 91st Year

The Colorado School for the Deaf and the Blind opened for its 91st year of continuous operation Tuesday, with 157 deaf students and 73 blind. This is an increase in the number of deaf children and a decrease in the number of blind.

This year the staff includes six new teachers, Robert Dodge and Bill McClure, working with the blind, Miss Geraldine McGowan, working with both the blind and the deaf, and Mrs. Glenna Doane, Mrs. Adelaide Koepsel and Mrs. Dorothy Kraemer who work with the deaf.

Also new to the staff this year are Arthur Washburn, dean of students, Warren McClendon, chief of maintenance, and Mrs. Mary Dodge, psychologist. All new staff members have had extensive backgrounds in the teaching of the deaf and blind.

Crime in Colorado Springs Rises 18.3 Per Cent in Year

value have increased 19.5 per cent from 809 last year to 967 so far in 1964.

Larceny involving $50 and over dropped from 156 last year to 112 this year.

According to FBI figures for the first half of 1964, cities of 50,000 to 100,000 population had an average crime index increase of 17 per cent for major crimes, with murder up 13 per cent, forcible rape up 46 per cent, robbery up 15 per cent, aggravated assault up 20 per cent, burglary up 15 per cent, larceny $50 and over up 17 per cent and auto theft up 21 per cent.

In the increase of 250 offenses known to Colorado Springs police so far this year, 158 involved larceny under $50 in thefts and 24 aggravated assaults. There were 44 less cases of larceny $50 and over.

There have been only two manslaughter by negligence cases this year compared with four last year. There have been no murders in 1964, compared with one last year up to Sept. 1.

McKissick also reported there were 1,743 other offenses known to police so far this year compared with 1,445 last year, making a total of all offenses known to police this year 3,361 compared with 2,813 last year.

In the other offenses category this year are included accidental injury, 230 cases; deaths, 44; arson, 14; assault, 64; disorderly conduct, 26; malicious mischief, 744; suicide, 8 attempted suicide, 41; indecent exposure, 26; molesting, 11; forgery, 17; confidence game, 6; embezzlement, 1; bad checks, 22, assault and battery, 13; and miscellaneous, 86 cases.

Volunteers Lay Floor at Center For Handicapped

Several persons from Canon City and Florence volunteered to lay the plywood flooring under the linoleum in the Brookside School, which will be used by New Hope Incorporated as a training center for the mentally retarded and physically handicapped in Fremont County.

The school, located near Canon City, was loaned to the New Hope group by School District Fremont Re-1.

Those present Saturday were Victor Falgien, Glenn Coffee, Alonzo Ham, Paul Dotterer, Stanley Henderson, Jim Bone, Marvin Salle and Joe Zupan.

A picnic dinner was served by Jessie Bone, Dorthe Carrillo, Jenny Dotterer and Lena Falgien.

Completion of the work on the floor means that the school will be able to hold orientation sessions, starting next week.

Fifteen students have been enrolled in the school with 24 expected before the end of October, a spokesman said.

USO to Hold Formal Dance

The Colorado Springs USO will welcome the fall season with a "fall formal" dance Saturday, starting at 8:30 p.m. Music will be provided by Robert Funk's band, The Hi-Lighters. Dress for this occasion will be formal or semi-formal for the women, and coats and tie or uniform for the men. A night club atmosphere will prevail with candle lit tables around the ball room.

A decorating party for the formal was scheduled Wednesday night. Miss Armina Leiker is the chairman.

An added attraction for the formal will be homemade cakes made by the Junior Volunteers. "Dress up in your finest and join us Saturday, Sept. 12," said Elizabeth Luce, USO program director. "As you support your United Fund activities, you support your USO activities."

K and L Sales Co. Robbed Wednesday

Television sets, radios and phonograph records worth a total of $848.50 were reported stolen from the K and L Sales Co., 400 S. 8th St., the sheriff's department said Wednesday.

The burglary happened Tuesday when it was reported in the Gazette Telegraph but the value of the missing items was unknown at that time.

Denver Man Fined In Justice Court

Ruben D. Warford, 22, Denver was fined $20 and costs by Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane Wednesday for not obtaining a chemical license.

According to the complaint, the defendant attempted to obtain certain agricultural chemicals June 26 before he had obtained the necessary license.

Defendants Charged In District Court

Two co-defendants were charged in District Court Friday with burglary and bond set at $1,500 in both cases by Judge William M. Calvert.

The pair are Charles Alton Snook, 32, Clinton Hotel, 1339½ E. Colorado Ave., and Arthur Joseph Sawyer, 29, 634 N. Weber St.

According to the information filed against them they broke into Ertel's Dale Street Pharmacy, 802 N. Weber St., Aug. 28.

Graveside Rites For Sutherland Couple Slated

Graveside funeral services for William R. Sutherland and his wife, Mrs. Jane D. Sutherland, 1431 N. Howard Ave., who were killed Monday in an airplane crash near Atkinson, Nebr., will be held at 11 a.m. Friday in Evergreen Cemetery. Dr. Howard E. Hansen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and Memorial Lodge No. 2, AF and AM, will officiate. The Law Mortuary has charge of arrangements. Members of the Al Kaly Motor Scooter patrol will be honorary pallbearers.

Mr. Sutherland was born Nov. 12, 1907 in Nova Scotia, Canada and Mrs. Sutherland November 13, 1909, at Clovia, N. M. He was a general contractor of Colorado Springs, who used his own airplane for business trips. It is believed by his son, he may have suffered a heart attack while piloting it. He was a member of the Masonic bodies of Al Kaly Shrine and its Scooter Patrol and various other Masonic organizations. Mrs. Sutherland was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

The couple are survived by a son, Dr. Robert Duncan Sutherland, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mr. Sutherland by 2 brothers, Donald Sutherland, Denver, and Stanley Sutherland, Greeley, Colo.; a sister, Mrs. Helen Onken, Wheatridge, Colo., and two granddaughters, and Mrs. Sutherland by a brother, Les White, in the Air Force in Florida.

Vast Areas Are Smashed by Hurricane Dora

knocked out at the vacation city of Brunswick, about 100 miles north of St. Augustine. The roof of one building was blown completely away. Two other roofs were badly damaged.

Windows were smashed, and sheets of tin pitched into the streets. A ferris wheel was smashed on Jekyll Island.

Damage figures were expected to run high in St. Augustine when people were able to leave shelter to take stock.

The only reported death caused by Dora was in Brunswick, where a man was missing and presumed drowned after he tried to retrieve a boat broken loose from its moorings.

Two Navy fliers died in the crash of their plane being flown from Sanford, Fla., Naval Air Station out of Dora's path.

This city of 15,000, getting ready for its 400th anniversary celebration after a summer of racial turmoil, was first struck by Dora early Wednesday.

The narrow streets of the old city were flooded twice before midnight. White caps raced along the streets. Foam covered shrubbery like snow. A National Guard officer said the water was six feet deep in some sections of the peninsula across Matanzas Bay.

The Castillo de San Marcos, the oldest Spanish fort in the United States, was isolated by a moat of turbulent water.

From the Monson Motor Lodge, one center of Dr. Martin Luther King's integration drive, the city "looked like a morgue," the desk clerk said.

Oak-shaded streets were repaved with twigs, branches and leaves. One huge old oak that must have been around when St. Augustine was founded was completely uprooted.

Twenty thousand persons were believed to have spent the night in Florida churches, schools and armories. Thousands of others filled mainland hotels, motels and the homes of friends.

Thousands also fled Georgia and South Carolina beaches.

Voting in Georgia's statewide election was suspended at Savannah Beach when the mayor ordered the island evacuated. The balloting was finished on the mainland.

Power failures at Brunswick caused late voters to cast their ballots by flashlight.

The hurricane winds are expected to diminish gradually as the storm moves inland, but the torrential rains will continue.

After an eight-day journey across the Atlantic Ocean, Dora pulled up off the Florida Coast Wednesday, feinting first at Cape Kennedy and then Daytona Beach. Both got off lightly.

Then Dora churned toward St. Augustine and Jacksonville, hovered off the coast for hours pounding the two cities, and charged ashore late Wednesday night.

Hurricane Ethel started moving westward from about 300 miles south of Bermuda on a path very close to the one Dora took. Ethel's highest winds were 90 m.p.h.

Resurfacing Crews On West Side Today

City resurfacing crews will be working on streets on the west side today, according to City Traffic Engineer Don L. Smith.

He said motorists should be alert for barricades and detours on Chestnut Street from Platte Avenue to Bijou Street and on Boulder Street from Chestnut to Spruce Street.

A heater remixer machine is used in the resurfacing operation, followed by city street department crews putting down a three-quarter inch asphalt overlay.

Woman Sentenced On Short Check Charge

Perlene E. Carpenter, 39, 505 Norman Dr., Seucrity, was sentenced to 60 days in County Jail Wednesday by Justice of the Peace James F. Quine for short check.

The sentence will be suspended when the defendant makes full restitution and pays $11.48 court costs, the judge said.

She was accused of passing a $30 short check Aug. 30 and giving it to the Circle S Motel, 1639 S. Nevada Ave.

Aggravated Robbery Charge Filed Here

A charge of aggravated robbery was filed against Jay Lynn Johnson, 21, 883 N. Wahsatch Ave. in District Court Wednesday. Bond was set at $5,000 by Judge William M. Calvert.

It is alleged that on Aug. 23 the defendant made an assault upon Phillip Harper Lander and stole his [illegible] containing $16.

Man Found Innocent of Drunk Charge

Judge Allan Asher Tuesday in Municipal Court found a husband innocent of a drunk charge when the man's wife was reluctant to state whether he was actually drunk.

"He was feeling good," Mrs. Charlotte Martinez said of her husband, Edward Martinez, 35, 304 W. Fountain St.

"But was he drunk?" Deputy City Attorney Bob Isaac asked.

"Well, he wasn't drunk-drunk,' Mrs. Martinez replied.

Judge Asher said the city didn't have an ordinance against "feeling good," and handed down the not guilty finding.

Doris Thomas, 39, 814 N. El Paso St., changed her plea to guilty to a drunk charge. The judge imposed a 30-day jail sentence which he also suspended.

Bennie Wasson, Ft. Carson, also changed his pleas to guilty to charges of disorderly conduct and being drunk. He was fined $20 on each charge.

George Tafoya, 54, 528½ S. Weber St., failed to appear in court for his trial on charges of disorderly conduct, riotous conduct, and drunkenness. A warrant was ordered issued for his arrest and Judge Asher set Tafoya's bond at $200.

Judge Asher dismissed charges against the following: Lena Sanchez, 64, 2423 W. Kiowa St., breach of peace; Lody Archulet 32, 826 E. Cucharras St., disorderly conduct and drunkenness; Walter Gothard, 22, Carson, riotous conduct, breach of peace and drunkenness; and Donald Venerable, 22, Carson, riotous conduct and breach of peace.

Bonds were ordered forfeited by two men who failed to appear for their trials: Forrest Fraser, 22, Denver, $15 for careless driving, and Donald Hinshaw, 41, Wichita, Kan. $10 failing to yield the right of way.

Richard Malacara, 22, 234 S. Conejos St., pleaded guilty to drag racing and received a $100 fine and a 30-day suspension of his right to drive in the city. Judge Asher suspended $25 on condition Malacara attend the traffic course Sept. 16 in El Paso County Court House.

A large corwd attended dedication services at Camp Iana Sunday. The dining room was dedicated in honor of Ord Orr, in recognition of faithful service when the camp was young. Following that, the chapel was dedicated in honor of Ernest Turpin of Woodland Park who drowned at the age of 11.

Dean Orr, recently graudated from Biola College in California, delivered one of the messages and helped in the dedication service of his father. A number of the Orr relatives from Pueblo attended, including Althea Orr, Ord's wife and Dean's mother. She is 80 years young. Also in attendance were several members of the Turpin family, some coming from Missouri.

The Davidson family from Longmont attended, as well as the Hamiltons from Mt. Rose. Rev. Hamilton served as a speaker, and Rev. Omilson gave a message.

With Dean Orr, was his new bride. Dean will be teaching in Los Angeles while his wife completes another year at Biola.

Arlene Wiltfang, of Nebraska, who has been a great help to the camp, was also in attendance.

After the dedication services, Joe Gramesin showed color slides of the camp activities during the summer.

Irene Vette helped cook at Labor Day Camp. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reble, A. L. Vette, Mr. and Mrs. Bub Bette and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Trusdal and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chisman all attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Vette and Darla spend part of the week end in Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fankell drove down from Longmont Friday and brought Mrs. Myrtle Simmons and Mrs. Laura Longstreth for a visit with the Roy Chisman's and Grace Finch's. The women are sisters of Fred Fankell.

On Monday, Mrs. Finch, Mrs. Longstreth, Mrs. Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. Chisman drove to Pueblo and joined Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chisman and Dennis, Laura Gehring, Myra Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chisman and Brenda and Sheryl, Mrs. Grace Geist and Ronnie at a turkey dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chisman and their family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Baker have returned from Northern Colorado and will work near Peyton.

The Fankell sisters called on Mrs. Ethel Milne Saturday. They also called at the old home place and were sorry to find Mrs. Robertson ill.

I'ts election time again. Phil Demmler, Dave Million and Ruth Chisman served as judges of Precinct 85 for the primary election on Sept. 8.

The high school students are having a food sale, as usual, to help with their school fund.

Congratulations are extended to Freddy Day and the former Sharon Fossinger who were married at the Ellion church Sunday, Sept. 6.

Congratulations as well to Bobbie Geist and the former Linda Crosby who were married at the Trinity Nazarene church Friday, Sept. 4. Bobbie is Carol Chisman's brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Henderson and their family had dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Baker.

Topless Suits to Be Used for Protest

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (UPI)—Girls living in Maracaibo's "Golden Apple" slums said Wednesday they will parade in topless bathing suits Sunday to protest official failure to improve living conditions in the area.

"We're going to stage 'Operation Scandal,'" said a spokeswoman for the protesting group.

The Agency for International Development (AID) was established by the U.S. Foreign Assistance act of 1961. It is the successor to the International Cooperation Administration.

Press Control Law Postponed in Korea

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park has indefinitely postponed enforcement of his government's controversial press control law.

The five-week-old measure has been under sharp attack from journalists who charged it was designed to muzzle the press. The government said the law was necessary to prevent the press from fomenting unrest.

The action Wednesday was considered a preliminary step to eventual repeal of the law.

Park said the government expects the press to discipline itself.

OFFICIAL MURDERED

NEW DELHI (UPI)—India's Solicitor General H.N. Sanyal was murdered early Wednesday during a robbery attempt.

Police arrested one suspect and had an alert out for three others. Sanyal, 62, was said to have been strangled by two men while two others tried in vain to open his wall safe.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

He Feels Safer in Cellar

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a good man in every way, so please don't take this as a complaint against him. Every time it starts to storm and thunder, Bob runs down to the cellar to hide, and he stays down there until the storm subsides, even if it takes all night. It doesn't make any difference if we have guests or not. if a storm comes up and it starts to thunder, Bob runs off like a madman to hide in the cellar. I have asked him to see a head doctor, but he says there's nothing wrong with him. What must I do? He is 53 and has been this way ever since we've been married. —FRAIDY CAT'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your husband's reaction to thunder storms is not as unusual as you think. His behavior is undoubtedly a holdover from a childhood terror of storms which he never overcame. If this is his only eccentricity, tolerate it good-naturedly. And don't worry about what your guests think.

DEAR ABBY: How do you tell your boy friend's ex - girl friend to lay off? —TIRED OF HER

DEAR TIRED: You don't. The boy friend does. If he's "tired of her, too," that is.

DEAR ABBY: We've been having a rip-roaring argument in our bridge club over something that happens every bridge night. About half the girls feel that if your opponent is careless enough to hold her cards so that they can be easily seen, you should take full advantage of the situation without so much as a twinge of conscience. The other half, including me, says that this is just as dishonest as taking money out of a purse that was carelessly left on a bus. We've agreed to let you settle the argument, but I'll bet my next week's booby prize that you'll be on our side. —HONEST ABE

DEAR ABE: Pick up the booby prize. I know it's tiresome to continually tell one to hold her cards up, but it beats peeking, even though you do get an eyeful due to someone else's carelessness.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a counsellor for the state and occasionally he see clients for private counselling. He is a qualified marriage counsellor and anything he earns after hours is his. Lately he has been giving free counselling to a pretty young woman who is trying to save her marriage. He has never given his services free before, and I resent his giving up one night a week for this woman. She can well afford to pay him. So why is he giving her counselling for free? What is your advice? —RESENTFUL

DEAR RESENTFUL: Nothing is "for free." Your husband is being compensated for his time, if only in satisfaction. You should consult a counsellor to find out how to cope with a husband who is toiling elsewhere when his own fences need mending. (P.S. And pay thee counsellor in cash.)

Sweet treat recipe from Adele Holly, Director Holly Sugar Kitchens

FRUIT BARS

1 Cup HOLLY Brown Sugar
2 Eggs
1 Cup Chopped Dates
1 Cup Shredded Coconut
3/4 Cup plus 1 Tblsp. Flour
½ Teaspoon Baking Powder
¼ Teaspoon Salt
¼ Cup Chopped Nuts, if desired

Sift together salt, baking powder and flour. Add coconut, dates & nuts and stir until coated with dry ingredients. Set aside. Beat eggs well and gradually add brown sugar, continue beating until well blended. Add dry ingredients a small amount at a time, beating well after each addition. Spread in greased pan 11x7x2. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes or until done. Remove from oven and when cooled slightly, cut into bars.

HAMBURGER TREAT

For a hamburger treat, try this. Combine 1½ pounds of ground beef, ¾ cup of rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked), 1 tablespoon of instant minced onion, ½ teaspoon of salt, and one jar (5 ounces) processed blue cheese spread which has been mixed with 2 tablespoons of milk. Shape into 6 patties. Broil or pan - fry to desired doneness. Serve on buns.

Ent Officers' Wives Stage 'Entries-Exits' Coffee

More than fifty new members were welcomed to the Ent Officers' Wives' Club as the group met for an Entries and Exits Coffee recently.

A program on voting was introduced by Mrs. James D. Bowen, Coffee Chairman. Guest speakers for the program were Lt. Col. G. M. Nelson and Lt. Charlotte H. Evans.

An unusual tea table arrangement of red, white, and blue streamers flanked by a stuffed elephant and donkey was a colorful reminder that election time is drawing near. Pouring for the tea were: Mrs. J. L. Pageler, Mrs. J. J. Sylvester, Mrs. A. J. Coleman, Mrs. W. D Jenkins, Mrs. V. Clarke, and Mrs. D. A. Daufenback.

Of special interest was a display on flower arrangement presented by the Garden Club. Presiding over the display was Mrs. D. A. Dausfenback, Garden Club president, and Mrs. M. R. Rodgers, who won four prizes at the El Paso County Garen Fair held recently. Other club activities were also represented and indicate that a busy season is ahead for the Ent Officers' Wives' Club.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ◇	4 ♠	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ◇

A defensive lapse enabled South, the declarer, successfully to ride home a four spade contract that had entered the contest as a distinct long shot.

West opened the queen of diamonds and East signaled encouragement with the ten. East overtook the continuation with the king of diamonds and then he cashed the ace. On the third round West discarded the deuce of clubs.

After lengthy deliberation, East continued with a fourth round of diamonds. He reasoned that, if his partner held as many as three spades headed by the ten, the diamond play would promote a trump trick for the defense. South ruffed the trick with the ten of spades, however, cashed the ace of clubs and crossed over to the ace of hearts to discard his remaining heart on dummy's king of clubs. The spade finesse was taken next and, when the king dropped under the ace on the next lead, declarer claimed the rest of the tricks.

In the post - mortem discussion, it was observed htat a heart shift by East at trick four would have defeated the contract, for West's queen will dislodge the ace of hearts before South is able to unblock the ace of clubs, and the latter is unable to obtain his heart discard.

East contended that West should have discarded the seven of hearts on the third round of diamonds to suggest that he had an honor in that suit, in which case the heart shift would have become more clearly indicated.

West countered by pointing out that his actual discard of the deuce of clubs indicated that he did not have the ace of that suit and, therefore, East should lead a heart regardless, for unless West holds the queen the defense will be unable to win a trick in the suit.

It was observed that West could have assisted his partner by trumping the third round of diamonds in order to lead a heart himself. This might not have worked out well if South had the king of hearts and East the ace of clubs. In any case East's course of action was clearly marked out at trick four, for he could hardly lose by shifting to a heart.

Deaths

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Sakari Tuomioja, 53, Finnish United Nations mediator in the Cyprus crisis, died Wednesday. Until becoming ill Aug. 16 in Geneva, Tuomioja had attempted to find a conference table solution to the Cyprus clash.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Otto P. Caplin, 80, father of cartoonist Al Capp, died Tuesday in a New York City hospital. A Yale Law School graduate, Caplin settled in New Haven where his son, the creator of "Li'l Abner," was raised.

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — William C. Geer, 88, a chemist who invented the airplane de-icer, died Wednesday. Geer held 40 patents on his de-icer, which allowed aircraft to fly at high altitudes by melting ice that formed on the wings.

CONTRACT TO ITT

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (UPI) — International Telephone and Telegraph Corp.'s federal laboratories division received a $700,000 contract from Boeing Aircraft for development of "star trackers" and related equipment.

The star trackers will be used as navigational aids on un-manned space craft that will be sent to orbit the moon. The star Canopus will be used to guide the ITT equipment on these lunar excursions.

Florida Officer Commands Army Honor Guard

First member of the new honor guard at Ft. Carson, assigned to the Leadership and Mountain Training School is 2d Lt. A. J. Wise, honor guard commander, who comes from the 3 Infantry Brigade operations section.

This Floridian came to the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) from Officers Candidate School at Ft. Benning, Georgia, which he entered from 1st Battle Group, 23d Infantry in Alaska where he was communications chief.

In the far north he learned cold weather tactics from instructors such as Hans Wagner, formerly of Camp Hale and Ft. Carson, who trained the 10th Mountain Division of World War II fame.

Wise joined the Army in 1953 at Jacksonville, Fla., for the Korean action in which he served as a signalman. He returned for a second tour, after a few months in the States, as a 20-year-old adviser to Korean soldiers.

He helped train signal operators for close air support such as the Air Force at Cannon Air Force Base gives the 5th Division now.

Most of his service has been in communications at Benning and four years in Alaska.

Wise lives at 133 Bradley, Widefield. Both he and his wife come from Blountstown, Fla.

Dr. Amos E. Neyhart, known as the "father of driver education in America," predicts that by 1980 many safety features will be built into highways, such as devices to prevent rear-end collisions. He also sees completion of inter-state highways so well-designed that they will save 9,000 lives annually.

Turncoat Surrenders In West Germany

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — An American soldier who asked for political asylum in Czechoslovakia in 1959 is in U.S. Army custody, Army European headquarters announced today.

He is Spec. 5 John B. Witt, who went to the Communist country in November 1959 and lived there until February 1961. Then he went to Austria and asked for political asylum there.

Army officials learned Tuesday that Witt planned to reenter Germany to surrender and he was taken into custody in Mettenwald, Germany.

His wife, Mattie Louise, lives at Springfield, Tenn., 419 Bransford Drive.

Red China Blocked From African Nation

ZOMBA, Malawi (AP) — Prime Minister Hastings Banda won a key victory Wednesday night in his fight to keep Red China from gaining a foothold in this former British protectorate.

The Parliament of the two-month-old nation gave Banda a unanimous vote of confidence after he fired three government ministers who wanted to accept a $50-million loan offered by Peking in return for recognition from Malawi. Banda said he rejected the offer.

WASHINGTON — The Warren Commission report on the assassination of President Kennedy is expected later this month. Among the evidence considered by the commsision was almost indisputable proof that Lee Harvey Oswald not only fired a gun, but that he fired a rifle. This proof came from such an unlikely source as the Atomic Energy Laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Although the routine paraffin tests were made by the Dallas police to ascertain whether Oswald had fired a gun, a newer and more exact process called neutron activation analysis, or NAA, and involving the use of atomic radiation, was also used.

Paraffin tests show nitrates which are present on a persons's hand if he has fired a gun. However, nitrates can alos be picked up from such ulethal sources as urine or fetrilizer. NAA, on the other hand, detects deposits of antimony and barium, elements used in the primers of cartridges. These deposits are present on the skin only if a person has fired a gun.

A highly secret NAA test was run on some pieces of the paraffin used on Oswald. The report to the commission said that antimony was found on Oswald's cheek — firm evidence that he had fired a rifle about the time of the assassination.

Rep. William E. Miller, who kicked off his campaign for the Vice Presidency in Lockport, N. Y. Sunday, has a bigger row to hoe than the other top candidates, not only is he virtually unknown by the voters, but his name is not one to hit you in the eye from a billboard —or a ballot.

MILLER'S BEAUTIFUL WIFE HAS POLISH BACKGROUND

He does have a few things going for him, however, and not the least of these is a beautiful wife with a Polish background. American,, Stephanie Miller can easily spout a few words of Polish when the occasion calls for it.

Her father, Stephen Wagner, came to this country from Klimkowce (Galicia), Austria, which was subsequently Poland and is now part of the Ukraine. Her mother was born Mary Nowak in Buffalo, N. Y., of parents who came from Poland.

If the occasion calls for more than a few words of Polish, Mrs. Wagner has agreed to take the stump for her son-in-law. This includes speaking at the convention of the Polish American Congress in Chicago on Sept. 18.

The whole family is open-mouthed over its new-found prominence. The families of the other top candidates, the Goldwaters, the Humphreys, and particularly the Johnsons, have already enjoyed a certain prestige by virtue of the fact that the head of the house has or had been a Senator for some time.

A REPRESENTATIVE IS LOW MAN ON TOTEM POLE

A representative, on the other hand — at least in Washington— is low man on the totem pole. His wife copes with the everyday problems — standing in line at the checkout counter at the grocery store, trying to find household help or a baby-sitter when the older girls are away. Getting a last-minute hair appointment is next to impossible and one's turn driving the carpool comes around with unbelievable frequency.

Suddenly to have a staff of 15 secretaries and aids working around the clock on one's behalf, to have crowds wanting to shake your hand and showering you with bouquets of flowers, to have hairdressers bowing to your whim and clerks standing in awe — all this is pretty heady stuff. Nevertheless, last week when the Miller staff gathered for a meeting at the family's summer home in Lockport, it was Stephanie who served the whole crowd big helpings of homemade spaghetti.

Bobby Baker, the former secretary to the Senate Democrats, flashed back in the headlines this week in connection with an alleged $25,000 kickback from contractor Matthew McCloskey to the 1960 Democratic campaign coffers. At the same time, the Quorum Club, the private Capital Hill watering place that was supposedly one of his points of operation, announced that it was opening its doors to the public.

MEMBERS WERE MOSTLY LOBBYISTS, BUSINESSMEN

A tenant of the Carroll Arms Hotel, directly behind the new Senate Office Building, the Quorum Club at one time had about 200 members, including some Senators and Representatives and a few high-level military men., but mostly lobbyists and businessmen.

Members have claimed all along that the nefarious antics attributed to the club, the scantily clad waitresses, the gay parties, and the big wheelings and dealings behind the heavy door with the Q on it, were grossly exaggerated. The bartenders rarely stayed on after 8 p.m., they said, and except for an occasional golf tournament and football excursions in the fall, there was little social activity.

Rightly or wrongly, the club's sudden notoriety last winter when the Senate began investigating Baker for alleged influence peddling, caused a severe loss of business.

"Politically sensitive people felt their reputations were unduly jeopardized by going there," one of the early members explained to us.

The proprietors of the Carroll Arms finally decided this week that the private Quorum Club might not be such a dog if it were open to the public. The press, once as welcome in the club as Typhoid Mary, was urged to take the opportunity to "personally investigate," and presumably find out whether the "dim lights, nude pictures, lavish bar facilities, hidden powder rooms and Bobby Baker's favorite steak sandwich" really existed.

Housewives Enroll As College Freshmen

LEBANON, Ore. (AP) — Two housewives, returning to school after more than 20 years, are enthusiastic about their first day of classes.

Mrs. Wade Price, 32, and Mrs. Lavern Reil, 37, enrolled as freshmen this week in this western Oregon town of 6,000.

Mrs. Price, who dropped out of the fifth grade in 1943, started it all when she decided her 8-year-old son would need her to answer his questions as he grows older.

Mrs. Reil, who said she was scared stiff the first day, read of Mrs. Price in a local newspaper and enrolled.

Lebanon shcool officials told Mrs. Price that 20 years of living entitled her to jump from the fifth to the ninth grade. Mrs. Reil decided to go back one grade. She droppe dout in 1943 when she was a sophomore.

Portland Reporter Endorses Johnson

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Portland Reporter, Oregon's third largest newspaper, announced Wednesday its support of President Johnson in the November election.

The Reporter, "an independent home-owned newspaper," began publishing daily in February, 1961. It was started by striking employes from Portland's other two newspapers, the Oregonian and the Journal.

Youngsters Complain To Mayor About Ban

NEW YORK (AP) — Four Brooklyn youngsters whose favorite park was ruled off-limits for stickball took their case directly to Mayor Robert F. Wagner's office.

The boys, aged 9 to 12, showed up Wednesday for the third time and finally succeeded. An aide to Wagner said no problem is too small for the mayor and he would look into the matter.

The boys said that about two months ago, without explanation, signs went up prohibiting stickball in the city park. When they try to play in the streets, they "get chased," they said.

Stickball, a big-city offshoot of baseball, is played with a sawed-off broom handle and rubber ball.

Old Side-Wheel Steamer Saved at Last Minute

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON (NEA) — A wartime heroine who saved the ives of 7,000 British troops in 1940 has just been given a last-minute reprieve from the death sentence.

She is the Medway Queen, a 316 - ton side - wheel steamer, credited with rescuing under fire more British soliders from the flaming beaches of Dunkirk than any other non-naval vessel.

Since the war the Medway Queen has been plying the Thames River as a pleasure boat, her glorious wartime record all but forgoten. But when it was announced last October that the famous paddle steamer, now a dowager of 40, was to be broken up for scrap, a group of sentimental Britons decided to do something about it.

They formed the Medway Queen Trust with the goal of raising $24,000 to buy the sidepaddler by August this year. They were far short of their goal, however, when a catering firm stepped in with a sizeable last-minute contribution. Now it looks as though the Medway Queen will finish her days as a restaurant anchored along the Thames.

The catering firm has assured the boat's original backers that it will do everything possible to preserve the Medway Queen's original character and dignity.

The Medway Queen's fame goes back to May 1940 when half a million British troops found themselves bottled up on a narrow strip of beach at Dunkirk by the advancing Nazi offensive.

Not even the most optimistic British general thought that more than 30 per cent of these troops could be evacuated. But a fleet of small craft, including the Medway Queen, set out from Britain to try to bring the boys safely home.

The "Mosquito Armada," as this motley assortment of vessels was called, included oyster dredgers, cockle boats, as well as coal-burning minesweepers and private yachts.

They had such fanciful names as the Royal Daffodil, the Brighton Belle, and Yorkshire Lass, and there was even a Dracula and a Frightened Lady among the craft.

What distinguished the Medway Queen from the others was that she was not only one of the first ships in at Dunkirk, but one of the last ships out, making seven round trips.

Her crew was under almost continuous shellfire and aerial strafing, and managed with only a few hours' sleep and very little food for six days.

Robert Brett, a crew member, describes the wierd sight that greeted him when he took ashore one of the big boats the Medway Queen had towed to Dunkirk.

"I signted a causeway about eight feet wide heading out into the water," Brett relates. "To my surprise I found it to be a perfectly ordered straight column of men about six abreast, standing as if on parade.

"When I reached them a sergeant stepped up to me and said, 'Yes, sir. Sixty men, sir?' He then walked along the column, which remained in perfect formation, and detailed the required number to follow me."

On one of its trips home the Medway Queen was following in the wake of the Brighton Beli another paddle steamer, when the latter hit the bulk of a wrecked ship and ripped off her bottom. The Medway Queen closed upon the Brighton Belle as she sank picked off the 800 troops wich the doomed ship was carrying, plus her crew, her captain, and even the captain's dog.

Some Britons are cirtical of the decision to turn the Medway Queen into a restaurant. It would have been better if she could have been preserved as a Dunkkirk memorial, they argued, tied up at a promanent mooring like the clipper ship Cutty Sark. All, however, agree that the Medway Queen's new role is better than inglorious death in the scrapyard.

Miller Wonders If Election Will Be Honest One

By ROBERT T. GRAY

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller, the Republican party's hard-hitting candidate for vice president, twice has raised a question of whether this November's election will be an honest one.

The statements were the toughest that Miller has directed toward the president during the New York congressman's campaign.

In Manchester, N.H., Wednesday night, Miller told a cheering audience of 2,500 that GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and he believe in the democratic process. "And we don't want it made a sham of by the powers in this administration."

Continuing, Miller said: "By that, I mean that when our votes are cast in Chicago on Election Day, I want them counted on election night.

"And when our votes are cast in Texas on Election Day, I want them counted on election night."

I a speech to a crowd of approximately 500 earlier at Rutland, Vt., Miller said he hoped there would be an "honest election process" this year "even though I sometimes wonder if Lyndon Johnson wants it that way or not."

He also referred at Rutland to counting the Chicago and Texas votes.

He did not elaborate on the references.

Texas is the President's home state. Some Republicans charged in 1960, after the Democrats took Illinois by a narrow margin, that there had been vote tampering in Democratic-controlled Chicago.

COFFEE BREAK — Col. Charles Harris of the admissions and allocations committee of the Pikes Peak United Fund, hears about the YWCA from four of its residents. Serving coffee is Billiie Jean Schultz of Creede, Colo. Seated with Col. Harris from left are: Mary Richards from Bethune, Colo. Margareta Iride Barnes of Guatamala City . . . she was Miss Guatamala in 1961 . . . and Natya Chaiyakarn of Bangkok, Thailand. The YWCA is one of 33 agencies which will benefit in the United Fund drive for $484,800.

Colonel Learns 'YW' Program At First Hand

An invitation for a cup of coffee in the kitchen of the YMCA with four of the residents was extended to Col. Charles Harris, employment development officer of Ft. Carson and volunteer member of the Admissions and Allocations committee of the Pikes Peak United Fund.

The coffee break gave him an opportunity to learn first-hand about the residence program of the agency he is studying, prior to the allocation of funds raised in the campaign for $484,800.

Hostesses for the impromptu discussion were Mary Richards of Bethune Colorado, Natya Chaiyakarn of Bangkok, Thailand, Billie Jean Schultz of Creede, all of whom are students at Blair Business College, and Margareta Iride Barnes of Guatamala who was vacationing here between semesters at San Francisco State College where she is a music major.

Except for vacationing Miss Barnes the girls have all lived at the YWCA for almost a year. They sited the low cost of living as a main reason for being there. The girls are able to cook their own meals in the kitchen which keeps the cost of living within the reach of the students.

All explained that the best part about living at the YWCA is meeting new friends who are also some distance from home.

Col. Harris commented that Miss Chaiyakarn and Miss Barnes were a long way from home. He learned that Miss Chaiyakarn had come alone to this country to study. In both Thailand and Guatmala, English is learned in school at a very early age.

Neither girl thought that it was particularly usual to be living in a country whose customs and language were very different from her own.

Leaving the girls in the kitchen, Col. Harris stopped a moment to visit with a large group of elderly women playing bridge in a long, light room on the second floor. Downstairs several classes were taking place for young wives and the excitement of their small children just waking up from naps in the basement nursery could be heard.

As he left he complimented YWCA director Mrs. Ethel Jo Hellgren on the realistic budget request submitted each year to the United Fund. Col. Harris has served on the admissions and allocations committee for several years and has had the opportunity to visit and study nearly all United Fund agencies.

Judge Denies Plea Change In City Court Wednesday

Judge Allan Asher Wednesday in Municipal Court denied attorney Gordon Cooper's motion for a change of plea for his 18-year old client who had previously pleaded guilty to a charge of drag racing.

The charge had been lodged against Kenneth Sorabella, 2740 Ben Ct., two months ago, and in denying Cooper's request, Judge Asher said he thought the youth had been allowed ample time to make a motion for a change of plea.

In mitigation, Cooper said he didn't think Sorabella "realized the seriousness of the charge," and also said the youth was not drag racing, but trying to get around the car of the co-defendant, Larry Ivy, 18, 404 Rose Dr., Security, who had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Ivy spoke up and said he didn't see how Sorabella thought he could get around him as Sorabella was driving behind his car.

Judge Asher imposed fines of $150 against each youth, and suspended their rights to drive in the city for 30 days. He suspened $75 of Ivy's fine and $50 of Sorabella's on condition the two attend a traffic course Sept. 16 in the El Paso County Court House.

Hubert Baker, 23, Ent Air Force Base, pleaded guilty to $75 with $25 suspended if he attends the traffic course. In this case, the judge found John Bernheim, 23, 2701 Mid Rd., guilty of drag racing and imposed an identical fine with the same suspension condition.

Wilson MacIntosh, 45, 311½ N. Tejon St., was found guilty of careless driving. Half of his $50 fine was suspended on condition he also attends the traffic course.

A $75 fine was imposed on Donald Leigh, 32, 2600 W. Pikes Peak Ave., on his guilty plea to reckless driving. The judge also suspended $25 on his attending the traffic course.

Merelyn Hauschildt, 18, 2525 E. Dale St., pleaded guilty to a signal light violation. She was fined $20 with $10 reinstated from a previously suspended fine. Half the total fine was suspended if she attends the traffic course.

Charges of riotous conduct, breach of peace and drunkenness were dismissed against Virgil Dixon, 33, 646 E. Maple St., at the request of Dixon's wife Carol.

Francis McIntyre, 54, Brockton, Mass., was found guilty of being drunk and was sentenced to 10 days in city jail. Judge Asher dismissed a vagrancy charge against the man.

McIntyre claimed he was not drunk when cited Monday by Police Officer Henry Fryer. He said the "whole right side" of his head was shattered, the results of a truck accident and it was a "question of whether I drink or take medicine."

He said he had $2 and some change on him when picked up, and the money was not enough for medicine, so he took a few drinks, because it "staves off the pain" in his head. Fryer testified he discovered a container of "canned heat" in McIntyre's pocket when he was arrested.

A warrant was ordered for the arrest of Willie Brown, 22, Ft. Carson, who is charged with a muffler violation.

Judge Asher reinstated a $55 bond for Fred Martinez, 30, 532 E. Cimarron St., and set the man's trial for Sept. 28 on charges of riotous conduct, breach of peace and drunkenness. Martinez failed to appear in court Tuesday and the bond had been ordered forfeited.

Veronica Harrison, 19, who said she was enroute from California to Denver, pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy. She was given a 10-day jail sentence.

ORI Symposium Now in Progress At Antlers Hotel

The four day Air Defense Command Operational Readiness Inspection (ORI) symposium is now in progress at the Antlers Hotel. After welcome and keynote addresses by Lt. Gen. Henry Viccellio, ADC vice commander, and Brig. Gen. Michael J. Ingelido, ADC inspector general, respectively, the conference began a round of panel discussions.

Representatives from ADC air divisions are here to aid the headquarters staff in the revision, clarification and validation of regulations and other directives concerning ORI methods. The ORI is primarily an on-the-spot inspection designed to test the effectiveness of an operational unit.

Panel discussion leaders are Brig. Gen. Thomas B. Whitehouse (26th Air Div.), Col. James W. Holt (26th Air Div.), Lt. Col. Jay C. Milligan (25th Air Div.), Lt. Col. Robert W. Laird (29th Air Div.), and Maj. John J. Vogl (29th Air Div.)

Symposium project officer is Lt. Col. M. W. Miller of Hq. ADC. Program will end 4 p.m. Friday.

Noted Educator Says Area Schools Among Nations Best

A nationally known educator, Dr. Charles R. Keller, director of the John Hay Fellows seminar program, called Colorado Springs District 11 schools among the finest in the nation during an oreientation for the entire teaching staff Tuasday in Palmer High School.

From his meetings with students in city schools in the Advanced Placement Program and their parents, Dr. Keller observered that the school system was "moving." He also arrived at this concludion,he said, from observing classes in Wasson and Palmer high schools.

The program lets qualified students take courses in high school for college credit.

Prior to joining the John Hay Foundation, Dr. Keller directed the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board in Princeton, N. J.

The educator observed that the faculty symposium at Palmer High School was unique. He remarked on the cooperation between Colorado Springs public school teachers and the Colorado College faculty, many who meet during summer institutes sponsored by the John Hay Fellows at the college.

"Is there not something here (in seminars of this type) for schools and colleges in general and your schools in particular?" he asked.

He answered his own question, saying that summer seminars for teachers may cause them to acquire a thirst for knowledge which they will carry with them into their classrooms the following fall.

A good teacher, Dr. Keller said, should raise questions in the minds of his students, not simply ask what they know from the textbook.

He said that too many students direct their studies to determine what a teacher will ask on a test. He attacked the theory that it is impossible to arrive at fair grades for students when course material is not based on information in textbooks.

Dr. Keller observed that summer seminars between college teachers and secondary teachers destroy the myth that "secondary schools are a vast educational wasteland."

He mentioned two teachers' reactions following such a seminar: "I shall never be the same." "Now is the beginning."

A good teacher, Dr. Keller summed up, should know his subject and what to include and exclude in his teaching, be able to communicate with his students and "draw out" rather than "pour on" knowledge.

Wednesday Dr. Keller spoke on "History and the Social Sciences: The Outlook for 1964-65" at a meeting of the District 11 Social Science Committee.

Prior to Dr. Keller's talk, Dr. Arthur Olson, new deputy superintendent of schools for District 11, mentioned three areas that administrators will be studying in city schools:

— A review of basic aims and current goals and purposes of the educational philosophy.

— Establishing a grade - to - grade smooth transition in the learning process.

— Curriculumn development, including innovations and research projects.

200 Expected To Take Part In Scout Show

More than 200 youngsters are expected to participate in the Royal Gorge District Scout Show scheduled at 7:30 p.m., Saturday at the Canon City Rodeo Grounds.

Vern Kritner of Canon City, chairman of the show, said the circus would be the best yet held in the district which includes scouts from Canon City and Florence.

Burl Huitt, manager of the Greeley Gas Co. will be the announcer of the show. Featured will be a tug-of-war near the end of the program, pitting scouts against their dads.

Cub Scouts will lead off with a demonstration of the physical fitness program.

The Boy Scouts will take over with such contests as a stretcher race, rope crossing, lighting matches with a chopping ax, string burning, and the exciting chariot races.

The Silver Beaver award holders in the area will be recognized along with four scouts who were the Royal Gorge district delegates at the National Scout Jamboree held this summer at Valley Forge, Pa.

Kritner said the show is being planned to be entertaining as well as instructive to parents and to others interested in what Canon City and Florence youngsters are capable of doing with proper adult guidance.

Mrs. Mary Burford's Funeral Held Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Viola Burford, widow of Frank Burford and a longtime resident of Colorado Springs, were held at 1 p.m. today at the Swan Drawing Room. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Burford died Tuesday, at 83, at a local nursing home. She was reared in Colorado Springs and was a member of Jehovah's Witnesses. She is survived by a son, Charles Stanley, of Stockton, Calif., and three stepdaughters, Mrs. Olive Squire and Mrs. Ruby Ackerman, both of Oakland, Calif., and Miss Hazel Burford, Panama Canal Zone.

School for Girls Will Open With 55 Students

The Colorado Springs School for Girls in Broadmoor will open Monday with 55 students, including six girls from out of town.

This is almost tripling the enrollment when the school was started in 1962. The academic program is designed to meet today's demanding college admissions requirements.

Miss Elizabeth Roorbach, a Radcliffe graduate, will head the science department which will include elementary biology for grade six, geology for grade seven, biology for grade 10, and physics for the senior class.

Miss Katie Veen, who has been with the school since its inception, will teach French, along with Mrs. Helen Castelli, wife of Lt. Col. Joseph Castelli, associate professor of geography at the Air Force Academy.

Mrs. Castelli has taught French at such independent schools as Dalton in New York, the Low-Heywood School in New Haven, Conn., and the University School of the University of Oklahoma. She has a masters in French from the University of Oklahoma and is working toward her doctorate.

French will be taught in grades six through 12, inclusive.

A Radcliffe honor graduate, Mrs. John Pitman, will teach Latin. Mrs. Pitman's Latin I students in 1963 achived ratings in the 80th and 90th percentiles by independent school norms on their spring achievement tests which were scored and scaled by the Educational Records Bureau in New York against the 750 independent schools in the United States.

History is a basic feature of the curriculum, interwoven at all levels with the English curriculum. Sixth graders study world explorers; grade seven will concentrate on ancient civilizations. Greece and Rome will be the areas of study for the eighth grade class, and medieval and Renaissance Europe will be covered in grade nine. Juniors and seniors will take U.S. History.

Col. Robert O. Rupp will teach mathematics along with John Pitman, a graduate of Marietta College. The mathematics curriculum is based on the findings of the School Mathematics Study Group, a research team of school and college specialists in mathematics who revolutionized mathematics teaching a few years ago.

English, the primary concern of the school, will use a curriculum that is being published this winter by the National Association of Independent Schools in a book on new and effective teaching methods. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Ava Heinrichsdorff who attended Stanford University.

Mrs. J. Randolph Campbell is the headmistress.

Infantry Units To Conduct Readiness Tests

The 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) at Ft. Carson will conduct practice readiness exercises in the near future as part of its mission to be ready to go any place, any time by any means of transportation.

These exercises will test the abilities of division units to assemble personnel and load equipment rapidly. Men will be called at anytime, day or night. Those on pass will be notified through local radio and TV stations and by military police patrols.

Civilian and military residents of the Pikes Peak region, Pueblo and Canon City, are asked to cooperate in passing information on the exercises along to military personnel living in their vicinities.

Insurance Building Burglarized of $900

The Prudential Life Insurance Co. building, 602 S. Tejon St., was burglarized between 4:30 p.m. Tuesday and 6 a.m. Wednesday, police reported.

The intruders had apparently broken a plate glass window in the front door to gain entrance.

A custodian stated he found the supply room ransacked and the office safe pried open. A Prudential spokesman said approximately $620 in bills, $40 in coins, and $343 in checks were missing.

The culprits have not been apprehended, police said.

TEAMSTERS' PICKET — A man who said he was a non-union member hired by Teamsters Union Local 537 hides behind a placard Wednesday while he pickets the Inter - Mountain Dairymen, 129 S. Corona Ave. Dwight E. Hull, manager of the dairy products business, was reported to be out of town and unavailable for comment on the one-man picket line. Said Fred W. Bier, president of Teamsters Local 146 of Colorado Springs, "They paddle their own canoe (Teamsters Local 537). I'm glad of it." (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

Monument Raises Water Deposits For Rental Units

The town of Monument has raised its water deposit rates to $15 for persons renting buildings in the town limits.

This represents an increase of $5 from the basic deposit rate will remain in effect for property owners.

At the same time, officials announced that Monument Realty Co. will act as collection agent for the Town. The firm will collect the water bill.

In other announcements, officials said that the Town will not buy back cemetery lots. It was explained that some persons who had originally bought the lots had sold them to other individuals who in turn want to sell them back to Monument.

The exterior of the Fire Hall will be remodeled and the front portion of the interior will be used as a Town Hall, officials said.

New School Bus Suggested for District 14

The Manitou Springs District 14 School Board Wednesday discussed buying another bus, mainly to take care of an increased enrollment in the Ute Pass area.

School Superintendent W. W. Bundy said that some buses are overloaded and that "loop" runs are often necessary, especially for high school students.

Bundy said that an additional bus would be needed and the board took his recommendation under advisement.

No action was taken on a request for bus service up Ruxton Avenue. The board made no provision in this year's budget for sending buses up Ruxton, or to other outlying areas in Manitou, including the growing Crystal Hills subdivisions in the east end of the city.

The Board agreed to a two-way exchange involving a few youngsters with Woodland Park School District RE-2 in Teller County. Last year such an exchange involving one student saved District 14 about $500.

Bundy said that total enrollment was 1,133 as of Wednesday, including 353 students in Manitou Springs High School.

The board heard a report that $15,048 would be paid to the district for hail damage.

The resignation of Frances Boeckman was accepted. She taught Spanish and English for the past two years and resigned last August during school registration.

Car Taken From Man at Gun Point

Anthony Salvo, Hollywood, Calif. reported to the sheriff's office Thursday that a man he had met in Acacia Park had stolen his car from him after threatening him with a gun.

According to Deputy Sheriff Bob Walters and Ray Carey, Salvo took the man for a ride and in the vicinity of Woodman Valley Road he produced the gun, forced Salvo out and drove off in the car. It is a 1964 Valiant sedan, light blue, California license BLL 401.

Four Fined $100 Each For Assault

Four Ft. Carson men who smashed all the windows of a car then beat and robbed a young couple who were parked by Prospect Lake Aug. 28 were fined $100 each and sentenced to 90 days in County Jail Wednesday by Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane.

The four were charged with assault and battery and malicious mischief. They were Edgar B. Mullen, 18, Raymond Sexton Walker, 23, Elish Jasmon, 20, and Melvin Harris, 18.

According to testimony given in court the four men approached the couple, a boy and girl, who were seated in the boy's car. After asking for a cigaret they proceeded to break all the windows in the vehicle causing $230 damage.

One of the defendants hit the boy on the chin with his fist while another one struck the girl with a rock. They then took 50 cents from her and 60 cents from her companion.

Man Found Guilty on Larceny Count

Kenneth Lloyd Edwards was found guilty in District Court Wednesday of larceny from the person and Judge William M. Calvert gave his attorney, Jack Foutch until Sept. 25 in which to file a motion for a new trial.

Edwards, 24, Denver, was accused of robbing Sgt. David N. Monk, Ft. Carson, of $115 July 1.

The first witness to appear for the defense Wednesday was Franklin Levi Lewis, a co-defendant who is scheduled for trial on the same charge Oct. 6. Lewis, 24, Denver, admitted to Foutch that he had a previous felony conviction, Edwards has admitted to two, and denied robbing Monk.

In his closing arguments Montell Dunn who appeared for the district attorney's office, said in reference to the defendant's testimony given Tuesday, that it had been "concocted in the most vulgar way and rehearsed in such detail that it was virtually impossible to remember all those details." He also added it was "completely fabricated" and that Monk had been a victim of a mugging and had money taken from him by Edwards and Lewis.

In reply Foutch answered that the conviction was going to require more evidence than that had been brought out in court. On Tuesday, the judge, it was a non-jury trial, was told how Monk had accepted a ride from the two men back to Ft. Carson and that shortly after he had been robbed he stopped a state patrol car which gave chase to the fleeing pair and arrested them. Foutch also added that the case "boiled down to the prosecuting witness telling one story and the defendant another."

Bike Rider Injured in Accident

Stephen McFarlin, 11, 3301 Pennsylvania Ave., suffered injuries Wednesday afternoon as a result of a bicycle-car collision. The boy suffered a puncture wound to the right thigh and abrasion to the hand and was taken to St. Francis Hospital by E and E Ambulance, State Patrol reported.

The accident occurred in the 3300 block of N. Pennsylvania Avenue. Driver of the car, Carol A. Shipp, 18, 3226 Gladiola St., told Patrolman Nathan Boals that she saw the bike headed toward her in her lane and had stopped the car.

The bike then struck the car head on, causing the rider to be thrown up over the hood and landing on the pavement at the left side of the car, Boals said.

Cash Register Rifled, $35 Taken, Police Say

A cash register in the Walden Oil Co., 202 S. Cascade Ave., was rifled late Wednesday afternoon of $35.00, police reported.

Ray Worthey, an employe of the company, said he was working in the rear of the station when a car came into the drive. As he was going out to service the vehicle, he noticed three youths standing in the office drinking pop. When he returned the youths were gone, the register drawer was open, and the money was missing.

Police said they were looking for suspects.

'Evangelistic' Oratory Used By President

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has discovered that the evangelistic-type oratory that won him cheers in the Deep South last spring can be equally effective in an industrial city of the North.

He added an emotional and sentimental appeal for national unity and brotherhood to his unofficial campaign kickoff speech in Detroit Monday.

The response was enthusiastic, echoing the reception he received with similarly emotion-charged speeches during his springtime "poverty tours" of Georgia, the Carolina and other Southern states.

Some of Johnson's Detroit listeners interrupted with spontaneous cries of "Yeah! Yeah!" The effect was not unlike that of a camp meeting enlivened with shouts of "amen!"

Said Johnson: "When I was young, I often walked out after supper and looked up at the scattered Texas sky. As a boy, on those still nights, I wondered what those heavens had seen, what they would see, and what they might bring to me.

"The world has turned many times since, but still in the evening I sometimes walk out and look across the great capital city where I live, and I dream the same dreams, and I ask the same questions."

Johnson, who was seen by crowds estimated by police at 100,000 during his five-hour visit to Detroit, went on to identify himself with his audience.

"Just as you do, I sit and think of today's events and tomorrow's problems. I feel glad in my family and concern for my children."

All of this was the introduction for some philosophizing by Johnson about the American dream.

The President concluded that he hoped for a day when all Americans will say, "Group to group, man to man, 'There on this earth, as in the eyes of God, walks my brother.' "

After pausing to permit another round of cheering to spend itself, Johnson went on.

"Well, this is my dream. It is not the grand vision of a powerful and feared national. It concerns the simple wants of people, but this is what America is really all about."

He said "This is the star that I hope to follow," and reaching again toward his audience, he said: "This is the star which I know that most of you at some time have seen, and which I first glimpsed many, many years ago, one night out in the West."

The President concluded by recalling a revolutionary slogan, shouting: "United we stand — divided we fall."

FRANKFURT—German population growth has halted temporarily.

THE NEWEST—The guy who introduced the topless bathing suit apparently has changed his mind. In Rudi Gernreich's fall collection, shown in New York, he introduced the complete "cover up" silhouette, complete with striped stockings. Well, what next?

Beverly Hillbilly Character Is Veteran Actress

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A sleek beige sports car, with red leather bucket seats, stick shift and wire wheels, drew smoothly up to the entrance of the hotel. Out stepped a slim woman wearing a chic blue knit dress and high-heeled shoes.

Neither the face nor the figure seemed familiar, but there came a familar voice: "I'm sure sorry to be late, but we're on location in the hills today and I raced back to dab some water on this pore ole face." It was Grannie, the peppery old lady from the Ozark hills who refuses to be influenced by the sharp civilized ways of Beverly Hills.

Irene Ryan, who created the crotchety character in "Beverly Hillbillies," is a veteran professional actress who has been in show business since she won a San Francico amateur contest at the age of 11. Her experience includes vaudeville, radio, motion pictures, night clubs, but it wasn't until she popped up in the corn-fed CBS comedy series which exploded into a hit that she tasted the sweets of real success.

The series came at a critical moment in her life. A widow, her second marriage had ended unhappily and she was trying to decide whether to return to night clubs. Paul Henning, an old friend, took one look at her slight, slim figure and heard her squeaky voice and decided that, with some drab gray hair, old rags, Army boots and gold-rimmed specs that Grannie Clampett had come to life.

Since then, it is Irene who has come to life. The Clampett fortune, in the show, came from oil. A bit superstitiously, Irene invested a bit of her salary in an oil well and today she, too, receives a handsome monthly check — not millions, but a nice chunk of spending money.

"It's been a pretty busy summer for me," she said. "We've been out playing the fairs, pleasing the crowds — and making money."

The only real fly in this compulsive performer's ointment is that Irene Ryan looks so totally unlike Grannie that it is literally impossible to recognize her.

"I can go anywhere," she says, just a little bit unhappily.

Maureen O'Sullivan, who left the cast of a Broadway hit to take over the woman's spot on NBC's "Today" show last May, decided that 13 weeks was enough and leaves at the end of next week. Pat Fontaine, who preceded Miss O'Sullivan as the "Today Girl" and established a longevity record in the spot, is reported to be back in St. Louis with her own weather show.

Continuing Congo Crisis Plagues World Diplomats

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

If a crisis can be said to be a continuing one, then for the last four years the Congo has answered that description.

It is a crisis that has defied solution by the United States, by the United Nations, the Belgians, the Russians and the Congolese themselves.

For the Republic of the Congo has never been a nation. Nor has its tribal structure permitted the emergence of a man who might be a national leader although several including the late Patrice Lumumba, former Premier Cyrille Adoula and now Moise Tshombe have tried to create the image of national leaders.

The Congo already was on its way back to the jungle when the last United Nations troops pulled out at the end of June and it accelerated its pace with their departure.

Savagery, bow-and-arrow warfare, murder, rape and even cannibalism rushed to fill the vacuum left by departing authority.

Try Another Solution

Against this background of failure and frustration, the unlikeliest of all collaborators met in the Ethiopian capital of Addis Ababa this week for another attempt at solution.

On the one hand was Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe pleading for the aid of black African troops to help bring about order, and on the other the foreign ministers of other new African nations which had damned him the most when he attempted to lead his Katanga Province out of the Congo and hired white mercenaries to help with the job.

Many of these leaders were the same who had barred him from a recent African summit conference in Cairo.

Sponsoring the meeting which had been called at the Congo's own request was the OAU, the Organization of African Unity which now was being called upon to face its greatest challenge.

Faces Past Record

Working against Tshombe not only was his past record but also the fact that to attain even limited success in turning back Congolese rebels he again had turned to the help of white mercenaries.

And, even worse, most of them had come from Southern Rhodesia and South Africa whose white supremacy policies have made them especially distasteful to Africans.

Upon his return to the Congo to lead the nation he once had sought to dismember, Tshombe asked the help of troops from Nigeria, Ethiopia, Liberia, Senegal and Malagasy. But these nations, suspicious of Tshombe and his past, had been reluctant to act without the sanction of the OAU.

The United States, never too fond of Tshombe, contributed material and and reluctantly had accepted the use of mercenaries.

Whatever else, the United States did not want to see the vacuum filled by Red China whose emissaries had been dabbling in the Congolese revolt from the neighboring states of the former French Congo in Brazzaville and Burundi.

Czech Reds Report Shortage of Labor

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist government has appealed to pensioners to give up retirement and return to their jobs because of an acture labor shortage.

Radio Prague announced that pensioners could return to manual work for 120 days a year without losing their pensions.

Failure to attract more young people to farming jobs has aggravated the labor problem.

SURPRISE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Navy sprang a surprise on one of its admirals. Vice Adm. Paul D. Stroop was aboard the attack carrier Oriskany at San Diego, Calif., for what he thought was a routine address by Undersecretary of the Navy Paul R. Fay Jr.

Then Fay told the 1,500 Navy officers that he was using the occasion to present Stroop the Distinguished Service Medal for his performance as the first chief of the Bureau of Naval Weapons. Stroop was chief of the bureau from 1959 to 1962.

COPENHAGEN — Denmark will supply twice as much food as this country.

How to Keep Well

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

PREPARATION FOR LEISURE

Our world is accelerating so rapidly, it seems to have no place for the subject of leisure. But we might as well face the fact that the work day is shrinking and more older people are maintaining their creative ability because of better health. What will they do when their productive days are over?

Dr. Alexander Reid Martin believes we should concentrate less on the underprivileged, exploited, overworked, and the poverty stricken and turn our attention to the leisure stricken. This means preparation for leisure. He subscribed to the philosophy that "only those fit for work and leisure survive as creative individuals. The others will exist as sterile robots, alienated from life and from themselves, living vicariously, and so deadened that they compulsively seek overstimulation from the extreme, the lurid, the bizarre, and the macabre."

The man of the future may be forced to put his capacity for leisure on the same level as his capacity for work. This is difficult to accept because most of us have grown up with the concept that leisure is earned through hard work—a reward for a job well done.

In addition we consider time for leisure and leisure as the same thing. They are as different as merely existing and really living. On the other hand, work should complement leisure and those who have the capacity for both are fortunate.

A hobby should not be a substitute for work; it keeps the individual and his mind busy because he cannot stand to be alone or does not know how to enjoy his free time.

The person who retains his capacity for leisure usually possesses excellent emotional traits acquired through good mental health. It is difficult to enjoy leisure when plagued with compulsions that have a must or an imperative quality. "I must work" or "I must get ready for tomorrow's task" only serves to interfere with relaxation, reflection, marveling, and the other expressions of leisure necessary for creative growth.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if a stamped self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

Chronic Hepatitis

L. G. S. writes: Why do some cases of hepatitis become chronic?

Reply

This is the nature of the disease. We can assume some people have less resistance to the causative virus or that the liver is not healthy when the disease is acquired. Lack of treatment or disregard for the symptoms may play a role.

Ulcerative Colitis

W. E. writes: Is ulcerative colitis caused by infection?

Reply

The cause of the disease is unknown. It has all the earmarks of a severe bacterial infection of the bowel, but no causative micro-organisms have been found. Hypersensitivity, emotional factors, and nutritional inadequacies are possible causes.

Fluid And Pills

Mrs. A. M. writes: Would it be advisable to take diuretic pills to get rid of the water accumulated by the use of contraceptive pills?

Reply

This can be done but seldom is necessary unless large amounts of fluid accumulate.

Sulfur Dioxide

C. H. writes: I like stewed dried apricots but the label says "prepared with sulfur dioxide." Is it safe to eat these products?

Reply

Yes. This substance is added for its bleaching and preservative qualities.

Today's Health Hint

Trampolines can cause serious injuries.

Although installment debt has been increasing annually, an estimated one-half of the nation's families are debt-free, according to a New York City economics consulting firm.

Holly Oil Shows 10 Cents Per Share Increase

Holly Oil Company had a net income for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1964 amounting to $52,189, or 10.9 cents per share compared to $48,769 for the preceding year or 10.2 cents per share on 477,864 shares outstanding. A dividend of 10 cents a share was paid to stockholders on May 18, 1964, James A. Magruder, president, reported in a letter which accompanied the annual report mailed to the Holly Oil Company stockholders on September 10, 1964.

The Company's net production during the fiscal year was 86,231 barrels of crude oil compared to 100,483 barrels in the preceding year, and 661,899 MCF of gas compared to 502,046 MCF in the preceding year.

The third helium well was completed in the Pennsylvania zone, on the Table Mesa lease in New Mexico, in which the Company has a one quarter carried interest. The Bureau of Mines' helium plant at Shiprock, New Mexico where the helium is marketed is now operating at near capacity.

Two wells on the Croffoot Lease in Kansas, in which the Company owns a one quarter interest, were deepened during the year with limited success.

Two wells on the Dominguez E-1 Unit, (de Francis) Dominguez Hills, California, were successfully redrilled during the year and the waterflood program is resulting in increased production.

One well on the Ferrell lease in Kansas was deepened during the year to provide more water for the waterflood and an increase in production has been obtained from the entire lease. A new portion of the field is now being flooded and is responding satisfactorily.

A new producing oil well has been completed on formerly nonproductive acreage in Ness County, Kansas in which the Company owns a 7-16ths working interest. The well is high structurally and initial tests indicate a better than average well. This is Mississippi lime production, which is generally long lived. A second well has been drilled and completed as a producer.

Leases on 3,236 acres in Kansas and Colorado were abandoned. At this time the Company holds leases on approximately 17,005 undeveloped acres, principally in Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, New Mexico and Utah.

Magruder also reported that on June 30, 1964 The First National Bank of Colorado Springs was appointed Transfer Agent and the Colorado Springs National Bank was appointed Registrar for the Company's capital stock. Other changes and economies in operation and management have been successfully effected, and are contributing to a stronger and more efficient low-cost operation.

Philip Winslow To Join German Dealer Tour

Philip A. Winslow, president of Phil Winslow Motors Inc., leaves today on a 11-day tour of Germany as a part of a dealer tour.

The tour is composed of 60 dealers, mostly from the Western United States and is sponsored by the Volkswagen of America western importers for the United States.

Purpose of the tours is observation of the unique organization behind the Volkswagen Company, to meet the company management and to provide the opportunity of factory management meeting with United States dealers.

Winslow, who is general manager of the business at 730 N. Circle Drive, will leave Los Angeles on Luftana Airlines and will visit the cities of Hanover, Woldsburg, West Berlin, East Berlin, Pothenburg, of Tauber, Gammisch, Partenbinchen, Munich and Hamburg.

PEACE CORPS COUNTERPART

NEW YORK (UPI) — The "peace corps" of the world's Protestant and Orthodox churches is operating work camps this summer in 26 countries in Europe, Asia, Africa and North and South America, according to a National Council of Churches executive.

The Rev. C. Frederick Stoerker, director of the Council's Commission on Ecumenical Voluntary Service Projects, said more than a thousand Christian students and young people from around the world have left their home countries to live in international groups and work together on projects ranging from the rehabilitation of North African families in France to a literacy program in Atlanta, Ga.

Insurance Co. Sets Up Voting Aid Program

The Travelers Insurance Companes has taken a major step to assure a well informed vote among its employees in Colorado by encouraging them to give active support and financial assistance to the political party of their choice.

This effort is being made through The Travelers countrywide, non-partisan political participation program, described by the United States Chamber of Commerce as "the first of its kind in the nation." The plan, initiated this year by the company, already has been endorsed enthusiastically by Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey and Republican Chairman Dean Burch. Moreover, Republican and Democratic chairmen in each state have been advised of the program, which is designed to generate individual political aprticipation at the "grass roots" level.

The company has more than 300 field offices across the country, including major headquarters at Denver.

J. Doyle DeWitt, Travelers president, estimates the program will reach approximately 22,150 employees and nearly 2,000 retirees.

A special kit has been mailed to all employees and retires. The kit contains cards which the addressee may complete should he wish to make a financial contribution of volunteer as a worker in the party of his choice.

Also enclosed are preaddressed envelopes so that employees may mail the cards directly to party chairmen in their respective states.

Commenting on the plan, DeWitt emphasized to employees that the company "is in no way seeking to influence your political choice, but we do believe we should all share in the responsibility for making possible the largest and best informed vote."

Suter's to Hold Open House at New Location

Suter's House of Guns is holding open house Friday and Saturday at its new location, 401 N. Tejon St.

Thomas Suter, owner of the business, has announced that persons registering during the opening will be eligible to win prizes consisting of an RCBS rifle reloading tool complete, a Texan shotgun loader, a pair of 6 x 30 Bushnell binoculars and a Russell belt hunting knife.

The new location affords more space and we plan to add new merchandise to our stock including items relating to the hunting and fishing lines as well as equipment for camping, Suter said.

"We hope to sell hunting clothes, boots, sleeping bags and this type of equipment along with name brand guns of all types, scopes and other sporting supplies," he aded.

In addition Suter said he will install scopes free that are purchased in his shop providing the gun on which the instrument is to be mounted is tapped and drilled.

Suter, a native of Pennsylvania, is a graduate of the Colorado School of Trades where he learned the gunsmithing trade. He came to Colorado Springs in 1957 and started his business at 123 E. Boulder St.

Suter is married and the father of two children. He lives with his wife Audry at 1026 E. Jackson St. He is a member of the First Methodist Church and also belongs to several local sporting clubs.

Jack Thompson, an employe and gunsmith in the shop, has been with Suter for the past four years.

Population Growth Is Economic Expansion Hint

By SAM CAMPBELL

You were reading news stories a few months ago that the "baby boom" had faded to a muffled thud. Now you read that the slowdown in births was just a temporary phenomenon. What is news like that doing on the financial pages?

Well, the theory is that more babies mean more business. That is, parents will have to buy more food, more play pens, more toys. In less time than it takes to retool a doll factory, the young ones will have become teenagers with new and magnified wants which only a few years later will be multiplied again as demand for cars and dwellings.

It's a nice theory, and there is indeed some relationship between births and expansion. But essentially the theory is not true, and the falsity can be easily demonstrated.

If births make business expansion, China and India would be the industrial capitals of the world. They have more babies than anybody.

Conversely, it is conceivable that the United States would have an incredible expansion of business in the next decade even if births should fall below the death rate.

In short the connection between births and business expansion is problematical, rather than direct. Now I will explain precisely what that connection is.

The whole complex relationship can be summarized by one word "incentive." Now let's take that term apart and see exactly what it refers to.

Incentive is comprised of two main elements. One element is opportunity, and the other element is salesmanship.

First, in order to be productive, a man must have leeway to produce. He must not be overly restricted by government red tape or by organizational pressures, and he must have a chance to enjoy the returns of what he worked to create. That makes sense, doesn't it?

Second, in order to be productive, a man must have a vision of what he expected to buy. Where there is no vision, the people perish — so says Holy Writ. The building of vision is a function of salesmanship — whether that vision is a glimpse of the Promised Land or a sporty second car.

Babies come into the business picture because they make it easy for even a poor sales person to build vision. Because of the emotion that normal parents feel for their offspring they are willing to work harder in order to create the buying power for themselves that requite's the infant's wants. Parents easily can visualize their child's enjoying the doll, the ball, the bicycle etc. that he does not yet possess.

A good salesman who has learned how to motivate and inspire can move useful merchandise that has no direct connection with infancy. Salesmanship plus opportunity — not babies per se — is the bridge that connects the economy to expansion.

SURGEONS MEET

CHICAGO (UPI)—Members of the North American Federation of the International College of Surgeons opened their 29th annual convention Wednesday. The meeting will run through Sept. 11th.

The highlight of the convention, which will feature 26 panel discussions bringing physicians up to date on the latest theories and practices in surgery, will be a "Surgeons of the Century" dinner Thursday night.

Award was accepted by school director Benjamin H. Lipton (left), who described Zoellner, a 1949 graduate, as an outstanding alumnus. Ceremony took place at dinner attended by 136 of the 20-year-old school's more than 800 alumni.

Sears to Invest $4 Million in 10 Day Advertising

Sears, Roebuck and Co. will invest $4 million in advertising during the next 10 days to celebrate its 78th Anniversary, it was announced today.

George H. Struthers, vice president in charge of merchandising, said 75 per cent of the total — or some $3 million — will be spent for white space in more than 900 newspapers. The remainder will go to radio and television, circulars, and other media.

Struthers pointed out that this represents the largest amount Sears has ever spent for advertising a single event.

At the same time, he reported that the company expects to spend more than $70 million for newspaper advertising this year.

Figures just made available, Struthers said, show that Sears actual expenditures for newspaper advertising in 1963 established a new record of $65,166,000. This was more than $7 million above the 1962 expenditure.

In a report just completed, Marvin C. Lunde, national retail sales promotion and advertising manager, said the company's retail stores purchased 303.1 million lines of white space in 931 daily and weekly newspapers — located in every state except Alaska, where Sears has no retail stores.

Lunde's report shows the $65 million spent for newspaper advertising in 1963 represented 71.4 per cent of Sears total retail media expense of $91,290,000. Advertising through circulars, magazines, radio and television, and miscellaneous media accounted for the remainder.

Sears has double reason to celebrate this month, Lunde added, because it also marks the 39th birthday for Sears retail stores.

For the first half of its 78-year history, the company's only "store" was its general catalog. In 1925, the opening of Sears first retail store proved an immediate success and led to a full-scale expansion program. The company now operates more than 770 retail stores in the United States.

Lunde noted that the nation's newspapers have shared in Sears growth over the years.

In 1930, Sears newspaper ad expenditures topped the $5 million mark — and the following year, sales of the retail stores exceeded those of the catalog division for the first time.

Sears newspaper ad expenditures reached a pre-war high of $13 million in 1941. After World War II, as consumer goods returned to the marketplace and the company resumed its expansion program, Sears newspaper ad spending again began setting new records — crossing the $30 million mark in 1951, $40 million in 1955, $50 million in 1959, and $60 million in 1963.

L. M. Makings, Retired Grocer Died Wednesday

Lew Merle Makings, 1517 W. Pikes Peak Ave., former owner of the 15th St. Grocery, died Wednesday at a local hospital. He had been a resident of Colorado Springs since 1950, when he bought the 15th St. Grocery Store, which he sold to his son in 1953. But he continued to work in the store as long as his health permitted.

Mr. Makings was born in Ludell, Kan., Oct. 30, 1895. He engaged in wheat farming until 1932, when he moved to Park County, Colo., where he was in ranching and grocery business. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of American Legion Post No. 5, Colorado Springs, and of the Gateway Presbyterian Church.

He was married at Atwood, Kan., Dec. 25, 1921, and his wife, Mrs. Faye Makings, survives him. He is also survived by his son, Kenneth Makings; a daughter, Bernice Sparks; three sisters, Ada Prather, Yuma, Colo.; Grace Pennell, Trenton, Neb., and Velma Horemza, Colby, Kan., four grandchildren and nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Our Chapel of Memories. The Rev. Richard Baker and the Rev. Herman Heuser will officiate. Burial will be in Memorial Gardens. Pallbearers will be: Henry Casler Coy Baughman, William Holmes, Kenneth Duggen, Bob Porter and LaVern Kruse.

Phone Company Announces Two New Promotions

Two new promotions have been announced for the Mountain States Telephone Company by Glenn W. Anderso, district manager.

Tyson J. Hollingsworth has accepted the position of business office manager and Gary A. Atler will become unit manager.

Hollingsworth is taking the position left by R. W. Heath who has been transferred to Denver. His previous assignments with the company have been in Denver and Colorado Springs.

Atler is a graduate of Colorado College and has been employed by Mountain States Telephone for the past two years. His last position with the company was that of communications consultant with the marketing department.

Largest Rail Hopper Car In Operation

The introduction here today by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad of its mammoth stainless steel covered hopper car — the world's largest — signaled more than the beginning of a new era in American railroading. It dramatized a new high in cooperation among three companies, each a leader in its field, to get the car built and into operation.

Working closely with the Coast Line over the past year, these companies include the following: American Steel Foundries, Inc., developer of a new six-wheel truck used for the first time; Pullman-Standard Division of Pullman Incorporated, builder of ACL's unusual covered hopper; and United States Steel Corp., supplier of the steels used in the car, including USS Tenelon stainless steel.

In ceremonies in Jacksonville the 135-ton collosus was christened "Whopper Hopper." The car is so large, ACL President W. Thomas Rice pointed out, that in a single trip it can transport enough sugar to sweeten 30,000,000 cups of coffee or enough wheat, made into bread, to fill 200 average size delivery trucks.

"The car also features four, easy-access hatches in the roof for rapid loading," Rice said, "in addition to some of the industry's largest discharge gates, the openings of which can be adjusted to regulate flow from a trickle to a quick dump."

One of the most revolutionary innovations in the covered hopper, however, is its interior cleaning device, which includes an automatic washing system inside the hoppers. Once it has been coupled to a track-side water outlet, the system will then flush out the stainless steel interior, making it "kitchen clean" and ready for the next lading.

The Tenelon stainless steel used in fabricating the "Whopper Hopper" was developed by U.S. Steel. Highly corrosion-resistant, Tenelon stainless has nearly twice the design strength of ordinary stainelss steel grades, thus permitting it to be used in thinner, weight-saving sheets for walls, hoppers, ends and roof — all parts which contact the lading.

Local Man Attends Insurance School

Richard H. Hanson of N. Royer St., recently attended the 71st home office career school of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company in Hartford. He is an associate of the DeWitt Jones, Jr., Agency in Denver.

The school covered the modern applications of life insurance to family financial planning and business problems. Qualification is based on successful records with the company.

Brock's Hot Bat Moves Cardinals Into Second Place in NL Standings

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Can the St. Louis Cardinals go for broke with Lou Brock?

That was the big question in the National League after Brock continued his heavy hitting for the Cardinals, slamming a homer and four singles as St. Louis whipped first-place Philadelphia 10-5 in 11 innings Wednesday night in the opener of a two-game series.

The victory was the 13th in 16 games for the second-place Cardinals — the Phillies have an 8-9 record over the same period — and kept them steamrolling toward the top while whittling Philadelphia's league lead to five games.

And Brock, the key man in a six-player trade completed with the Chicago Cubs just before the June 15 trading deadline, has supplied a big stick in an outfield depleted by Stan Musial's retirement.

"Brock was the key to the trade," said Manager Johnny Keane at the time even though he had to give up a front-line pitcher in Ernie Broglio. "We wanted a man who could keep in the line-up every day. We believe Brock is the man and he should be of great healp with his speed."

True.

Brock, a 25-year-old left-hander swinger, was hitting only .251 for the Cubs but has hit at a .351 clip for the Cardinals, scoring 64 runs, driving in 33 and stealing 30 bases in 79 games while moving into the top 10 among the hitters with an over-all .311 mark.

Batting .388 since the Cardinals started their streak, Brock singled in the first inning against the Phillies, flied out in the third, homered in the fifth, singled in the seventh, singled in the ninth as the Cardinals tied the score and singled as they won it in the 11th.

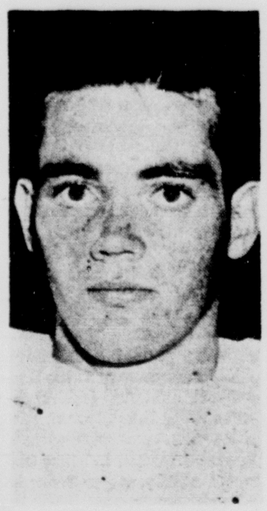
The Cardinals' victory left them one game up on Cincinnati and San Francisco, who remained six games off the pace. The Reds lost to Pittsburgh 4-1 and the Giants were whacked by the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-1.

Elsewhere, Milwaukee whipped the New York Mets 7-4 and the Cubs defeated Houston 6-3.

The Cardinals, who were 11 games behind the Phillies on Aug. 24, were two runs behind going into the ninth but tied it 5-5 on singles by Charley James and Brock, his steal of second, Bill White's gounder and a single by Ken Boyer. Boyer had hit a homer earlier.

Then, in the 11th, the Cardinals struck against ace Philadelphia reliever Jack Baldschun. Curt Flood and Brock singled and both rode home on a double by White.

Prep Stars of the Week



JERRY WILLIAMS

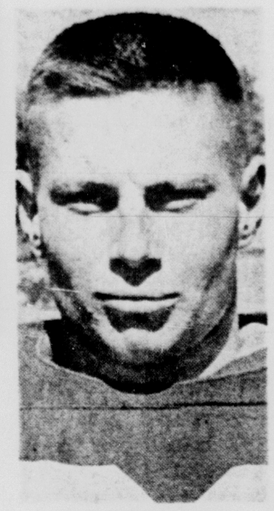
Jerry Williams, Harrison's explosive halfback, was selected the Back of the Week for his outstanding performance last week in igniting the Panthers over Crowley County, 46-0.

Williams was selected for the award by the Gazette Telegraph sports staff over a field of other outstanding backs such as Cheyenne's Greg Cramblit and Wasson's Jim Smith. The 160-pound senior halfback scored three touchdowns to pace the Panthers in their season opener victory.

In addition to his offensive endeavors, Williams also excelled on defense backing up the Panthers' forward wall at the middle linebacker slot.

Others considered for the award were: Sam Zavatti, St. Mary's; Rich Larsen, Harrison Bill Wood, Air Academy High; Dennis Bair, Palmer; Tom Nigbur, Widefield; and Cramblit and Smith.

Michigan State radio station WKAR was one of the first in the nation to broadcast a football game from the field of play when it aired the Spartan-Michigan contest in 1923.



CLAUDE SPEARS
LINEMAN

Palmer High's fine kicking Claude Spears, a 169 - pound senior, has been selected for lineman of the Week honors after the first week of play in the new football season.

Spears' peerformance was a vital one in the Terrors' opening 26-13 victory over Aurora Hinkley last Friday night, and it earned him the choice by the sports department of the Gazette Telegraph.

Among Spears' feats last week were three punts of 43, 41 and 39 yards for a 40-yard average. He also kicked off for the Tribe, once putting the ball out of the Hinkley end zone, and he was true on two of three attempts for place-kicking conversions. In addition, the Lineman of the Week played well on defense and handled his blocking chores of offense.

Others considered for the honor were Charlie Steel and Yogi Grandcourt, Wasson; David Smith, St. Mary's; Eddie Hook and Dick Crabtree, Harrison; John Baumgartel and Bill Massarand, Cheyenne Mt.; Bob Gosline, Academy High; and Perry Pierce, Widefield.

Powell Paces Baltimore With Homers

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Happiness is a healthy Boog Powell.

To the Baltimore Orioles, that is. To the other American League pennant contenders, a healthy Boog is unhappier than a Shakespearean tragedy.

Powell, the Orioles' slugging left fielder, exploded for a pair of two-run homers in Baltimore's 6-3 first-game victory and belted three singles in a 4-3 losing cause in the second game of the Wednesday twi-night doubleheader.

Despite the split, the Orioles increased their lead to one game over second-place Chicago and 1½ games over third-place New York. The White Sox lost to Minnesota 5-2 while Detroit dumped the Yankees 4-0.

Powell returned to action only last Saturday after missing 14 games with a fractured wrist suffered against Boston Aug. 20. During his absence, Baltimore managed only an even split in 14 games.

Powell failed to hit in his first three times at bat after his return but now has seven hits in his last 11 trips to the plate, raising his average to .291.

He slammed his 33rd homer following Buster Narum's walk to Norm Siebern in the first inning of Wednesday opener and came back with his 34th after another walk to Siebern in the sixth.

The 23-year-old Powell figured in all of the Orioles' scoring in the nightcap. He ignited a two-run rally in the fourth inning with a one-out single and stroked a clutch single in the sixth when the Orioles tied the game 3-3.

In the only other AL game, Boston edged Cleveland 6-5 in 10 innings.

A former Oriole, Willie Kirkland, prevented a doubleheader sweep of the Senators. Kirkland, whom Washington acquired from Baltimore last month, clouted a two-out homer in the ninth inning of the second game, breaking the 3-3 deadlock.

The Orioles had tied it in the sixth when Luis Aparicio walked, raced to third as Powell singled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Brooks Robinson.

Chicago remained only .0004 ahead of the Yankees as the Twins battered 17-game winner Juan Pizarro in the second and third innings.

Minnesota tied the game 2-2 in the second as Jimmie Hall doubled in a run and scored on Earl Battey's single. Bob Allison snapped the stalemate with a two-run triple in the third, then scored as Hall fouled out.

Mickey Lolich stopped New York on five hits, posted his seventh straight victory and third consecutive shutout and increased his record to 16-7. The Tigers scored all of their runs in the seventh inning, the last three on Don Wert's home run off Whitey Ford, 14-6.

Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer in the 10th inning carried the Red Sox past the Indians. Woody Held countered with a bases-empty blast in Cleveland's 10th, but that wasn't enough.

Dick Radatz, the victim of Held's homer, tied a league mark with his 71st pitching appearance. Baltimore's Stu Miller set the record last season. The major league record is 74, held by Jim Konstanty of the 1950 Philadelphia Phillies.

Black Hawks Open Fall Training Camp

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League opened their fall training camp Wednesday with 28 players trying for the 18 positions.

Anybody for Baseball?

The spark of hope that professional baseball might once again return to Colorado Springs has dimmed to a glimmer, but it isn't entirely out. Apparently, about all it would take is the asking from fans — and sincere encouragement.

A few weeks ago it was reported from San Antonio, Tex. that the club there would be moved to a new site by next season because of a lack of fan interest and community support. Paul Richards, manager of Houston's Colts and the mother club to San Antonio, mentioned that among the possible cities to inherit the change in franchise would be Amarillo or Colorado Springs.

This probably came as a slight surprise to some, who were trying to satisfy themselves with the TV tube's dictation of what to watch since the Sky Sox of Colorado Springs and the entire Western League closed shop some half dozen years ago.

But actually this has been on the mind of at least a few for some time and the situation in the deep south of Texas precipitated this into more than a thought. On the other hand, there are a few others who have been set against the return of baseball to this town.

Evidently Colorado Springs is not the dead duck to sports promotions that some would have you believe. At least that's the opinion of these outsiders, or else they wouldn't give the town a second glance. Or in other words, there have been recent visitors who think more of the Springs and the people here than do some local citizens.

At least twice in recent weeks officials from the Houston system have been here to look over the situation and to try and evaluate the possibilities of rebirth of a minor league team. Unfortunately, it seems they have failed to contact those who might prove the most effective in helping their cause.

As I understand it, after talking with one of the local contacts and an official from San Antonio, about all they are asking is a little interest from the area and encouragement from those involved with the probable playing park.

However, Mayor Harry Hoth, who has yet to be contacted personally about the switch here, says he feels it would be out of line for him to go chasing after these people.

"I couldn't say how the City Council might react to a proposal of letting a professional team use Memorial Park," Hoth said. "After all, with the possibility of one exception, they are all new to the Council since the Sky Sox were here."

From the other side, however, the baseball people would like to have an invitation from some of the officials of the city to discuss the possibility of moving the San Antonio franchise here. "That's all it would take to have them flying to Colorado Springs within the week," an executive of the Texas League team said.

But the point is, neither party has made advances in the right direction so far, and time is running out for both sides. Decisions will have to be made in the next few weeks if there is to be the arrangements for a switch by next spring.

"It's certainly no rumor that they will be moving out of San Antonio by next year, and if they were made to feel welcome Colorado Springs would be their first choice," said Harry Stein, who has been in contact with his friends from the Houston organization for some time.

"Some people evidently think they are using Colorado Springs as a wedge to influence some other city to campaign for the team," Stein continued. "But that's not the case at all. I know for a fact that they like it here — and would come if the fans want them."

JIM BURRIS
Pushing the Springs

Stein, a salesman at Daniels Motors, has been included in a couple of the meetings between representatives of the Houston organization and a few from Colorado Springs, including an officer of the Chamber of Commerce. There have been no formal requests to the city on the availability of the ball park, however, as this has waited on a show of desire to have them here.

One of the main persons pushing for a Colorado Springs location for this team has been Jim Burris, former president of the American Association while that Triple-A league was in existence and now in a like position with the Texas League.

Burris, a former resident of Denver, has put out feelers in the past for a possible combined team in the Springs and Pueblo with each town sharing half the home dates. This is still a possibility, as is another team for Amarillo (an ex-leaguemate of the Sky Sox is in the Western League).

Burris has indicated to some that should Colorado Springs join the Double-A Texas League, he would try and transfer the league headquarters here. He would like to return to the state, as would some of the officials now in San Antonio.

San Antone has supported a league leader with only about 69,000 paid admissions this year — a repeat of last year's attendance. This is the reason for the thoughts of transfer, along with an apathy in the town.

That's really nothing new. I can remember the same sort of support for the team when living there some 10 years ago while in the Air Force. Weather undoubtedly is a factor, since people there hesitate sweating out games in the muggy hot temperatures of the Texas summers.

On the other hand, Colorado Springs averaged over 97,000 in yearly attendance while in the Class A Western League. And since that time the area has grown considerably in population, which just might welcome a jump to higher classification of baseball.

The Houston organization is offering a club ownership plan, which would be relatively no risk financially from local supporters. They also have a reputation of flashing a fat bankroll for efforts which promise success.

They are waiting any reaction from this region. Are there any fans who would like to see professional baseball come here?

Two Javelin Hurlers Make Norwegian Team

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Terje Pedersen, who recently broke the world record for the javelin throw with a herculean toss of 300 feet, 11¼ inches, and Willy Rasmussen, another javelin specialist, were named to the Norwegian Olympic team today.

Rasmussen, fifth in the 1960 Olympics, defeated Pedersen in a pouring rain at Trondheim Tuesday night with a throw of 270-11½ to Pedersen's 261-6½.

League Owners Approve Yankees' Sale to CBS

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — "I just hope I will never have to say 'damn it, I told you so.'"

Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox, a very fierce and frustrated club owner, voiced this fervent wish today after having led and lost a vigorous battle to stop the Columbia Broadcasting System from entering the inner sanctum of major league baseball.

By the same 8 to 2 club owner count that had been acquired in a telegraph and telephone poll of a month ago, the American League, in a near day-long meeting Wednesday, officially approved the sale of 80 per cent of the New York Yankees for $11.2 million to the national television and radio network.

Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS president, expressed delight and gratification with the manner in which the club owners handled the controversial matter but Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics, angrily called the American League action "a railroad job."

"I requested of Dr. Stanton that CBS withdraw its offer to purchase the Yankees for the good of baseball," said Finley, first of the owners to exit from the stormy 7½ hour session behind locked doors. "The gentleman very graciously, however, stated he would not withdraw."

Finley reiterated his threat to sell his club to a Kansas City interest for $8 million and again charged that the Yankee-CBS transaction would result in a thorough investigation by the Justice Department of baseball's immunity from antitrust laws.

Dr. Stanton acknowledged that CBS was taking a "calculated risk" but added that before entering into a deal with the Yankees, the network had recruited outside legal counsel for an opinion on whether it would be in violation of the Antitrust Act.

"We realize, of course, that no one can give you a flat guarantee that the Department of Justice will not undertake an inquiry or institute action," he said, "but it was their opinion that such a transacton would not be in violation of the antitrust laws."

Allyn, less vehement but equally as determined as his Kansas City counterpart, accused his American League colleagues of hasty and unwise action.

The young-looking White Sox head sought vainly to delay the vote, proposing that the league engage outside counsel, independent of baseball, distinguished in the field of antitrust law, to advise it from a wholly objective point of view, whether the ownership of the Yankees by CBS would or might result in prosecution of the league or CBS for violating the antitrust laws.

Allyn's proposal was rejected by a 7-3 vote, Baltimore joining the White Sox and Athletics in voting in the affirmative.

'CBS had good sense to go for outside help but baseball did not have the good sense to do the same," said Allyn. "I firmly believe baseball made a mistake."

Allyn lost another round when his attempt to make a motion to inquire into the possibility of conflict of interest was ruled out of order and not even considered.

"It is, I believe, imperative that we use every reasonable precaution to assure the public that our action here is not just a whitewash of commitments already made." Allyn stated.

League President Joe Cronin, after reading the league resolution affirming the sale of the Yankees to CBS, said there was no fear of antitrust action and added baseball welcomed an inquiry by the Justice Department.

"We have nothing to hide," Cronin said. "We are proud that the government has such a great interest in the game.

"We've had many visits from the Department of Justice and we have always emerged favorably in their eyes."

"I am fearful that if and when CBS is awarded any contracts by baseball, the fans would feel CBS had the inside track and if CBS did not bid the fans would feel the contract was not worth bidding for.

AFA Offense Shines In Week's Scrimmage

It's been down the backstretch this week for the Air Force Academy's football team as the Falcons have less than two weeks to get ready for the 1964 opener with West Coast favorite, Washington at Seattle.

The Cadets passed the halfway point in their pre-season drills last Saturday with a game-type scrimmage which showed plenty of offensive punch and an encouraging defense as the Varsity romped to a 69-0 win over a team composed of the Junior Varsity and Freshmen.

Then on Wednesday it was back to the scrimmage field again, but this time the Frosh defense gave quarterback Tim Murphy and his mates a tougher battle in a 21-7 decision. This Saturday will see another scrimmage with the Falcons going through a "dress rehearsal" before taking off for the return match with Washington, Sept. 19. Last year the AFA nosed out the West Coast champs, 10-7.

In Wednesday's workout, the varsity scoring was divided between three players with early standout Paul Wargo going over from five yards out, end Jim Greth crossing the chalk on a 56-yard pass from Murphy, and end John Puster scoring from 52 yards away on the halfback pass from Jeff Jarvis. The JVs scored their long TD on a 13 yard run by promising Phil Bechtel.

Murphy, recently named the No. 1 quarterback for the Air Force this fall, completed nine of 15 passing attempts with his longest the 56 yarder to Greth.

Head Falcon Ben Martin was obviously pleased after last Saturday's scrimmage which saw his starting offensive unit explode for four first quarter touchdowns, and treated his charges to a long holiday weekend. Practice was resumed Tuesday.

The extra day off was not only a reward for a fine showing Saturday, but to give several key performers a chance to recoup from a rash of minor bumps and bruises received in the heavy going last week.

Halfback Wargo, the 193-pound junior from Whittier, Calif., continued to shine with the offensive unit. Wargo tallied three times in Saturday's scrimmage and passed for a fourth.

Quarterback Murphy, showing no effects from a broken nose suffered 10 days ago, put on a sharp passing show, connecting on better than 50 per cent of his tosses. Murphy also garnered the day's first score on a sneak, after a 25-yard Murphy to end Fritz Greenlee pass moved the ball to the one yard line.

The defensive unit, showing more polish and team work than at any time this fall, blanked the Jr. Varsity which was running from Washington formations. Martin was quick to point out, though, that the Jayvees didn't have the likes of Huskie quarterback Bill Douglas or Washington's pre-season All-America Junior Coffee toting the leather.

Defensive end Puster and halfback Ken Jaggers turned in two gems, Saturday. Puster scored the varsity's fourth touchdown by sprinting 40 yards with an interception, and Jaggers set up still another score on a 44-yard interception return.

Co-Captain and linebacker Wendy Harkleroad spearheaded the defense with a dozen key plays, and has apparently made the switch from guard, where he lettered for two years, with no difficulty.

Said Martin, "This week we will concentrate on unit work and defensive units, and we didn't feel we could accomplish and polish for both the offensive everything we wanted to do this week without everyone going at top speed."

Although several regulars were slowed by bruises and minor hurts, the only serious problem occurred at the center position. Sophomore Bill Nemeth, a 215-pounder slated for starting duty on offense, received a pulled leg muscle and is a question mark. The injury leaves veteran Pete Mitchell as the only offensive center, so sophomore end George Gibson was shifted to the pivot slot to ease the situation. Gibson is a 6-1, 194-pounder from Kansas City, Mo.

New Harrison Coach Gets Credit For Molding Winner Out of Team

By CHARLIE DRUEX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

It is an established fact that a successful football team has competent coaching and although a team must have some talent, the degree of success is credited to the coach's ability to get maximum performance from his players.

This was proven once again last weekend during the 1964 football opener for the Harrison High team. They were rated as an inexperienced squad and the season forecast was a lean side in the victory column.

Bob Irving, in his first term as Harrison's grid boss, whipped up a winning combination in two weeks of practice drills and the result was an over-overwhelming win over Crowley County last Friday.

Despite the fact that Crowley County, a member of the Class AA Pikes Peak League, was considered a weak opponent and its coach benched six of his regulars because of disciplinary reasons, the Harrison squad performed outstandingly on offense and defense.

The 46-0 lopsided victory over Crowley County doesn't alter the League campaign, which puts the Harrison squad in the lower division. However, it does indicate that Irving has managed to put together a working unit with potential. They could develop into a first division ball club prior to their Will Rogers League opener against the league favorites, Cheyenne Mountain, Oct. 2.

Prior to that time, Irving has three non-league games to iron out the problems and give his young team some add game experience. The Panthers host Fountain this Friday night, and followed with Castle Rock and Rocky Ford, before their league opener.

Irving had special praise for his defensive unit for their outstanding performance against Crowley County last week. The opposition's scoring attempts and the forward wall stopped the Crowley County attack.

PASS CATCHING SPECIALIST—Eddie Hook, Harrison's ace pass catching specialist, is about to snag an aerial from teammate, quarterback Bill Doud, during Wednesday's practice session. Hook and the Panthers' other outstanding end Dick Crabtree were responsible for stopping Crowley County last week as the Harrison squad posted a 46-0 win.

The Harrison coach also had special words of praise for his junior quarterback Bill Doud. Doud didn't see varsity action last season and the Panthers coach lauded Doud for his work of directing the Harrison forward attack. Irving said that Doud should develop into a first rate field general and handled the ball well against Crowley County. His passing also proved successful as Doud tossed six aerials and completed three.

Halfbacks Jerry Williams and Rick Larsen earned recognition from their coach for their endeavors. Both Williams and Larsen chalked up a big portion of the yardage with Williams scoring thee touchdowns. Williams also exceled on defense backing up the middle of the Harrison defensive wall.

Fullback Dick Maki, the Panthers' workhorse, was up to his usual effective blocking which enabled the Harrison offense to move the ball. Harold Oldham also ran well from the halfback slot and was a menace on defense.

In the line, the Panthers' defense was anchored by two veterans Dick Crabtree and Eddie Hook. Crabtree stopped the oppositon on his side of the line and held the Crowley County offense to a minus-three yards at left end. Hook only gave up seven yards.

Tom McBroom, a 200-pound tackle, gave the interior line a shot in the arm with his aggressive play. McBroom had only four days of practice prior to last week's game.

UCLA Seeks to Snap Pitt Jinx in Saturday's Opener

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hoping to break a jinx, the UCLA football team flew east today to open the 1964 college grid season against the Pitt Panthers Saturday.

This is the third trip to Pittsburgh for the Bruins and they are still looking for victory. It appeared they had one in 1959 but the Panthers came up with three touchdowns in the final six minutes and won, 25-21.

"No, I haven't forgotten that one. I never will," said the genial UCLA coach, Bill Barnes.

UCLA appears considerably improved over last year's 2-8 record team. The Bruins still rate somewhere behind the preseason picks, Washington and Southern California, in the so-called Pacific Eight Conference.

"But I think we, along with Stanford and California, can be a factor in the championship and Rose Bowl race," said Barnes.

Barnes omitted Oregon and Oregon State because he said he is not familiar with the personnel of these new members of the conference.

Barnes has 26 lettermen on the squad and several excellent sophomore and junior college transfers prospects.

The No. One quarterback is Larry Zeno, a senior who started his collegiate varsity career in spectacular fashion as a sophomore in 1962.

All the young man did was boot a last minute field goal that spelled defeat for the then No. One rated Ohio State Buckeyes, 9-7.

Zeno, who will match skills with Pitt's heralded Fred Mazurek, is a fine performer on the pass-run option play. And Barnes' Bruins admittedly are going to throw the ball around a lot this year.

"We've got to," said Barnes.

Prime target for the aerials is Kunt Alternberg, a strong 6-2, 194-pounder whose moves are more impressive than his stature.

Net President Announces Clinic For Coaches

James Shannon, president of Colorado Tennis Association has announced that a tennis clinic for coaches, teachers and recreation leaders is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Sept., 11 and 12, at Phipps Tennis House in Denver. The event is being sponsored by the Colorado Tennis Association and is sanctioned by the USLTA School Tennis Development Committee.

The clinic will be conducted by Chet Murphy, tennis pro at the Broadmoor and tennis coach at the University of California at Berkeley; and Capt., Tom Lynch, tennis coach at the Air Force Academy.

Stress will be placed on three areas in the workshop: teaching tennis fundamentals, problems of large group instruction, and team procedures with discussion in the latter area on selection, placement, practice and play.

Registration at $5 per person will take place at 4 p.m. on Friday, followed by dinner at the Cherry Creek Inn. The cost of dinner on Friday evening and luncheon on Saturday are covered by the registration fee.

All coaches, teachers and recreation leaders throught the state are invited to attend. Phipps Tennis House is reached by turning west on Colorado proceeding to Belcaro Drive.

Spahn's Future Doubtful, But He Wants to Pitch

NEW YORK (AP)--Both the Milwaukee Braves and Warren Spahn, the winningest left-hander in baseball's history, have been giving deep thought to the future of the 43-year-old hurler, who is struggling through his worst season.

Spahn, whose list of records includes 356 victories, has won only six games this year while losing 12 and posting a fat 5.23 earned run average. He lost his place in the starting rotation weeks ago and recently has been assigned to mopping up — getting the game over with when the sixth-place Braves are far behind.

"I'm definitely going to pitch next year," said Spahn, who was paid $80,000 for the 1964 season. "If I don't figure in the Braves' plans, I'll pitch somewhere else. I know I can still pitch."

Spahn, who has won 20 or more games in 13 seasons, continued. "Sure, I was all fouled up, but I know now what I was doing wrong. I've been much better the last few times out."

The Milwaukee southpaw was 23 and 7 in 1963, posting a 2.60 earned run average — the third lowest of his career and best in 10 years. Seventh on baseball's list of all-time winners, he completed 22 games last season to lead the majors for the ninth time.

Manager Bobby Bragan said Spahn has looked good in his last two relief appearances but said he would not be returned to the starting rotation.

"I'm up to my ears in young starters," said Brgan. "That's why I won't start Spahn. . . I'll pitch him in relief as long as he does as well as he has."

John McHale, Braves' president and general manager, said, "I talked to Spahnnie a couple of weeks ago about his thoughts for next year. I told him we realize he wants to manage and that we would help him in every way we could in case a managerial job opened up on another major league club.

"It's pretty hard to judge when a man like Spahn is no longer his old self. He has already defied the law of percentages for eight or 10 years.

"It could just be that he could go on three or four years as a relief pitcher. He never was effective in relief, but lately he has been. We'll talk again before the season ends and try to resolve this thing."

About running a club, Spahn said, "Sure, I want to manage some day, but not until I'm through pitching."

Curtis Cup Gals Wind Up Practice

By THOMAS A. REEDY

PORTHCAWL, Wales (AP) — Maybe the way to win the Curtis Cup in golf is to wash your hair and think.

Anyway that's what Nancy Roth of Hollywood, Fla., suggested today.

"We decided to wash our hair and gripe," the 25-year-old American said after the U.S. team of seven girls wound up their practice round for the Curtis Cup championship in Britain which starts Friday.

"We have played a lot but we have learned that you must think your way around this golf course," Nancy commented.

Would the Americans win for the ninth time in 12 two-yearly tries? Yes, said Nancy, who was immediately echoed by her teammates, including American amateur champion Barbara McIntyre, 29, and her rival, 26-year-old Joanne Gunderson of Seattle.

The seven American girls have toured the 6,149-yard par 72 Royal Porthcawl course a dozen times in the past several days and discovered that golf on the seaside entertains only the adventurous. They all agreed that the vagaries of the weather probably would decide who was smart enough to solve them.

Miss Roth's idea of thinking around the Porthcawl layout was shared by the British women who would like nothing better than to retrieve the trophy they have battled for since 1932.

The Curtis Cup, which is worth about $50, is costing the U.S. and British golfing associations upwards of $100,000 to compete for what actually is the world women's team golf championship.

The women golfers have had many things in common since the competition was inaugurated a generation ago, if for the first time they are now wondering about a disagreement. It concerns the small ball played in England and the large ball played in America.

In practice rounds here the Americans have tried the small ball on the theory that it can compete with Welsh winds. There has been no decision, however, as to which ball will be used. The choice is optional and the argument is vocal.

Steevens Flashes No-Hitter As Travelers Win Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas pitcher Morris Steevens turned in a flashy performance Wednesday night as he hurled the Travelers to the Pacific Coast League Eastern Division title with a 3-0 no-hitter over last-place Dallas.

But it's not going to be that easy in the Western Division where San Diego, Portland and Spokane continue a scramble to see who will meet Arkansas in a best-of-seven series for the league pennant after regular season play ends Sunday.

San Diego held onto their 1½-game lead over Portland by defeating Spokane 5-2 Wednesday night and Portland maintained its position by handing Seattle a 6-3 setback.

All three contenders wind up the season in games with second-division teams.

The Travelers will play the first three games of the title series at the home park of the West winner starting Tuesday. The two then will finish the play-off at Little Rock beginning Sept. 18.

While Steevens was putting on his spectacular finish for Arkansas fans, Indianapolis eliminated Oklahoma City as the only possible contender by blanking the 89ers 4-0.

It was Steevens' eighth win of the season in nine starts. Only one Dallas player reached base, on an error.

Bob Locker got some help from reliever Warren Hacker after giving up a walk and a single in the ninth inning to win his shutout over the Oklahomans.

In the other Eastern Division game, Denver had Salt Lake City blanked 10-0 until the Bees came up with five runs in the bottom of the eighth. But the rally stopped there and Denver won 10-5.

Ruth Wins Spot on U.S. Mat Squad

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Greg Ruth of Bethlehem, Pa., the only American to win a medal in the World Wrestling Championships last year, earned a place Wednesday night on the U.S. Olympic freestyle wrestling team.

The Oklahoma University junior, who finishd third in the 1963 world event, edged James Burke of the San Francisco Olympic Club twice in the 154-pound class by 3-2 majority decisions.

Richard Wilson of Toledo, Ohio, captured the first berth on the Greco-Roman style team, taking two decisions from Richard Sanders of Portland, Ore.

Wilson has represented the U.S. twice in the Olympics. In 1956, he became the first American to win a match in Greco-Roman Olympic wrestling, a style in which the United States began competition that year.

In the only other freestyle competition, Russ Camilleri of San Francisco defeated Leonard Kauffman of Lebanon, Ore., 5-2. Kauffman won an earlier match, and the two will meet again Thursday, with the winner going against Charles Tribble of San Bernardino, Calif., in the finals of the 171.5 pound class.

In the Greco-Roman division, Larry Lauchle, a Marine lieutenant from Muncy, Pa., defeated Carmon Molino of Ontario, N.Y., in the 125.5 pound class. He will meet Andrew Fitch of the New York Athletic Club in the final round.

Pat Lovell of the San Francisco Olympic Club advanced to the finals in the 213.5 pound class, defeating Russell Winer of Phoenix, Ariz., on judges decisions in two matches.

Twin Quin Again Makes Heavy Payoff to Winner

For the second straight night the Twin Quin at the Rocky Mountain Kennel Club paid over $4,000. In the first half of the Twin Quin it was S. W. Pat's Boy and Bingo Pug that brought in the 4-6 combination. In the second half, the 11th and final race, it was T. V. Shane and Sunk Side that brought in the 1-7 combination. The pay-off was $4,856.80 on the 4-6 with the 1-7 to make the second highest pay-off on the fabulous Twin Quin for the meet.

Tuesday night, with a pay-off of $4,205.80 on the 2-3 with the 1-2 for the Twin Quin, was a second highest of the season record that was on the books but one day.

Winning the ninth and featured race Wednesday night was a long shot for the Hot Box victory as Cecil Wilson's Mr. Cane, a greyhound that had been all but overlooked by all the tipsters, came in at $46.20, $9.80 and $11.40.

Frank Pierce's Another Johnny, the favorite, came in second at $4.20 and $3.00 with the 5-8 Quiniela paying $84.80. The Daily Double combination was the 1-5 at $136.40.

Tonight's feature matches Silk Angel, Gay's Son, Mr. Kookie and Ortega Road over the Peak Course of 1,710 feet with Go Sherry, Janice A., Sonic Sue and Dutex, (all in post position order).

It will be the Queens versus the Kings in the featured race on Friday night and the entries, (not in post position order and still subject to change; are Oscar Evers' El Camino Rose, Nixon Go from the kennel of Mrs. Frank Hall, with Cen-Tex Kennel's Miss K. Dex and Larry Hughes' Miss Whirl. From the other four boxes will break Cecil Wilson's Mr. Cane, Friend W. from the Shamrock Kennel, Frank Pierce's Another Johnny and Joe Mamino's S. W. Pat's Boy.

Tiger Rates Don Fullmer Above Older Brother Gene

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dick Tiger had this to say about the Fullmer brothers:

"I know how tough Gene is, but Don more boxer than Gene."

Tiger, who fought Gene Fullmer three times for the middleweight title, goes against Don Fullmer Friday night in a 10-round nationally televised middleweight bout at the Cleveland Arena.

It will be the final ABC-TV fight of the week and starts at 10 p.m., EDT.

Tiger will meet Joey Archer in New York's Madison Square Garden Oct. 16, then he hopes to get a return bout with Joey Giardello, the middleweight champ. Giardello won the title from Tiger with a 15-round decision last Dec. 7 in Atlantic City, N.J.

Tiger, 35, said he has seen Don Fullmer fight a couple times, but is more familiar with Gene's style. Tiger won the crown from Fullmer in 1962, fought a draw in February, 1963, and knocked him out last August.

In 64 fights, Tiger has won 48, 23 by knockouts. Don Fullmer has had 43 fights since turning professional in 1957. He has won 31, lost 10 and has had two draws.

"I feel I have the style to beat Tiger," young Fullmer said, "otherwise I wouldn't be here."

Fullmer, 25, is substituting for Juan (Rocky) Rivero, who walked out of the bout to return to his native Argentina.

In his last start six weeks ago, Tiger knocked out Jose Gonzalez, the ninth-ranked middleweight, in Madison Square Garden.

Carden Paces Ent Win

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) —Ent Air Force Base (Colo.), riding the no-hit pitching of Bama Carden, and host Kirtland AFB were the only two unbeaten teams today as the Air Force World-Wide Softball Tournament entered its third day.

Ent and Kirtland were to meet tonight to determine which will enter the final game Friday night.

Other games today match defending champion Maxwell AFB (Ala.) against McClellan AFB (Calif.) and Elmendorf AFB (Alaska) against Travis AFB (Calif.).

McClellan and Maxwell had 2-1 records in the double-elimination tourney and Travis and Elmendorf were 1-1.

Carden struck out 12 in his no-hitter for Ent and catcher Dave Gutierez hit a two-run homer for the only runs Wednesday as the Colorado airmen beat McClellan 2-0.

Kirtland's pitcher Ken Ferrell struck out 15 and gave up only three hits to defeat Travis 3-0.

In other games Wednesday, Maxwell eliminated Nellis AFB Nev. 6-3 and Elmendorf eliminate Lackland AFB Tex. 4-3.

CC Gridders To Scrimmage With State Pen

Jerry Carle and his Colorado College Tigers will make the annual jaunt Saturday to Canon City for a full scrimmage game with the Colorado State Penitentiary football team.

"The fellows on the squad really look forward to this game," the Colorado College football coach said. "It is the one game of the season that is strictly for fun."

Carle said he and his coaching staff enjoy the scrimmage "because the Canon City team is always the cleanest playing opponent we ever have seen in action."

The scrimmage will give the Tiger mentor a final look at his injury-ridden squad in action before the first game of the season.

The Tigers will kick-off their eight-game schedule Sept. 19 at Washburn Field against Concordia Teachers College from Seward, Neb.

DeWitt Gets Trophy Win At Raceway

All children 12 years of age and under will be admitted free to the races this Saturday night at Sportsman's Raceway Park, if accompanied by an adult. This is being done in honor of the opening of school.

Dale DeWitt did it again last Saturday as he won the Class A trophy dash. Delbert Moore battled his way to another trophy dash win in the late model class driving the car usually driven by Jim McGar.

The girls put on another top show in the Powderpuff Race with 11 cars starting and eight finishing. Phyllis Hagen took her second win with another local favorite, La Daine Prosser coming in second.

Rob Register of Woodland Park returned to the local racing scene with some success as he won the first heat race in a slick looking semi-modified 1932 Hudson.

Sam Sauer of Lakeside Speedway made his first appearance this season and nosed out De Witt in the fifth heat race. Sam was last year's champion at Lakeside and was also crowned state champion. He drives a speedy Ford 6.

The late model main event showed a close duel between John Talley and Mike Wooley, with Talley coming out the victor. This win kept him on top in the year's point system.

The semi-modified main event saw De Witt take the lead for three laps but in the fourth lap the drive shaft housing broke on his car, spinning Dale into the wall. Although he hit pretty hard, Dale was unhurt which cannot be said the the car. Sammy Sauer then took the lead and held it for the remainder of the race. Bob Moberly had second place all of the way until a gear problem caused him to pull in two laps before the checkered flag. Bob Herrington finished second and L. A. Mock took third.

Out of the 15 cars starting the Figure 8 race only four were running at the end of the race. Delbert Moore was the victor and this was a victory well deserved as the point of impact was cluttered with cars which were not quite so fortunate.

Sportsman's Raceway Park is located six miles east of Colorado Springs on U.S. 24 left at the Peterson Field entrance. Time trials this Saturday will at 7 p.m. races to follow immediately.

Chargers, Bills Are Favored to Win American Football Division Titles

B JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK AP) — The San Diego Chargers and the Buffalo Bills are the pre-season picks to fight it out for the American Football League championship Dec. 26 at Buffalo after the most exciting season in the league's five-year history.

Sid Gillman's Chargers, hailed as a super team after their 51-10 rout of Boston last January, figure to win it again unless Tobin Rote's arm fails him. Gillman's champions can not afford to be complacent, for both Kansas City and Oakland appear capable of challenging for the Western Division crown. Denver also should be improved with Jacky Lee at quarterback.

The Eastern Division looks like another wild scramble, with no definite stickout. If Cookie Gilchrist stays healthy, the Bills appear the best of the lot despite a questionable pass defense. Houston is experimenting with rookies in its deep defense under its new coach, Sammy Baugh, and could be in trouble if anything happened to 36-year-old George Blanda. New York stakes it all on Dick Wood, who has a record of knee trouble. Boston, the defending division champs on a 26-8 playoff victory over Buffalo, must rely on its defensive unit.

WESTERN DIVISION
1. San Diego
2. Kansas City
3. Oakland
4. Denver

EASTERN DIVISION
1. Buffalo
2. Houston
3. New York
4. Boston

The Chargers finally won their first title last season with an 11-3 record. Gillman has the same well-balanced offense with Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe to run the ball and fleet Lance Alworth and Dave Kocourek to catch Rote's passes. If Rote's sore arm acts up, the Chargers will drop back to John Hadl. Ron Mix is the key to the offensive line and big Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison lead the defense.

Don't sell Kansas City short. Hank Stram's Chiefs, the flop of the year in 1963, are primed for a comeback. Stram has the horses with Curt McClinton, Jack Spikes, and Abner Haynes, plus rookie Mack Lee Hill. Pats-catcher Chris Burford is due back before long. The defense should be better with Bobby Bell and Buck Buchanan in their second year.

Al Davis, coach of the year in '63, is crying crocodile tears about his Raiders but Oakland is strong again. Once again the offense will sink or swim on Clemon Daniels, Art Powell and quarterback Tom Flores.

The addition of Lee, Krom Houston, gives Denver something it did not have last year. Lee to Lionel Taylor should be a tough combination.

Buffalo and Houston have a big edge on talent in the East, for wealthy owners have stocked up for years in the draft. The Bills would have won last year if Gilchrist and Wray Carlton had been available all year. Jack Kemp and Daryle Lamonica are a formidable passing threat. Defensive tackle Tom Sestak is a standout but the pass defense is leaky.

Houston also has problems in its secondary and must go with inexperienced linebackers. Billy Cannon and Charlie Tolar will get help from rookie Sid Blanks of Texas A & I.

Matt Snell, a rookie from Ohio State, should help the Jets' ground game but they must count on passing to do the job. Wood has a fine exhibition season and he has some fine receivers in Bake Turner and Don Maynard. Defense can be a problem here, too, although Weeb Ewbank's boys looked good in an exhibition win over San Diego.

Mike Holovak always does a great job at Boston but the Pats still have to count on 34-year-old Babe Parilli and Larry Garron. The defense is solid with Houston Antwine, Larry Eisenhauer, Nick Buoniconti and Tommy Addison.

White Sox Recall Seven Players

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Chicago White Sox announced Wednesday that seven minor league players will join the club within the next few days.

Five players are due to report at Detroit next week. Recalled from Indianapolis were pitchers Dave DeBusschere and Bruce Howard and outfielder Ken Barry, while the contracts of second baseman Marv Stehle and catcher Carl Bouldin were purchased from Indianapolis.

Joining the club Friday in Cleveland will be third baseman Dick Kenworthy and pitcher Manley Johnston.

World Records in Danger At Final Olympic Trials

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eight athletes with world record marks either registered or pending will see action Saturday and Sunday in the final U.S. Olympic Games trials.

Two of them — pole vaulter Fred Hansen and sprinter Bob Hayes — will carry added pressure into the meet.

While the other record makers have, in effect, already cinched berths on the Tokyo - bound squad, Hayes and Hansen must place third or better to make the team.

Hayes missed the semi-finals in New York last month due to injuries and was given approval to try to qualify here.

Hansen, who set a pending world mark of 17 feet 4 inches in the United States-USSR dual meet here July 26, cleared only 16-2 and finished fourth in the New York try-outs.

John Pennel owns the official pole vault record at 16-10¼. He has since done 17-¾ and was first in the New York meet.

The number one finishers at New York automatically qualified for the team—with the proviso that they perform in top caliber fashion in the final trials.

Hayes is co-holder of the 100-yard mark. He appears to be in sound condition and already has made plans for post-Tokyo competition. He hopes to fly home immediately after the games and get into the six remaining football games on the Florida A & M schedule.

The other record holders, either pending or registered, are shot putter Dallas Long, hammer thrower Hal Connolly, broad jumper Ralph Boston, discus tosser Al Oerter and 200-meter dashman Henry Carr.

Carr, from the Phoenix, Ariz., Olympic Club, terms himself a "utility man" for the team. He won the 200 at New York, could run both dashes at Tokyo and doubtless will have a place on the 400-meter relay team.

The relay teams, it has been announced, will not be designated until after the finals — possibly not until early next week when Head Coach Bob Giegangack and his assistant coaches compare notes.

Barons Give Williams Unconditional Release

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League have given 41-year-old Tommy Williams his unconditional release.

"As far as I know this is the end," Williams said Wednesday after learning of the club's action. "But if another team comes along and wants me, I'll have to consider it."

The veteran defenseman spent 17 years playing pro hockey—11 with the Barons. He was considered one of the league's finest backliners.

Your Freedom Newspaper

Ever striving for the Pikes Peak Region to be an even better place to live

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to its readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Conflicting Ethical Systems

We have been reminded by a good friend, who also happens to be a clear thinker, that the basic problem of communism lies in the field of ethics rather than in the field of materialism as so frequently supposed. And, of course this is true.

But the fact of the case is that any system of ethics, which is nothing more than a system of values, must, to some degree, express those values in general terms as they relate to an economic system or an economic concept.

Ethically, communism is an effort to establish a system of values wherein that which is good for the group is conceived as the highest good. The better word to express this ethical approach is socialism, rather than communism. Communism is a particular system of socialism, with socialism being the matrix of the general system of values. Communism is a belief in communal type living.

The distinction of Marxian communism lies in Marx's contention that only he was able to scientifically evaluate the effectiveness of hundreds of small communes that had been established; that only he was able to apply scientific principles in the establishment of a world commune. Thus, communism relates more to a particular way of living, while socialism relates primarily to an ethical concept in which highest value is attributed to the social whole.

Individualism, which is the antonym of socialism, has at its roots an entirely different system of values. With individualism, highest value is viewed in relation to the individual, rather than the social whole. And our friend is correct in pointing out that this approach through a system of ethics is at the root of the difficulties.

In general, people are prone to state flatly that Marx was unethical and even immoral This is true only if we accept the system of individual morality as the realistic base and from that, determine that any system that is contrary to it, must be immoral.

Individualistic morality, which is a part of our stoic tradition, stemming from Zeno, found its way into Rome with the concept of private ownership of property. Cicero was a stoic and upheld the idea that property should be privately owned and that a system of morality or ethics, based upon such ownership, is entirely valid.

Marx's system is essentially rooted in Plato the sophist, whose ethical system seeks to destroy the ethical values of individualism and to replace them with an entirely different system of values.

It follows that in our own time, with a rise in the acceptance of Marxian socialist reasoning, there has been an erosion of individualistic values, and creative individualism is on the wane. Individual values are sacrificed for the "good" of the group. And this is one of the inherent weaknesses in any collectivist or socialist ethic. At the core of such a system is a recognition of the feasibility of human sacrifice. Any individual or even a small group of individuals can be sacrificed for the "good" of the group.

An individualist philosophy proscribes any possible sacrifice of anyone for any reason. The sacrifice of anyone or of the values of anyone is bound to be contrary to individualism, since what is good for the one is the standard of values.

As these ethical values are put into practical application, it will be seen at once that they give rise to two entirely different sets of economic principles.

In socialism, economic practice must accommodate itself to what is "good" for the group. This will, if examined, require central planning. Also, it will require the elimination of private property since the interests of one person must forever be held in check to accommodate group "good." Individualism, on the other hand, not only does not require central planning, it is antithetical to central planning. An individualist system of economy permits each individual to provide his own planning, to own the tools of industry and production and to labor for his own profit.

Creative individualism flourishes in the latter case, as each person is free to do his best in his own self-interest. Creative individualism is ruled out in socialism, since it is bound to be viewed as destructive of "group" interests.

Reformation

A mighty movement toward reformation faces its greatest tragedy at the moment of its greatest success. If it obtains its objectives it dies. This is why a truly great movement toward reform must be rooted in principles and not in political victory.

Four Kinds of Businesses

There are actually four kinds of enterprises that human beings have learned to organize and operate. We are indebted to Joseph Galambos and his courses of instruction offered in Los Angeles, for some of the terminology which we will here employ.

Professor Galambos actually makes two broad distinctions, which are the major ones to be noted. These are the "proprietary" and the "non - proprietary" types of organizations. We are merely going to refine his broad categories into two additional groupings, which he acknowledges, but does not identify by name.

There is the proprietary organization, operated for dollar profits.

There is the proprietary organization, operated for psychic profits.

There is the non-proprietary organization, operated for psychic profits.

And there is the non-proprietary organization, operated for political reasons and not for profit of any kind.

Let us describe these organizations.

The first is the common one and is everywhere present. It is the privately owned enterprise, in business for pecuniary profit. It ranges in size from the giant corporation, owned by hundreds of thousands of stockholders, down to the one-man operation, employing only a few persons or possibly only one person, the owner. It produces useful goods and services which are offered in a free market, in which individual customers compete with each other by buying the product or service when they find they would rather have it than the money they have to offer in exchange.

The function of this type of organization is to make money. The more money it makes, the more likely it is that further money will be invested in additional enterprises to enhance the market place and to expand existing enterprises.

It is, without a doubt, the most constructive of all four types of organizations.

A second type of enterprise, also proprietary, is operated by the owner or owners, not primarily for dollar profits, but for the intense satisfaction gained psychically by those who own or manage the enterprise. Here, efficiency is not always measured in terms of dollars but rather in terms of satisfactions to the owners or managers.

Persons set up and run such enterprises, not to make dollars, but possibly to obtain more leisure time for themselves.

Or possibly they undertake some extremely difficult business as a challenge to their abilities and obtain satisfaction by meeting such a challenge. It may not result in as large a dollar profit as the former type, which is more general. Still, it must operate within its own income margins and thus dollar gains are not emphasized. Both of these types of proprietary businesses are entirely constructive. Unless intimate knowledge exists concerning the second type of operation, it is usually assumed by the public that dollar profits are the sole reason for the existence of both of these proprietary enterprises.

Characteristically, both of these proprietary enterprises are owned wholly by private persons.

In the non-proprietary category, the first kind of enterprise to be considered is the constructive, non-profit business. Examples of this kind include many private hospitals, private schools, churches, and various religious or social agencies.

Support of these institutions comes only in part from those who use the goods or services provided. The principal support for these organizations is derived from various fund drives and from gifts of money made to them in harmony with the objectives sought. These organizations thus exist within the framework of the free market and are also constructive, provided no one is coerced to support these agencies.

The only non-profit group of organizations which have a positive malevolent effect upon the economy are those politically oriented and operated coercively. The funds to organize and operate these agencies are not received voluntarily. They are wrested from taxpayers against their wills. These agencies exist only within a government and are supported only by the coercion and violence of the state.

Some of these agencies provide useful goods or services and doubtless would be supported in the free market, if the opportunity existed. Others are without discernible merit and would disappear if the political agencies did not compel their support. These latter harmful organizations are on the increase, to the total detriment of all customers, all taxpayers and all privately supported organizations.

Allen-Scott Report

The Viet Nam Tinderbox

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The U.S. faces a major confrontation in South Viet Nam with the wrong enemy, at the wrong time, and in the wrong place.

To their sudden shock, President Johnson and his chief policy makers have found themselves maneuvered into the dangerous position of either having to involve the U. S. in another Korean-type war or agree to a political Dienbienphu.

Neither alternative is very attractive with a presidential election less than two months away.

That's the inside word leaking out of the sharp policy debate now going on at the highest level of government on what action, if any, the U. S. can take to save the disintegrating situation in South Viet Nam.

The consensus of opinion of these policy-makers is that the President's choice has been narrowed to these ominous alternatives by a combination of mistakes in Saigon and Washington.

The first involves the apparent political trap that Peking lured President Johnson into the Gulf of Tonkin when North Vietnamese PT boats launched their unprovoked attack against patrolling U.S. destroyers.

Second thoughts have convinced these policy makers that the Chinese Communists stayed out of this world headline battle to pinpoint the confrontation as one between the U.S. and North Viet Nam.

By responding with a "limited" attack on North Vietnamese bases, President Johnson spotlighted the Communist puppet regime in Hanoi as the U.S. enemy in South Viet Nam and not the Chinese Communists.

THE HIDDEN PLAY

Significantly, the U.S. response to the Peking ploy now leaves the Chinese Communist leaders a free hand to make their big play in South Viet Nam.

The Chinese Reds can turn the heat on by having their North Vietnamese puppets step up the war in South Viet Nam without fear that the U.S. will strike back at China.

On the U.S. side, President Johnson is left with the choice of either meeting the new threat with Marines and extending the war into North Viet Nam or trying to negotiate a political settlement with the Hanoi regime from a position of weakness.

If the later policy is adopted, the President's advisers agree that the price for a settlement will come high — neutralization of South Viet Nam at best, or a Communist take-over at the worst.

Unlike the 1962 Cuban crisis—where there was a direct confrontation between the U.S. and Russia, the main enemy in that conflict — President Johnson is heading to the brick with North Viet Nam, a second-rate Communist power that is not the real enemy in the Far East.

'UNCERTAIN TRUMPET'

Ambassador Maxwell Taylor's "uncertain trumpet" is adding to the President's growing dilemma in South Viet Nam.

With his "rings of steel" military strategy falling apart at the seams, Taylor is sounding a final call for the establishment of a "civilian" government to give the U.S. a face - saving front behind which to negotiate the neutralization of that strife-torn country after the November election.

But time and events appear to be against Taylor.

With the new Communist Viet Cong offensive expected at any time, the hour of truth for the President could come before the end of the month.

THE MAN TO WATCH

Congressional probers looking into the explosive situation in South Viet Nam have made a startling discovery.

Representative Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, reports that former U.S. minister - counselor in Saigon William C. Trueheart is now the director of the Office of Southeast Asian Affairs.

According to intelligence information given Zablocki's committee, Trueheart was the leader behind the ouster of the late President Diem.

He also had a major role in the sudden recall of John Richardson, the CIA's mission chief in Siagon, who tried to save Diem from being overthrown.

Trueheart, who has close contacts with French intelligence and leftist groups in Europe, is one of the prime movers in the State Department project to neutralize South Viet Nam.

In his new position, he is in charge of formulating all policy papers on Viet Nam and in seeing that they are carried out both in Washington and Saigon.

He has been one of the driving forces behind the move to eliminate "military officers" from the new South Viet Nam government.

The Old Mountaineer

Waste

By FRANK McDONOUGH

There are so many important national and international issues to be determined in the forthcoming election that it is apt to become confusing. Of course Cuba and our military straddle of the entire world are in the forefront but we should not overlook the increasing waste and extravagance of the present regime and the administrations of the past third of a century.

It might take smaller items to attract the attention of our people because when Washington talks in the billions no one seems to be concerned.

Two of the lesser expenditures were recently announced over the air. Undoubtedly hundreds of other similar and foolish expenditures exist. One of these in particular may attract your attention and interest. It was announced that an allotment of seventy-five hundred dollars had been made to an Indian tribe for the purpose of teaching the Indians how to make bows and arrows for sale to tourists. No doubt some college educated chief is grunting with delight beneath his belt. If any bureaucrat could think up a more ridiculous method of spending public money his salary should be doubled and probably has been by this time.

The other item was much larger in amount and undoubtedly is typical of spending public money for scientific research. One group has made the wonderful discovery that after long months of training and experiment any common bird might be taught to recognize a certain human. To continue this research the sum of one hundred and seventy-four thousand dollars has been awarded. How asinine can we get and how wasteful can we become? These are just two items in the billions being spent by our government. We are in the throes of the most gigantic and spendthrift bureaucracy in the history of nations.

Your tax dollars are being thrown around with thoughtless and wild abandon. That applies to so-called foreign aid all over the world. It applies to the unbusinesslike and unrestricted expenditures of the military. It applies even to greater extent to our various departments such as welfare and education. It is not sufficient that we become indifferent to this waste. It feeds upon itself and whether we realize it or not the point of financial bust is right around the corner.

It may be an impossibility to reduce government and government waste but it is not impossible to reduce their tax take. Frugality in Washington should be the greatest issue in the campaign except of course the Communist sellout in Cuba.

WROUGHT UP

To the Editor:

I am so wrought up over an article in your August 31 paper, sent me by my sister who still resides in Colorado Springs, that I am compelled to write you — that of the "Trianon closes its doors." I have never written a newspaper before, but I have to express my feelings.

I am not an emotional person but for the first time in many years my reaction is so strong — a combination of rage over the stupidity and injustice of this action and complete sadness for the loss of something that was so beautiful there is nothing in our country or abroad that excels it — that I actually cried.

I was born, reared and educated in Colorado Springs and left there during World War II for an assignment (social worker) with the American Red Cross in southern California. My father, Charles N. Wheeler, was a pioneer of Colorado Springs and a general contractor there for over forty years, bulding many of your roads and buildings. My parents passed away there in 1940 but I have always gone back almost every year, always proud that "Colorado Springs was really still my home." Now I am not so proud — quite the contrary.

Through my father's contacts I had the opportunity when I was about fourteen years old (1914) to spend almost a whole day at the Trianon, going into every room from the vast basement area to the servant's quarters on the top floor. I shall never forget the beautiful gardens, priceless statuary on the terraces. It was so elegantly kept up at that time.

To this day I can visualize everything I saw, the priceless art treasures, the vast library housing rare and beautiful books. In fact, I can close my eyes after these many years and see the floor plan, the marble floors, priceless chandeliers, enormous rooms, truly a palace. I believe that one impressionable day being so exposed to such unbelievable beauty and art has been the greatest cultural influence in my entire life. It was an insight into the treasures of the world, encased in a palace. I shall never forget the massive religious pictures; the countless art treasures all created by great masters; the entrance rotunda with its magnificent bronze statues. Thank God I have my beautiful memories, something others will now be deprived of.

My father explained to me, after seeing what an impression the Trianon had made on me, all about the building of it as the architect - builder was a friend of his (name escapes me). How he had spent two years in France studying the Palace of Versailles from which the Trianon was copied; how he personally selected the marble for the vast edifice, piece by piece as a sculptor would select for a statue. He even brought back French artisans to actually build the palace, each in their respective field so that it was all accomplished by master craftsmen. Of course the cost was not even considered. The Trianon, as you know but the public apparently doesn't care, was filled with treasures — again, cost no object.

My sister has kept me informed regarding the "difficulties" of developing the Trianon Foundation but I had understood, until today through her letter and your article, that Attorney John Metzger, through superhuman efforts, had finally managed to bring the matter to a happy conclusion. I was SURE that Colorado Springs, through some means, either local capital or public taxation, would hold on to this priceless edifice.

I was back there at Christmas time and one of the things I wanted to do most was visit the Trianon. It was closed which was very disappointing. I tried to get a picture but you can see there is no vantage point from the roads on any side.

Your article refers to the Trianon as "one of Colorado's most famous buildings." It goes far beyond that. One travels throughout Europe and though they might compare historically — few exceed in sheer beauty and quality of art.

What has happened to the so-called "cultured class" that Colorado Springs is so noted for? Why was the exquisite beauty of this priceless Trianon NOT appreciated by the people of Colorado Springs? It should have been the center of culture for the city, and the citizens of Colorado Springs should have shown the strength of fortitude to demand its support and overrule the "Trianon neighbors." I cannot understand, as I always thought Colorado Springs had more courage, why a small group of selfish, smug property owners were allowed to win out.

It is beyond human belief and comprehension that "opposing neighbors" overruled an entire city . . . the smallness, pettiness of "signs to point way to Trianon," etc. Talk about "segregationalists". . .not allowing or wanting cultured people to visit a beautiful museum as they would "be disturbed." Do they feel that way in Paris when the Louvre is visited, the Palace of Versailles and perhaps the Taj Mahal? God help such selfishness. I pity them.

I understand the razing of Victorian homes; that is for progress. I see beautiful homes torn down out here every day to make way for freeways or housing tracts, but these are houses made from lumber and nails, they served their purpose and should be replaced. Razing the Trianon is like tearing down the palace for which it was named. . .all for a piece of land for parking spaces.

I sincerely hope that the Broadmoor "Trianon neighbors" will be happy with their victory. They should be very proud of themselves as should the citizens of Colorado Springs in not saving this truly great building and preserving the grounds and the treasures it held.

I am heartsick over the situation. Perhaps there might be a few more too timid or weak that share valiant Attorney Metzger's and my feelings.

BASIC ERROR

To the Editor:

The League of Women Voters have been mailing out a yellow pamphlet on the Liberty Amendment that contains a basic error of statement.

The pamphlet says: The proposed "Liberty Amendment" requests the Congress to call a convention to revise the U. S. Constitution (emphasis is theirs).

Exactly the opposite is true. The amendment will not "revise," alter or affect the original Constitution, but will give it full force and effect. It will stop socialism dead in its tracks, and return us to government by constitutional law, instead of by bureaucracy.

Further, the Liberty Amendment will not affect Social Security, because the Supreme Court has ruled that it is not "insurance," therefore a "work tax" and not in competition with private enterprise.

The statement is true that the Liberty Amendment will forbid the federal government from engaging in business enterprises except as specified in the Constitution (emphasis is mine).

It will not eliminate the Department of Agriculture, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Bureau of Reclamation, the National Park System or the Veterans Administration. These fall into legitimate constitutional categories; but it will eliminate any activities carried on under these departments which compete with private enterprise.

The Local Scene

The Crystal River Valley

By RUFUS L. PORTER

Thirteen miles south of Glenwood Springs and about a mile from the point where the Crystal River and the Fryingpan River flow together stands the peaceful, beautiful and friendly little town of Carbondale — a good place to spend the night and get acquainted with the natives. While there, be sure to visit my friends Bob and Jenny Pattison, who run a sportings goods store on the main stem, and the Parkers, who run a very fine motel in the west end of town.

Next morning, after a fine breakfast in a cafe that has changed its name to I don't remember what, and a fill in from Bob Pattison on the scenery of the area and how best to reach it (Bob has done a lot of tourist and hunter guiding), you are ready for an enviable experience.

First, there is Mount Sopris. Bob says, "What have you got on the Eastern Slope to compare with it?" I tried to tell him, but he wouldn't listen. He just kept enumerating other scenic spots that had no equal anywhere, in his estimation, such as "Arm Chair Mountain." And his enthusiasm for the region is contagious. After a few days in his company, I started believing him.

All joking aside, the scenery is different and it is fantastic. And the Crystal River Valley is one of the most beautiful valleys you are apt to see on any planet. Drive up on the gravel, but good, road as far as Redstone and gaze in awe at the magnificent Redstone Inn that was built by a man named Osgood, who founded the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company (later sold to Rockefeller), as a recreational center for his employees, where it was said no man was permitted to buy another a drink. This ruling was Osgood's contribution to temperance and sobriety among his employees.

The employees who enjoyed the facilities of the inn worked in Osgood's long line of coke ovens or on his private railroad that ran from Redstone to Coal Basin 10 or 12 miles up in the hills north of Redstone.

The coke ovens and the railroad, as well as the coal camp of Coal Basin, have disappeared. But the row of beautiful homes Osgood built for his employees still stand, as sturdy as the day they were built back in the 1890s. Suiting his buildings to the climate, he built the homes of stone in the Swiss Alpine chateau style with steeply sloped roofs so the heavy snows wouldn't cave them in. The houses are still inhabited and the inn forms the nucleus of a dude ranch.

Two miles upriver from the inn you will come to Cleveholm, Osgood's two million dollar residence, now another dude ranch, and a dilly. The words "palace" and "mansion" are hardly powerful enough to describe the place and "castle" doesn't quite fit. I dare say that Cleveholm, so named because Cleveland, Ohio, was Osgood's home town, is about the most elegant private home ever built in Colorado.

As a for instance, the walls of the huge library are of green elephant hide and the ceiling is 24-carat gold. The bedrooms, and there are many of them, bear the names of celebrities of the period who slept in them. Osgood had their names painted on the doors. The one I slept in bore the name of Teddy Roosevelt.

What was I doing in a swank place like that? I was entertaining the second annual engineer's conference of the Heiland Research Corporation of Denver. We spent a week there in late June of '53. I also entertained the first annual conference, which was held in Cripple Creek. The next one was to be in Silverton, but it never was held, due to circumstances beyond my control.

Anyhow, Doctor Heiland is dead now and the research corporation he founded has been sold to the Minneapolis-Honeywell outfit.

The conferences were the sort of thing that gave the IRS men headaches because they were "deductible" as business expense, which they were. But the IRS men have succeeded in killing them — and a great deal of business along with them.

Be that as it may. The conferences drew together from all over America the best brains in the electric and electronics fields — Doctor Edgerton of MIT, the top scientists from General Electric, the Sylvania Corporation and many others, including Doctor Condon, former head of Corning Glass.

And they did work. A conference was held for hours each morning, but the late afternoon and evening were reserved for fun, and fun we had, winding it all up with a big blowout in the Skyroom of the Park Lane Hotel in Denver. All expenses were paid by Heiland's, down to the last bottle of champagne or sparkling burgundy.

Because I was well paid for my part in those fabulous conferences, besides having more fun than anybody, I missed them terribly when they were discontinued.

My friend, Stanley Eilenberger, chief engineer for Heiland's, who was responsible for my employment as entertainer, had it arranged for me to go to the ghost town of Coal Basin, complete with beard, burros, packs, etc., to be "found" up there by the engineers when they came sightseeing.

All 52 of the engineers on the way up from Denver by chartered bus asked Stanley if Porter was going to be there this year. Stanley told them, "I called his wife and she said he had gone off into the hills somewhere on a prospecting trip. Nobody knows where he's at."

I know all this is too much about "big I," but it is pertinent to my tale about the scenery and the history of the place. I'll have to continue it, though.

BROWN RETURNED

CASTLE ROCK (UPI)—Byron O. Brown, 39, was returned to jail Tuesday from Colorado General Hospital in Denver. Brown was charged with shooting his wife Tressie to death in front of the Douglas County Courthouse Aug. 31. He shot himself accidentally while pumping several shots into his wife, and had been hospitalized since then.

MENTAL HEALTH

What is mental health? It involves the ability of a person to form normal relationships with others. The emotionally stable respond freely and responsibly to the demands made on them by their fellows, and they are willing to co-operate and communicate with those about them. These people appreciate their kinship with family, friends, and associates and are capable of love and compassion.

They belong to the community in which they live and participate in its religious, economic, and social activities. The mentall healthy realize that such varied contacts enrich living.

The emotionally disturbed often alienate themselves from family and community. They become estranged, detached, and withdrawn. The purpose of psychiatric care is to restore their ability to rejoin the human race.

This is not always easy to do because they have built up defenses against adversity and the stresses of society. The longer this situation persists, the harder it is to change. Sedatives, shock therapy, and other forms of treatment help but much more than this is required to relieve anxiety, restore confidence, and encourage the victim to communicate.

We learned a lesson in World War II about psychiatric casualties (shellshock and psycho-neuroses) in combat. The outlook was better when these men were treated in nearby first aid posts and returned to duty quickly. Those who were evacuated to base hospitals were less likely to find themselves back at the front. Why? After being evacuated, the service man's defense mechanism had time to harden and become well established.

The modern mental health clinic is comparable to the first aid stations or World War II. The person with an emotional problem is seen earlier and many are able to rejoin their family and community after short term treatment. These centers also give follow-up care to those who have been institutionalized and are living at home.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self - addressed envelope accompanies request.

Diabetes And Itching

A. H. writes: I have diabetes (under control) but pruritus still continues. Should it not have subsided after urine and blood sugar became normal?

Reply

Yes, if it was due to diabetes. Allergy and nervousness are other possibilities. Send a stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on itching. There are several new tablets and lotions for this annoying symptom.

Harshness And Speech

S. T. writes: A 6-year-old boy stutters. His father always has been strict with him at the table. Could this harshness be responsible for the child's speech defect?

Reply

Yes. There is a strong emotional aspect to stuttering.

Gradual Rise

D. T. writes: If a person gets high blood pressure, does it occur suddenly or gradually?

Reply

Gradually except in malignant hypertension or the type that develops during pregnancy.

Flu Shots During Pregnancy

Mrs. L. writes: Can flu shots early in pregnancy deform the baby?

Reply

Not to my knowledge.

Jaw Deposits

M. K. writes: Could calcium deposits in the jaw be due to a former attack of tuberculosis?

Reply

This is doubtful.

Malaysia Seeks U.N. Aid Against Indonesia Attack

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Malaysia sought Western support today for a Security Council condemnation of Indonesia for alleged subversion on her soil. Any such action was expected to run afoul of Soviet veto.

The Malaysian country will meet this afternoon to hear Malaysia's charges that Indonesia committed aggression in an air drop near the Malay peninsula town of Labis on Wednesday.

Dispatches from Labis maintained that 30 parachutists were landed. Five have been killed, 11 captured and 700 to 800 British Gurkha troops are combing the countryside for the remainder said to have split up into twos and threes.

Informed sources said Malaysia wants the council to condemn Indonesia and call upon President Sukarno's regime to refrain from any such action in the future.

Tunku Ismail Bin Abdul Rahman, Malaysian home affairs minister, conferred yesterday with U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and British Ambassador Sir Patrick Dean.

In its request for a council meeting, Malaysia charged that the dropping of parachutists constituted "blatant and intolerable aggression" which threatened peace in Southeast Asia.

Malaysia's Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak told newsmen in Singapore he is Indonesian plot to incite communal violence in that city has been smashed and most of the ringleaders arrested.

Razak said those picked up were Indonesian agents "responsible for all the present troubles." In fighting between Chinese and Malays there since Friday, at least 12 persons have been killed and 196 injured.

Britain flew about 500 reinforcements from its Rhine army in West Germany to Singapore to help deal with the deteriorating situation between Indonesia and Malaysia.

Four ships of Britain's Far Eastern fleet cancelled a visit to Australia and a Navy spokesman said the schedules of other British warships in eastern waters were being reviewed because of the situation.

Britain is committed to defend Malaysia, which was formed of British territories in Southeast Asia. Sukarno contends that the federation is a device to preserve British colonial rule in the area.

Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake of New Zealand said Tuesday his government would give Malaysia full assistance in combatting Indonesian infiltrators. A battalion of New Zealand troops is scouring the coastal region of Pontian for remnants of an Indonesian band that landed on the Malayan mainland Aug. 17.

Freeman Tries To Stop Wheat Sale Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman moved today to head political critics to the draw should they seek to make a campaign issue of recent U.S. sales of wheat to the Soviet Union.

This county made 65 million bushels of wheat available to the Soviets for $140 million.

Every dollar has been paid, Freeman said. Some members of Congress criticized the decision to sell to Russia when it was made by the late President John F. Kennedy last year.

The secretary listed these benefits from the sales:

1. They improved the U.S. balance of payments position.

2. They saved American taxpayers an estimated $65 million in storage charges on the grain.

3. They strengthened U.S. domestic wheat prices.

4. They provided new business for railroads, barge lines, ocean shipping companies and other U.S. enterprises.

5. They created new jobs for U.S. workers to handle the export shipments.

6. They helped deplete the world dollar's gold and dollar claims.

7. They improved the image of Americans in the Soviet Union, Freeman declared.

8. They gave the U.S. a propaganda weapon in that it showed that free enterprise was more productive than that of the Communist system.

Hobby of Taking Medicine Told By Hal Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody should have a hobby. I have what I consider the ideal hobby.

My hobby is taking medicine. It is the greatest sport of the 20th century.

To ski you have to have snow or water. To golf you need landscape. To sail you need a boat and a lake or ocean. To hunt you need a gun and something that will run from you. To fish — well, at least you need a hook and a lot of patience.

But to take medicine all you need is — medicine. There are thousands to choose from, and scores of new ones come on the market each year.

You can make the hobby as expensive or inexpensive as you choose.

The fellow who wouldn't lend you a dime to keep you from starving is glad to let you sample his medicine.

As a beginning hobbyist, you may try to take any and all kinds of medicine. This is the mark of the overeager amateur. To him there is no difference between a medicine to rid one of tapeworms and a liniment to soothe a sprain.

A true connoisseur learns early to specialize.

You can choose medicines designed to cure or alleviate specific ailments — such as colic, colitis, chromium deficiency or the common cold.

You can confine yourself to liquid medicines, capsules, pills, pellets, or medicines which fizz when you put them into water.

You can even specialize in medicines of a certain color, several colors, those which have either a picture on the bottle, or those restricted purely to printed matter.

I decided to specialize in wonder drugs. The wonderful thing about many a wonder drug is its aura of romance and mystery.

Even if it turns out only to be another cure for the hiccups, you've had the excitement of daring the new, of being at least a footnote in the long story of medical progress.

Taking medicine as a hobby has a distinct social advantage. It makes you the life of any cocktail party.

People are bored with the conversation of skiers, golfers, sailing enthusiasts and African safari survivors. But they throng around me excitedly when they find out that my hobby is taking wonder drugs.

"What's the one that does you the most good?" they invariably ask.

"Aspirin," I have to admit.

Airline Ordered To Offer Job To Negro Pilot

DENVER (AP) — Dist. Judge Neil Horan ordered Continental Airlines Tuesday to offer Marlong D. Green, a Negro pilot, a job with full seniority and priority status within 30 days.

Judge Horan said the company within the same period may ask for a new trial. He denied a Continental petition for further revelw of the seven-year case.

Green, 34, is now a pilot for the U.S. Reclamation Bureau in Denver.

The Colorado Antidiscrimination Commission has charged that Continental refused to hire Green because of his color. Continental officials denied this.

Five years ago a Denver District court upheld the company in its refusal to hire Green and the Colorado Supreme Court sustained the ruling.

But the U.S. Supreme Court in 1963 reversed the decision, ruling that states may forbid discriminatory hiring practices by interstate carriers.

Continental then offered employment to Green but he argued he was not given the seniority status to which he was entitled.

India's Premier Is Deserted by Own Party Men

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI India (AP) — Deserted by some members of his own party, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri is in deep political trouble just three months after assuming the leadership of India.

The nation's stability will depend on how well this shy, unassuming man fights back against Communist-led opponents of his government and how well he handles a food crisis affecting millions.

Trouble has been mounting rapidly since Shastri succeeded the late Prime Minister Nehru June 9 and then in August fought back from a disabling heart ailment.

Shastri's prestige and position within his own ruling Congress party took its heaviest blow yet Tuesday.

The party's state government in the southern Communist bastion of Kerala collapsed on a no-confidence motion the Reds rammed through the legislature. In New Delhi, a united front of Communists, Socialists and right-wing Hindus stepped up their attack on Shastri's food policies. Parliament will vote later this week on a motion of no confidence against the prime minister.

The Congress party's big majority assures the defeat of the motion, but Congress members themselves were voicing some of the harshest criticism hurled at Shastri.

Congress member A.C. Guha of West Bengal declared the nation's reserves of food grains are gone and the food situation is the worst since the great Bengal famine killed millions in 1943.

Communists stalked out of the Uttar Pradesh legislature during an argument over charges of election irregularities that have thrown the Congress machine into an uproar.

The governor of Orissa State tendered his resignation to take responsibility for invasion of northern India covered by the worst floods in 40 years.

Sources close to Shastri say he is planning stern action.

Fail Safe Seen Very Similar to Dr. Strangelove

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It is difficult to take "Fail Safe" seriously during the early part of its running if you have seen "Dr. Strangelove." The plot is virtually the same: tension at the summit as American bombers mistakenly carry nuclear bombs toward the Soviet heartland.

Even the characters are strikingly similar: the earnest president, the indignant Soviet premier, the refugee scientist, the psychotic Air Force officer. But while "Strangelove" was the wildest kind of farce, "Fail Safe" is dead serious.

Despite the sometimes devastating comparison, "Fail Safe" manages to generate a sizable degree of excitement. The stakes are the highest that any drama could provide, survival of the human race. It is difficult to remain a neutral observer.

This time it is a Russian jamming that destroys the fail safe system and sends the bombers on their terrible mission. Then come the agonizing hours of watching radar screens, talking over the hot line, meeting in the war room. The ending is only slightly less catastrophic than that of "Strangelove."

The lesson, as spoken by President Henry Fonda to his Soviet counterpart: "We're to blame, both of us; we let our machines get out of hand."

"The Visit" is an arresting failure. It falls on a number of counts, one of them basic.

As chillingly played on the stage by Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, "The Visit" was a horror study of human depravity. An immensely wealthy woman returns to her home town to pay back the man who was her first lover and ruined her life. She offers the townspeople riches to kill the man, a respected citizen. Slowly overcome by greed, they set out to do so.

The shadowy witchcraft of the theater was able to create an aura of reality. But the monstrousness of her scheme is scarcely believable in literal treatment on the screen. Or perhaps it is difficult to imagine Ingrid Bergman, playing a woman of 37 and looking it at 48, capable of such a thing.

New Battalion Commander at Ft. Carson

Lt. Col. James Buchanan Jr., army attache in Nigeria on his last assignment, is new commander of the 5th Battalion, 4th Artillery, at Ft. Carson.

Col. Buchanan assumed command last week, taking over from Lt. Col. Josiah A. Wallace who has been reassigned to 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) Artillery Headquarters.

Col. Buchanan earned eight campaign stars in two wars, three in the Pacific Theater during World War II and five in Korea. He also holds the Bronze Star.

A Regular Army officer who won an Officers Candidate School commission in 1943, he is a 1956 graduate of Command and General Staff College and a 1959 graduate of Armed Forces Staff College.

Col. Buchanan, a native of Leesville, La., resides in quarters at Ft. Carson, with his wife, Doris, and five children.

ETNA ACTIVE

CATANIA, Sicily (UPI) — Mount Etna, after a month of little activity, began spouting rocks and ashes from its central crater Saturday.

The volcano threw rocks nearly 2,000 feet into the air and sprayed ashes around the countryside, but no lava flow was reported. After the original series of explosions the activity appeared to be lessening.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Portugal, one of Europe's fastest growing tourist attractions, combines broad sandy beaches, rugged mountain ranges and rolling plains all in an area about the size of the state of Maine, according to the American Society of Travel Agents.

DUBLIN — Eire has rejected a standard test for drunk drivers.

Evans Criticizes Goldwater Stand On Arms Control

Frank Evans, Democratic candidate for Congress, spoke out Tuesday night against Senator Goldwater's position on control of atomic weapons. He stated that the use of atomic weapons was a political decision which only the elected President of the United States should make.

Evans spoke before the Colorado Springs Business and Professional Women's Club at the Swiss Chalet. Evans stated that the war between Russia and the United States was a war of economic systems and ideologies and not just a military contest. He stated that Senator Goldwater tends to think mainly in military terms.

On the domestic side, Evans said that the fiscal policies of the Johnson administration had resulted in a record rate of growth, faster even than the Soviet's, and that this had been accomplished without any inflation. Evans stated that employment is the highest ever and business profits are at a new record high.

When speaking of Senator Goldwater, Evans noted that Goldwater had changed his position in regard to control of atomic weapons. Goldwater, he said, first advocated giving field commanders authority to use atomic weapons. He (Goldwater) then said he meant only the Supreme Commander of NATO, speaker said, a position presently filled by an American. Evans said that Senator Goldwater's position on this question was somewhat confusing but that he expected the Senator would clear it up soon with a clarifying statement. Evans expressed concern over the fact that the incumbent Congressman has been known as a strong supporter of Goldwater.

The candidate concluded his remarks by stating he supported the Johnson program to give the one-fifth of the nation locked in poverty the opportunity and desire to become a worthwhile part of society.

RECORD BROKEN

DENVER (UPI)— The Colorado Highway Department said Tuesday a record number of vehicles traveled the Denver-Boulder Turnpike in August. There were 388,105 vehicles, tolls totaled $89,293, $5,116 higher than last August.

Condition of U.N. Mediator Worsens

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — The condition of Sakari Tuomioja, U.N. mediator for Cyprus, has worsened, a medical bulletin said today.

Private sources said the Finnish diplomat's condition is considered grave.

Tuomioja suffered a stroke in Geneva on Aug. 16. He was flown to Helsinki on Sept. 3.

NEW COMBO

WASHINGTON (UPI) — California, where the word "motel" was born, is about to give birth to the first of a chain of "travel centers" — motel, restaurant and service station combined, says the American Automobile Association.

The first of a dozen such centers is going up at Salinas, Calif. The $1.5 million center will include a 96-unit motel with a swimming pool, all rooms with television and direct dial telephone. It is expected to be in operation this fall.

BELFAST — Newcastle, in County Down, is to have a new crest.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

Dr. Ross is the type of stalwart American who has made this great Republic the mecca for freedom loving folks all over the world. Contrast him with the goons and dimwits whom he has encountered in his 50 years of teaching. He's a ball of fire and a most articulate defender of free enterprise.

By George W. Crane, Ph. D., M. D.

CASE T-470: Dr. Galen Starr Ross is the peppery president of Capitol College.

He is short in stature but long on courage.

When he was only 16 he started teaching in a one-room school house, with a total of 25 pupils.

"It was one of those little red school houses," he told a combined Mercator — Optimist luncheon at Columbus Ohio.

"And in those days," Dr. Ross continued, "the ONLY place a school was 'red' was on the OUTSIDE.

About the middle of the morning, he called on the third graders for their reading lesson.

A little blonde girl, aged 8, got up to read. But a 17-year-old classmate, who was over 6 feet tall, yanked her down by jerking on her pigtails.

This big lug had driven three women teachers out of the school the previous year and a man teacher had lasted only a few weeks until young Dr. Ross took over.

"In those days," Dr. Ross told the luncheon crowd, "we didn't waste time consulting with the principal, for I was the only faculty member in the school building.

"And we didn't ask the County Superintendent for advice nor have a session with the School Board.

"Instead, the teacher had to act at once and solve each problem.

"Although this big lug was about a head taller, I calmly descended on him and cracked his thick skull with the butt end of my heavy pointer.

"After an encore, he jumped up and ran out of the schoolhouse, yelling bloody murder.

"So I called the 3rd graders to order again and told them we'd get back to our reading lesson.

"But we hadn't gone along for more than 5 minutes when a girl at the back of the room got my attention.

"She said that this big lug was returning to the school, accompanied by his father who had a shotgun cradled in the crook of his arm.

"Whereupon, I went over to the woodbox back of the pot-bellied stove which was our source of heat.

"I selected a stick of wood about the size of my forearm and stationed myself by the door.

"When my visitor kicked open the door, I socked him over the head with that stick of wood.

"He went down like an ox for I knocked him cold. Then I told his big dummox of a son to drag his paw homeward as he was, saying he could figure this out while unconscious just as easily as when he came in!

"For a cardinal virture of all education is the rule that a child must learn to mind!

"Thereafter, I never had any more trouble at that school! For no military officer or teacher dares let himself be bullied."

Dr. Ross used strong methods but that big moron had previously driven four teachers off the job, so the issue had to be faced at once. Sometimes corporal punishment is most efficient!

Bereaved Can't Put Artificial Posies on Graves

Artificial flowers were banned from Evergreen and Fairview cemeteries Tuesday by the Colorado Springs City Council.

Mayor Harry Hoh said artificial flowers were "deteriorating" the appearance of the cemeteries. Councilman Harold Hawks said the city was opposed to artificials primarily because wire tangles in power equipment.

Said Councilman William Roe. "If artificial flowers are the best you can do for your dear departed, you are in the wrong cemetery."

The Park and Recreation Advisory Board unanimously passed a motion Aug. 4 to prohibit artificials.

E. S. Richter, director of the Park and Recreation Department, recommended disallowing artificials because "artificial flowers become worn and tattered and cause the cemetery to become shabby in appearance," in an inter - office memorandum Aug. 28.

The memorandum also said that "We have had unfortunate experience with the wire steamed flowers tangling in the mower reels, as well as small pieces of wire flying from the reels and injuring the employes."

"Records show employes injured contracting blood poisoning and eyes pierced in some instances, besides other injuries causing long period of unemployment."

It was also noted in the memorandum that "more and more" cemeteries are banning artificial flowers because of these reasons.

The new ordinance outlawing artificials amended a 1927 ordinance on city cemeteries.

Cut flowers and natural wreaths and evergreen blankets may still be placed on graves.

TAX COLLECTED

DENVER (AP) — Colorado collected $13,903,585 in state income taxes in July and August, an increase of $925,860 over the figure for the same months of 1963.

Ex-Nazi Defendant Is Reported Senile

LIMBURG, Germany (AP) — A West German court has ruled that Dr. Hans Hefelmann is no longer physically and mentally able to stand trial for the deaths of 73,000 persons under the Nazi euthanasia program.

Court doctors ruled that Hefelmann, 57, is suffering from rapidly advancing senility and would live only two more years if his trial continued. The trial began Feb. 18.

CARIBBEAN BOOM

NEW YORK (UPI)—Another record - breaking fall - winter travel season is expected in the Caribbean area this year, says the Caribbean Tourist Association.

Steamship lines are increasing their cruise schedules by adding extra ports and planning more cruises. New luxury liners are entering the popular Caribbean cruise service. Airlines are stepping up flights to the Caribbean and attracting more travelers with reduced rates and special packages. Caribbean resorts in turn are rushing new hotels to completion and enlarging established ones.

Contents of Locker Lead to Arrest

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A clerk in a bus depot eyed William Janowitz suspiciously as he described the contents of his pay locker.

Janowitz, 20, of Columbus, Ohio, had told the clerk he had lost his key, and the clerk asked him what was in it.

Lock picks, glass cutters and a hacksaw blade, Janowitz replied. The clerk called police, who arrested Janowitz.

Janowitz waived an extradition hearing Tuesday and was returned to Columbus, where he faces burglary and theft charges.

LOST CITY

MATAGORDA, Tex. (UPI) — Historians are making occasional trips along the Texas coast between Matagorda Bay and Galveston in hopes of finding some trace of the lost city of Fort St. Louis.

No trace of the settlement established by the French explorer Rene Robert Cavalier, Siur de la Salle, in 1865, has ever been found.

La Salle set out to establish a settlement at the mouth of the Mississippi River, and may have been driven into the Texas coast by a storm.

Famous Horse Trainer Undergoes Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — James E. (Sunny Jim) Fitzsimmons, 90-year-old dean of thoroughbred horse trainers, was reported in fair condition and resting comfortably in a hospital today after emergency surgery for a ruptured appendix.

He was operated on Tuesday at Physicians Hospital, near his home in Queens.

Fitzsimmons retired from racing last year. He became a jockey in 1889 and started as a trainer in 1900.

Fitzsimmons' horses earned $13,082,911 in purses during his 63 years as a trainer. Among the great horses he trained were Gallant Fox, Nashua and Bold Ruler.

Defendant Makes Charges Against Victim in Trial

A District Court defendant Tuesday who admitted to having served time for burglary and car theft charged that the man he has been accused of robbing had made indecent advances to him the night of the alleged incident.

Kenneth Lloyd Edwards, 24, Denver, is being tried for larceny from the person. According to the information filed against him he stole $115 from Sgt. David N. Monk, Ft. Carson, July 1.

Speaking clearly and recalling conversations and incidents of two months ago with no apparent hesitation, Edwards testified that sometime after midnight, July 1, he and a companion, Franklin Levi Lewis, 24, also Denver, and who is scheduled to be tried on the same charge Oct. 6, had stopped their car for a red light in Colorado Springs.

The witness said Monk approached them and asked for a ride back to Ft. Carson. This was in direct contradiction to the sergeant's testimony which was given earlier in the day. Edwards and Lewis agreed to take him for two dollars.

When the vehicle reached the vicinity of the Myron Stratton Home Edwards told Lewis who was driving that he wanted "to go to the bathroom." All three of them got out. Sgt. Monk had testified he did not leave the car. Lewis said, the defendant, was the first one to return to the car.

Edwards then repeated some alleged remarks of a highly questionable nature which he said were made by Monk and a few seconds afterwards, the witness continued, the sergeant made indecent advances.

Edwards told the court that he hit him several times and that the sergeant left the car and walked away. At that moment a state patorl car appeared and, according to Edwards, Monk appeared to attempt to hide as it passed him. A few moments later however, Monk cursed Edwards and ran shouting after the patrol car.

The witness went on to say that he got back into the vehicle with Lewis and the pair then lost their heads but finally regained them when the patrol car followed signaling to stop.

The first witness to be heard was Sgt. Monk. He said the pair had offered him a ride and that after the car pulled off to the shoulder of the road they jumped him in the back and Edwards removed the $115 from his billfold. The money was later found lying on the median.

Monk testified he was ordered out of the car and as he started to walk, the patrol ccar passed him and he flagged it down.

The state patrolman, James Mathis, also testified and repeated much of Monk's testimony. He said he first saw the parked car and described its position. Edwards later contradicted Mathis on this point and said the officer "was mistaken."

Mathis told how he gave chase to the pair who were traveling in the wrong lane.

Testimony was also given by Lawrence M. Berndt, an M.P. at Ft. Carson and Harold Craft, a garage attendent who towed Lewis's car away. Monk also had two checks taken and Craft found one of them in the front seat. Sgt. Monk had been in the back and during cross-examination Edwards could give Deputy District Attorney Montell Dunn no explanation as to how the check came to be found there. The second check was never found.

The defendant is represented by attorney Jack Foutch and Judge William M. Calvert is on the bench. The defendant has waived trial by jury and the case is being heard by the court. Reecss was at 4:30 p.m. and the court re-convened again this morning at 9:30.

"Beg your pardon, but do you mind changing this quarter for me?"

Argentine Stunt Pilot Must Explain Flight

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — An Argentine stunt pilot who reportedly flew to the Falkland Islands and unfurled an Argentine flag in the disputed British colony must explain why he didn't let the Air Ministry in on his plans.

A spokesman for Miguel Fitzgerald, 38, a civilian pilot of Irish descent, said he landed Tuesday in Port Stanley, capital of the Falklands, planted the flag at the airfield and presented the local commander with a declaration "reaffirming Argentina's rights to the islands."

Air Secretary Mario Romanelli said Fitzgerald had erred in telling Rio Gallegos flight control he was going "on a short local flight."

TWIN CITIES MEET

WARSAW (UPI) — The first "sister-city congress" opened here Saturday with 175 towns from 27 nations participating.

Most of them are in underdeveloped nations and are looking for a prosperous "twin."

Suggestions For Manual Considered

Clarifications in an Army training manual suggested by SSgt. James Hughes of Ft. Carson's Leadership and Mountain Training School are being considered for the next edition, according to the Army Engineer School.

Hughes has been notified that his ". . . suggestions. . . were placed with the review material for the new edition of Field Manual 21-26 to receive the detailed and more deliberate examination of our map committee."

Col E.B. Kelly, secretary of the Army Engineer School, Fort Belvoir, Va., commented in his letter that the "method of the sergeant used in his map classes is apparently quite effective and has merit as a teaching service."

"We appreciate the interest that SSgt Hughes has shown in this subject. It is obvious that your students are receiving excellent training in map reading under this competent instructor," Col. Kelly concludes.

Hughes is teaching map-reading for the fourth year. Because he found the existing instructions confusing he suggested more explicit instructions in more logical teaching order.

He is on his second duty tour at Carson. He returned here in 1963 from Fort Polk, La., where he was on the Noncommissioned Officers Academy Faculty.

Miller Assails Humphrey's ADA Connection

By ROBERT T. GRAY

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — p. William E. Miller of New rk, the Republican vice esidential candidate, says nnesota Sen. Hubert H. Hum-rey's connection with Ameri-ns for Democratic Action is n area of legitimate discus-n as far as the American ople are concerned."

"I shall continue to discuss " said Miller Tuesday night in television interview.

He fired back at Sen. J. W. lbright, D-Ark., who accused iller Tuesday of "foul-outhed vituperation and un-strained misrepresentation" Miller's continuing attacks on mphrey, the Democratic vice esidential nominee, and the DA.

Miller, describing the ADA as "radical leftist organization," s cited for the past four days mphrey's role as a founder, rmer chairman and vice airman, and present member ADA.

Miller said the ADA policies clude recognition of Red ina and repeal of internal curity legislation.

"If he (Humphrey) is not in cord with these positions," iller said, "he can say so."

Miller flew into Maine Tues-y night to begin a three- day mpaign swing that will take m to five New England states d the Westchester County ea of New York by Friday ght.

He was accompanied by his fe and two daughters, Eliza-th, 20, and Mary Karen, 17.

Just before departing from ashington on his campaign ne, Miller issued a statement which he said that Ful-ight's comments were "only w proof that Sen. Fulbright ntinues to live in his own little rld of old myths and unreali-s."

Miller said his statements about Humphrey "dealt exclu-sively with his record of virtual-ly 100 per cent agreement with the radically liberal Americans for Democratic Action. I did not deal in name-calling tactics, as did Sen. Fulbright."

The GOP nominee said that "if Sen. Fulbright and the other liberal Democrats now find their record distasteful, I would remind them that it is their record, no one else's."

"As you voted, so shall you be judged by the American peo-ple," Miller declared.

Fulbright also had charged that the GOP presidential candi-date, Sen. Barry Goldwater, was advocating foreign policies that could lead to "nuclear conflict that would destroy the world."

Fulbright said that Gold-water's call "for an aggressive new American foreign policy was built on the assumption that communism and freedom can-not continue to exist in the same world."

Miller said of Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that "retreat, retreat, retreat has been his cry, and sure enough, the frontiers of freedom have been pushed back."

In response to a question on civil rights at the news confer-ence, Miller said it is an open question whether President Johnson really believes that the civil rights cause should be advanced or whether he only believes it for purposes of this election."

Asked whether he believes that the White House had en-couraged Fulbright to comment, Miller replied, "I have no idea," then added: "I do seem to have excited a lot of people lately, I do admit that."

Traffic Officials Teach Children To Use Signals

Officials in the city's Traffic Engineering Department went to school this week to pass along to teachers safety meas-ures about push button traffic control signals.

The teachers will instruct their pupils on these measures.

One of the safety rules chil-dren should know, according to City Traffic Engineer Don L. Smith, is that they should push the button and wait for the "walk" signal before ever at-tempting to cross the street.

The traffic engineer appeared at four schools Tuesday, and Ralph Wendland, traffic analyst, spoke at five schools.

Smith spoke at Garfield, Washington, Audubon and Will Rogers schools while Wendland was at Lowell, Buena Vista, Stratton, South Junior and Jef-ferson.

Smith will discuss the safety measures Friday with teachers at Sacred Heart and Corpus Christi Schools while Wendland will be at Steele School. Helen Hunt School is on the schedule for next Tuesday.

There are 15 push button type signals exclusively for schools within the city, plus three regu-lar signalized intersections and five speed reducer signals (20 miles per hour while flashing.)

The Traffic Engineering De-partment has installed about 400 bright orange school signs at 100 different locations near 34 schools in the city to alert mo-torists.

ADDENDED PHRASE

George Washington, after re-ceiving the formal oath of of-fice upon assuming the presi-dency of the United States, put in one sentence of his own: "So help me God" and these words have become a part of the rit-ual.

"It's inexpensive in the sense that you needn't buy a lot of other status symbols."

Ed McConnell Heads Toastmasters Club

Ed McConnell was elected the new president of the Toastmas-ters Club 555, it was announced Tuesday by Bob McNight, the outgoing president.

Along with McConnell, other new officers beginning their term of office Oct. 1 are: Jim Smith, first vice president; Dave Phillips, second vice presi-dent; Thia Jothilingam, secre-tary; George Krebs, treasurer and Cliff Miller, sergeant at arms.

Rex Dodson, charter member of the club, directed the semi-annual election of officers dur-ing the club's regular Wednes-day dinner and training meeting in the Cantonese Restaurant in the Acacia Hotel.

Anyone interested in learning to speak before large or small audiences is invited to visit the club and join in its training pro-gram.

Atom Ship Savannah Runs Into Trouble

MELMOE, Sweden (AP) — The U.S. nuclear ship Savannah is en route home after being delayed by technical trouble.

It had been scheduled to sail Monday. A statement from the ship said its nuclear reactor was shut down to check for a possible malfunction. It was later discovered that the fault lay with instruments used to sample air near the reactor, the statement said, and "the nu-clear aspects of the ship were not involved in any way."

Barry Launches His Drive for Western States

BY ARTHUR EDSON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, in a deter-mined drive to pick up the Western states he sees as his presidential base, promises that if elected he will halt what he calls the "wild spending spree" by the Democrats.

"What will your choice be?" Goldwater asked a roaring crowd in Los Angeles' three-tiered baseball stadium. "More power for Washington? Less power for your home state and your town? More money for wasteful government? Less money for productive, individ-ual uses?

"No. Our choice is progress through freedom!"

Goldwater had his largest crowd Tuesday night — the scoreboard said 53,120 were in the ball park that can seat 56,-000 — and he got a rousing welcome, so rousing he couldn't speak until the message was flashed in big lights in leftfield: "Let's hear Barry."

This is friendly country for a Republican presidential candi-date.

In 1960 Richard M. Nixon carried California, Oregon and Washington. Goldwater hopes to win them, too.

His schedule today takes in all three states, with stops in Sac-ramento, Calif., and Klamath Falls, Ore., before spending the night in Seattle, Wash.

California is the big prize.

It has 40 big electoral votes, and it has special appeal for Goldwater. It was here, in the presidential primaries, that he knocked off Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and took a major step toward win-ning the GOP nomination.

Goldwater ran especially well in Southern California, and he mentioned this when he arrived at the Los Angeles Airport.

"If it hadn't been for this section, by golly, I'd probably be still running for the Senate instead of what I'm doing."

Goldwater's speech, in the stadium where the Dodgers and Angels play their home games, was billed as his California kickoff, and his fans paid $1 apiece to sit in on a show that ran for almost three hours.

Bands played. Movie and television personalities were introduced. Goldwater rode all the way around the stadium in his convertible, while the crowd applauded, before going to the speaker's platform over second base. Hundreds of yellow and gold balloons were released.

The shout was tremendous when Gen. James Doolittle, cochairman of the Citizens for Goldwater and Miller Commit-tee, introduced him as "The leader of the modern American revolution."

The cheers rolled in when Goldwater said:

"I will, as one of my first actions in the White House, ask the Congress to enact a regular and considered program of tax reduction. I will also ask that Congress stop the wild spending spree begun by this administra-tion."

Jobless Teacher Wants to Propose To Kim Novak

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nathaniel Calvin Stegall, an unemployed schoolteacher, told police he had come here by train last week from St. Louis to propose to actress Kim Novak.

Stegall, 41, spent the last of his money on a cab ride to her home in the Bel-Air district. But she wasn't there.

So he climbed through a bathroom window, raided the refrigerator and, when no one turned up, slept in the garage Saturday night — and again Sunday.

Monday evening two of Miss Novak's friends dropped by to use the swimming pool, heard someone stirring, and called police.

"I'm sure if she were here everything would be all right, and she would not press charges against me," Stegall said.

But Miss Novak is in London, working on a picture, and everything is not all right for Stegall. Police said Tuesday they had booked him on suspicion of burglary.

Beatles Replaced By Rolling Stones

LONDON (AP) — The Beatles are no longer top mops with the British public.

The Rolling Stones, five young men who also sport long, unruly hair, replaced the Beatles at the top of the 1964 poll held by Melody Maker, a weekly for addicts of pop music.

Although the Beatles came out No. 2 in the British section of the poll, they were No. 1 in its international section.

The Beatles also lagged on the hit parade of 10 best-selling records. Their "Hard Day's Night" was seventh. "You Really Got Me," by the Kinks, was No. 1.

AFA Graduates Return to Brief First Classmen

From missile silos, the cockpits of jets and helicopters, and Air Force offices, more than 40 Air Force Academy graduates will return this weekend to brief First Classmen (June graduates) on their experiences as junior officers.

With other outstanding first and second lieutenants from major commands, the Academy grads will take part in the second segment of the career decisions program — "Careers for Lieutenants."

Saturday, following an introduction by the Commandant of Cadets Brig. Gen. Robert W. Strong, small panels made up of grads and the other young officers will discuss impressions of junior officers on their jobs and duties, opportunities and challenges, training opportunities, and personal aspects of Air Force life.

Typical of the graduates returning are 1st Lt. Michael G. Buchen, Class of 1960; 1st Lt. Charles B. Neel, '61; 1st Lt. Edd D. Wheeler, '62; and 2nd Lt. Ronald J. Kos, '63.

Lt. Buchen is assigned to the Space Systems Division of the Systems Command. A rated navigator, he completed graduate school at MIT to earn his Masters in Aeronautics and Astronautics. The lieutenant is at present a program guidance project officer.

Assigned to the 319th Fighter-Interceptor Sq. of the Air Defense Command at Homestead AFB, Fla., Lt. Neel is flying F-104s. Prior to joining the 319th, Lt. Neel completed pilot training at Craig AFB, Ala., and fighter - interceptor at Perrin AFB, Tex.

The 1962 graduate, Lt. Wheeler, has trained into the missile field. He is assigned to the 533rd Strategic Missile Sq., McConnell AFB, Kan., as a deputy missile combat crew commander.

Lt. Kos, '63, is a contract negotiator in the Directorate of Procurement and Production of the San Bernadino Air Materiel Area. He completed graduate school at the University of California in 1964 as well as the procurement officers course.

Among graduates scheduled to attend the Saturday sessions are: Class of 1960, 1st Lts. Thomas F. Seebode, William G. Goodyear, Neal T. Reavely, Donald L. Thurman, Phillip A. Cooke, James W. Clark, and Richard R. Scher; Class of 1961, 1st Lts. John J. Kohout III, Richard C. Milnes, Thomas T. Walker, James J. Hourin, Thomas W. C. Wilson, Richard W. Arnold, and Francis J. Mason; Class of 1962, 1st Lts. John F. Guilmartin and Jerry W. Daugherty; and Class of 1963, 2nd Lt. Richard Lee Voorhees.

President Goes To Detroit Without Doctor

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who sometimes likes to depart from tradition, flew to Detroit Monday without having a physician or code-carrying military officer aboard his small jet transport.

The doctor and the officer went to Detroit aboard a second plane that flew an identical route. All available space on Johnson's aircraft was occupied by the President and his wife, five Democratic members of Congress from Michigan, two labor union officials, a White House speechwriter and two Secret Service agents.

During the Kennedy administration, and on earlier flights by Johnson, both the physician and the code officer had flown regularly aboard the presidential plane 8 one available to treat any emergency health problem and the other to hand over top secret codes that the chief executive might urgently need in a national security crisis.

On the Detroit trip, it was learned Tuesday night, the plane that carried the doctor, the military man and other White House aides had a pressurization breakdown and descended from 24,000 feet to 8,000 feet. The White House said this "presented no hazards whatsoever."

The plane was identical in mechanical features to the Air Force Jetstar transport used by Johnson on that day.

Johnson has occasionally used a Jetstar as president, starting with a June 26 flight to a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Detroit. He often used one as vice president.

The Jetstar was cleared for presidential travel by the Federal Aviation Agency earlier this year, after some modifications were made in the craft.

John F. Kennedy used one only once, when no larger jet was available, to fly to Cape Cod last year for the premature birth of a son who died within 48 hours.

Some White House and Pentagon officials have expressed unhappiness privately about Johnson's use of a Jetstar, arguing that it lacks the sizable crew, capacity or full range of communications gear available on the regular presidential transport, a Boeing 707.

Viet Nam Chief Adds Title of Defense Minister

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Khanh took on the added title of defense minister today, government sources said.

In a continuing reshuffle of top posts, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh has reportedly been named chairman of the ruling triumvirate on which Khanh and Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Kheim also serve. But Khanh is still considered the most powerful man in the government.

Khiem resigned as defense minister last week but reportedly remained military commander of the armed forces under Khanh.

Khanh visited the Defense Ministry in civilian clothes today, presumably to tell the staff he was the new boss. With him was Gen. Khiem and another general who has been under heavy attack by Buddhists — Maj. Gen. Do Cao Tri.

Tri is expected to be transferred from the post he has held since early this year, commander of the army's 2nd Corps.

The shuffling of generals in the past two weeks is seen as more for show than reality. Khanh has apparently been pulling all the strings. His apparent motive is to confuse opposition groups so they cannot concentrate on any single target.

Two civilian Cabinet ministers, Education Minister Bui Tuong Huan and Social Welfare Secretary Tran Quang Thuan, resigned. Both have been strongly critical of Khanh's regime in recent weeks.

The North Vietnamese News Agency claimed that U.S. military planes made repeated scouting flights over Communist North Viet Nam in the 12 days ending Aug. 30. It said North Viet Nam protested to the three-nation control commission for Viet Nam.

Red China warned again today it "will not stand idly by" if the war is extended to North Viet Nam. The official Peking People's Daily charged that the U.S. government "has long been plotting to extend its aggressive war in South Viet Nam."

The Soviet Union accused Japan of aiding the United Statese in "acts of aggression" during the Gulf of Tonkin crisis and said this endangered world peace. Soviet Ambassador Vladimir M. Vinogradov handed a note from his government to Deputy Foreign Minister Takio Ohda in Tokyo.

Ohda replied that the United States acted in self- defense and denied that U.S. naval vessels in the Gulf of Tonkin went directly from U.S. bases in Japan.

Wheat Farmers Continue Their Withholding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many wheat farmers are staging a grain withholding action of their own in the hope of getting better prices than markets offer under the government's new wheat stabilization program.

But the effect of this action is being minimized by the fact that millers and exporters are able to turn to the government for supplies at prices below those sought by producers.

It has been normal for years for farmers to hold some wheat back at harvest time in the expectation of higher prices later in the marketing year.

But government grain market reports indicate that farmers are selling less than normal because of dissatisfaction with prices. Under the new program, the price support dropped to $1.30 a bushel national farm average from $1.82 last year.

But the Agriculture Department stands ready to sell wheat from its surplus stocks at about $1.38 a bushel this month.

Since July 1, the government has sold about 75 million bushels to the trade, or about twice as much as in the same period last year.

This year's wheat crop has been estimated at about 25 million bushels below combined domestic and export needs. Naturally this deficit can be supplied by the government. But to the extent that government sales exceed this apparent deficit, they will displace 1964-crop wheat in the market. The net result could be that most of the displaced wheat would wind up in government hands at the end of the season. Wheat stored under price support loans can be turned over to the government as full payment of such loans.

U.S. Landmarks Week Noted By Gov. Love

DENVER (AP) — Gov. John Love has proclaimed "American Landmarks Week" for Sept. 28-Oct. 2.

W. E. Marshall, executive director of the Colorado State Historical Society, said the week will climax a worldwide celebration designed to stimulate public awareness of the need of protecting historical sites and structures.

The state society has been dedicated for 85 years to the collection, preservation and interpretation of the state's history. It maintains 10 museums, including the one across 14th Avenue from the state capitol.

Nine sites in Colorado have been designated as registered national historic landmarks by Secretary of Interior Udall. They include Cripple Creek, Leadville, the Durango-Silverton narrow gauge railroad, Taton Pass and Pikes Peak.

The others are Central City, the Silverton-Telluride area, Pike's stockade, east of La Jara, and Bent's Fort near La Junta.

CRASH INJURES MANITOU MAN — The Rev. Dr. G. Frederick Owen, 67, 820 Manitou Ave., received injuries Tuesday when his eastbound car crashed into a curb, then into a parked car in the 500 block of West Boulder Street. Owen was taken to Memorial Hospital by E and E Ambulance suffering deep cuts to the forehead and back of the head, apparent concussion and abrasions over the body. After impact with the parked car, the Owen car apparently hit another curb, traveling a short distance north before coming to a stop.

Reynolds Wins Nomination In Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds, who held Wisconsin's Democratic National Convention votes for President Johnson against Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, won nomination for a second term in Tuesday's primary election.

Republicans gave their nomination to veteran campaigner Warren Knowles, who gathered slightly more than 71 per cent of the GOP votes in turning back the challenge of avowed conservative Milo Knutson, an ardent supporter of presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Reynolds drew more than 70 per cent of the Democratic vote in his contest with attorney Dominic Frinzi.

Frinzi, who has accused party leaders of "bossism," said early today he had not decided whether to run as an independent in November.

Republicans Take Part in Georgia Primary Voting

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgians were expected to vote by the hundreds of thousands today in an off-year primary, with many Republicans taking part in what once was a traditionally Democratic rite in this Deep South state.

An estimated 1.3 million persons were registered in the state.

Gov. Carl E. Sanders and Secretary of State Ben W. Fortson Jr. predicted nearly 600,000 would vote between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. Only one state office was at stake — a post on the Georgia Public Service Commission.

There was no race for governor in this off-year primary. Two years ago the vote total was nearly 900,000 when Sanders defeated former Gov. Marvin Griffin.

Voters in most of the populous areas had to decide whether to vote in the Democratic or the Republican primary. In the case of runoffs on Sept. 23 the law specified they would have to vote in the same party.

In the only statewide race, incumbent Allen Chappell, 75, defended his $19,600 a year seat on the Public Service Commission against three opponents in the Democratic primary.

About a third of the voting took place in the Greater Atlanta area where Negro registration was high. Several Negro candidates were entered, including one seeking a superior court judgeship.

By STEVE TILLMAN

WASHINGTON — Special to the Gazette Telegraph — 1964 being an election year a five per cent increase in social security benefits is expected to become law this year. It would probably be expected to go into effect Jan. 1. This increase is anticipated regardless of the outcome of the medical care part of the pending bill.

If the social security benefit increase is approved, coupled with the expected increase, also five per cent, for retired Civil Service employes, the way will then be cleared for retired military personnel to seek the same increase. Both Civil Service retirement annuities and military retired pay are now governed by law which says increases will be based on an upward swing in the cost of living index.

The effort to have retired military personnel given equal consideration with other Federal retirees will call for a strong organization of military retired personnel. This is why some of our oustanding retired military leaders are behind the move to "house-clean" the Retired Officers Association in November.

Personally supported by Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert, the September meeting of the Air Force Association is slated to come forth with a very strong resolution in favor of new pay rates for the military and substantial increase in benefits, such as retired pay.

The November conference of the Association of the U. S. Army may also do the same. These two organizations are given full credit by influential members of Congress and the Administration, as deserving of the major credit for pushing the 1964 pay bill. The so-called associations made up of retired personnel were caught off base by the quick work of the two trade associations.

A new directive of the Defense Department will hold liquor prices at military installations to 90 per cent of what the civilian going rate is. In some areas this will mean incseasing the military base store prices and possibly a lowered rate in other areas.

A new training program of the Army National Guard and Army Reserve will call for an increase in weekend training drills for combat units of the two components.

Col. Thomas Dooley, 51-year-native of Texas and a Cavalryman by training, is the new Deputy Commandant (Army) of the Armed Forces Staff College, Norfolk, Va. Col. Dooley, a four-year prisoner of war of the Japanese, and later the Military Attache at Prague where he was associated with the then U. S. Ambassador Alexis Johnson, now Deputy Ambassador in Vietnam, has more recently been on duty in Naples.

The next Army-Air Force Joint Maneuver, to be known as Silver Hand, will get under way in the spring of 1965 at Fort Hood. The 1st and 2nd Armored Divisions of the Regular Army, with participating units from both the National Guard and the Reserve, will be engaged in the maneuver. It is anticipated that the show will get under way April 15 and will run for 30 days.

The Comptroller General refuses to give up his fight against the commissaries. He now wants Congress to draw a detailed bloe print setting forth conditions under which commisaries will operate in this country. Congressman Mendel Rivers on the other hand, is maintaining his strong position in favor of the maximum benefit to military personnel by the operation of both PX's and Commissaries.

Retierd officers of all of the services, plus those on active duty, interested in an advance briefing on the problems that will confront the 1964 Convention of the Retired Officers Association, may have a copy of a special report by sending a self-addressed stamp envelope (large size) to Gen. Charles Bolte, 416 Herbert Springs Rd., Alexandria, Va. There is no charge for this report.

The pending Congressional measure to eliminate deductions from Federal Civil Service annuities so as to give a free survivor benefit, will not be retroactive. Thus it will be applicable only to future retirees from the Government. If the Government does give free survivor benefits to the families of future civilian retirees, it would open the way for retired military personnel to ak for the same program with respect to future military retirees. This may or may not have the support of the Department of Defense but an effort will be made to program up such a proposal in 1965.

Fannin, Elson Nominated in Arizona Race

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Republican Gov. Paul Fannin and Democrat Roy Elson, former administrative assistant to veteran Sen. Carl Hayden, were nominated Tuesday for the U.S. Senate seat vacated by GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

Elson defeated five other candidates. Fannin was unopposed.

Richard Kleindienst, another close Goldwater friend and the senator's field director in the campaign for the GOP presidential nomination, won the Republican gubernatorial nomination. He defeated Evan Mecham, a Phoenix publisher and auto dealer. Kleindienst is a former chairman of the Arizona GOP and a onetime legislator.

Sam Goddare, a Tucson attorney and unsuccessful Democratic gubernatorial nominee in 1962, will oppose Kleindienst.

All three incumbent U.S. House members were unopposed in the primary, but will face opposition in the general election.

John Ahearn of Phoenix won the Democratic nomination to oppose Republican Rep. John J. Rhodes in the 1st District.

Democrat Rep. Morris K. Udall and Republican William Kimble of Tucson advanced without opposition in the 2nd District and Democrat Rep. George F. Senner and State Sen. Sam Steiger of Prescott had no opposition in the 3rd.

Looking At Hollywood

By HEDDA HOPPER

© 1964: By the Chicago Tribune

HOLLYWOOD — When Allen Sherman told our Celebrity Game TV audience that women were second-rate creatures and all the world's creativity had come from men, I could'nt resist saying that the day a man gives birth to a baby, I will bow to them. Della Reese fixed him with a deadly eye and said, "Mister, one of us created you!" Singing, swinging Kay Starr saw the show and called to say, "Amen and hallelujah!" She thinks we should form a third party — the women's party — and really give them a run in politics . . . . . Kay said: "As long as women all over the land are daily girding their men to go forth into battle; bolstering their egos with compliments; arranging their clothes which we selected for them; and allaying all their inferiorities with words of encouragement, we might as well give the poor dears a long overdue rest. I'm sure it is a scientific fact that men are haunted and obsessed with insecurity and inferiority — much more so than women. But this startling truth has never been revealed because the male is in charge of all public information. Men need the therapy of isolation in the home. They need the rest that comes from peeling a potato and making a bed."

KAY, WITH TONGUE IN CHEEK, says that if Puerto Rico becomes America's 51st state by 1968, she'll establish legal residence there and run for the United States Congress. I doubt it. She gets $25,000 weekly in night clubs, and is not about to give it up and become an honest congresswoman. But it's an intriguing idea. Kay continued: "I've worked up a terrific platform: the America housewife is the most experienced business executive in the country. What our country needs is good housekeeping. A Congress filled with housewives would get the job done! Naturally, the women's party would look after the men as we've done on a 24-hour basis since the beginning of time. If we can take care of them at home, we can certainly look after their welfare on the highways, in their offices, and in the halls of Congress. If we're responsible for their diets, reminding them to wear galoshes when it's raining, take aspirins when they have a hangover, and catering to their vanities, certainly no one should question that we would be the best custodians of their fate from a political standpoint."

KAY WENT ON: "The women's party would give a much-needed sex dimension to politics. One of the most striking things that will happen when women begin replacing men in politics is that the deadly same ancient shaggy, craggy politicians will no longer stare at us from magazine covers and front pages of newspapers. Instead we'll have chic, photogenic stateswomen with the proper physical and I Q. measurements, which will inspire the 97 million women in the United States to dress and be ever ready at their best. We could use the slogan,, 'Politics needs sex and our party can deliver!'

Camera Worth $80 Reported Missing

Wayne Morrell, 2894 Merry Lane, reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday that his camera worth $80 had been either lost or stolen.

He told Deputy Sheriff Lee Quein that since Sunday he had been to several tourist areas and only noticed the camera gone Tuesday.

He is a 8mm Nikkorex movie camera in a black leather case.

Network Video Ready to Start Its New Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Network television is poised on the threshold of its new season which officially starts Sunday. With all the carefully planted rumors about surprise hits, it is interesting to look back a year — at the supposed to-be-hits of only 12 months ago.

There was, first, "100 grand," which ABC fondly believed would restore the old-fashioned, big-money quiz show to its former glory. It was the first disaster of the season, slipping away after a couple of dreary performances — to be replaced by "Laughs for Sale" which didn't last much longer.

Then there was NBC's "Harry's Girls," that limped along, dodging Jack Paar's fire, until it was replaced with "That Was the Week That Was."

CBS tasted its share of ashes, too, with "Tell It to the Camera."

Other programs would have disappeared earlier, had not the network contracted for a minimum number of shows — ABC's "Jaimie McPheeters," "Channing," and the Edie Adams-Sid Caesar series of short specials. Then there was the flashiest failure of the season, CBS' "Judy Garland Show."

The season lies ahead, and the experts are busy — sight unseen in many cases — handicapping the various new entries. One expert, an advertising agency program analyst writing in the trade magazine, "Television," points out that in many cases it is not how good a show is but where it is located that spells its success or failure.

The analyst, James H. Cornell, predicts that, for still another year the two top programs will be CBS' "Beverly Hillbillies" and NBC's "Bonanza." The only new show that he expects to climb into the Nielsen top-10 show ratings is CBS' "Cara Williams Show," which just happens to follow "Beverly Hillbillies" and the top rated "Dick Van Dyke Show" on Wednesday nights.

Cornell also expects that only about one out of three of the new shows will be counted a success — about par for a normal season.

The political conventions are over, but talk about them continues. Because so many set owners either switched to channels broadcasting entertainment shows or — when they had no choice — turned off their sets, there are now suggestions that in other years, the three major networks rotate responsibility for the expensive job.

NBC has announced that a game show "What's This Song?" will join its day-time lineup Oct. 26 — in the spot currently occupied by short lived "Word for Word."

Shirley Jones Is Changing Her Appearance

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A lovely brunette stopped by Jimmy Stewart's table in the Universal commissary, and Jimmy gave her one of those smiling, who-is-this? looks.

"I'm Shirley Jones," she said.

Jimmy hadn't recognized her, even though they have costarred in a movie together. "But —" he sputtered.

"Yes, I dyed my hair," Shirley explained.

Such scenes are now commonplace to the once-blonde actress. There are also professional and personal elements, Shirley reported. The entire evidence may help refute the canard that blondes have all the fun.

Shirley made the change strictly for career reasons. She wanted to prove she could play something besides sunny young heroines for which she became famed from "Oklahoma!" to "Music Man." True, she did play a fallen woman in "Elmer Gantry" and got an Oscar for it.

"But that wasn't enough to change the image," she said. "It was too much of a one-sided character."

So she darkened her hair for her last film, "Fluffy." She kept it what way when she reported for a Bob Hope-Chrysler Theater drama, her first in television.

"But we want you as a blonde," said producer Dick Berg.

"But I want to be a brunette," Shirley insisted. She had her way and is pleased to report that after the first day's rushes Berg told her: "You were right."

How did her sons react to their new mother? Not at all. The 2-year-old didn't notice. When pressed, her 6-year-old recognized the change and said, "Take off that black wig, mama."

Her husband's reaction was more marked. He is Jack Cassidy, whose appearances in Broadway shows have caused geographical separations of the family.

"We had been apart four months when I went back to New York with my new hair color," she said. "Jack is a heavy sleeper in the daytime when he is doing a show, and I rang and rang the bell of our apartment. Finally I heard him coming to the door. He eyed my new hair sleepily, said, 'Who the hell are you?' and went back to bed.

"But I think he likes my hair now. Whenever we'd go out to dinner at Sardi's, old friends would avoid us, thinking he was out with another girl. He says it's just like cheating on his wife."

Tulsa Man Held In Armed Robbery Probe

Ronald Clell McDaniels, 23, Tulsa, Okla., is being held in City Jail for investigation of armed robbery, the sheriff's department reported Wednesday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Woodrow Littrell, McDaniels held up Ulysses Hamilton and Wanda York, 727 E. Colorado Ave., of $66 in front of the Stardust Lodge, 141 E. Navajo Wednesday morning.

Hamilton told Littrell that he and Miss York met McDaniels in a local bar and he told them he wanted a ride back to Ft. Carson. On the way he asked to stop at the motel and when he returned he had a gun and robbed them. He then went back into the motel, the couple said, reappeared with another man and took off in a red car with an Oklahoma license.

As the man and woman were talking to the officer, the red car came back and Randall George Prater was apprehended. He told Littrell that the alleged robber was his cousin, and added that he had been in his room at the motel when McDaniels came hurrying in, borrowed the gun, went back out, came in again and said he had to get out of town fast.

A pickup was put out for McDaniels and about 3:15 a.m. Thursday, the sheriffs office was notified he was in Memorial Hospital with gunshot wounds in the back and head lacerations.

According to the report, after the incident at the Stardust Motel, McDaniels had a cab take him to 619 E. Willamette St. where he tried to rob a woman which resulted in him being beaten and shot. His injuries were not serious. Further investigation showed he is wanted for federal parole violation.

Water Heater Sets Clothes on Fire

The house of C. R. Chrissman, 301 N. Walnut St., was filled with smoke Wednesday when some clothes which were hung near a hot water heater caught fire. The Fire Department was called at 6:47 p.m. and Companies 1 and 3 responded. The firemen put out the fire and fanned the smoke from the building.

The Fire Department was called out for two car fires Wednesday. At 2:42 p.m. Company 3 went to the 100 block N. 18th St., where the car of A. L. Eidmar caught fire from backfiring. At 3:03 p.m. Company 8 went to the 2300 block N. Cascade Ave., where the car of Mrs. Ruth Bogue, 1701 W. Vermijo Ave., was on fire from a cigarette that had ignited the cushions of the front seat.

Three Burglary Cases Reported

Three cases of burglary were reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday.

The first happened at the Sproul School, 300 Sumac Dr., where $128 were taken from the principal's ofice. Entry was made by breaking a window. Damage to doors and filing cabinets totals $190.

The second incident took place at Watson Junior High School on Fountain Boulevard. One hundred and thirty five dollars were taken from the principal's office. The burglar got in by breaking a window. Total damage to the window and one door is $40.

The third burglary was reported by Larry Brin of the Las Vegas Club, 711 E. Las Vegas St. who told Deputy Sheriff Lee Quein that someone had forced the back door of the club and stolen five bottles of whisky and an unknown amount of change.

NORAD Navy Man To Address League

Navy Capt. John L. McMahon, commander Naval forces NORAD, will be the guest speaker at the Colorado Springs Navy League Council Friday noon at the Swiss Chalet restaurant.

He will show the combat readiness of the Atlantic fleet through a film of the late President Kennedy's visit to the Atlantic forces afloat.

Man Fined $25 For Disturbance

Fred Jacob Lingle, 24, 411 Arrawanna St., was fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace James F. Quine Wednesday for disturbance.

The defendant was accused of creating a disturbance at the home of Mrs. Vera Dillon, 414 Arrawanna St., Aug. 29.

Safety Belt Warning Causes Mishap

A warning for passengers to fasten their seat belts Wednesday came seconds before a one-car accident on State Route 27 two milese south of the city that caused injuries to four persons, State Patrol reported.

Injured were: The driver, Betty T. Immig, 33, 537 Crestridge Ave., a bruised left arm.

Passengers, Mona M. Hansen, 16, 594 Catalina Dr., numerous cuts to right hand; Diana Rene E. Hansen, age 8 months, same address, a bump on the head; and Shae P. Davis, 22, Warren, Mich., possible back injury. All were taken to Ft. Carson Hospital.

The driver told State Patrolman G. W. Baumgardner that she was headed north on the highway and had turned to tell passengers to fasten seat belts. In turning back to face the road she turned the car too far left then over controlled the direction of the vehicle toward the right and skidded into a barrow ditch. The car then skidded back on to the pavement and sideswiped a concrete pillow west of the roadway with the right front of the car before coming to a stop.

Passengers had time to fasten seat belts before the accident, Baumgardner said.

Tire, Wheel Reported Taken From Truck

Nick Pacheco, 101 Rose Dr., reported to the sheriff's office Wednesday that a $25 Firestone tire and wheel had been stolen from his pickup.

The vehicle was parked at the job site of the NORAD Tunnel on Cheyenne Mountain.

A second case of tire theft was reported by Ed Farnsworth of the Standard Service Station, 2644 E. Highway 24, who said that an Amoco 120, whitewall tire worth $68.46 had been taken. It was on a display rack in front of the station.

Rider Hurt as Bike Hits Parked Car

A bicycle collision with the rear of a parked car, Wednesday, injured Dennis A. Moser, 3498 Corbett Lane. The boy was taken to Penrose Hospital suffering a contusion to the abdominal wall, State Patrol reported.

Young Moser had been kicking at a barking dog while riding his bike south and struck the rear of a car parked at 3404 N. Institute, State Patrolman Nathan Boals said.

Stable Damaged By Vandals

Vandals caused $200 damage to a stable on Pierce Drive belonging to Ray Baldwin, 430 W. Pikes Peak Ave., the sheriff's department reported Wednesday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Bob Walters the vandalism happened sometime during the past five weeks. Large holes had been cut in one of the walls, two doors and a window were smashed and 150 poles broken.

Sheriff Reports Theft Of Clothing From Car

A large amount of clothing was stolen from a car belonging to Mrs. Frank Purcell, 900 Saturn Dr., the sheriff's office reported Wednesday.

Deputy Sheriff Eldon McCune said the vehicle was locked and one of the windows had been forced. Mrs. Purcell did not know what was missing as most of the clothing belonged to her son who is out of town at present.

Cook County Outlaws Bow, Arrow Hunting

CHICAGO (AP) — The latest advance of civilization in Cook County (Chicago) has local outdoormen quivering with indignation: the county board Wednesday outlawed hunting with bow and arrow.

Board President Seymour Simon, who proposed the ordinance, said: "Bow-and-arrow hunting within a county of more than five million residents would probably bag more people than deer."

LAGOS — Nigeria has banned game hunting for two years.

CAPITOL STUFF

By JACK METCALFE

WASHINGTON — Makings its bow Thursday was the National Independent Committee for President Johnson and Sen. Humphrey, a group top heavy with big-name Republican moneybags. Friday it was the Sportsmen-for-Goldwater Committee that was being launched.

In this election year, in fact, hardly a day goes by in which Republicans or Democrats—and more likely both — don't breathlessly announce the birth of some sort of organization that will go all-out for their man. In forming these committees, both parties go out of their way to stress how their candidates are mustering support from the most improbable quarters.

Who, for example, could have dreamed a year ago that Henry Ford 2d and a brace of President Eisenhower's Cabinet officers — former HEW Secretary Marion Folsom and ex-Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson — would be lining up publicly behind Democrat Johnson? Today they are star members of the new Independent Committee.

The parties haven't let their imaginations go berserk in concocting new groups. There is no Moose Milkers' Council for LBJ or Affiliated Fly Tiers for Barry, and as far as we know, none is planned.

There is no doubt that in certain areas, there is great need to organize Democrats for Lyndon and Republicans for Goldwater committees, but the party bosses can't bring themselves to do it.

There is nothing particularly new, of course, in setting up such groups as an electioneering device to snag publicity and woo like-minded voters. Equally hoary is the companion tactic, naming campaign aids by the hundred.

But in 1964 both parties are determined to milk these gimmifks for all they're worth. At least, they seem to be, judging from the avalanche of press releases about new committees and appointments of campaign

GOP headquarters here and the party's new national chairman, Dean Burch, are notably active on the mimeograph front. The Republicans, of course, have more need to adopt this strategy. They are the outs and can't otherwise get anything near the exposure that comes naturally to Johnson as President.

The news release sector of the GOP campaign, incidentally, is so well organized that there's hope some of its efficiency may seep into the rest of the Goldwater-for-President operation. Since Barry's crew arrived at headquarters, amateurish enthusiasm and confusion have pretty much dominated the mechanics of campaign planning and logistics.

The Democratic press release factory shows signs of not being fully tooled up yet. But now that the Democrats' convention is history, there's little doubt that it will crank into high gear and join the Republicans in trying to turn trivia into major news stories. For either camp is capable of disclosing in the same awed tones that Herschel Hardcastle of Hominy, Okla., pointed regional campaign director for East Central Oklahoma.

This is not, of course, as silly as it seems. Recognition for party stalwart Hardcastle is an event in his home town. The Hominy Herald is sure to headline the story and include a nice plug for Herschel's candidate and a quote or two attacking his opponent.

THE MORE TITLES, THE MORE PUBLICITY

When it comes to announcing formation of new campaign committees, the sweet smell of publicity wafts even farther. Especially if the group has members in every state in the union.

At the same time, too many members make a group unwieldy. Editors won't print handouts containing hundreds of names. They even may suffer from fleeting suspicions that some of these committees are nothing more than fronts for press agentry.

So the trick is to broaden the membership base, as the political scientists put it, by creating as many subcommittees as the mimeograph will bear. This pads the membership roster painlessly, more people have titles, and more press releases can be issued over a longer period. Everyone mentioned can be, if not a subcommittee, subsection or study group.

One side effect of this system is obvious. Anyone caught in the tentacles of this octopus is going to deliberate long and hard before he switches allegiance. He may have been a waverer at the start, but once in the apparatus he will feel honor bound to vote for the candidate the committee supports. And to get his family and friends aboard the same bandwagon.

This is the sort of wide-rangi organization stressing loyalty which the Radio Hams for Goldwater could become. Starting with the affection Barry inspires in thousands of his fellow amateur radio operators, the group might win a near-solid vote commitment by creating enough subcommittees and subjsections to warrant naming each ham in a press release.

The Sportsmen-for-Goldwater Committee also is ripe for this kind of treatment. Its only official announced thus far is Chairman A. Burks Sumner, former ambassador to Luxembourg id tified by the Citizens for Goldwater-Miller as an active conservationist and international sportsman.

Arab Chieftains Plan Showdown With Israel

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP) — Arab leaders sought a solution of the Yemen civil war today after approving a military program to strengthen their armies for an eventual showdown with Israel.

While the military program fell far short of the initial demands of their military commander, Gen. Aly Aly Amer of the United Arab Republic, it did provide for a gradual buildup and an annual fund of $14 million for new equipment.

With their military problems at least temporarily swept aside after four days of often heated talks, the leaders of the 13 Arab states hoped to end their second summit session Thursday.

Arab League Secretary-General Abdel Khalek Hassouna reportedly believes military progress is sufficient for a beginning to be made immediately on Arab plans to divert the waters of the Jordan River so Israel cannot divert part to irrigate the Negev Desert.

This $200-million plan is dependent on the creation of an Arab military force sufficient to repel the attack which Israel has threatened if her water supplies are menaced.

Failure of the Arab leaders to agree on vital elements of Amer's recommendations is taken to mean the timetable for the Arab water projects will be delayed.

The most essential element lacking from the military agreement was a provision to permit stationing troops from other Arab countries in Syria, Jordan and Lebanon, to create an effective screen against Israeli retaliation.

Lebanese President Charles Helou, although he has only a small, ineffective army, refused to accept foreign troops.

A Yemen settlement depends on agreement between U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who supports the republican regime, and Saudi Arabia's regent, Prince Faisal, who backs the monarchists.

Though the monarchist forces of deposed Imam Mohamed el Badr are restricted to a few mountain redoubts, they are still holding 40,000 Egyptian troops in Yemen. Faisal denies sending supplies to El Badr, but the latter is still getting money and arms which the Egyptians charge comes from Saudi Arabia.

Faisal's price for recognition of the Yemen republicans is replacement of the Egyptian troops by a joint Arab force, inclusion of monarchists in the government and an eventual plebescite. This is not acceptable to Nasser.

RECEIVES PLAQUE — Sergeant Major's plaque is presented to Sgt. Maj. Edgar W. Eggars, formerly 5th Aviation Battalion's sergeant major. Making the presentation is Post and 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) Sergeant Major Bruce S. Shankland, right, during the ceremony at Fort Carson. The plaque, with all divisional unit crest, is presented to each departing sergeant major. Sergeant Major Eggars leaves for headquarters I Corps in Korea this week.

Fund-Raising Dinner For Goldwater Held

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — An estimated 30 to 40 persons attended a fund-raising dinner with a tab of "at least $5,000" Wednesday night for Sen. Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign.

The invitations were signed by Seattle businessman William G. Reed, who said the affair was arranged at the request of Ralph Cordiner, chairman of the Republican finance committee.

Cordiner, former board chairman of General Electric Co. and a native of Walla Walla, Wash., sent a letter urging those invited to contribute "at least $5,000" to the party.

The number of invitations sent out was not disclosed, but one went to Edgar Eisenhower, Tacoma, brother of the former president and a Goldwater supporter. However, the attorney said the price was "too rich for my blood."

Quake-Shattered Town Moving to New Site

VALDEZ, Alaska (AP) — Shattered by the Good Friday earthquake and battered by subsequent high tides, Valdez is moving to a 125-acre site four miles away.

The first building to be completed will be a six-room school, due to be finished a week from today. The youngsters will be transported by bus until the rest of the town is relocated, probably next year.

Woodland Park News

By MRS. VERNA ROBERTS 687-9398

Mr. and Mrs. Don Deyo of Colorado Springs are the proud parents of a son, born Aug. 28 at Penrose Hospital. Mrs. Elva Clifford is the maternal grandmother.

Funeral services were held Wednesday for Miss Gladys Schwartz, who passed away at her home Aug. 30. Miss Schwartz was a retired Safeway store clerk and a resident of our community for the past 53 years. She was secretary of the Community Church, treasurer of the Sunday school and taught the Children's Church. She is survived by George Teachout of Bethany, Mo. and Mrs. Ida Fulton of Denver. The Rev. P. R. Epley officiated and cremation followed. The Law Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

The Easternstar will meet Friday night at the Masonic Temple in Colorado Springs, followed by installation of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Pirnie are the parents of a son born Aug. 29 at Penrose Hospital.

Supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts Tuesday night were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Travis and family of Manitou Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Roberts and sons. Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Davis and family were callers later in the evening.

A son was born Sept. 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Parker. The Parkers have three other children.

Alan Hunt received a broken arm Tuesday while on the playground of the school.

The teachers have asked that children be kept at home until 8:30 a.m. at which time the playground will be supervised.

Manitou Park Grange will meet Sept. 11 for their regular business meeting and election of officers.

With all the accidents, it's nice to hear there is at least one good driver on the road. Sam Bleam who won commendation for safe driving and will compete for the August Highway Safety Award to be presented by the Denver Post and the Denver U. S. National Bank. Patrolman Gordon W. Baumgardner sighted Sam operating his vehicle in an exceptionally careful, defensive manner. He issued a "congratulation" card and recommended Bleam for the current month's Highway Safety Award and a $100 savings bond.

Patrolman Marion Leonard is starting a safety club for all high school students. The school board has given its permission and it is hoped that parents will cooperate and encourage their young drivers to attend these meetings.

The Woodland Park High School faculty and a number of guests enjoyed a tour of Norad recently. Harley Inman, civil defense director for Teller County was in charge of the arrangements and the tour. The group was treated to a coffee hour in the Officer's Club.

Kathryn Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Brady, returned home with Mrs. H. J. Russbacker last week. Kathryn will reside with the Russbaker family while she attends business college in Summit, N. J.

Cheerleaders Vicki Sloan, Carolyn Brady, Ann Fleischer and Jeanette Whittum attended the Clinic for Cheerleaders at Fort Collins recently. They were accompanied by the Pep Club sponsors, Judy Hakes and Ellen Eisenhour.

Ellen Evans and Candy Tillman attended Camp Tobin at the Colorado State Fair last week. Outstanding 4-H work made them eligible for the week of camp. Both are members of the Woodland Park 4-H Club.

The Park - Teller Counties Home Extension Club will be host to the District V-1 meeting September 17 at 9:30 a.m. in the Green Mountain Falls Community Building.

The First Southern Baptist Church will have "Come Back to Church" Sunday, Sept. 13. Their goal is to have each resident member be present at this morning worship service.

Twenty - five guests attended the Baptist Fellowship supper Wednesday night, which was held in the Fellowship Hall.

A head-on collision took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Beere late Thursday night, ten miles north of Walsenburg.

A "Pink and Blue" shower w held Friday night at the home of Mrs. Mert Cummins honoring Mrs. Fay Roberts. Co-hostessing were Mrs. Ralph Hunt, Mrs. Glen Davis, Mrs. Alvin White, and Mrs. Vernon Cummins. Other guests present were Mrs. Roy Dean Seaney, Mrs. Jack Potter, Mrs. Bob Regester, Mrs. Fred Roberts, Mrs. Ira Woods, Mrs. Alva Cummins, Mrs. Jim Koch, Mrs. Stacy Clark, Mrs. Margaret Rockwell, Mrs. Don Cummins and Mrs. Chuck Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Roberts and their sons were called upon Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. Mack Myers of Frisco, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shirk, former local residents, now residing in Osage City, Kan., were visitors in the area over the weekend.

Recent house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunt and family were her parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. John Parker and Danny of Howard, Kansas.

Mrs. Georgia White was moved to the Norton Nursing Home, 2612 W. Cucharras, instead of the home reported last week.

There will be a nutritionist from Colorado State University demonstrating "A New Way With Vegetables" on Monday, Sept. 14 at 1:30 p.m. in the Divide Community Building. All Teller - Park Extension Club members are urged to attend.

Miss Loraine Satter of Colorado Springs was the Wednesday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Starr.

The annual Associational WMU will meet Friday morning at the Skyway Baptist Church. There will be a nursery furnished and lunch will be served at noon.

Rev. and Mrs. Heubner are on vacation and Rev. Darrel Schmidt will be substituting for him.

The Lutheran Walther League met Sunday night with nine members present. Rev. Huebner was in charge of the devotional topic. Mrs. Huebner served the group refreshments.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kientz were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kients and son Stevie, of Boulder. Cindy, Terry Anne and Janice, who spent the week at their grandparents' home, returned home with their parents.

Mrs. Wanda Miller and daughters have moved to Colorado Springs after spending the summer in Woodland Park.

Friday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Manfred Shupp and Dick, were Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Schubard of Plainview, Texas. The Schubards have been spending the summer at Motel X in Green Mountain Falls.

Mrs. J. Richard Jones returned to Atlanta after spending the summer in her home in Westwood Lakes.

Contest Winners Develop Careers

By TOM SEPPY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — What can Miss Ameriia expect when she gives up her tiara and a new queen is crowned.

If past performance is any gauge, she can settle back to the life of a normal girl — continuing her education and finding a husband.

However, a review of the 10 Miss Americas prior to the reigning queen, Donna Axum of El Dorado, Ark., also indicates that a former Miss America might remain in the public eye.

Six of the past 10 Miss Americas are married, one is a divorcee and three are still single. Seven continued their education. Eight of the girls still make public appearances.

Marilyn Van Derber of Denver, Colo., Miss America of 1958, was graduated from the University of Colorado after her reign and now is married to Larry Adler, a Denver attorney.

The blonde beauty does television commercials, and she will be a judge in the contest which begins the preliminary competition tonight.

Another former Miss America who has combined a marriage with a career is Marian Ann McKnight who was from Manning, S.C. when she took the title for 1957.

After giving up the throne, she completed her college education at U.C.L.A. Now living in Hollywood, she is married to television actor Garth Carmody and is the mother of a daughter. She also does television commercials.

Two others who still make public appearances are Lee Meriwether, 1955, who is Mrs. Frank Atletter of Granada Hills, Calif., and mother of two, and Jacqueline Mayer, 1963, now Mrs. John Townsend of Meadow Lands, Pa.

Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss., 1959; Lynda Lee Meade, Natchez, Miss., 1960, and Maria Beale Fletcher, 1962, Asheville, N.C., are still in college.

The divorcee is Sharon Kay Ritchie, 1956, who lives in New York City and does television commercials.

Out of the limelight except in the eyes of her husband and two children is Evelyn Ay, 1954, who married her longtime sweetheart, Carl Sempier, after her year's reign. She lives in Berwyn, Pa.

Nancy Anne Fleming, 1961, now Mrs. William F. Johnson, is a student at the University of California at Berkeley. She hasn't made public appearances since giving up her title.

Unusual when combined, but compatible in flavor, are strawberries and chocolate! Don't hesitate to serve plain chocolate cake with a strawberry sauce. To gild the lily, top with whipped cream.

President Blasts 'Echoes of Past' Of GOP Ticket

raising dinner:

"We are a nation of lovers and not a nation of haters."

Joining in the ensuing laughter, Johnson waited out a spontaneous musical salute from the organist and the biggest burst of cheering from a crowd that interrupted him more than 40 times.

Never during the evening did Johnson mention his GOP rival, Sen. Barry Goldwater. But by talking about extremism — a hot topic at July's Republican National Convention — and by repeatedly saying that his opponents demanded a choice of the voters, Johnson sought to make his target evident.

Goldwater has said many times that his candidacy offers the electorate a choice, not an echo.

Johnson, at the end of his speech, adopted the word "echo" for dramatic effect.

He contended that the voice of the majority long ago said "yes" to Social Security, the minimum wage, equal opportunity, medical care for the aged, the anti-poverty program and other Democratic-sponsored measures.

"But the echo still says 'no'," he shouted as he ran through the litany.

Each time Johnson used his "echo" line, he slammed down his clenched fist like a cheerleader and the audience chanted the phrase with him in unison.

"This year," said Johnson, "the mighty voice of the American majority will be heard throughout our land, and it will be heard also around the world. It will be heard saying 'yes' to the future, and saying 'no' to the echoes of the past."

Before going into the steamy farm show arena hall for his other quick roundtrip by helicopter from ashington with the President, Mrs. Johnson then mounted the same unlikely stage. She thanked the banner-waving crowd "for your faith in my husband," then turned to practical politics by urging her listeners to get "friends, neighbors and relatives out there for registration."

Johnson, once inside the cavernous hall, adjacent to a dairy barn, said his message was directed "to all my fellow Americans, regardless of political persuasion or party membership."

But, judging from the cheers, only Democrats were present when he applied this vigorous language to his opponents:

"There are abroad in this responsible land reckless factions contemptuous toward the will of majorities, callous toward the plight of minorities, arrogant toward allies, belligerent toward adversaries, careless toward peace."

He said such factions wear many names, espouse many causes and demand of the voters a choice.

"They demand," he said, "that you choose a doctrine that is alien to America — that would lead to a tragic convulsion in our foreign relations.

"It is a doctrine that invites extremism to take over our land.

"It is a doctrine that plays loosely with human destiny so that this generation of Americans will have no part of it."

Once again, Johnson emphasized a national unity theme, saying, "We must not let our year of decision become our year of division."

And quoting the founding fathers as warning against extreme factionalism, he said he was proud to say this represented "the spirit of Bill Scranton and Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Scranton is Pennsylvania's Republican governor. Eisenhower is the state's most prominent GOP resident. Both support Goldwater.

Suspect in Custody After Incident in Bar

Alfred Stanley Martinez, 22, 1712 W. Colorado Ave., was booked into County Jail early this morning for investigation of malicious mischief, the sheriff's department reported.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Bob Walters and Ray Carey, Martinez was at the Navajo Hogan, 2817 N. Nevada Ave. and several witnesses saw him cut a bar stool with a knife which he attempted to hide behind some tables.

Martinez has denied the incident and said he merely hit the bar stool with his hand to emphasize a point he was making to a friend.

Negotiated Peace in Viet Nam Being Hinted

operations beyond the borders of South Viet Nam and launching air strikes against targets in the north. The North Vietnamese have already had a demonstration of the destructive effects of such operations in the attacks which were made on patrol boat bases in August.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference Thursday that talks now under way in Paris among Communist and non-Communist leaders in Laos might give some indication of the intentions of Red China in North Viet Nam about continuing their aggression in Southeast Asia.

If there are no indications that Hanoi and Peiping are prepared to leave their neighbors to the south alone," Rusk said, "then we know pretty clearly that they have not yet come to that decision which they must ultimately reach to leave their neighbors alone and we will have to go on from there."

"But I don't see any prospects for fruitful negotiations on Viet Nam at the present time, because we have no indication that the other side is prepared to stop its illegal aggression against a neighbor," he added.

Former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Taylor's predecessor in Saigon, reported to President Johnson Thursday on a tour of Europe where he conferred with allied government leaders on recent developments in Viet Nam. Lodge said Johnson was pleased to hear that nine or 10 more friendly nations are planning to give non-military help to South Viet Nam.

Such aid is now being given by the United States, Britain, Australia, New Zealand and France.

City Planners Okay Apartment Building Project

within the Frazier's Garden Acres Subdivision.

Recommended a request by Leopold Rodriquez to change 2½ acres southeast of Murray Boulevard and Galley Road from a planned industrial park to a planned business center.

Tabled until the October meeting, at the request of the petitioner, an appeal by Paul M. Coonver to change 1705 through 1815 Eagleview Drive from R-2 to R-4, the west side of the 1700 and 1800 blocks of Eagleview Drive and both sides of the 1700 and 1800 blocks of Prairie Road from R-2 to R-5.

Denied a request by W E. and M. A. Allen to change the east side of the 900 block North Union Boulevard from R-2 to C-5 zone.

Approved was a request by K. B. Charlesworth to change a tract of land about 160 feet east of and about 180 feet north of the intersection of North Circle Drive and Pikes Peak Avenue from C-5 to R-5 zone. A two story apartment house complex is planned.

Recommended several request by Smartt Construction Co. for planned business center zoning, including 55.3 acres north of Palmer Park Boulevard and east of Academy Boulevard and 34.6 acres southeast of Academy and Palmer Park Boulevards. Two smaller tracts in the vicinity also were approved, plus other changes.

Disapproved a preliminary plat of Northglen Park Subdivision Filing No. 4 by Real Estate Management Corp., which involves 62 acres north of Palmer Park Boulevard and east of Murray Boulevard. It was felt that too many streets intersected Palmer Park Boulevard.

Approved a preliminary plat of Pikes Peak Park Subdivision No. 8 by Shepard Styled Homes for 42.2 acres south of Fountain Boulevard between Shasta Drive and South Chelton Road (Cherry Hills Boulevard). Fountain and Cherry Hills Boulevards will become part of the mayor traffic thoroughfare plan.

Denied a request by John W. Keiley for a conditional use at 212 N. Union Blvd. to permit construction of an 18 by 36-foot building to house a sign painting and truck lettering business.

County Requests Designation as Disaster Area

The El Paso County Disaster Committee, composed of three government employes, Thursday agreed to request disaster area designation for the county.

The three men, Forest McWilliams, Don B. Corliss, and Leslie McCurdy, said the county is in a condition which is as bad as in the 1950's. They said that farmers and ranchers are taking a "beating" due to the low price of cattle and the high price of feed.

McWilliams is county extension agent, Corliss is county supervisor for Farmers Home Administration, and McCurdy is Agricultural Stabilization Conservation county committee chairman.

Emergency haying and grazing privileges on over 50,000 acres of soil bank and wheat and feed grain diverted land was requested by the committee. Access to Commodity Credit Corp. grain at reduced prices was also requested.

The committee asked that land owners be permitted to construct barriers to break the force of wind in order to prevent soil erosion on cultivated land. Farmers are paid on a per acre basis for land treated in this manner.

If El Paso County is designated a disaster area, it will join Lincoln County, Kit Carson, Crowley, Baca County and Pueblo County which have been designated disaster areas due to drouth conditions.

MADRID — Spanish schoolbooks will be updated.

County Board Approves Seven Items

The El Paso County Board of Adjustment, Thursday approved seven items, tabled two others and approved one of the tabled items further on in the public hearing.

Approved after being tabled at a previous hearing:

Petition of D. C. Might, for permission to construct a patio cover in an R-1 residence district at 1930 Oakway St.

Petition of Jim M. Hanks for permission to errect a sign on the corner of Penrose and Cheyenne Mountain Boulevards in an R-1 residence district. The application was for approval of use in the zone.

Tabled for later consideration at the hearing was the new petition of W. Griffin, for permission to construct a detached garage in an R-1 residence district at 2415 Chelton Rd., partly within a front yard setback that does not conform with the zoning resolution. The petition was approved, due to unusual shape of the lot and structures contained on the property.

Tabled until the next regularly scheduled hearing of the board was the petition of Max Klasna, for permission to change the use of an area of land to a trailer court for 23 trailers. The area is in a C-2 suburban business district at 3100 Beacon St. The application is for approval of location only.

Other petitions approved following board consideration were:

Petition of Atio M. Dandino, for permission to construct a covered open porch in an R-1 residence district at 2501 S. Hancock St.

Petition of Albert Williams, for permission to construct an addition to an existing non-conforming dwelling in an R-2 residence district at 3109 Pennsylvania Ave. Approval was based on the decision that the proposed construction was no further violation.

Petition of Robert L. Lohse for permission to construct a duplex dwelling in an R-1 residence district at 1501 Cheyenne Blvd. Plated before zoning of the area, was the basis for approval.

Petition of Thomas E. Salmon Jr., for permission to construct an attached garage in an R-1 residence district at 710 Leta St.

Petition of M. H. West, for permission to construct an attached garage in an R-2 residence district at 912 E. 4th St., approved as no further violation.

Following the hearing, the board scheduled a special hearing at 2 p.m. Sept. 24, to consider a petition by A. D. Kelley, to change the use of land to a trailer court. The area is comprised of 7.49 acres in a C-2 business zone on old Highway 85-87 South.

Sheriff Reports Theft Of $31 From Store

Thirty one dollars and sixty two cents were stolen from the Butternut Store, 3515 N. El Paso St., the sheriff's office reported this morning.

Deputy Sheriffs Ray Carey and Bob Walters said the money was taken from an open cash register which was sitting in the window. The window had apparently been broken with a hammer causing $100 damage and the thieves leaned in and removed the cash.

Yearbook Group Accords Palmer Highest Award

The National School Yearbook Association of Memphis, Tenn., has awarded its highest rating to the 1964 "Terror Trail," the Palmer High School yearbook.

The rarely given A plus score means a book is excellent to highly excellent in editorial and pictorial content, layout, and development as well as displaying staff ingenuity. Judges of the national rating service specifically commended the "Terror Trail" for its layout and interesting visual patterns.

The editor of the 1964 yearbook was Lynn Ross. She was assisted by Cheri Smardo, Gil Weightman, Dick Kennedy, Glenn Everson, Art Anderson, Buddy Inzer, Tom Medlicott, John Jamison, Shirley Beacham, Donna Clark, Beverly Leek, Elaine Salisbury, Virginia Richey, Sandra Henderson, Clyde Chess, and Gerald Abeyta, the section editors.

Alan Kincaid and Ralph Holmes were the photographers, and Miss Roenna Cohen the faculty advisor.

Harry Shuster Died Thursday At Hospital

Harry Shuster, carpenter and contractor and a resident of Manitou Springs for more than 40 years, died Thursday at a local hospital from injuries suffered Monday. He was 81. He fell from a ladder while working on his own home at 48 Lincoln Ave. and broke the same hip that he had broken in a fall seven years ago. He had built many houses and business buildings in Manitou Springs and worked on many other buildings as alterations and additions were made. He was an expert carpenter.

Mr. Shuster was born in Lewistown, Ill. He was a member of the Masonic order and belonged to the Blue Lodge in Illinois and the Consistory in Montana. He was active in Manitou Springs affairs until he retired from business. His wife, Mrs. Nellie Shuster, died several years ago. He lived alone, but near the home of a niece. He is survived by three sisters, two in Lewistown, and one in California.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at the Blust Mortuary Chapel. Burial will be in Lewistown, Ill.

Florida Left in Shambles In Wake of Hurricane Dora

Augustine were demolished. The huge tides and driving waves cut the land from under them and they washed away.

At Jacksonville Beach, a home was left standing but the floor had been sucked from beneath it.

Many beachfront buildings in Jacksonville and Brunswick also were damaged and a few destroyed.

However, considering Dora's massive reach, structural damage was relatively light.

The worst destruction was caused by flood waters. They ran waist deep in the streets of St. Augustine during high tide.

Florida's valuable citrus crop, which escaped with little wind damage, was menaced by the torrential rains. Standing water can rot the roots of young trees within a few days.

Tons of leaves, limbs, shingles, signs, awnings, antennas, tiles, glass, wires, poles and trees littered streets.

Majestic old oaks that lined the streets of St. Augustine for decades lay on their sides. Palms were scattered like toothpicks.

Damage to the roads in Duval County, which is metropolitan Jacksonville, was estimated at $5 million. Stretches of U.S. A1A, the highway that parallels the Atlantic all the way down the coast, was under water. In places it was ripped away.

Dora gave Jacksonville and St. Augustine their worst beatings from a hurricane in this century.

It was the worst in 20 years for Brunswick, a resort city 60 miles north of here. The pounding sea and 85 m.p.h. winds collapsed several homes and damaged a handful of motels.

Brunswick officials asked people to stay off the streets so that repair crews could restore power, which was cut off to most areas.

Thousands returned to their beach and island homes in South Carolina, where damage was slight.

President Johnson's disaster-area declaration opened the way to federal rehabilitation grants to cities trying to get back on their feet after Dora.

The Small Business Administration also designated all areas struck by Dora a disaster area, allowing homeowners and businessmen to make low-interest loans for the tremendous repair job ahead.

All Florida east coast areas struck by Cleo two weeks ago already had been listed as disaster areas.

Supreme Court Threatens U.S., Goldwater Says

said. "But the job of keeping the law up to date should be in the hands of the legislatures, the Congress, and the common law courts, not just in the hands of the nine appointed justices of the Supreme Court."

Goldwater said today's court operates differently from those in the past.

"Until recent years," he said, "the Supreme Court itself has exercised judicial restraint with respect to acts of Congress with which it disagreed but which were founded on legitimate exercise of legislative power.

"But not the Supreme Court of Today!"

This is the last day of Goldwater's first week of official campaigning. He has a speech at Rockford, Ill., late today, and then it's back to Washington for the weekend before taking his drive for the presidency into the South next week.

Goldwater began his speech to the political scientists by hitting on a familiar theme — the growth of presidential power, which he says can upset the system of checks and balances between the executive, legislative and judiciary branches of government. Repeatedly he has accused President Lyndon B. Johnson of being "power mad."

"To a constitutionalist," Goldwater said, "it it at least as important that the use of power be legitimate than that it be beneficial."

And with this he switched his attack to the court and its prayer and reapportionment verdicts.

"The decisions are defended, implicitly or explicitly, on the grounds that the results are desirable: that it really isn't good for children to say prayers in school, and that it really is desirable to have state legislatures, in their entirety, apportioned on a one man, one vote basis," Goldwater said.

"Now there is raw and naked power.

"The question, under our system of government, is not simply what decision is right — but also who has the right to decide."

And Goldwater declared: "If we exalt a 'strong executive' or a 'strong judiciary' — or, indeed, a 'strong legislature' — at the expense of the checks and balances of federalism, and the principle of legitimacy in government, we travel away from greatness as a nation.

"We will move toward the manipulative state, where the forms of federalism remain, but are ineffective — where governmental power is concentrated in a few officials who are only nominally responsible to the public will, and where freedom is nothing but a campaign slogan."

Mrs. Florence Cutts Rosary Set Today

Rosary services will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the Nolan Funeral Home for Mrs. Florence E. Cutts who died Wednesday at a local nursing home.

A Requiem High Mass will be sung at 8:15 a.m. Saturday in Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church with the Rev. George Julian, O.M.I., as celebrant. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Cutts formerly lived at 2510½ Hagerman St. She was born July 30, 1889, in Centerville, Iowa, and came to Colorado in 1918. She was a member of Sacred Heart Church.

Mrs. Cutts is survived by three sons, Robert L. Cutts of Colorado Springs, C. Raymond Cutts of Palisade, and Lawrence E. Cutts of Ogden, Utah; a brother George Powell of Colorado Springs, and a sister Mrs. Isal Dodgon of Kansas.

She is also survived by eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

City Planners Meeting Time Changed

Future meetings of the City Planning Commission, in regular monthly session, will start at 3 p.m. instead of 4 p.m.

Andrew Marshall Jr., commission chairman, made the announcement at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the group.

Because of lengthy agendas, the last three regular meetings of the commission lasted beyond 7 p.m.

Marshall said the change of starting time would be a convenience to persons attending commission meetings.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Before the city was established, bathers changed their clothes in the midst of wild growths, making a small clearing without roof, and these were the "bath houses' when Atlantic City was founded.

Mrs. Asa Jones Died Thursday At Her Home

Mrs. Elizabeth Martin Jones, 526 N. Cascade Ave., widow of Asa T. Jones, prominent Colorado Springs business man, died Thursday at her home. She was 36.

Mrs. Jones was born in Chicago, Ill., May 1, 1868. She came to Colorado Springs with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Leroy Martin, in 1870 and had been a resident of the city for 94 years. She attended Colorado College and was an 1889 graduate of Elmira College. She and Mr. Jones were married in 1912.

Mrs. Jones was a former librarian of Coburn Library, Colorado College. She had long been identified with many civic and cultural activities of the Pikes Peak Region. She was an honorary member of the board of directors of the Young Women's Christian Association and was president of the organization from 1922 to 1937. She was a member of the Colonial Dames, a life member of the Women's Educational Society of Colorado College and a member of the First Congregational Church, of which her parents were charter members.

She is survived by two nieces, Louise Martin Burgess and Mary Elizabeth Burgess, of Colorado Springs; a nephew, Leroy Thornton Burgess, Denver; a grandniece Mrs. Edward C. Fox, New Orleans, La.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Alfred L. Brown, Colorado Springs, and a stepson, Asa T. Jones, Jr., La Jolla, Calif.

Private funeral services will be held at the home Saturday. The Rev. Edward F. Manthei will officiate. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery. The Law Mortuary has charge of arrangements.

Parking for Shuffleboard Players Asked

An elderly man from Austin, Tex., Fred Adams, a summer resident of Green Mountain Falls, put in a plea Thursday in Municipal Court for the shuffleboarders of Acacia Park.

Adams had been ordered into court on charges that he had failed to pay five meter violations and one violation of parking against a yellow curbing.

He told the court he had been coming here for 17 years to play shuffleboard and often "gets in a game and forgets about the tickets."

He said he talked to other shuffleboarders and they told him not to bother paying the tickets as they didn't.

He said Colorado Springs did not do a thing to supply parking areas for shuffleboarders who come here in the summer months and spend "lots of money."

"All we want to do is play shuffleboard," Adams said, "and have a place to park." He compared this city with a Florida city that draws elderly people to its shuffleboard courts and provides parking areas for the players.

"I believe it would be a good thing for Colorado Springs to cater to these people," Adams said.

Judge Allan Asher told the man he objected to the advice given him by the other players, pointing out that the ticket stipulates fines must be paid within 72 hours. Adams had earlier said he thought he would save the city trouble and himself too by saving the tickets and paying them all at once when he leaves.

The judge said he would report Adams's suggestion about a parking place for the shuffleboarders to the proper authorities, and handed down a fine totaling $20 which the man graciously paid.

Britishers Send Four Warships to Guard Singapore

SINGAPORE (AP) — Britain dispatched four warships from the Mediterranean to Singapore today to bolster its Far East Fleet guarding Malaysia against Indonesia.

A Royal Navy spokesman said the two frigates and two destroyers should arrive within a week. He said they were ordered here "obviously due to the deteriorating situation in Southeast Asia."

The order to strengthen the sea force followed the airlift to Singapore Thursday of a 500-man antiaircraft regiment from British forces in Germany.

MOSCOW — Russia has stopped work on two nuclear reactors.

Stiff Watering Rules Imposed At Palmer Lake

There will be no watering of lawns, or washing of cars in the town of Palmer Lake. . . except on Saturdays. At a regular meeting of the town council of Palmer Lake Thursday, a temporary restriction was placed on the use of water for lawn and garden irrigation.

Due to the lack of rainfall during August and September, the storage of water in Palmer Lake has been critically reduced, council said. This watering restriction will be lifted when rainfall lifts the storage level. The town council warned residents of Palmer Lake that violators of this restriction will be penalized.

The restriction goes into effect Saturday, and watering and car washing will be permitted until further notice, council stated.

42,093 Enrolled In El Paso County School Districts

District 2, Widefield District 3 and Air Academy District 20 — also reported soaring enrollments.

Harrison Superintendent N. V. Gorman said enrollment was up approximately 20 percent over last year to 2,991, compared with 2,550 during the first week of school a year ago. He attributed most of the increase to house construction in Pikes Peak Park, Stratmoor Hills and Stratmoor Village. Gorman said the district's enrollment could easily reach 3,200. Broken down, 635 of the increase was at the high school level, and 2,356 elementary.

Widefield Assistant Superintendent Richard Aspinall reported a registration of 5,270, up from 4,707 the previous year. Broken down, 3,050 of this figure was elementary; 1,000 junior high; and 766 senior high.

Air Academy Superintendent Howard Dunning reported an enrollment of 3,018, up from 2,630 the first day of school last year. Statistically, there were 2,002 more elementary and 1,016 junior-senior high students.

Fountain-Ft. Carson School District 8 Superintendent Dean Fleischauer said 2,415 students were enrolled in the system, up from 1,658 for the first week of school last year. This was 442 in junior high, 315 senior high and 1,658 in elementary.

Enrollment was a pace in two smaller districts — Cheyenne Mountain District 12 and Manitou Springs District 14.

Cheyenne Mountain Superintendent William Callahan Jr. reported an enrollment of 1,910, up from 1,882 in attendance last spring. Enrollment is expected to reach 2,000, a record figure.

Manitou Superintendent W.W. Bundy reported a registration of 1,133, including 353 at the high school level, compared with a total of 1,076 in attendance last spring.

Lewis-Palmer District 38 reported a registration of 429, compared with 395 last year. Broken down this was 209 at the junior-senior high level and 220 elementary.

Other outlying school systems in the county, some of them joint districts with other counties, covering huge areas with sparse populations, reported normal enrollments.

Enrollments are not soaring in Teller County. Cripple Creek-Victor District RE-2 Superintendent Earl Barrick said 212 youngsters were enrolled, two less than last year, 97 at Cripple Creek-Victor High School and 115 at Victor Elementary.

Woodland Park District RE-2 Superintendent Kenneth Perry reported an enrollment of 502, up from 450 last spring. Perry had predicted a registration of 470, but the district was ready for the increase with its new junior-senior high school.

Mrs. Edith Livingston Services Set Saturday

Mrs. Edith Livingston, a registered nurse, died Tuesday in Denver following a long illness. She lived at 710 S. Hancock Ave.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Hunter Mortuary, with the Rev. Lewis W. Harvey officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Livingston was born in Chicago.

She is survived by her husband Sgt. Niles N. Livingston; her father Eugene Palmer of Los Angeles; two sisters, Mrs. Charlotte Watlkins and Mrs. Dorothy Newson, both of Chicago; and two brothers, Bobby Palmer and Sonny Palmer, also of Chicago.

Mrs. Livingston was a member of the Baptist faith.

J. J. Albrecht, Former Springs Teacher, Dies

Joseph J. Albrecht, formerly of 808 N. Wahsatch Ave., a Colorado Springs High School teacher from 1916 to 1962, died Thursday at a local nursing home.

Mr. Albrecht was born in Milwaukee, Wis. March 9, 1888, and had been a resident of Colorado Springs since 1916. He taught mechanical drawing at the Colorado Springs High School from 1954 to 1962 and also taught at St. Mary's High School. He was graduated from Colorado A. and M. College in 1931 and received his Master's Degree the same year. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and coached the tennis team of the Colorado Springs High School. He was active in the work of the Boys Club.

He is survived by two sons, T. P. Albrecht, of Jonesville, Wis., and Joe J. Albrecht, of St. Augustine, Fla., who will be unable to come for the funeral services because of the hurricane; a daughter, Mrs. Florence McNeill, of Colorado Springs; two brothers, Andrew Albrecht, Milwaukee, and Von Albrecht, Chicago; four sisters, Mrs. Jennie Litzau, Mrs. Alice Tomaszewski, Mrs. Anna Chojnacki and Mrs. Marie Storm, all of Milwaukee, Wis., and three great-grandchildren.

Rosary services will be held at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the Nolan Mortuary. A Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at 11 a.m. Saturday at St. Mary's Church. Msgr. Robert Hoffman celebrant. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Reapportionment Compromise Solution Boosted

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters claimed today chances were better than even that the Senate would adopt a compromise solution in its fight over legislative reapportionment.

The compromise, reportedly backed by President Johnson, would declare that it is the "sense of Congress" that court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures be delayed.

The compromise lacks the force of a proposal by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, which would delay for at least one year enforcement of the Supreme Court's ruling that both houses of state legislatures be apportioned according to population.

Dirksen's proposal is a major barrier to early adjournment of Congress.

A vote on the compromise is scheduled for next Tuesday after two test votes Thursday. In the key action, the Senate voted 4 to 38 against tabling — and thus killing — Dirksen's proposal, which has been offered as a rider to the pending $3.3-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

Opponents of the Dirksen rider said it would require a shift of only six votes to adopt the compromise, which is being backed by Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey, Johnson's running mate in the Nov. 3 presidential election.

The compromise was offered by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn. Javits told newsmen "the chances are 50-50 or better" that the Senate will adopt it. Other supporters agreed the odds are "better than even."

The compromise is the Senate's pending business as a substitute for Dirksen's rider, which would delay reapportionment in the absence of highly unusual circumstances. Dirksen's rider was designed to give legislators a chance to nullify the Supreme Court's ruling with a constitutional amendment.

"I'm trying to avoid a confrontation between the power of the courts and the power of Congress," Javits declared. "It is a suggestion for a truce.

"I do not believe the Dirksen amendment would be valid under the doctrine of separation of powers of the co-ordinate branches of government. Our amendment would request the Supreme Court to allow adequate time for compliance with its decision consistent with each state's electoral processes and procedures for amending its constitution."

But Dirksen said Thursday's vote against the motion to table indicated he has a majority of the Senate in favor of his amendment, and that he is confident of its adoption if it can be forced to a vote.

A move by Dirksen to shut off debate by a band of Democratic liberals opposed to his rider was defeated 63 to 30 in an earlier vote Thursday.

Modern Revisionism Attacked by Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — The purge of the president of Communist China's top theoretical training college has been intensified into a nationwide attack against "modern revisionism," according to radio and press reports received in Tokyo today.

The school president, Yang Hsien-chen, has been accused by the Chinese Communist hierarchy of "castrating the revolutionary spirit of Marxism-Leninism" and of favoring the Soviet deological position in the Chinese-Soviet dispute.

Yang also is a high official of the Chinese Communist party.

Intelligence sources in Hong Kong said the Chinese Communists will soon launch attacks on party officials who have agreed with Yang's theories.

They said these attacks could develop into the first major split in the party since the "rectification movement" in 1957-58 that followed the brief "let all flowers bloom" period of free expression of beliefs.

Yang was first attacked last month by the leading Communist party paper, the Peking People's Daily. The highest theoretical organ of the Chinese party, Red Flag, in its latest issue accused Yang of "consciously meeting the demands of modern revisionism."

Intelligence sources here said the nationwide campaign was proof that the ruling hierarchy is taking action to prevent the spread of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's ideas in Communist China.

Fish Swimming Again In Old Thames River

LONDON (AP) — Fish are swimming beneath London's Tower bridge for the first time in 50 years. City officials believe that in 10 years the Thames may once again be a silver salmon stream.

A century ago the Thames produced so many salmon that apprentices had clauses in their indentures protecting them from being fed salmon more than twice a week.

Pollution drove the fish away.

Frank Banfield, chairman of the County Council Rivers Committee, announced Thursday that recent anti-pollution regulations have brought a startling improvement in the river's purity, and fish are returning.

New committee members named following the public hearing were:

Deitz Lusk Jr., chairman of the Zone Study Committee; assisted by Fred Ericson and William A. Crumrine.

County Sign Committee: George Beardsley and George Morris.

Also named as liaison representative of the County Planning Commission to the City Planning Commission, was member George Sery.

Mae West Wants To Protect Diamond Lil

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mae West has gone to court to protect the name Diamond Lil, which she says she created on Broadway and in the movies.

The alleged name usurper: a 250-pound platinum blonde singer, Marie Lind.

Miss Lind won a postponement Thursday in Superior Court, saying she needed time to hire an attorney. But Judge Alfred Gitelson said she could not use the name Diamond Lil in the meantime.

Miss Lind argued that if she couldn't use the name she couldn't work, and if she couldn't work she couldn't hire a lawyer. Judge Gitelson was not swayed.

Miss Lind admitted she compares herself professionally with Miss West, billing herself the girl who "looks like Mae West and sings like Sophie Tucker."

Miss West, 72, had also sued the Gold Opera, Inc., which operates a Hollywood night club called Diamond Lil's. The club promised to drop the name and that part of the suit was dismissed.

American Wheat Diverted to India

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — A shipload of 23,000 tons of American wheat is being diverted from Pakistan to hungry India, the Pakistani government announced today.

The announcement said the diversion was requested by the Indian high commissioner in Pakistan and the U.S. Embassy in order to help ease India's current food shortage.

The Pakistani government said it had offered India another 100,000 tons of wheat from its reserves.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

There Was an Axe An Walden

We have a splendid letter from David Saurer, who rises to speak in favor of individualism and the right of each individual to make his own way in the world, either as a producer or a non-producer.

Mr. Saurer writes with deep feeling and his love of Thoreau and his devotion to individualism find no mote of objection in our makeup. We agree with him in almost everything he says.

And it is quite possible, since he is being critical of us, and yet we do not disagree with him, that we failed to state clearly just what we were getting at in our editorial. So, we'll try it again.

We have no objection at all when a man decides to become a non-producer. Actually, Mr. Saurer avers that his hero, Thoreau, was a producer. . . and in this we will agree. So, possibly what he is thinking of is not a non-producer, per se, but a producer of other than material goods.

In either case, we have no problem. A man must be free to choose what he will produce or if he will produce.

Our objection to the kind of behavior we have so often seen rests upon this fact. Men or women who decide they do not want to produce, so frequently end as parasites living at the expense of others who have been more productive. That is the problem. If a man elects to produce nothing, or to produce things for which there is no market, so what? Provided that he makes his own way in the world, we have no objection.

But we have been treated to a full circle of these "freedom loving" persons who consider production distasteful or even crass and materialistic but who, when difficulties arise for them, have no hesitancy at all to impose on their productive friends. This was what we were getting at.

Mr. Saurer takes issue with us because we stress the economic factors of life. He will have to take issue here for we intend to continue to do so.

It is this area — hostility to capitalism and to production— which is one of the gravest problems we face. Far too many of our young people emerge from school with the great yearning to express themselves spiritually, and without any intention or desire to earn their own way. "Society" can provide for their wants, it is assumed. They must be left undisturbed to dream as they will. Fine.

But when the dream bursts in a rain storm, an injury, sickness, hunger, or a desire merely to be warm and dry, let these folks who have produced nothing experience the full measure of the lack for which they are responsible.

Thoreau, much as we admire him for his splendid insights into human individuality, was prone to overlook economic matters. Yet he took an axe with him to Walden. And he could not have had that axe had not others labored with tools, invested capital and created marvelous resources so that he might have it. He also took paper with him, the product of vast mills, grinding out pulp from trees which had been cut down and carted at great expense and labor so that he could write his ideas.

We have no objection to Thoreau's ideas except at those places where he rails against property and production. Since he was benefitting by the production of others, in his clothing, his tools, his paper, his equipment, he might have had a deeper appreciation for these things and for the energy going into them. And so might Mr. Saurer.

We repeat that freedom is not a shucking off of responsibility in an effort to escape. It is a shouldering of life's burdens under individual control of one's energies.

The problem with the socialist mentality is that it wants the world to be other than it is. In effect, he says: "Oh, wouldn't it be wonderful if people could all do exactly as they want to do so that no one would have to work too hard or undertake a task unpleasant or wearisome?" Sure, it would be wonderful. But the world was apparently not designed for this type of behavior.

The difficult tasks have to be done. And someone has to do them. And while we firmly approve of the right of the individual to do as he pleases, we must counsel that lack of production in an effort to throw off economic reality, leads to the place where, were it not for human kindness, some people would starve.

Rightfully, if the non-producer ends with nothing he would starve. But because we are humane we will not tolerate that. So it ends that the indolent, and the dreamer, trying to satisfy his soul, wastes his years and ends living off the efforts of others more persevering and more thrifty. What of the right of the productive to do as he pleases? What of his right to slam the door in the face of the man who comes begging because he has not produced for himself?

To a Job-Hunting Teenager

Reprinted from Automatic Machine
May 1964

Dear Kid:

Today you asked me for a job. From the look of your shoulders as you walked out, I suspect you've been turned down before, and maybe you believe by now that kids out of high school can't find work.

But, I hired a teenager today. You saw him. He was the one with polished shoes and a necktie. What was so special about him? Not experience; neither of you had any. It was his attitude put him on the payroll instead of you. Attitude, son. A-T-T-I-T-U-D-E. He wanted that job badly enough to shuck the leather jacket, get a haircut, and look in the phone book to find out what this company makes. He did his best to impress me. That's where he edged you out.

You see, kid, people who hire people aren't "with" a lot of things. We know more about Bing than about Ringo, and we have some Stone-Age ideas about who owes whom a living. Maybe that makes us prehistoric, but there's nothing wrong with the checks we sign, and if you want one you'd better tune to our wave length.

Ever hear of "empathy?" It's the trick of seeing the other fellow's side of things. I couldn't have cared less that you're behind in your car payments. That's your problem, and President Johnson's. What I needed was someone who'd go out in the plant, keep his eyes open, and work for me like he'd work for himself. If you have even the vaguest idea of what I'm trying to say, let it show the next time you ask for a job. You'll be head and shoulders over the rest.

Look, kid: The only time jobs grew on trees was while most of the manpower was wearing G.I.'s and pulling K.P. For all the rest of history you'd had to get a job like you get a girl: "Case" the situation, wear a clean shirt, and try to appear reasonably willing.

Maybe jobs aren't as plentiful right now, but a lot of us can remember when master craftsmen walked the streets. By comparison you don't know the meaning of "scarce."

You may not believe it, but all around you employers are looking for young men smart enough to go after a job in the old-fashioned way. When they find one, they can't wait to unload some of their worries on him.

For both our sakes, get eager, will you?

Rumors

By FRANK McDONOUGH JR.

One advantage of living in a small rural community is that there is a constant rumor going the rounds.

Just now, in our neighborhood there are a couple being passed around but they are of no moment to the outside world so that we shall retain them as intimate niceties for our own edification.

However, I did hear one which may be of general interest. As I understand it, the Taj Mahal after its centuries of glory is to be torn down upon the complaint of the Begum of By-Gosh who feels that its wealth of diamonds and other jewels should glorify the persons of beautiful women rather than to waste their glory to the scorching sun of India. Of course, such a thing would not only be tragic but disgraceful. I do not believe one word of it because even the unfortunate caste victims of that country have a deep feeling for real culture and beauty.

I once heard a rumor that Westminster Abbey was torn down because it impeded the clear view from the Thames to Downing Street, but the cultural feeling of the British prevailed and that holy of holies remains and will remain so long as the British revere such ancient and beautiful things wrought by man.

The latest rumor, which I am hardly prepared to believe, is that the original Trianon is to be cut into squares and rudely moved to the city of Angiers. Some stuffed shirt living on the left bank has complained that with all the attraction of the Eiffel Tower, Tomb of Napoleon, and the Louvre, the traffic may become congested on the Champs Elysees and, besides, who cares whether Marie Antoinette and her exclusive social set ate cake there while bread was truly scarce among the people?

And so the latest rumor, which I hope is not true, is that our Trianon is to make way for real estate progress and that its background of culture, romance and historic values is to be sacrificed upon the altar of political and commercial chicanery and its treasures are to be scattered to the winds instead of nestling at the base of our giant mountain, where it belongs.

Prototype to Reform

It's impossible to know for certain whether the wave of reform, symbolized by Barry Goldwater, is going to sweep the country or subside like a ripple. However, on the assumption that the sweep occurs, Mr. Goldwater will have some problems to face which will be formidable.

Up in Regina, Saskatchewan, there's been a reform premier put in office. And the problems he faces, albeit on a much smaller scale, are much the same as those Mr. Goldwater will have to face if and when the opportunity presents itself.

So, a moment of study of the Saskatchewan situation might be instructive.

Premier Ross Thatcher's new government has been in power since last April. And Thatcher, who is a cattle man and a hardware merchant, appears to be a kind of Canadian Goldwater. "We're 20 years behind the times industrially in this province because the socialists kept scaring off investment capital," says the permier. "We're going to cut out some of this nonsense and get this province back on the tracks."

Those are brave and noble words. And we have no doubt Mr. Thatcher means them.

But meaning them and applying them are two different things when we get to the specifics involved.

Take the medicare program, put in by socialists three years ago. Thatcher admits that it is socialistic. However, he and his party plan to keep it. "We may implement some deterrent charges to prevent excessive use of the plans and give doctors more authority to police themselves but we plan to keep (the program) in effect."

One of the socialist policies in vogue in Saskatchewan for some time has involved both compulsory insurance on all drivers, plus the requirement that all such insurance be purchased from the Government Insurance Office. Thatcher plans to keep the compulsory insurance program but to permit competition with the government insurance firm. Also, up until now, the government's own insurance was always carried by the government's own company. Now, competitive bidding is going to be permitted.

And we cannot help but wonder how tenacious Mr. Thatcher will be when he discovers that the private enterprise firms will do a better job without involving the taxpayers. How long will he continue a program that will add up to deficit for his administrations?

These are practical considerations and a man is going to have an enormous amount of courage to hold firm to anti-socialist principles, so long as he is in a position of power.

In the gasoline field, much the same kind of socialism has been rampant as in the insurance field. The government owns a huge co-op and has demanded that all government vehicles, including those of a transportation company owned by the government, use co-op gasoline. Here, too, Thatcher plans to permit competition. And by so doing he will run the same risks as before.

Also, there's a sodium sulphate mill, owned by the government, which this year is expected to net about $800,000 on a tax-provided investment of $1,000,000. Thatcher takes a look at that and proclaims it "the kind of socialism I like."

So in some areas, the government appears headed away from socialism, while at least in sodium sulphates it plans to continue socialism.

But, to round out the picture, it should be noted that the government is now planning on getting into some mining companies in an effort to stimulate further production.

The minister of natural resources, A. C. Cameron, says: "As the plan is still in the formative stage, it's impossible to say whether the government aid will be in debt, equity or outright grants. At this stage we are considering everything."

Thus it seems that good intentions may not be quite enough. Popular governments, which depend for their continuity of office upon the pleasure of those who receive aid, may find it very difficult to eliminate the aid.

And if Saskatchewan provides a neat problem in cutting back on socialism, one can just imagine the size of the problem in this country, which, in many respects, has gone further into socialism than any of the Canadian provinces.

Indeed, this is the great drawback of popular governments. And while many people object to socialism, or even to communism, when it is identified by name, almost all of them like socialism to some degree when they appear to be the beneficiaries of it.

As we have intimated on more than one occasion, true reform must occur outside of government. We cannot really vote ourselves out of our difficulties.

What's the Limit on Taxes?

By RUFUS L. PORTER

"Property valuations are unable to keep up with spending." So reads the last sentence of a news item that informs us that property valuations have increased nearly a hundred fold in the past ten years.

During the past ten years, as we all know, property tax levies have increased with almost annual regularity. Even on real estate where the assessed valuation was reduced by 500 or more dollars, because of the age of the improvements, the taxes were actually higher than they were the year before, so great was the increase in the levies.

According to the item, though it was a bit hashed up in the last paragraph, the county assessor blames the school districts for causing most of the raises in the mill levies. And he says it is the responsibility of the governing units of the school districts to "hold down spending as much as possible."

That may be their responsibility, but to the taxpayer it appears that they are trying to push spending up as much as possible. Why is it impossible for any governing agency to live within its estimated income, especially when the income is increasing at the rate of 10 per cent per annum? And how much of a total tax bite can the economy stand before it collapses of its own weight? At what point does the law of diminishing returns set in? It appears we will have the answer to these questions before too long.

With each and every branch of the government increasing its percentage of the tax bite, from the school district on up through the federal government almost yearly, it won't be long now.

"PROPERTY VALUATIONS WERE UNABLE TO KEEP UP WITH SPENDING" may well be the epitaph history writes to these United States.

It is all water over the dam now. The Waltonians and the other "protectors of our wilderness" have won their fight and the "Wilderness Bill" has been enacted into law and the President has signed it. We are now stuck with more government interference in our daily lives, since such a change will affect the whole economy.

I expected some members of the Izaak Walton League to take umbrage at my remarks anent the wilderness controversy. And they did. But I received twice as many bouquets as brick-bats on the subject from my readers, so I figure my batting average is about .750.

I received a very lengthy letter from Mrs. Joseph F. Stammen, president of the Garden of the Gods Chapter of the Izaak Walton League wherein she staunchly defended the League's stand. Since I do not have the space to present her letter in its entirety, and since it would be unfair to her to give only quotes from it, I will refrain from doing so. Suffice it to say that she is an able champion of a cause dear to her and other Waltonian hearts. But I remain unconvinced that theirs is the proper approach. And I stick to my guns, even though they have been spiked by the new Wilderness Law.

Mrs. Stammen, however, did approve of my recent article on litterbugs. And I do believe the League is doing some excellent educational work in this much neglected field. So we do have areas of agreement. I sincerely hope we may find more of them.

And I wish to thank all those who called me and wrote me who made an entirely different appraisal of my stand on the wilderness subject.

Question Box

Question No. 579: "Since you have been answering all types of questions I am submitting one that is bothering me. There may be other readers interested too.

"On Feb. 29 while out walking I was run over by a motorist who then vanished. The police took me to a private hospital. After six days I was wished onto the county hospital with an infected leg.

"Naturally I expected a large bill. It was many times larger than I had anticipated. I had a home which I sold and the county was paid for what I owed to them. I have reached the belief that doctors are more adept at collecting than healing. So, I wrote the hospital that I had a little money and if they would tell me who I owed and how much, that I would pay. I have been threatened, and they even have tried to collect from my sister-in-law who is providing a home for me. I cannot find out who I owe and what I owe for. I'm going to leave them sue. After six months I still don't know what the total bill is, but by adding up those bills received to date, my stay at this hospital is already over $200 a day.

"Am I correct in demanding a bill? I was unconscious and don't know what was done or who did what. My insurance paid for some."

Walter J. Kohberger

Answer: A person always is correct in demanding an itemized statement before he pays any bill for any services. And certainly a person is entitled to know whom he owes, how much and for what.

Questions are limited to general human relations questions that will improve the well being of all mankind on this earth.

THE NECESSITIES

To the Editor:

It is a custom with me to read your editorials with much interest, and I often agree with your logic and conclusions. However, I would like to add a few comments to your editorials of September 6 ("Two Interpretations of Freedom" and "To Scale the Heights").

As I understand them, you say there are two philosophies of freedom: 1) liberty to dissent for its own sake, accompanied with a distaste for, and irresponsibility in, economic matters; and 2) freedom to assume "personal responsibility, personal well-being and independence that is not at the expense of others," accompanied with exercise of "full energy in productive pursuits."

To begin, you recognize the right of the individual to follow whichever of these he thinks best. The difficulty, then, lies in the comparative quality of the two types of freedom.

By inference, you say the first kind of freedom is one of lack of personal responsibility and one that is generally dishonorable. You call it "escapist" and "unproductive." But you are basing these charges wholly on the economic aspects of life, to the total exclusion of the more worthy pursuits in life. You seem to think that to "fight" and learn is to spend one's all in producing, producing, producing. And by producing you obviously mean goods in an economic sense.

The picture thus conjured forth is that of a hive of bees with the drones "honorably" pursuing the repetitious task of extracting the honey from the flowers, and processing it. From the earth to the mouth, over and over. Perhaps this is all right for the bees, but it isn't enough for human kind.

The theory of socialism, which you constantly and ardently, and rightly, attack, is the theory that says men are good only for producing, that they have no souls or minds. Somehow, your tone in these editorials of September 6 suggests you endorse this kind of error. Why this radical departure from your usual lucid reasoning?

Economics exists for one, and very necessary, purpose only. It is the general term for the production, distribution, and consumption of goods. Thus our material needs are satisfied. But of the spiritual, what? Emphasis on economics leaves many pitfalls for man.

I'd like to elaborate on these points. To do so, I shall reply on the thoughts of the philosopher Thoreau, whom you erroneously place in the "escapist" category.

Thoreau, who had spent his young manhood in the customary pursuits of New England society, had come to the conclusion that something was wrong. He wanted to think out these nebulous ideas, to formulate something concrete from them. Therefore, he left society to go to Walden Pond. He did not wish to exile himself permanently; he only wanted to be alone to think, and he believed the solitude and peaceful relaxation of nature was the best place for that. (Personally, I think the peaks and wooded slopes of Colorado would have been better suited to the purpose than a field in a Massachusetts woods.)

Thus he left the producing hive of men, to produce something more valuable than economic necessities: the spiritual necessities. Both are needed, but the spiritual are more enduring. He wanted to produce the highest of man's productions, a concept of man and his God. "Know thyself."

Thoreau realized that society has fallen into the pit of mistakes it has dug for itself. Men have been living together for thousands of years, and they have gradually fallen into such a maze of stereo-typed routines that their lives have come to be mere submission to these customs. First, men are encumbered with the enormous superfluity of material possessions they have accumulated. The burdens of property deny men friendship with the better offerings of life. Second, the maintenance of that property forces men into another despicable flaw of society: compulsory conformity. (This is not in relation to government, but to social fear of change.) Men, who are born into this society and grow up in it, usually assume its ways as a matter of course. Failure to do so results in being spurned as unfit company. These mistakes and their effects on the individual will have to be rectified.

Therefore, Thoreau felt that what an individual does with his own life should be of his own choosing. This was the principal doctrine of Thoreau's major work, "Walden." There are infinite possibilities for each person. Men's souls should not be stunted by their surroundings, but instead men should be encouraged to think for themselves. Having the insight of the individual is a miraculous experience; anything that interferes with the liberty of the soul is an evil. Thoreau did not pretend that his own plan to isolate himself is best for all of life's explorers. He did expect men to examine their own lives, separately and with full freedom, away from the material necessities of the world.

A corollary to Thoreau's opposition to insensible conformity, and to his reliance on the individual will, was his aggrandizement of thought on the personal basis. He believed that God's most precious gifts to man are the boundless expanses of non-material, spiritual truths to uncover, and the tool with which to do the unveiling is the mind.

"My instinct tells me that my head is an organ for burrowing, as some creatures use their snout and forepaws, and with it I would mine and burrow my way through these hills." He perceives that men, in the blind resignation to the errors of society, fail to realize the sincerity of the concept of the earth as a convenient service station for the roaming of the mind through the starry universes of great and permanent entities. What men commonly call reality is actually "shams and delusions." Decelerating the pace of life, and being less news-conscious, would reveal the fallacy of binding oneself to this sea of destructive luxuries, from which swimming, swarming men constantly seek surcease from their miserable plight. Only the intangible are worth admittance to the heart. Thought is more noble than status seeking.

Just as philosophy follows emphasis on the individual, so does earthly simplicity accompany emphasis on thought. As mentioned, the great riches men acquire interfere with the indispensable paramountcy of exquisite, heavenly happiness in thought. Men should have only the bare necessities of life in this world: food, clothing, heat, and shelter, and, of course, all tools needed for knowledge.

"In the midst of this chopping sea of civilized life, such are the clouds and storms and thousand-and-one items to be allowed for, that a man has to live, if he would not founder and go to the bottom and not make his port at all, by dead reckoning, and he must be a great calculator indeed who succeeds" ("Walden," p. 79).

Thoreau did not urge simplicity on others as a necessity, however; he just preached simplification in any mode the individual should fit to his own life.

Those were Thoreau's thoughts, and are they really so "escapist"? Thoreau learned a great deal at Walden, and left as a contented man, to enjoy the fruits of his labor the rest of his life. And as far as economy goes, a happy worker surely is a better producer than an unhappy, confused one.

Thoreau certainly found himself in good company; many great thinkers have reiterated his ideas down through the ages. Of all sources for support and enlightenment, however, none excels the Bible. It tells us, "and be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of the mind" (Romans 12:2). Again, "Set your affections on things above, not on things on the earth." (Colossians 3:2). And again, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt" (Matthew 6:19).

We cannot ignore these fundamental truths. Economics is not all. On the other hand, truth and knowledge cannot supply the whole of our existence. The two go hand in hand. We must eat to feed our bodies, but our souls and minds must also subsist. To paraphrase, "Extremism in the pursuit of knowledge is no vice; moderation (to excess) in the pursuit of economics is no virtue."

IMMIGRANTS

To the Editor:

Immigrants are pouring into this country more than ever. Nothing is being done to control the situation.

They overpower us by taking jobs away from the citizens who were here from birth. Too many coming from another land and settling here is overcrowding our United States.

Is the President doing anything to stop this? No!

Editor's note: Immigrants who come to this country and compete for jobs are not a problem. Immigrants who come to this country and who refuse to work so they can draw relief and welfare payments are a problem. But the solution to the problem does not require a ban on immigration. Rather, it requires a termination of relief and welfare payments.

Persons from any nation who are willing and eager to make their own way are always welcome in this country. Were we take the other view we would have to hold that white men, settling in the New World in the 17th and 18th centuries, were depriving the Indians of their jobs.

Immigrants have always added new vigor and created new jobs if they are self-supporting and hard working. The race or nationality of a person should not be used as an excuse to keep him from moving to America, provided only that he does not become a burden on the taxpayers.

FREE ENTERPRISE

To the Editor:

There has never been so much prosperity and our capacity for the production of wealth in private enterprise is fantastic, and yet there has never been more confusion and unrest in our nation. The facts pointed out in that statement are obvious and not an opinion of myself or anyone else.

It would be hard to believe that anyone would object to prosperity and the production of wealth. Why, then, the confusion and unrest? The answer, of course, is simple. It is a matter of not understanding the private enterprise system under which the production of this tremendous wealth is made possible. Private enterprise cannot exist without the control of property by the management and the free and open market place.

In this day and age, the whole world is the market place and it can only be reached by using the word of mouth of every advocate of the system and every medium of publicity. The most valuable article in the world cannot be sold without publicity. The more free enterprisers we have, the greater the prosperity for all. What are we waiting for? Let's sell it!

SOME FISCAL FACTS

To the Editor:

Good people, remember the song, "This is my country to have and to hold?" What are you going to do?

For the first time in years it appears we have a chance to turn the tide. What we do in this election will be chalked up to you and I, the people. We will be responsible. I suggest you think long and carefully this time. It is IMPORTANT, if ever it was.

I am for encouraging God every place possible, not for denying and discouraging him anywhere. You should know what I mean. It was tried with the best of results by the founders. I haven't seen any results here or in other countries to equal it by other methods, have you? Think for yourself. Now you can do something other than gripe.

Kennedy was no slouch at deficit spending but according to facts already visible, Johnson will make him look like a piker.

That, too, is all right up to a point. There is a limit, point of no return, which will be the grandaddy of all depressions and no doubt a change in government. You know who is breathing down your shirt collar right now ready to bury you.

Give it some serious thought. This is not a fairy tale. It is real, pinch yourself, you are seeing it. This is the trend.

Here are some statistics of July 15, 1964 by U. S. Representative Otto E. Passman (D., Louisiana), chairman of the foreign operations subcommittee on appropriations:

Gold Holdings ("free world" countries)

U. S. gold holdings, Dec. 31, 1952, $23,252,000,000;

U. S. gold outflow to foreign countries, 1952 through 1963, $7,656,000,000;

U. S. gold holdings, Dec. 31, 1963, reduced to $15,596,000,000;

Gold holdings, other countries, Dec. 31, 1952 (not including Sino-Soviet bloc), $13,028,000,000;

Gold holdings increase, other countries, 1952 through 1963, $11,353,000,000;

Gold holdings other countries, Dec. 31, 1963, increased to $24,380,000,000;

U. S. short-term dollar assets owned by foreign countries ("free world"):

Foreign dollar holdings on Dec. 31, 1952, $10,546,100,000;

Increase in foreign dollar holdings, 1952 through 1963, $15,395,000,000;

Foreign dollar holdings, Dec. 31, 1963, increase to $25,942,000,000.

U. S. balance of payments position:

1950 net deficit, $1,912,000,000.
1951 net deficit, $578,000,000.
1952 net deficit, $1,100,000,000.
1953 net deficit, $2,100,000,000.
1954 net deficit, $1,500,000,000.
1955 net deficit, $1,100,000,000.
1956 net deficit, $1,000,000,000.
1957 net deficit, $500,000,000.
1958 net deficit, $3,400,000,000.
1959 net deficit, $3,700,000,000.
1960 net deficit, $3,800,000,000.
1961 net deficit, $2,400,000,000.
1962 net deficit, $2,200,000,000.
1963 net deficit, $2,660,000,000.

U. S. deficit, 1950 through 1963, inclusive, $26,950,000,000.

Gross public debts —U. S. public debt on Dec. 31, 1963, $309,347,000,000.

Other "free world" countries (latest available estimates): $232,628,000,000.

U. S. debts exceed debts of other "free world" countries by $76,719,000,000.

U. S. debt exceeds all other countries of world by (estimated) $26,001,400,000.

Note the significance of these statistics. Our national debt is already 26 billion.

We carry a more crushing tax load than any other people. Yet our government continues to spend more each year than it collects in taxes, piling up debts, giving our money away to foreign governments (enemies, neutralists, and friends) whose taxes are lighter and whose debts are less than ours. Do you want to continue this? Doesn't it occur to you somewhere, somehow, we could do better for the world and for ourselves? After all, we are supposed to be world leaders. After viewing the results, personally I would welcome a change.

Foreigners hold 25 billion, 942 million dollars in short-term dollar assets. Any day they can demand from our treasury payment in gold for these assets but we have only 15 billion, 596 million dollars in gold reserve. We lack 10 billion dollars of having enough to meet foreign claims, and beyond that, have not one ounce of gold to back our own currency.

If they should demand gold for the American dollar holdings which we have probably given them in the first place, we would have to default and admit national bankruptcy. The savings, pensions and investments of every American would be wiped out. It lies wholly within the power of foreign bankers to puncture the great bubble of American prosperity and reduce this nation, overnight, to an impoverished land of closed factories, unemployment and worthless currency.

I don't like being under these conditions and listen to people admit their willingness to vote a continuance of same. It makes me sort of uneasy.

We have "progressed," as it is called, from 1944 at which time the U. S. was holding 60 per cent of the world's known gold reserve and was the undisputed economic and financial leader, to what the statistics now stand at. I say let's ignore the promises of an easy dollar and settle for the promise of an honest dollar.

The International Monetary Fund was planned by Harry Dexter White and others at the 1944 Bretton Woods conference, and White became the fund's first director. Check on White's background.

Speaking to finance ministers and representatives of 102 nations now involved in the I.M.F., President Kennedy on Sept. 30, 1963, said:

"Twenty years ago when the architects of these institutions (the I.N.O.) met to design an international banking structure, the economic life of the world was polarized in overwhelming and even alarming measure on the U. S. So were the world's monetary reserves. The U. S. had the only open capital in the world apart from that of Switzerland. Sixty per cent of the gold reserves of the world were here in the U. S. There was a need for redistribution of the financial resources of the world.

"This has come about. It did not come about by chance" (let this "soak" in), "but by conscious and deliberate and responsible planning. Under the Marshall Plan and successors, liberal assistance was given to more advanced nations to help restore their industrial plants, and development loans were given to less developed countries.

"We are now entering upon a new era of economic and financial interdependence. I think the last 20 years have provided impressive proof of the benefits of international financial cooperation. We are linked so closely together our economies are tied so intimately."

President Kennedy implied in his inaugural address that he doubted the ability of our form of government to survive (do you?) and he advocated on July 4, 1962, in a world-wide TV and radio address, "international interdependence of the U. S. and a new world order."

In another address he inferred that there was no enemy within and the extremists and superpatriots were detrimental to the nation.

President Kennedy called for an hour of prayer on Memorial Day, May 30, for a new world order "where peace and justice can be assured for all."

Every major move the Kennedy - Johnson administration has made seems to bear out this policy.

If the communists are allowed to continue without registration, to be accepted as speakers in our colleges and universities, all too soon we will have no "state of affairs" to manage.

This barely scratches the surface. You can find much more if you look elsewhere than the news media, barring some editorials and a scattering here and there.

TATTOOS NEXT?

To the Editor:

Uusually I glance at the front page then go straight to the editorial section.

I have noticed the storms in the Atlantic and they all have a name, Carla, Dora, etc.

Now, wouldn't it be nice if we could be listed by name instead of numbers, such as my old standby, my Social Security Number, 444-28-4075? That's a little dandy! My permission from my government to work and I thank them for it!

I have a trade so naturally I must have a license. Of course my license is not good without a number, 708. Another license I need to improve my trade is 1400. In order to get to work I must have a driver's license, 177410, which looks like a wanted poster except for the location of the number; photograph, fingerprints and all.

The government, out of great kindness, gave me a permit to haul my trash, but not without a number, 1258. When do they start tattooing the bottom of a baby's foot? I understand it's been suggested by a servant of the people.

LAND GRAB

To the Editor:

I see Carson wants more land.

I hope they don't get it. They probably will get the state-owned land but I hope those who own the private land don't sell. If they don't have enough land now to play around on, then they can go elsewhere.

I do hope the private land owners keep their land.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER

To the Editor:

Many of my friends and clients are registered Democrats. This year they have my utmost sympathy for they no longer have a Democratic Party.

That good old party founded by Jefferson, one of America's greatest statesmen, has been infiltrated and taken over by some of the most corrupt left-wing politicians ever to hold office in these United States.

Like attracts like and if you do not believe this to be true, take a good look at a few of the supporters of the present administration in Washington.

Here they are:

Every card-carrying member of the American Communist Party.

Every union goon who forces members of his union to pay part of their earnings to help elect politicians favored by the goons.

Every politician in Europe, Asia, Africa, and South America who has been living on United States taxpayers' dollars for years.

Every tramp with his hand out for an unearned dole from Washington.

Every Negro demagogue who refuses to recognize the constitutional rights of ALL Americans — black and white. One of these demagogues shouted, "We got the white man on the run, let's keep him that way."

Every businessman and politician who is after the fast buck, regardless of how tainted with corruption.

Every farmer who has his hand out for taxpayers' dollars. Every prostitute who produces a child every year to augment her dole for dependent children.

Every citizen who will not work as long as he can collect unemployment insurance from those who do work.

The Communist dictators — such as those of Poland, Yugoslavia and Egypt — all sustained in their dictatorships with U.S. taxpayers' dollars.

This conglomerate mess is not fit company for true constitutional Democrats, and I do not believe any of them are going to be able to stomach the present gang of swindlers in Washington much longer.

MOON PROJECT

To the Editor:

On August 31, I viewed a National Broadcasting Co. television documentary entitled, "Race for the Moon." This program presented a very fair view from the taxpayers' standpoint and gave equality to the scientists, technicians, and others on the space payroll team. I was more interested in the cost of "Apollo Project" from the taxpayers' angle.

The cost of landing a U.S. astronaut on the moon by 1970 is tentatively set at 30 billion dollars. Divided among taxpayers of the present and younger taxpayers of the future (the total number of taxpayers in the nation is arrived at by subtracting the total number of government check recipients tax exempted and young people who are not yet working, from the total population at any given moment), this adds up to a large sum for unrepresented taxpayers. Even with 200 million taxpayers, "Project Apollo" would cause $150 tax to be levied on each head. This, by the way, does not include the cost of setting up the moon defense base, transportation and per diem for all personnel shipped by the government for various phases of moon exploration, building and defense, cost of building materials and their transportation costs, cost of paper work which would attain an enormous figure, and other numerous incidentals.

With a little reasoning you can conclude for yourself that 30 billion is just a scratch on a gold brick compared to what the future outpourings of future tax monies will be for the government's moon exploration, building, settlement and subsidizing program. Don't forget the cost of steak, canned foods and other edibles for moon-based personnel because the price will be terrible. Cost of shipping produce 3,000 miles causes prices to rise appreciably. For shipping food to the moon, just multiple the 3,000-mile cost by 90,000 times. And you can bet your patent-leather button boots that the government will see fit to make steaks and other produce available to government people who are accustomed to luxuries innumerable and will not settle for condensed food for long.

All in all, although I watch television very little, I rated the NBC "Race for the Moon" program as excellent and fair. Quite a difference from Columbia Broadcasting's "Report" program entitled, "Murder and the Right to Bear Arms," which was very slanted in favor of bad gun legislation rubbish, aired over CBS network a short time ago.

DEATH PENALTY

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on one of Mr. Welsh's statements in his August 29 letter which he wrote as a result of my letter of August 19 on capital punishment: 'If one knows the punishment is sure and certain, he will be less apt to let his anger rule his action.' I repeat my earlier statement that the death penalty is no deterrent to crime. Before answering Mr. W. may I say that if he and everyone else would read the book, "88 Men and 2 Women," by Clinton T. Duffy, the horrendous law of capital punishment might well be abolished for all time because no one of any compassion and intelligence at all could possibly condone taking a life under the name of the law after reading this book.

Mr. Duffy has 33 years' correctional experience and presided over 90 executions during his 12 years as warden at San Quentin; it is interesting to read what this man, who was warden longer than anyone else has been in the history of San Quentin, has to say on this subject. A man who knows what he is talking about says, "The idea that the death penalty is a deterrent to homicide is a gross fallacy. If a man is bent on murder or finds himself in a situation where murder seems the only solution, he will murder regardless of penalty. Killing the killer definitely doesn't deter others from killing.

"If the death penalty were a deterrent, there were be fewer murders in capital punishment states than elsewhere, but in general the opposite is true. The eight states without the death penalty are inclined to have a lower percentage of murder in proportion to their populations than the 42 states which retained it. Of the nine states which averaged less than two murders per 100,000 population during the 1950's, five had abolished the death penalty. Three of the other four have had no executions in many years. New Hampshire hasn't used the death penalty since 1939, Massachusetts since 1947, and Iowa since 1952. Year in and year out, North Dakota and Wisconsin, both abolition states, either have or are close to having the lowest percentage of murders in the United States. Delaware, which had abandoned capital punishment in 1958 had 11 murders in Wilmington that year; in 1959 there were two. On the other hand, Nevada, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, Kentucky, California, and Texas consistently lead the country in murder percentages. All eleven are capital-punishment states."

If it were true that capital punishment is a deterrent to murder, "no convict or ex-convict would commit a capital crime, for everyone who has ever served time in a state prison is acutely aware of the execution chamber. Neither would any law enforcement officer, for the capture of killers is his business, and he knows that several will die each year for their crimes." Mr. Duffy gives an interesting account of two men with such awareness of the gas chamber but both ended up there.

Mr. Duffy states many reasons in his book why he hates the death penalty — one being, "I hate the death penalty because it makes a mockery of our moral code. It is as wrong for all to kill as it is for one; yet when the state kills, it's legal and when an individual kills, it's not."

He also says, "A man does not die for the crime he commits. He dies because he committed it in the wrong state, or in the wrong county of that state, or at the wrong time, or because he faced a tough judge or jury goaded by a determined district attorney, or because he couldn't afford adequate counsel."

And if these aren't enough arguments against capital punishment there are plenty more. Think about this, for instance: "The rich are never executed; only the poor end up in death row. Except for Gireth, who didn't lift a finger in his own defense, I never saw a man of means go to the gas chamber."

SOCIAL SECURITY

To the Editor:

The Johnson administration is now trying to add socialized medicine to an already unsound social security program..

There is no element of investment in social security funding, and none was intended. Funds collected for social security are not placed in a separate account but are transferred to the Treasury for use in meeting current government operations. Private insurance companies, however, are required to maintain reserves equal to the present value of all benefits.

In testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee in 1962, Robert Myers, chief actuary of the social security system, was asked: "How far in the hole is social security?" Myers replied: "If you cut off social security today and did not admit any new members into the program, and you took for the rest of their lives from the people in the program what they're going to pay in, and you compute on the other hand what you must pay out to these people, we are in the hole $298 billion." Myers later corrected this to $320 billion.

Social security is not insurance; it is a tax. The young worker is the big loser. Government actuaries have acknowledged that a new entrant is scheduled to pay $1.69 in social security taxes for every $1.00 promised in benefits. Little wonder the program is compulsory.

TIME TO READ OUR CLIPPINGS AGAIN

I'd Rather Take a Chance On Females

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

Since the beginning of rulerships, males have dominated the governments of the world. Sure, there have been a few queens, an empress or two but even under those circumstances, the majority of the minions were males.

Every time I venture to express my opinion about the intellectual and emotional integrity of the female, I am usually taken to task. I have offended some male ego and that emphasizes my point. History is on my side. Males have permitted governments to exist, have joined with governments in tyranny, have enslaved themselves, their wives and progeny and despite the worse than horrible record, like to pretend they have done a real dandy job. Nothing could be further from the truth! On the record, I'd rather take a chance on females; the males have already proved themselves and I, for one, find not a thing to brag about.

You bet, let'll all us fellers get together, away from the interference of the female mind, so we can solve the problems of the world. A man, alone, is capable of solving tremendous problems. Two men begin to argue and three constitute a committee which either succumbs to the persuasion of one man or accomplishes nothing. While accomplishing nothing they sit around and brag about their intellectual capacity, which has been proven faulty by the very fact they were afraid to permit the females to sit in on the sessions, even those sessions considering subjects in which females were most vitally concerned.

I call your particular attention to the fact that I refer to female minds, not feminine minds. There's a big difference and you can find a lot of feminine minds hiding close to the surface under male-type heads. The most publicized of the ancient philosophers so preferred unfemale companionship as to greatly adore the feminine mind in a male head, fearing the discerning integrity of a truly female mind.

Now, maybe you find it difficult to follow this line of inquiry but take a look. Has your wife or girl friend ever mentioned a "catty" friend? A "catty" woman or girl is feminine and a feminine male usually falls into the same category and this brings to mind another of my pet complaints which has to do with the fact that most cats, the purely animal type, are intelligent, considerate, responsible and courteous to those they respect or love, and a cat's respect and affection may be honestly male or female but rarely feminine. As a matter of fact, while the female mind may indicate a similarity to the mind of a domestic feline, the feminine mind is something altogether different and you can have it.

Sure, I am prejudiced. I admit it. I prefer the company of my wife to the company of any man alive. If I wanted to live with a man I wouldn't be married to Dawn. Probably I was no more than age seven when I decided I like female companionship. At about the same time, I must have decided I did not care for feminine companionship, regardless of the shape of the carcass which carried around the mind. Feminine men or women make me feel uncomfortable and I find it completely impossible to take what emerges from feminine minds, regardless of sex.

During the two decades I was involved in the practice of photography, professionally, I photographed a great many beautiful girls and women. Some were feminine, others were female. At one time or another I have mentioned a few of the beautiful females who seemed so obviously female as I gazed at the upside down image on the ground glass of my camera. None of them were feminine. I also photographed a few feminine men and never made the mistake of thinking of them as males.

Unfortunately, feminine minds, housed in the heads of men or women, seem most inclined towards a lust for power over other human beings. History, both modern and ancient, provides too many examples of the feminine mind holding power in the front line and behind the scenes. An aura of intrigue suits the feminine mind — intrigue for the sake intrigue.

For those who are interested in thinking, mix from three to six females with from a dozen to 18 males and direct them towards specific areas of intellectual exploration. Males and females get to the point while feminists argue, pose and refuse to make decisions.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

These Days

The Issues In Vermont

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

In little Vermont they are engaged in a replay of the sort of drama that gripped the U.S. as a whole last spring, when Barry Goldwater was contending against the liberal Republicans to nail down the presidential nomination.

This time it involves a primary contest which will determine whether the Republican candidate for the governor's job in the Green Mountain state will be a Goldwater man or a liberal. The Goldwater man is Roger Lea MacBride, a 35-year-old lawyer from the town of Halifax. The two liberals who are contending for the opportunity to campaign against the incumbent Democratic governor, 39-year-old Philip Hoff, are Ralph Foote, the current lieutenant governor, and Robert Babcock, who was lieutenant governor before Foote. Both Foote and Babcock are known as proteges of Vermont's Republican Senator George Aiken. They have made only grudging recognition of Goldwater, and have been seeking to keep national Republican policies out of the campaign.

The whole question of Vermont politics turns on the few thousand men and women from the rural areas who normally limit their voting to presidential years. In an off - year in which there is a small turnout a Democrat can win; in an off-year a liberal Republican can hope to go to the U.S. Senate or the House of Representatives. But in a presidential year the old Vermont conservatism stirs.

This is the basis for Roger MacBride's hope. He has been trying to bring home Vermont's split personality to the voters by fighting a Goldwater campaign in miniature. In terms of the urban present, Vermont is old-fashioned. The population is tiny, town meetings are still the heart of local government, the industries — machine tools, ski resort catering, dairying, maple sugar — are small. There are no "masses" to manipulate.

Yet the state is no longer the Yankee kingdom of old, the bastion that held fast (along with Maine) for Alf Landon against the Franklin Roosevelt sweep of 1936. It now has an entrenched bureaucracy, which lives on a taxation that has gone wild. Liberal intellectuals have bought Vermont farms; the place is dotted with schools and colleges that believe in the modern gospel of permissiveness. Cleavages exist all over the place.

Roger MacBride is stressing three issues in his campaign. Foremost is the issue of the reapportionment that has been decreed by the U.S. Supreme Court. The second issue is taxation. The third is Barry Goldwater.

On reapportionment, a district court has ruled that Vermont may elect its legislature according to the time-honored pattern next November. But the court has decreed that the new legislature must limit its activity to reapportioning the state. Then it must go home. New elections must be held.

MacBride has been telling the Vermont voters that not since King George III has anyone tried to tell an American legislature what it must do. Vermont's political representation is, incidentally, patterned on Connecticut's, its Senate is based on population, and its lower House is the geographically representative body. This is an inversion of Washington, D.C., where the House of Representatives is the equivalent of the Vermont senate. Since the farmers of Vermont live in the sparsely settled areas, they regard their own lower House as the protector of their liberties. Roger MacBride is hoping the farmers will turn out for him in big numbers in protest against reapportionment.

The issue of taxation could prove to be a plus for MacBride. Vermont, he keeps telling the voters, has the second highest state income tax in the union. The cost of running the various state departments has jumped twenty-five per cent in the past two years. The State Department of Recreation uses the people's money to tell them how to organize card parties and build swimming pools. It's your money, says MacBride over and over again to the voters.

Could be that this approach will make MacBride the Vermont Goldwater.

Opening lead: Five of ♡

South's decision to overcall with two clubs instead of making a take-out double meets with our full approval. Had he doubled, the bidding might have reached an advanced level by the time it was his turn to call again, and it would have become awkward to begin showing his suits. Although he admittedly ran a slight risk of being passed out in two clubs, he was willing to take that chance in order to describe his own holding fully and offer partner a choice of contracts.

When Soutn ultimately bid four spades, North quite properly took him back to clubs even though he was obliged to bid the suit at the five level, and East doubled.

West opened the five of hearts and declarer ruffed away East's king. The ace and king of clubs were cashed next drawing trump, and dummy was entered with a third round of clubs so that South might finesse the queen of spades. West won the trick with the king and returned another heart to force delcarer again.

South played the ace of spades and then trumped a spade with dummy's lost club. When the suit failed to divide evenly, he was in serious trouble. A diamond was led and East rose with the ace to return a heart which declarer ruffed with his last trump. South could do no better than cash the king of diamonds and concede the balance for a two trick deficit.

South's extravagance in the management of his trump holding led to his downfall. He should have foregone the luxury of attempting the spade finesse because the outstanding cards in that suit are likely to be divided four-two, in which case it may be necessary to conserve North's remaining two trumps for ruffing purposes in establishing the spade suit.

After declarer draws trump, the recommended play is to lead a small spade from his hand. When the king falls under the ace on the next round, his problems become simplified; however even if that card withstands his efforts to the end, he can still retain control of the proceedings. The spade suit is successfully established with two ruffs and, by leading a diamond from the North hand South assures himself of scoring with the king of diamonds. The defense is limited to one trick each in spades and diamonds.

A U.S. Department of Agriculture survey shows that a major reason most farm youths are not going to college is that they can't afford it. USDA surveyed 160,000 high school seniors and found 47 per cent didn't intend to go on to college. About four of every 10 said they didn't have the money to finance further education.

Ursel Cooley Will Head Parents-Without-Partners

The local chapter of Parents Without Partners, Inc. will install their new officers on Saturday evening, at the Dublin House. Prior to dinner there will be cocktails at 7:30 p.m. for all members and guests.

Ursel Cooley will become president of the organization, and first vice president will be Ray Fechter; second vice president, Mrs. Laura Mueller; secretary Mrs. Janice Oldham, and treasurer, Mrs. Geraldine Shaffer.

Parents Without Partners is a non-sectarian, national organization of one parent families. Through either death or the divorce courts these one-parent families are created, and the group's aim is to bring up their children so that they may have as normal a life as possible under these circumstances.

All individuals, whether they have custody of their offspring or not, are invited to visit the local group and find out about their various activities. Mr. Cooley and his executive board are planning an interesting year with many varied activities for both parents and children.

Any individual wishing to attend this dinner or any allied activities of the group may make reservations by calling either 632-8262 or 633-7296.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Shock Always Comes

DEAR ABBY: I am married. He is married. Through working together we fell in love. Or—I did. It's the same old story. I was old enough to know what I was doing and so was he. Before long, the mutual attraction became stronger than we could control. He convinced me that we could share our love without hurting our families. For a while I never knew such happiness could be had on earth. Suddenly he cast me aside as nonchalantly as you would a banana peel. He told me that I was immoral and unworthy to be called a wife and mother, and that I should change my way of living etc., etc. I had never succumbed to a man's charms before, and I never will again. But maybe if you published this it might prevent some other woman from making the same mistake. Thank you for letting me unburden to you. There is no one else I could t.lel —A DEVOTED FAN

DEAR FAN: Sadly enough, my publishing your letter probably will not jolt one woman who is having an affair. (They're jolt-proof.) But it may cushion the shock when it finally comes—as it always does.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of a sister who tells everyone she has no sisters or brothers—that they are all dead? She also tells people that her parents are dead. The truth is she has a living mother and she also has three sisters and two brothers who are living. The ironic part of this situation is that she is the one everyone in the family did the most for. Why is it that the one you do everything for always hurts you the most? —SNUBBED

DEAR SNUBBED: Some people never forgive you for what you do for them because they can't bear the burden of indebtedness. It's easier for your sister to bury the whole family with one sentence than to acknowledge their help.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend wno lives at the other end of town so we don't get to see each other as often as we'd like, but we talk on the phone almost every day. When I call her I always ask if she's busy and she says no. But she is forever running to watch something she has on the stove, or else she is trying to keep an eye on the children while talking to me. Tnis just about drives me crazy. Should I tell her that those interruptions bother me? I don't want to hurt her feelings. —TELEPHONE FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Why not ask your friend to call YOU when she is able to converse without interruption?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "William in Baltimore": He who desires to achieve success must not be afraid of criticism; for fear of criticism is the kiss of death in the courtship of achievement.

PAYMENTS INCREASED

DENVER (UPI)— The State Insurance Department said Monday claims paid in Colorado increased at a greater rate last year than total premiums received. The department said in its annual report that benefits paid in 1963 by companies licensed in Colorado totaled $191.1 million, an increase of 8 per cent over 1962. Total premiums were $353.4 million in 1964, up 5.9 per cent from the previous year.

Fruit and Cheese

Mrs. Bogart's Ma inated Salmon

2 large onions, sliced
1 carrot, sliced
½ cup sugar
½ cup distilled white vinegar
Bay leaves plus salt and pepper to taste
3 or 4 slices (about 2 pounds) fresh salmon

In a wide kettle, boil the onions and carrot with enough water to cover until they are softened. Sti in the sugar, vinegar bay leaves, salt and pepper. Add the salmon; add enough water to cover. Boil 5 to 10 minutes or until salmon is cooked; skin off foam. Cool. Remove fish and vegetables and arrange in a dish. Boil fish stock to reduce; pour over salmon. Refrigerate overnight. Makes 8 servings.

Manhattan Clam Chowder
Basket of Crisp Toast and Crackers
Luncheon Fruit Platter

Luncheon Fruit Platter

4 oranges
4 peaches
2 cups stemmed seedless grapes
Romaine or other salad greens
½ pint commercial sour cream
½ cup crumbled blue cheese, ounces)

Cut rind away from oranges so no white membrane remains; slice into rounds and halve each, removing any seeds. Peel peaches and cut away from pits in wedges. Arrange oranges, peaches and grapes on romaine. Stir cheese into sour cream-distributing well; serve as a topping fo the fruit platter. Makes 4 servings.

Heat milk chocolate and pour into a leaf pan that has been lined with waxed paper which extends two inches at each end. The chocolate is best melted over boiling water. Stir until the chocolate is thoroughly melted. When the chocolate is partially firm, stand animal crachers upright all over it. Cool and cut into bars. Small children will be delighted with them.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

How can I get grass stains out of tan jeans? —A Reader

Sponge the stain with dry cleaning solvent and let it dry thoroughly. Wash in neutral, synthetic detergent. If stain remains, it can be bleached with 3 per cent hydrogen peroxide and-or cholorine bleach, following directions on the bottle.

Where applicable, pour liquid detergent on the spot and rub the fabric between the fingers so the detergent gets down into the fibers. Let sit a while. Then wash as usual.

Or dilute rubbing alcohol with two parts water. Do "not" use soap. This sometimes sets a permament stain when used with extremely hot water.

Be sure your jeans are colorfast. Test a hidden spot first. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

To make a hole in a plastic kitchen gadget (such as a dishpan you want to hang on a hook), heat a nail in a gas flame. The size of the nail will depend upon the size hole you wish to make. Use pliers to hold the nail.

It will go through the plastic easily and not spoil the utensil. —H. M. Schwartz

Dear Heloise:

An easy way to do crocheted doilies, which have been heavily starched, is to block them into shape on top of your automatic dryer.

This should be done while the dryer is in use. (The top of the dryer does become slightly-heated.) In a very short time ,the doilies will dry completely and beautifully with no hand-ironing needed. —Mrs. S. Kantor

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

When a small child hurts a finger, bandage the finger as usual, then slip a small paper bag over his hand and tie the bag loosely at the wrist.

The bag keeps the bandage clean while he plays and he can tell everyone it is a boxing glove! —Reader

Dear Heloise:

I use black, liquid shoe polish on the bottom of my stove and cabinets to touch up the black spots. Sometimes these portions get knicked. I also use black, liquid shoe polish (I am positive this woman means a liquid shoe dye! — Heloise) on my wrought iron, as well as the edges of my black furniture, when it becomes scratched.

I use brown shoe polish on all of my brown furniture and then use furniture polish over this. It works beautifully.

Having moved into a new home in which the walls are painted white, the marks on the walls posed quite a problem until I discovered that I could take white shoe polish and cover the marks until we could repaint. If the polish is whiter than your walls, add a few drops of coloring (I used food coloring) to get the nearest color. In one room I used blue food coloring added to the white polish and got the exact color.

After mixing the coloring in a little cup, I dipped some cotton in the polish mixture and dabbed away. —Mrs. Cramer

Dear Heloise:

Before cooking and frying foods, I find that if I spread newspapers on the floor in front of my stove it catches any splattering of grease or fat. After I'm finished, I just pick up the paper and put it in the waste basket.

This saves much time in mopping floors and is a safety precaution as it prevents our family from slipping on greasy floors and possibly getting hurt. —B. Kodidek

Dear Heloise:

When I made my kitchen curtains, I bought an extra yard of the material and made a tablecloth to match.

I pulled out the threads at each end of the material to make a fringe about one inch deep. It looked so nice that I decided to make several. They are all 36-inches square . . . no sewing, just a fringe at each end. They's so bright and cheerful looking. Inexpensive, too. —Mary

Golden Coconut Macaroons

2 eggs
2-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract
1 package (8 ounces) shredded coconut (about 2 cups)

Beat eggs slightly in a mixing bowl. Add sugar, almond extract and coconut; stir to mix thoroughly. D op mixture by heaping teaspoonfuls onto a well - greased baking sheel. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 12 minutes or until cookies are lightly browned. Remove to a wire rack to cool. Makes about 3 dozen. Mrs. Pfeiffer to Leave for Brazil With Peace Corps

Colorado's 1951 Mother of the Year has joined the Peace Corps. She is Mrs. Gladys B. Pfeiffer, former librarian at Colorado Springs High School (now Palmer).

Mrs. Pfeiffer is the mother of four sons and one daughter. She now makes her home in Denver, at 1789 S. Kearney St. after retiring from her position as librarian several years ago.

Mrs. Pfeiffer will embark for Brazil Sept. 15 with 47 other Peace Corps Volunteers, to work on a variety of rural and urban community development and health projects. Requested by the Brazil government, these volunteers will join nearly 200 other volunteers already working in Brazil in the fields of agriculture, community development and health.

These new Volunteers will be assigned to six different states in Brazil as well as to the new national capital, Brazilia. Most of the group will live in rural towns and villages where they will assist health clinics and hospitals in raising h e a l t h standards of t h e community. Others of the Volunteers will work in slum areas of cities, helping Brazilians to dig latrines, establish sewage disposal systems, learn the basics of nutrition, and learn ways to maintain their health. Several of the Volunteers will help establish a library at the University of Brazilia.

In preparation for their service in Brazil, the Volunteers have just completed 12 weeks of intensive training at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The training included practical instruction on their technical skills and several hours of daily language drill in Portuguese. They also reviewed American history, institutions and world affairs.

T h e departing Volunteers will join the 6,100 other Americans now working for the Peace Corps in 46 countries of Africa, Asia and Latin America. Requests for additional Volunteers are received daily from these nations. Peace Corps officials report that more than 5,000 Volunteers are being trained this summer and fall. Applicants interested in fall or subsequent training programs should submit their Questionnaires now and take the next nationwide Placement Test on Sept. 12.

Household Hints

United Press International

A sprinkling of para moth crystals or nuggets will keep carpet beetles from attacking and damaging upholstered furniture, the Chemical Specialites Manufacturers Association reports.

A slightly flared lamp shade gives a better spread of light than a straight or drum-shaped shade.

Use glass jars for freezing most fruits and vegetables except those packed in water.

Remove crayon marks from linoleum with silver polish applied with a damp cloth.

Rub baking soda into hands, then wash thoroughly to remove lingering garlic or onion odor.

Striped denim is perfect as an ironing board cover. Stripes will line up the edges of jackets, skirt pleats, curtains.

Soak plastic shower curtains in a mild solution of liquid bleach and detergent for half an hour to remove soap film and soil. Wash curtains with a brush when soil is loosened and rinse well.

Coat rustic furniture with varnish to protect from insects.

Reserve Officers, Ladies Plan Gala Dinner Meeting

Colorado Springs and Ft. Carson Chapters, Reserve Officers Association will initiate the autumn season with a combined dinner and meeting Saturday at the Ft. Carson Officer's Club.

Attend Annual Meeting, Denver

Mrs. Ronald Bell of Canon City, vice president of the Colorado Veterinary Medical Association Auxiliary, served as chairman of convention arrangements at the group's annual meeting held in Denver last week.

A luncheon was highlighted by a book review by Mrs. Howard Johnson of Denver. Mrs. Bell distributed prizes contributed by drug companies at the evening banquet.

WRONG HOUSE, RIGHT WALLET

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—On June 1, 1963, John Polsgrove lost his trousers while boating at Fort Gibson Lake. Inside the trousers was a wallet with money and identification papers.

Fourteen months later a stranger walked up to a house Polsgrove hadn't lived in since 1949 and left the wallet. He didn't identify himself.

Among the water-logged papers was a blood-doner identity card which bore that 1949 address of Polsgrove's. The money was intact.

White Tops List In Wall Colors

NEW YORK (UPI) — Off white heads the list of the top 10 wall colors in home decorating in 1964.

Lemon yellow is a close contender, reports a paint company, Benjamin Moore, in its regular analysis of popularity in home decorating colors.

Greens show in a variety of hues and tints, the company said. Neutrals are predominantly earth tones and identified by such names as stone, bark, pebble and sand. Beige still is in the upper half of the list but seems to be losing some of its glamour. Also among the best sellers are antique gold, citron, light blue, stone gray and a soft, bluish pink.

During the first quarter of this year, $532 million was poured into hospital building programs, more than a 37 per cent increase over the same period of 1963, the Health Insurance Institute reports.

Bedtime Yarns Now Automated

NEW YORK (UPI) — How effective are your bedtime stories when your little rascals are scheduled to fall asleep but don't?

If you need help or run out of patience, tell your yarns to a tape recorder.

"Mothers have discovered that tape recorders can be handy assistants at such times," says Thomas W. Lentz, of RCA Victor.

The latest recorders use tape that is encased in a plastic cartridge. Not even an ingenious two-year-old can fiddle with it.

The tape recorder automatically turns itself off.

Beauty is big business. Source in the cosmetics industry estimate that $2.5 billion is spent each year in the United States alone for beauty aids.

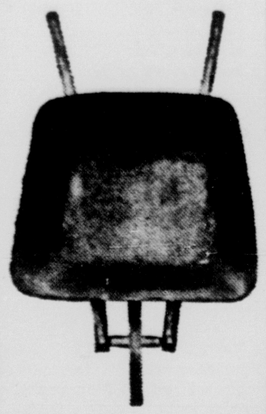
SLEEPING SICKNESS

DENVER (UPI)— The Colorado Health Department announced Wednesday it had confirmed a case of a more serious strain of sleeping sickness encephalitis) in Colorado. The victim, an 18-year-old Jefferson County youth, was reported in satisfactory condition. There have been three other confirmed cases of encephalitis recently but they are of the least serious type.



TIMES CHANGE. SO DO JOBS.

New methods, new machines are always being developed. That's what makes progress. One result is that many jobs are replaced—and many won't even exist in a few years.

But another result of progress is opportunity. Those same new methods and machines will create new and different jobs. These are the jobs of tomorrow.

You won't get tomorrow's jobs with yesterday's skills

New abilities, new knowledge will be needed. The men who will get these better-paying jobs will have to be qualified. That's where you come in. You can retrain—learn a new skill—and earn a better living. If you begin now.

Re-training takes more than wishful thinking. You have to make a move. And your smartest move is to see the local office of your state employment service this week.

Train now for tomorrow's jobs

Families Given Tips on More Economic Life

NEW YORK (UPI)—At some time or another, almost everyone has muttered "why don't they?" when struggling with a stubborn piece of equipment or wishing vainly for a needed convenience.

Hardly a day goes by that I don't add a "why don't they?" to my collection. Apparently thousands of others do the same, for the National Family Opinion, (NFO), Inc., a Toledo-based consumer research firm, is in with another compilation from its 85,000 homemaker consultants who write suggestions for manufacturers.

From NFO and my own notebook, here are some.

Why don't they?

—Make measuring spoons singly instead of bunch four together so that all four have to be washed although only one has been used.

—Quit pricing so many items "two for—cents," when a customer actually needs only one item.

—use plastic instead of metal for the base of aerosol-packed shaving creams. The metal bases rust and leave rings on the inside of medicine cabinets.

—Make more half-size and large size housedresses with slight fare and in small prints or solid colors instead of featuring gathered skirts and big, bold prints which are not flattering to the fuller figure.

—Manufacture some refrigerators without freezer sections. Many families living in the suburbs or rural areas have large separate freezers, use the small freezer in the refrigerator rarely, but would like the extra rfrigerator space for storing foods purchased on weekly shopping trips.

—Lower the height of some of the "family size" food boxes. Most shelf space is a little too short and the crammed boxes spill.

—Stop "improving" satisfactory established products. One woman says, "I'm stuck with a supply of an old favorite so changed that I'll never buy it again."

—Sell iron-on patches in assorted sizes, shapes and colors, and package them in clear plastic for see-through ease of choice at home.

—In supermarkets, enforce the rule of "five items or less" in the express checkout lanes and detour the selfish shopper who empties eight and nine items from a cart and holds up items from a cart ad holds up others more conscientious.

Amanda was my son David's patient last year while he was an intern at Chicago's famous Cook County Hospital. Scrapbook this case and send for the booklet below. Spread these facts around among all your intelligent friends and neighbors, regardless of politics.

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph.D., M. D.

CASE T-471: Amanda D., aged 38, was having a baby at our famous Cook County Hospital.

"It was her 10th child," our son David informed us as we sat around the dinner table.

"After I had delivered the child, I asked Amanda for her husband's name, so I could fill out the birth certificate.

"But she not only wasn't married now, she had never gone through a wedding ceremony!

"Yet she had borne 10 children to 6 or 8 different men in Chicago.

"And she told me she couldn't afford to get married, for she was now drawing over $400 per month in relief checks, and if she got married, she'd not get that $400."

Our next older son Daniel, the Dental Surgeon, exploded at this.

"That's terrible!" Daniel exclaimed. "It would be like giving a youngster an ice cream cone every time he did wrong.

"How long is this country going to stand such stupid flaunting of the simple rules of horse sense?

"If we reward the bad, how can children ever learn to be honest citizens?"

To which Dr. David Crane chimed in with another Chicago case.

"At Cook County Hospital I treated the sick child of a man with a family.

"This fellow was honest and hard working. He was trying to support his wife and four children.

"But his total earnings amounted to about $300 per month, yet this illict mother of 10 babies by 8 different men was being subsidized by $400 per month.

"So the people who work hard and skimp and save are thus penalized by heavy taxes to support the shiftless and immoral and feebleminded.

"The latter then sit in front of their TV sets by day, sipping beer purchased by relief checks furnished by taxpayers.

"Since they don't work they have more energy free for procreating additional offspring for honest taxpayers to feed and medicate via higher taxes.

"Last year, for example, when relief checks were cut off for a few weeks, the relief patients yelled and protested at having to walk a few blocks to the relief centers where they were given free canned goods, potatoes, sugar and other foodstuff.

"For they demanded relief checks; not food.

"And as soon as their checks again were issued to them, Cook County was glutted with drunks, many of whom were women.

"For they used their relief checks to buy liquor, instead of food and clothing.

"We had been almost cleaned out of drunks while the relief checks had stopped, but within 48 hours after they were resumed, we were deluged with drunks!"

The time has come when patriots, whether Democrats or Republicans, must unite behind "horse sense" statemanship.

So send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Use it on November 5th.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

1,910,031 Tickets Sold in N.H. Sweepstakes

SALEM, N.H. (UPI) — The final 1,328 New Hampshire sweepstakes tickets were drawn Wednesday in the nation's first legal lottery in this century.

The $125,000 added sweepstakes race will be held at the Rockingham Park horse race track here Saturday.

The state sold 1,910,031 of the $3 tickets since March in the controversial lottery. Proceeds from the event are earmarked for the state's educational program.

Six lucky ticket holders will win $100,000 in the Saturday race and others will win amounts ranging from $200 to $50,000.

All the tickets sold were dumped into huge plexiglass drums and 332 tickets were drawn and matched with the names of the 332 horses nominated for the race.

Since the drawings were made from six drums, each horse was matched with the names of six ticket holders. That means the winning horse will pay $100,000 to each of six persons. Six others will get $50,000 each for the second place horse, and the third place horse will pay $25,000.

Possibly a dozen of the 332 horses nominated actually will run in the Saturday classic.

Those ticket holders whose horses enter the race but finish out of the money will receive some $5,000 apiece. Others who were matched with Thoroughbreds that were nominated but not entered will get at least $200 each.

Sweepstakes officials already have announced that the purse next year will be increased to $250,000 added, making it the richest added event in the world.

Shakespeare Quoted By Rusk at Ceremony

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a bow Thursday to William Shakespeare, Secretary of State Dean Rusk swore in James L. Greenfield as assistant secretary for public affairs.

Drawing from the board's play Anthony and Cleopatra, Rusk envisioned Greenfield saying to State Department officials, "Pour out the pack of matter to mine ear, the good and bad together."

And, from the same play, he said Greenfield might get this response from department officials: "Though it be honest, it is never good to bring bad news; give to a gracious message and host of tongues; but let ill tidings tell themselves."

"Nuts" would be Greenfield's non-Shakespearean reply, Rusk conjectured.

Cocktails Paid With Tax Money

WASHINGTON (UPI)— A House Armed Services investigating subcommittee reported Tuesday that it found everything from cocktail parties to gourmet dinners being financed by the government under the heading of "morale and recreation" benefits for defense plant workers.

One of the instances cited was sending an airliner from Denver to Baltimore to pick up groceries for a company picnic.

"It seems to me that the government has been over-sold on the necessity of using tax dollars to pay for so-called recreational and morale-building activities for defense contractor employes," Rep. Porter Hardy, D-Va., chairman of the subcommittee, said in a statement issued with the report.

The Hardy subcommittee conducted three days of open hearings on the issue in July, examining $6 million in morale and recreation outlays at 36 points in a single year.

The investigators said the company spent $5,000 to $6,000 to send a DC6 plane from Denver to Baltimore to pick up two tons of clams and crabs. The company contended that the plane also was carrying passengers and missile hardware and set the cost of the seafood delivery at only $1,769.

War Records Of Candidates Are Examined

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of the candidates' military records has slipped into the election campaign.

Republican vice-presidential candidate William E. Miller told a Chicago audience Sunday that he thought discussion of this sort of thing was "nit-picking."

Then he said he hadn't intended to mention that Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic vice-presidential opponent, had not served in World War II.

Here's a rundown on the candidates' records — as provided by the congressional offices of Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential candidate, Sen. Humphrey and Rep. Miller, and in the case of President Johnson, by the White House:

PRESIDENT JOHNSON

Joined the Navy Dec. 8, 1941, the day after Pearl Harbor, as a lieutenant commander, said to be the first congressman to enlist.

He took part in bombing missions in the South Pacific and was awarded the Silver Star. He returned to Washington in July 1942 when President Roosevelt decreed that members of Congress could not serve in the armed forces.

SEN. GOLDWATER

He became a second lieutenant in the infantry Reserve in 1930, assigned to the 25th Infantry. He was ordered to active duty Aug. 1, 1941, and assigned to the Air Corps at Luke Field, Ariz.

In May 1942, he was rated as a service pilot and was director of groun training and gunnery at the Air Force's advanced flying school. In May 1943, he transferred to the Second Flying Group and was operations officer of the 27th Flying Squadron. Duties included ferrying of aircraft in the United States and overseas.

He took part in the first and only flight of P47s across the North Atlantic in August 1943. He served as chief pilot, Air Transport Command, in the Azores, Casablanca, and India.

In October 1944, he transferred to the 402nd SAF base unit at Glendale, Calif., and was assistant director of gunnery operations. He also was in charge of organization training in combat operations.

Goldwater was relieved from active duty Nov. 22, 1945. He currently is a major general in the Air Force Reserve. His decorations include China defense with battle star and the Air Medal.

REP. MILLER

Miller was inducted into the Army as a Private July 1, 1942. He took his basic training at Ft. Meade, and then was assigned to military intelligence. Details of this service were not available.

In January 1945, Miller was selected for officers candidate school of the judge advocate general's office at Ann Arbor, Mich.

He graduated in May 1945, and was commissioned a first lieutenant and assigned to the Army's war criminals branch in Washington.

In August 1945, he was named assistant prosecutor to the late Justice Robert A. Jackson. The biography says "in this post he played a major role in the prosecution of the Nazi war criminals during the trials at Nuremberg, Germany."

In March 1946 he resumed private law practice.

SEN. HUMPHREY

In 1941 he served with the War Production Administration, as supervisor of teaching for the organization's workers education service. In 1942 he became Minnesota state director of war production training, and in 1943 was assistant director of the War Manpower Commission.

In 1943 he went to MacAlester College in St. Paul, Minn., as an instructor for the Air Force's Reserve Officers Training Corps. As such he was classified in the draft as 2A, which meant he was a civilian in an essential job.

During 1943-1944, his office said, Humphrey tried at least 20 times to enlist in the Navy, but was turned down because of color blindness and because he had a double hernia.

In July 1944, he was reclassified 1A and was called up the next month, but his induction was deferred because of a new regulation exempting men over 30 with children. He then was 33 and the father of three and still had the double hernia.

In December 1944, heavy draft calls were started again, and Humphrey reported for induction Feb. 12, 1945. He again was turned down for physical reasons.

Boy Wins $100 For Rescuing Dog From Cave

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Lady, a valuable coon hound trapped in a narrow, wet cave for almost a week, is above ground today thanks to a boy who wriggled into the passage with boloney on a stick and determination to get her out.

The boy, Mark Young, 11, said he was scared just once. That was when he dropped his light and it fell down a hole.

The rescue came Wednesday night. Mark, who tips the scales at about 90 pounds, had gone in previously to try and rescue lady. He was able to push the boloney through a small hole to the compartment where she was trapped, and fasten a rope to her collar.

He tried to pull her out but the hole was too small.

Lady, described as in excellent shape, settled down to wait a little longer in the chamber where she had been since chasing a coon into the cave last Thursday.

The entrance of the cave is only about two or three feet across.

Mark finally crawled back to Lady's chamber — about 75 feet from the cave entrance — and went through the small hole himself. Then he pushed the 75-pound dog out and followed her to freedom.

Jackson Blaine of Bristow, Lady's owner, had posted a $100 reward for her rescue. Mark said he will use the money to buy a saddle and bridle for his horse.

Lady lapped up two raw eggs and didn't look like she had lost a pound, Mark's father, V. R. Young, 34, said.

Air Defense Strong, Gen. LeMay Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, says U.S. continental aerospace defense is strong in the areas of early warning and command and control.

Addressing a meeting of the Air Force Association Thursday, LeMay said fighters equipped with new intercept radar and infrared search and track equipment plus Bomarc missiles are on continuous alert in both Canada and the United States.

"These aircraft, together with the Army's Nike and Hawk missiles and certain naval elements provide a credible continental defense against the manned bomber threat," LeMay said.

CAPITOL STUFF

By TED LEWIS

WASHINGTON — On this Labor Day of a Presidential election year we have thumbed through what other White House candidates have had to say on this occasion. This is the best way of any, perhaps, to put Lyndon Johnson's speech in Detroit's Cadillac Square today in its proper category.

The net results of this research is a little confusing, for the "National Unity" motif of LBJ's address turns out to be almost exactly like Gen. Eisenhower's Labor Day pledge in 1952 and wholly dissimilar to the hard appeal for the labor vote made by other Democratic Presidential nominees in their Cadillac Square appearances.

In discussing the issues today, the President said "the only real test is what is good for all America."

This is what Ike said in a Labor Day statement in 1952 when he was seeking his first term in the White House:

"If it is your decision and the conclusion of your fellow citizens that I should be the next President of our country, it will be my aim to so conduct that office that at the end of my service each of you could honestly say these words: He has been fair. He has been my friend. He has not coerced us with laws, nor divided us by class, but has fostered mutual respect, understanding and good will.

"He has led us forward along the broad middle way toward prosperity without war for ourselves and for our children. I say again to the men and women of labor — I will always seek to serve the worthy interests of every group of our people, yet make the test of every policy: Is it good for America? This is my pledge to you on Labor Day, 1952."

This was pretty much like the theme Johnson stressed Monday. It should be noted here that the President did make passing references to what Harry Truman said at the same Labor Day location in 1948, and to what John F. Kennedy said at Detroit on Labor Day in 1960.

But the quotes he selected from those two previous speeches, scarcely conveyed the flavor of those past Democratic candidacy appeals. He recalled how Truman promised that if elected America would "enter a new period of hope."

He recalled that in 1960 Kennedy had said: "Give me your hand. . .and this country can move again."

The gutty rabble-rousing stuff that both Truman and Kennedy dispensed is worth repeating in part, if only to show the contrasting kind of lofty campaign Johnson has in mind as exemplified by his opening high level speech in Detroit.

Truman in 1948 warned of an "era of fear," and another "boom and bust" cycle if a "reactionary" Republican administration under Tom Dewey was elected in that November. Truman charged that the GOP was a party that operated "for the privileged few" while the Democratic Party was the party of the common people.

Kennedy in 1960 was equally highly partisan but in his erudite way. "The facts of the matter are," he said, "that the Republican Party for 40 years has opposed all kinds of progressive social legislation.

"I welcome the support of working men and women everywhere," Kennedy continued. "And I am proud of the endorsement of the AFL-CIO. For the labor movement is people.

The goals of the labor movement are the goals for all Americans, and their enemies are the enemies of progress."

It should be mentioned that both in 1952 and 1956 equally strong appeals for the labor vote were made on Labor Day in Detroit by Adlai Stevenson. In 1952 Adlai proposed scrapping of the Taft-Hartley Act. In 1956 he hit at the "pious" and "false" attempts of the Ike Administration to take credit for accomplishments of the Truman-FDR regimes.

Democratic Party times certainly have changed. A careful reading of the President's opening campaign speech shows that it could have been delivered equally effective before a farm or business audience or at a college commencement. Its principal political sting was in taking apart the Goldwater proposal to give NATO control over use of tactical nuclear weapons.

Having analyzed the Johnson speech at a Detroit labor rally to this extent, we are not going to be suckers and come up with any further interpretation. As the President said last Saturday when the subject of what kind of a Labor Day speech he had in mind came up, he himself positively was not going to put a lable on it.

"We will not say," said the President, speaking for himself and the White House staff, "that this is going to be a major speech, a minor speech, or a middle-size speech, or a political speech, or nonpolitical or any of that."

He left it up to those who felt required to interpret it to say whether it was "conservative, progressive, prudent, or radical (or) political or nonpolitical."

All we know is that it was an important speech because it showed clearly the President's present intention of campaigning in the role of "President of all the people." In order to do this effectively, speeches must have both a political and nonpolitical flavor, be definitely prudent and have a conservative as well as progressive ring.

There is no argument that it was "radical" in a political sense, for it failed to follow the Democratic tradition of giving the Republican Party hell and of publicly thanking, as it expected on Labor Day, the AFL-CIO for its endorsement of the Democratic nominee.

Social Drinking Unstoppable, Briton Declares

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A leading British fighter against alcoholism says it's practically impossible to eliminate social drinking.

"What we can do is to reudce the social pressure on people to drink," said Archer Tongue, director of the International Bureau Against Alcoholsim. "For example, a host throwing a party could also offer non-alcoholic drinks."

Tongue, here for an international congress on alcohol and alcoholism, said that Western influence, particularly American, has made drnking a sign of prestige. Thus, he said, problem osf alcoholism have develope di n ccountries which by tradition did not have them, particularly in Asia and the Middle East.

In some African countries, the stronger spirits were barred to Negroes by their colonialist rulers. Drinking has now become a symbol of their new independence, Tongue reported.

"The Stalinist theory was that the problem would vanish with the abolition of private enterprise," he said. "But developments proved that nationalizing the alcohol industry is not at all a solution."

Alcoholism among women is a big problem but it is difficult to say how big — "because women can cover up much more easily; most of them don't have to go to work," Tongue said.

He also reported:

Britain and Germany have registered a striking growth in female alcoholism. Women still drink less in southern countries.

Excessive drinking among juveniles is expecially noticeable in Britain and Sweden.

France continues to lead the world in per capita consumption of alcohol.

The United States, Chile, and Poland are other countries faced with most serious problems of alcoholism. One American expert says the United States has about a fifth of the world's estimated 25 million alcoholics.

"Prohibition is not practicable," said Tongue. "What is needed is education and understanding."

Vote on Medicare Plan Is Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House leadership has set next Thursday for a vote on the proposal to finance medical care for the elderly through Social Security.

The vote will come on the question of whether to send the bill, passed by the Senate, to a conference of both houses. The Senate attached a medical care rider to a bill previously passed by the House.

Backers of the proposal are expected to seek a vote instructing conferees to take certain positions on the measure. If so, it would be the first time that the principle of Social Security financings of hospital care for persons over 65 has come to a vote in the House.

The wedding trip came to be called honeymoon after a Norse habit. Each day for a month after the nuptials, the newlyweds took a sip of mead, a fermented drink made of honey, to bring them good luck and health.

Protestants in Spain To Be Given Liberty

LA CORUNA, Spain (AP) — The Franco government and the Spanish Roman Catholic hierarchy reached an agreement Thursday night expected to pave the way for a law giving Spain's 30,000 Protestants religious liberty.

The proposed law, sought for seven years, has the support in principle of both Gen. Francisco Franco and the Vatican.

It is believed that the law will permit Protestants to worship openly in Catholic Spain, to own church property, to publish certain church literature and Protestant Bibles and to conduct church schools.

The estimated 190 Protestant chapels now are not permitted to bear signs showing they are places of worship.

A statement from the office of Enrique Cardinal Play Deniel, Spain's Catholic primate, said the proposed law is being studied to insure that "the Catholic unity of Spain does not suffer deterioration," and that "the rights of the non-Catholics are taken into account."

Dad of 12 Wins Massachusetts Demo Primary

By CORNELIUS F. HURLEY

BOSTON (AP) — In a smashing upset, Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti, father of 12, wrested the Democratic nomination for governor from the incumbent, Gov. Endicott Peabody, in Thursday's Massachusetts primary.

Bellotti's victory means that for the first time in Massachusetts history both major parties will be backing sons of Italian immigrants for the senate's highest office.

Former Gov. John A. Volpe, who lost the office to Peabody two years ago by a 5,000 vote margin in a total poll of more than 2 million, was unopposed for the Republican nomination. The latest county of the returns from 1,891 of 2,008 precincts gave Bellotti 348,165 and Peabody 319,802.

In entering the primary against Peabody, the nominee battled the major leaders of the state Democratic party, including Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who from his hospital bed issued a strong endorsement for Peabody.

Kennedy, his back broken in a plane crash last June, was unopposed for nomination for a full six year term in the Senate seat once held by his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy.

Peabody's defeat may date back to his first year in office in 1963 when he jumped into a series of issues which backfired.

On the eve of his inauguration, Peabody went to the State House to join in an effrt to deny another term as speaker of the House to Rep. John F. Thompson, D-Ludlow. Thompson retained the office, but although he became one of Peabody's strongest supporters in the Legislature, many regarded Peabody's intervention as unwarranted. In his first year in office, Peabody advocated substantial increases in the state income tax, a proposal which was defeated.

Shortly after he took office, Peabody said he was opposed to capital punishment, and that he would commute any death sentences that came up during his term in office.

A few months later he moved to commute the sentence of a convicted slayer of a policeman. While the commutation was pending before the Executive Council, another policeman was killed by a holdup gang, and the council refused to ratify Peabody's action.

Eisenhower Will Be Given New Award

NEW YORK (AP) — The Society for the Family Man will give its second annual award for outstanding contributions in human relations, world peace, mass communications and education to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

John Hay Whitney, chairman of the society, said Thursday the award will be presented to Eisenhower at a dinner in New York City Oct. 22.

The late President John F. Kennedy received the award last year.

Police Report Theft of Wire From Ampex Site

City Police today reported a large quantity of electrical wire stolen from the construction site of the Ampex Corporation, Highway 24 and Wooten Road some time Wednesday night.

Discovery of the theft was made by Ernest Bobo, 3815 Columbine Pl., when he arrived at the site Thursday morning. Doors on two sheds where the spools and boxes of wire were stored had been forced open and the wire removed. Bobo said the items ranged in weight from 40 to 400 pounds per item. Most of the wire was listed as an insulated type, in over 1,000-foot lengths.

He told police that the missing wire was an approximate replacement of wire stolen previously from the location.

Entry to the sheds was apparently made with a pry bar through doors secured with hasp and padlock, police said. No value on the wire was listed with police.

Evans Blasts Goldwater in Speech Here

Democrat Frank Evans, who is campaigning for the U.S. representative's seat held by Republican J. Edgar Chenoweth, expressed concern over his opponent's support of Sen. Barry Goldwater in a talk to the North Colorado Springs Rotary Club Wednesday.

Said Evans, who won his party's nomination in Tuesday's primary:

"Goldwater has made a number of irresponsible statements in the past and his subsequent explanations have not been satisfactory."

Evans said the American people have a right to know exactly where Sen. Goldwater would cut Federal spending, if he plans to cut taxes 25 percent.

Evans said Goldwater, as a professed expert on Military affairs, should know that 80 percent of the federal budget is for past, present and future wars and that any drastic cutting of the budget would mean cutting defense spending.

Evans said it was dishonest for Goldwater to promise what he can't deliver.

Evans cited Goldwater's defense of extremism at San Francisco and his subsequent explanation that Eisenhower and Churchill were both extremists.

Evans reaffirmed his support of President Johnson's stand in regard to presidental control of nuclear weapons. He explained that the use of atomic weapons was a political decision and not a military decision.

Speaking of domestic issues, Evans said he supported the fiscal policies of the Johnson administration which brought our economy to its record high. He said the record high employment and record high business profits had been accomplished without any inflationary pressures and the cost of living has not gone up appreciably in four years of Democratic administration.

Evans said he favored the Democratic program to provide economic and training opportunities for the fifth of our population locked in poverty.

Name, Identity Mix-Up Brings Charge Dismissal

It almost reached a point Thursday in Municipal Court when it wouldn't have surprised anyone if a voice had been heard asking: Will the real Gary Houseton stand up?

Houseton, 19, 519½ Prairie Rd., was in court on a charge of drag racing, and was represented by attorney Ray Wilder. At least, it is assumed that the spectacled youth sitting at the counsel table with Wilder was Houseton.

Cpl. Roy Stanley, who issued a citation on the charge July 29, could not identify the youth in court as Houseton.

Deputy City Attorney Bob Isaac called for a recess and had Municipal Court Clerk Don Nelson placed on the stand. Nelson testified that on Aug. 4 he had prepared a jury waiver for Gary Houseman which was signed in his presence, but he could not identify the youth as the one who had signed the waiver.

He said Houseman's trail had been set for Aug. 27 but had been changed to Thursday. hen Issac asked how the youth had been notifed of the change. Nelson said he had made a phone call to Houseman's employer who agreed to pass the informaton on to the youth.

Wilder made a motion for a dismissal of the charge on grounds that Isaac had not laid proper venue to where the alleged violation had taken place, and there had been no positive identification of Houseman.

Isaac pointed out that the court takes judicial notice that the location (Stanley had testified the violation took place from the 600 to the 800 blocks on North Nevada Avenue) was within the city's limits, and let the second go on the evidence.

Judge Allan Asher dismissed the charge against Houseman on the second point made by Wilder. Houseman, or whoever the youth was at the counsel table, made no comment throughout the entire proceedings.

The case of Hazel Darlene Kemper, 25, 529 N. 18th St., was continued until Thursday. She is charged with careless driving.

Robert Sallee, 17, 3304 Prospect St., changed his plea to guilty to a careless driving charge and was fined $15. A charge of injury to city property was dismissed.

Judge Asher also dismissed a charge of injury to property against Charles O'Quinn, 49, 2926 Garland Ter.

David Griffith, 22, Holly Hall, Broadmoor, pleaded guilty to drag racing. He was fined $75 with $25 suspended if he attends the traffic course Sept. 16 in El Paso County Court House.

Bonnie Hammer, 17, 8th Street Trailer Court, pleaded guilty to failing to yield the right of way and received a $15 fine.

Janice Kotraz, 23, 3131 N. El Paso St., pleaded guilty to the improper use of a traffic lane and was fined $25.

Bonds were ordered forfeited by Charles Lamb, 63, Littleton, N.H., $10 for an improper turn, and Thomas Wickersham, 20, San Diego, Calif., $5 for an improper turn.

Joe Sanchez, 38, 931 S. Royer St., was found guilty of breach of peace and was fined $25. Frieda Thompson, 48, 10 Leslie Ct., was sentenced to 10 days in county jail on her guilty plea to a drunk charge.

Mrs. Clinton, Long-Time Local Resident, Died

Mrs. Myrtle E. Clinton, 626 N. Tejon St., widow of Frank C. Clinton, died Thursday at a local hospital. She was 88 and had been a resident of Colorado Springs since 1919. Death Brings Dismissal Of Charges

The death of a District Court defendant resulted in a charge of assault with a deadly weapon against her being dismissed Thursday by Judge Hunter D. Hardeman at the request of Deputy District Attorney Dick Webster.

The defendant, Mrs. Edith Rae Livingston, 40, formerly of 710 S. Hancock Ave. died in Colorado General Hospital, Denver, Sept. 8.

Mrs. Livingston was never arraigned for the alleged crime as she was already ill on the day she was scheduled to appear in District Court.

According to the information, she was alleged to have shot her husband Nils Norton Livingston in the hand and Louise Ellen Adams in the elbow and thigh with a .22 caliber revolver at Miss Adams' home, 333 S. El Paso St. June 20.

City Will Sell Abandoned Cars

The Colorado Springs police department will sell about 40 abandoned cars at 10 a.m. Sept. 26 at its storage area at Peterson Field.

The cars were abandoned on city streets. All have been abandoned and unclaimed for at least six months.

The department wants to sell all the cars and close out the lot at Peterson Field. A new storage lot has been made available near the Martin Drake Steam Plant.

A later announcement will be made on when the cars may be inspected prior to the public sale.

The police department has more than two dozen bicycles and several tricycles.

Persons missing bicycles or tricycles should not attempt to find out about these vehicles by telephone, but are urged to visit the police department to establish ownership. The unclaimed ones will be sold at public auction at a later date.

Net proceeds from the sale of cars, bicycles and other unclaimed articles go into the police pension fund.

Burglars Enter Two Businesses; Nothing Taken

Two burglaries were reported to the sheriff's office Thursday but in both cases nothing appeared to be missing.

The first happened at the Nevada Body Shop, 85 Easy St. Deputy Sheriff Vincent Denboske said the rear door had been kicked in causing $30 damage and the office thoroughly ransacked.

The second case was reported by Josette Nagle, an employee at Phill's Lounge, 2812 E. Highway 24.

The back window had been forced and an unsuccessful attempt made to force the safe which had been moved to the back door. According to Deputy Sheriff Larry Holien, the intruders were unable to open the door to get the safe out which was left lying there.

ADC Civilian Earns Highest Service Award

Designing of special facilities used in the Air Defense Command dispersal plan has earned for Walter R. Schwartz the ADC Meritorious Civilian Service Award.

This award is the highest civilian recognition which can be issued by a major U. S. Air Force command.

Schwartz, an architectural engineer, received his certificate in a special ceremony from Col. E. V. N. Schuyler, deputy chief of staff, Civil Engineering last week. The citation accompanying the award commended his "outstanding judgment, resourcefulness, and professional competence in initiating, developing, and designing the special facilities (now adopted by all branches of the Service) required for the ADC dispersal plan."

From his drafting table came the plans for three structures of a highly functional, yet austere nature. The facilities are a composite ready crew building, a maintenance support structure, and a weapon storage unit.

Schwartz's seven years with ADC were preceeded by 10 years in Cleveland, Ohio with the group which later formed the nucleous of the National Aeronautical Space Administration. (NASA).

He, his wife Dolly and son Clyde, 6, live at 1017 N. Logan Ave.

Youth Injured In Bike-Car Mishap

Michael L. Hicks, 16, 1211 Cumberland St., Thursday, suffered a bump on the head, skin abrasions to the nose, both legs and right hand, when the bike he was riding collided with the rear of a car driven by Gregory Salazar, 33, 3508 Corbett Lane, State Patrol reported.

BOOSTING FALCON FOOTBALL — Mayor Harry W. Hoth (right) has officially proclaimed Oct. 2-3 as "Falcon—Community Alumni Days" and has urged all citizens of Colorado Springs and all neighboring cities and states to join in a huge pep rally at the Air Force Academy on the night of Oct. 2 and attend the Falcon's home opener Oct. 3 against Colorado State University. Handing the mayor a football as a reminder of the upcoming events is Lt. Col. Felix "Doc" Blanchard, former grid great at Army and now assistant to the athletic director at the Air Force Academy. Blanchard suggested, and the mayor agreed, that now is the time to purchase season tickets for the Falcon home games.

$10,282 Raised First Week of Hospital Drive

A total of $10,282.03 had been collected in the first week of the St. Joseph hospital building fund drive, it was announced this week by Jerry Sandell, drive chairman.

Sandell, who expressed confidence that the drive will reach its $30,000 goal before being concluded here Sept. 15, noted that $5,640.03 has been received in cash to date, while the remaing der has been pledged.

Largest contribution made to date has been $2,500 pledged by the Donnelly family of Florence. A number of other substantial contributions are expected from individuals, lodges, fraternal organizations, and industrial concerns in the area, Sandell said.

Sandell declared that most Florence business firms have given $100 in cash or pledges but reported that as yet the outlaying districts have not come in with their contributions.

The drive chairman further noted that pledges are expected to carry over into October before the final drive funds have been collected.

Highly pleased with the response from the public, Sandell added that the board will soon present its application to the Hill-Burton people in Denver and stated that the future of the hospital is looking brighter each day.

The local drive was launched to help save St. Joseph hospital from being closed because of lack of accreditation. The cost of a new hospital, which will meet public health standards has been estimated at $1,200,000. When a new hospital is built here, the present institution will be coverted into a nursing home under the management of the Sisters of the St. Benedict, who operate the hospital.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son Dr. Stanley J. Shepherd Jr. who passed away one year ago today, sadly missed by his parents.

WHEN GONE

"When I have gone, remember
I'm with Jesus
Then do not grieve because I've passed away;
Life holds so many griefs and disappointments
And will you weep because I did not stay?
'Tis only for a spell we must be parted
Not many years on earth to us are given;
And when my Saviour tells me
you are coming
I'll go with Him and welcome you to heaven.
Grieve not because the eyes that looked upon you
Shall never see your face on earth again;
Rejoice because they look upon the Saviour
Who gave His life to ransom sinful men.
Weep not because I walk no longer with you
Remember I am walking streets of gold;
Weep for yourselves that you
awhile must tarry
Before the Blessed Lord you may behold."

Mr. & Mrs. Stanley J. Shepherd Sr. and Karen

Fremont County Reports Good Employment

Employment in Fremont county for the summer months was reported as good this week by U. Mike Welch, manager of the Colorado Department of Employment in Canon City.

"During the interval May 1 to Aug. 31, we placed 140 young people in local jobs," Welch noted. "A total of 395 applicants were placed during this period.

During August, last year, there were 5,435 Fremont residents employed, while this year the total has been 5,895, or an increase of 460. Last year we had 310 persons unemployed, while this year the total has dropped to 170 or a decrease of 140."

For the month of August, Welch declared that 91 applicants were placed and 71 filed new applications for work.

Currently there is a shortage of workers in the fields of meat cutter, waitresses, kitchen help, child monitors and auto mechanics.

Chamber Heads Attend AFA Meet In Washington

Cahmber of Commerce President, Norman Coleman, First Vice President Harry Hoth, Military Affairs Committee Chairman Joe Reich and Manager Clay Banta have left for Washington, D. C. where they will attend the annual conference of the Air Force Association in addition to making a number of calls "on the hill" on congressmen and senators and at the Pentagon on key military people on behalf of your Chamber of Commerce and the community.

Items to be discussed in these calls include invitations to the Chamber's Annual Meeting, preliminary arrangements for the National Security Seminar to be held in Colorado Springs early in 1965, possibility of a National Monument in the Florissant area and military developments of current interest.

Also attending the Air Force Association Conference from Colorado Springs will be the following: Dietz Lusk, Jr.; Roy Waldholm, Jr.; B. H. Baker; William Richardson; Robert Grimes; Al Daniels; George Douglas; Bill Smartt; Victor Scodius; DON Olson and Broun Mayall.

Looking At Hollywood

By HEDDA HOPPER

© 1964: By the Chicago Tribune

BEING REHEARSAL JAN. 1 ON LERNER'S MUSICAL

HOLLYWOOD — January 1 is the rehearsal date for Alan Lerner's musical about extra sensory perception which Ernie Martin and Cy Feuer are producing. Heading the cast are Louis Music by Burton)"finian's Rainbow") Land and Bob Fosse directs.

Feuer thinks Hollywood has done wrong by his boy, Bobby Morse. So do I. "They should design pictures for him," said Cy. "That's what we did with 'How to Succeed.' I guess Hollywood no longer gambles on kids like Bobby, but if he gets the right pictures, he'll produce the same magic he does on stage."

Feuer is crowing over Julie Andrews' success. First time he saw her was in Yorkshire doing an American play with a British company. It was set in the Ozark mountains and they were all Ku Klux Klanners wearing white sheets and using cockney accents. He signed Julie then and there for her first Broadway show, "The Boy Friend." "She's a built-in lady," says Cy.

Ginger Rogers has been the busiest little bee this whole summer. Now she's set to open at the Hyatt Theater in the Round in Burlingame in "Annie Get Your Gun."

Debbie Reynolds said she wouldn't, but she loves the Thalians so much she'll do anything for them. That's why she'll do a Hollywood Palace show September 19th and give her entire salary to her favorite charity.

Judy Garland remains in London another six or eight weeks. She'll have a night at the Palladium; another in Manchester. Over there she's free from all the pressures that cause her so much agony in Hollywood.

I've waited a long time for TV to make good on a promise to educate us humans and do something for the race. CBS did it with their penetrating research on goof balls and pep pills, and my favorite Walter Cronkite got the beat. After this show, Congress will be forced to clamp down on drug manufacturers who mail out their product to anybody with the cash. A CBS news producer bought a half million dollars worth of pills for $600.28.

Sybil Connolly, Irish designer, will make a speech in Philadelphia the latter part of this month to 200 mother superiors. Sybil has designed new habits for six different orders in Europe, and the mothers would like to hear all about it. So would I. Hope she repeats it here.

Roz Russell is now in New York; expects to be gone a month. She promised to take on my column for a week while I had a vacation, so she — who doesn't need one — is getting the rest. I said to her best friend, Bill Frye, "you're not letting her go without you?" He replied, "That's what she said." But he has work to do here. Went down for luncheon with Joan Crawford at Rancho Sante Fe; then San Diego to see a pal in "My Fair Lady."

Sydney Guilaroff went to Europe for one week to do Shirley MacLaine's hair for "Yellow Rolls." Because of the heat wave he stayed eight. He's now in Big Sur doing Liz's locks. Went to Mexico to get approval of her hair styles.

Will Rogers League Plays Three Contests

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Time is closing in on the five Will Rogers League teams to iron out the kinks and field a working unit before th eleague chase begins Oct. 2.

Three teams are scheduled for non-league competition tonight as the second week of grid warfare resumes, with two area games and a contest at Canon City. Tonight's slate calls for Widefield to host highly regarded Brighton; Harrison entertains Fountain; and Pueblo County is the guest of Cannon City. All three games start at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday's agenda has Cheyenne Mountain hosting upstate Mapleton; and the Big Blue of Air Academy High journeys no to tangle with powerful Thurnton. The Cheyenne - Mapleton contest is slated for 1:30 p.m. at the Cheyenne Stadium.

The five league teams have two additional non-league encounters after this weekend's slate to get the kinks out before the loop race begins.

After an impressive 46-0 triumph over Crowley County last week, Bob Irving's Harrison charges should be a solid choice to conquer the small and inexperienced Fountain team, a member of the Class AA Pikes Peak League.

Guy Barickman's Cheyenne gridders, 1963 State Class AA champions, will be gunning for their Saturday visitors with both barrels blasting after losing to arch-rivals St. Mary's last week. The Kadets of Air Academy High will likewise be seeking revenge after losing their opener against Boulder Fairview but the Big Blue will have their hands full with a big Thornton eleven in northern territory Saturday.

Both Widefield and Canon City face worthy opponents tonight and the coaches were expecting rugged contests. Widefield's grid boss Norm Theiss has done some shuffling around with his personnel in an attempt to find the working combination and the Gladiators face a bigger Brighton team.

Pueblo County lost last week to the South Central League favorite Pueblo East, 37-0, and will be out to rectify that opening defeat when they go against the Canon City footballers.

Canon City head coach Don Stimack's scouting reports indicate that Pueblo County has a potentially strong team with good size in the forward wall. The Tigers, on the other hand, have a smaller line but they boast a big fullback and speedy halfbacks. Tom Firestack, the the Tigers' 195-pound fullback, along with speedsters Mickey Gann, Dennis Meese and Mike Merlino.

Theiss will count heavily on his 203-pound fullback Tom Nigbur to counteract the beefy Brighton line in tonight's contest. Nigbur displayed potential in the last outing and Theiss is expecting the big Widefield back to improve as the season progresses.

The Widefield coach reports that the Brighton team runs from a basic T-formation and has good size in the line with a 230-pound aggressive tackle. Theiss has made some changes in the backfield and line attempting to come up with a winning combination.

Eldon Lee, who was alternating with Theiss' 17-year-old son, Dave Theiss, has been switched from quarterback to a running halfback slot. In the line, Rick Sutton moved to a guard position and Perry Pierce, who played an outstanding game against Iver Ranum last week, moved to an end slot.

Theiss reports that his players have displayed enthusiasm during practice this week and are anxious to remedy the mistakes made in the Ranum encounter. Wingback Don Black has been effective in drills this week and is expected to further the Widefield's chances in tonight's outing.

Over at Harrison, the pesky Panthers should overpower the inexperienced Trojans of Fountain. After thrashing their opponents last week, the Panthers are riding high for tonight's game and will be guided by junior quarterback Bill Doud who has all the moves and the passing arm to develop into a first rate field general.

Irving will also have a corps of capable backs in Jerry Williams, Rich Larsen, Harold Oldham and the team's workhorse Dick Maki.

For the Trojans, Joe Keegan will count on quarterback Brian O'Neill to direct the Fountain forward attack. At fullback, the Trojans will have scrappy Joe Martinez who also is equally talented on defense, and the backfield will be rounded out by slotback Dan Grigsby and 180-pound halfback Fred Daniels.

Ent Team In Softball AF Finals

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — The Ent AFB softball team of Colorado Springs earned a berth in the Air Force World - Wide Softball Tournament here tonight as they continued their winning streak Thursday night with a 5-3 victory over Kirtland AFB, N.M.

The Ent team, recent victors of the Air Defense Command tournament, will meet the winners of today's semi-finals. Ent will have two fireballing pitchers in 'Bama Carden, who tossed a no-hitter earlier this week in the Air Force Tournament, and veteran campaigner Jim Swilley.

In other games Thursday, the Alaskan Air command represented by Elmendorf AFB, eliminated Travis AFB, Calif., of the Military Air Transport Services, 3-2, in the double-elimination tournament.

Maxwell AFB, Ala., of the United Air Command, eliminated McClellan AFB, Calif., of the Loggistic Command, 1-0.

The Ent team is the only squad undefeated in tourney play.

T-Birds Aim for Big Upset In Lakewood Battle Tonight

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Colorado's high class prep football receives another of its yearly booster shots tonight when Lakewood and Wasson, annually two of the state's finest high school squads, square off at Wasson Stadium for what promises to be one of the top gridiron attractions in this area during 1964.

The two stout rivals wend their way into the yearly clash via vastly different routes. Lakewood was an awesome early-season machine last Friday nite when the Tigers smashed defending AAA champion, Boulder 39-7. That same evening an error-swamped Wasson squad was bowing to Aurora Central, 19-6.

Those early fall frolics, which will actually have little bearing on the outcome this evening, will still establish the Jefferson County League club as a solid two touchdown favorite. Kickoff time for the battle is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Lakewood's overall success in Colo. football during the past few seasons approaches the legendary — and is probably surpassed only by the Tigers' ability to stymie the Thunderbirds. Wasson, which has never had a losing football team since the school's inception in 1959, can trace more than one-third of its defeats to the Tigers and the T-Birds have suffered both extremes in frustration against the Jeffco school. A 34-0 lashing in 1962 still retains its bite as one of Wasson's worst gridiron embarrassments, while outcomes such as the 13-12 setback in 1961, a 28-19 defeat in 1962, and last fall's stinging 6-0 reversal carry even worse memories.

To outline the T-Birds' utter lack of good fortune against the upstate school: In the 13-12 loss in 1961 the Thunderbirds held the upper-hand almost throughout until a fumbled pass from center on a punt attempt was picked up by a Lakewood lineman and returned for the winning touchdown; In the 28-19 defeat in 1962 the T-Birds, who had lost 34-0 to the same club earlier in the season, methodically punched out three well-executed touchdown drives, only to see each one wiped out by a long-distance strike by the swift Tiger backfield within a few plays after it had scored; and in the 6-0 setback last fall, a much smaller Wasson team pushed the Tigers' huge forwards all over the field, had a 70 yard touchdown run by fullback Mike Teague nullified by a penalty, fumbled away a scoring chance at the Lakewood two yard line, and lost only when the Tigers struck on a long scoring pass which was their only offense display of note during the evening.

With this background, Coach Gib Funk can be expected to bring his 1964 Thunderbird version into tonight's game revved for an evening of furious action. Wasson will again be giving away weight in both the line and backfield, but probably not to the extent shown on the program. The Thunderbirds were also listed as a much smaller team than Aurora Central last weekend but in most cases they were looking the Trojans straight in the eye.

In the Aurora loss, the T-Birds rarely had an opportunity to put together a sustained offense. Seven fumbles plus other early season errors had the club spinning its wheels most of the night. In addition, the Thunderbirds did not show the usual sharp pursuit of earlier Wasson clubs, although basically both the offense and defense showed fine potential.

Throughout the past week the Wasson staff has effected a few personnel changes, but will still go with basically the same unit that opened the campaign. Senior Rod Wells is expected to draw the call at quarterback with lightfooted Jim Smith, one of the state's fine high school runners, ready to go at left-half. Bob Oyler and Budgie Hamilton share the fullback post and Funk is prepared to move 138-pound junior, Bruce Meade in at right-half.

The line will be basically the same unit which faced Aurora Central last Friday, with a few exceptions. One is senior Mike Martin, one of the squad's better pass receivers, who will take over at the left flank on offense. Dave Kendrick, who started at a tackle last week, will move to center and will probably be replaced by senior Tom Benson, although line coach Dick Westbay said that spot is still open.

Lakewood will come into the Wasson game with an all-veteran backfield but the Tigers reportedly will be missing fullback Bill Schmitz, one of their most punishing runners. Schmitz was injured in the Boulder contest. The Lakewood line, although heavy as usual, returns only a single starter from the 1963 unit. Still the Tigers figure as one of Colorado's finest prep aggregations and a victory for either club tonight will provide it with a solid boost in the state's high school rankings.

THUNDERBIRD SPARKPLUG — Despite his size of under 150 pounds, Wasson's senior dart, Jim Smith, is one of the most feared runners in the area. Smith will display his wares tonight at Wasson Stadium as the Thunderbirds aim for an upset of Lakewood, the only regularly scheduled team that the T-Birds have never beaten. Game time is set for 7:30.

Money Is Missing From Golf Series

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Almost everything has arrived for the World Series of Golf except the money — and it is on the way air mail special delivery.

The winners of golf's four major titles — Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi, Tony Lema and Bobby Nichols — will square off in the 36-hole television special Saturday and Sunday at the Firestone Country Club course.

They began drifting into town Thursday and were scheduled to play their first practice round today. The last six holes of the practice round will be on camera in a dry run for the television show Saturday and Sunday.

Walter Schwimmer, a Chicago television producer who devised this World Series two years ago, also arrived, but he forgot to bring the money.

It is a lot of money, too.

First prize is $50,000 and second $15,000. Others console themselves with $5,000 each.

"We give honest to gosh checks on this show," Schwimmer said. "No fakes. You can take them out and cash them. Only trouble is I forgot to bring the checks."

Schwimmer hastily dispatched a request for four checks from his Chicago office and anticipated they would arrive by air mail special delivery long before the final putt is holed for the cameras on Sunday.

Lema, the British Open champion, was the first player to arrive in Akron, but he passed up a chance to play the extremely difficult Firestone course Thursday.

"If I could get away with it I might not play any practice rounds at all," said Lema. "I'm just not playing very well.

"It's not any one thing. I'm just generally not sharp. But, of course, I hope I'll come around for this big money."

Lema has been playing the poorest golf, comparatively of any of the four champions recently. Palmer, who captured the Masters back in April, also tied for second in the PGA and has been a consistent factor on the tour of late.

Nichols, the PGA titlist, scooped up the rich Carling Open in late August and is at the top of his game. He has a tendency to run in streaks and may be on one.

Venturi, the comeback story of the past several years in golf since he won the U.S. Open in the blazing heat of Washington in June, has played beautiful golf all summer.

Oddly enough the man who has won both previous big jackpots in this World Series, Jack Nicklaus, will not be here, even though he lives just down the road in Columbus.

Nicklaus failed to win a major title for the first time since he turned professional in late 1962. He tied for second in the Masters this year, was second in the British Open and tied Palmer for second in the PGA, shooting 64 on the final round, but could not break through.

Nicklaus will have to console himself with the $100,000 he has won on the tour this year, and join the television viewers of the show.

GOOD OLD 1918 AT CENTRE

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The 1918 Centre College football team included several men of future prominence.

Four of the players were John Sherman Cooper, now U.S. senator from Kentucky; Bo McMillin, who later gained fame as Indiana University football coach; Ed Diddle, who retired as Westrn Kentucky State College basketball coach this year after winning more games at one collge than any other coach; and Matty Bell, who went on to national prominance as football coach and athletic director at Southern Methodist University.

Padres' Bid for Title Increased by PCL Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Diego Padres stomped all the fire out of Spokane's late surge to take the Pacific Coast League's Western Division crown by winning the third of their four-game series 4-2 Thursay night.

Only a miracle could put the Indians back in the running. They now are four games behind with only four games to go before the regular season ends Sunday.

Meanwhile, the Portland Beavers continued only 1½ games behind the front-running Padres with an 8-2 drubbing of Seattle.

Each of the teams in the tight divisional race has only four games left to play.

The winner of the division flag will meet Arkansas, which sewed up the Eastern Division title earlier this week, in a best-of-seven series for the league pennant beginning Tuesday.

Hal Smith put the Padres in front of Spokane with a home run in the second inning. San Diego added two more in the sixth.

The Indians, scoring one run in the eighth and ninth innings, had the tying runs on base when Ken Walters ended it with a shoestring catch of a fly ball by Spokane Dick Nen.

Seattle's downfall was the fifth straight win for Portland. The Beavers collected 16 hits.

Elsewhere in the West, Tacoma's Howie Koplitz held Hawaii to five scattered hits as the Giants beat the Islanders 3-1.

In the East, Arkansas stretched its division lead to six games over Oklahoma City. The Travelers shut out last-place Dallas 1-0 on four-hit pitching by Fergie Jenkins, who also knocked in his team's only run with a double.

In the only other Eastern Division action, Salt Lake clobbered Denver 10-1.

Oklahoma City and Indianapolis were idle.

Panthers Rule as Favorite In Opening TV Grid Game

By ED SCHUYLER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh's Panthers, one of the nation's powers in 1963, meets UCLA, hoping to rebound from a poor season past year, in the first major game of the 1964 college football program Saturday.

A crowd of between 35,000 and 40,000 is expected at Pitt Stadium for the national television game over the NBC network. Kickoff time is noon, EST.

Only a scattering of games are on the card this week. Trinty University of San Antonio is at Houston Saturday night, British Columbia plays Montana at Missoula, and there are several other minor tussles.

Eight of the nation's top teams of 1963 headed by No. 1 Texas, swing into action the following weekend, along with many other major squads. The season goes full blast the week after.

Pittsburgh posted a 9-1 record, its best since 1937, and ranked fourth in the nation last year. UCLA had a 2-8 record, including a 20-0 loss to Pitt. The Panthers hold a 4-2 series edge over the Bruins.

The weather forecast predicted rain and temperatures in the 70s.

Rain could blunt the attack of both teams, since each is armed with good passers.

Larry Zeno and Stevel Sindell will do the passing for UCLA, while all-around threat Fred Mazurek, beginning his final season, will do most of the throwing for the favored Panthers.

He will be backed up, as he was last season, by Ken Lucas.

Zeno and Sindell will have for targets seven of the team's eight best receivers in 1963. They are headed by Kurt Altenberg, who grabbed 24 passes last year.

Las Animas Gridder Dies Of Head Injury

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Kenneth Stout, 17, starting halfback on the Las Animas, Colo., football team, died Thursday of a brain hemorrhage at a Pueblo hospital about 24 hours after he was injured in a practice scrimmage.

Surgeons who participated in a 3½ hour operation said Stout, who weighed 130 pounds, had an abnormal blood vessel just beneath his skull. This apparently ruptured when Stout suffered a blow on his helmet during a practice play.

He sank into a coma on the field moments after the play and never regained consciousness. He was taken to the Pueblo hospital after emergency treatment at Las Animas.

The boy was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stout of Las Animas.

British Capture Curtis Cup Lead

Compiled from Wire Dispatches

PORTHCAWL, Wales—Great Britain won two of three Scotch Foursome matches Friday morning to take a 2-1 lead over the favored United States team in the 1964 Curtis Cup Matches.

Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, the U.S. Amateur Champion, was on one of the losing twosomes. She and Phyllis Ann Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla. were defeated by Mrs. Marley Spearman and Angela Bonallack, 3 and 2.

Other results saw Carol Sorenson of Jaynesville, Wis. and Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La. defeat Bridget Jackson and Susan Armitage of Britain, 8 and 6. Ruth Porter and Sheila Vaughan of Great Britain captured the other match, defeating three-time U. S. Amateur Champion, JoAnne Gunderson, and Nancy Roth, 3 and 2.

Today's schedule called for 6 singles matches to follow in the afternoon. Saturday the Matches will conclude with a similar schedule, three Scotch Foursomes in the morning and six singles in the P.M. The United States team was a 2-1 favorite going into the action. The U. S. has lost only twice in Curtis Cup competition and in the last meeting of the two nations, the Americans stroked to a resounding 8-1 triumph at the Broadmoor Golf Club in Colorado Springs. That was in 1962.

Singles pairings for this afternoon matched Miss McIntire against Mrs. Spearman, the English Amateur champ. Others sent Miss Gunderson against Mrs. Bonallack; Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash. against Joan Lawrence; Miss White against Julia Greenhalgh, Miss Sorenson against Miss Jackson, and Miss Roth against Miss Porter.

The Royal Porthcawl Course runs beside the Bristol Channel and is a tough one by any standards. The weather conditions can change very quickly & the hole you played at one moment, requiring a drive and a seven iron, might call for a drive and another wood at the next.

Mrs. Theodore Hawes of Summit, N. J., the non-playing captain of the U. S. team, said she had left 17-yearold Peggy Conley out of the foursomes because of headaches. Peggy wears contact lenses and the glare apparently contributed to her trouble. Miss Conley is the youngest to ever play on a Curtis Cup team.

Scotch Foursomes
Carol Sorenson, Janesville, Wis., and Barbara Fay White, Shreveport, La., defeated Bridget Jackson and Susan Armitage, Britain, 8 and 6.
Ruth Porter and Sheila Vaughan, Britain, defeated JoAnne Gunderson, Seattle, and Nancy Roth, Hollywood, Fla., 3 and 2.
Mrs. Marley Spearman and Angela Bonallack, Britain, defeated Barbara McIntire, Colorado Springs, Colo. and Phyllis Ann Preuss, Pompano Beach, Fla., 2 and 1.

Full Slate of PPL Games On Tap for Weekend

The eight teams in the Pikes Peak League officially kick-off their 1964 campaign tonight and Saturday after the abbreviated slate last weekend.

Six of the PPL teams are engaged in non-league competition tonight while Buena Vista plays host to Center in Saturday's single outing. Leadville is the lone PPL team idle this weekend after losing to Buena Vista last Friday.

Tonight's agenda calls for Fountain at Harrison; Manitou Springs at Sheridan Union; Crowly County at Los Animas; Florence at Walsenburg; Fowler at Manzanola; and the PPL favorite Salida plays host to Alamosa.

Despite the fact that Don Schmidli's Salida gridders dropped their 1964 opener to arch-rivals Canon City last weekend, the Spartans are heavy favorites to sew up the PPL championship under the new management. Schmidli has constructed a strong basketball program at Salida, winning the State Class AA title last winter, and the personable mentor is expected to find the same success on the gridiron.

The Spartans have a big line and with 230-pound fleet-footed fullback Ken Williams knocking people about, the Salida group should clinch the PPL crown.

Larry Olsen, in his second term at Manitou Springs, has the personnel to better his 2-6 won-loss in the PPL chase last season. But the 1963 PPL edition had such schools as Cheyenne Mountain, Air Academy High, Widefield and Harrison which proved too powerful for the smaller schools such as the present members in the PPL.

Fountain will have its hands full attempt to stop the ignited Panthers of Harrison after the latter team thrashed fellow PPL member Crowley County, 46-0, last week.

Harness Racer Dies After Spill

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — A 55-year-old harness racing driver from Wyandot County was injured fatally Thursday night during the first race at the Van Wert country fair.

Barney Bell of Nevada, Ohio, was thrown from the sulky and trampled by two horses in front of the packed grandstand.

Sheriff Wilmer L. Clay said Bell was driving R. E. King, owned by Ralph Karg of Bucyrus, in the second heat of the free-for-all pace. Bell was third from the rail as the nine-horse field came in front of the grandstand, the sheriff said.

As Bell attempted to cut in front, R. E. King apparently stumbled. The sheriff said Bell was thrown from the sulky and run over by the other two horses.

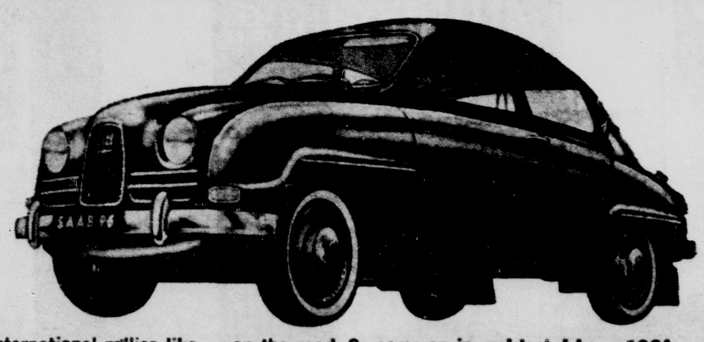
want to drive the world's leading rally winner?



If you don't keep up with international rallies like England's RAC and the Classic Monte Carlo, you may not appreciate how solidly built a car must be to stand up to these tortuous endurance runs. SAAB does, year after year . . . and wins. Because of its unusual 2-stroke engine/front-wheel drive power system*, SAAB consistently beats larger, more powerful cars. SAAB—a 5-passenger family sedan, not a sports car—takes more rally wins than any car in the world.

Needless to say, it performs like nothing else on the road. So come on in and test-drive a 1964 SAAB. You just can't believe people still take the trouble to build a car as great as this one.

Chris Short Paces Phillies Crucial Win Over Cards

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I feel I'm a better pitcher than the batter is a hitter," says Chris Short.

The Philadelphia ace proved his point again Thursday but this time went one step further.

He showed he was a better hitter than all of the St. Louis batters combined by driving home the first two runs in the National League-leading Phillies' 5-1 victory over the Cardinals.

Short, in fact, belted two hits — a key triple and a single — in four times at bat, almost doubling his season hit production, which had been three, and raising his average from .063 to .096. The runs batted in did equal his previous output.

The 26-year-old hurler came to the plate in the second inning with runners at first and third and one out. He promptly lashed a triple to the right field bullpen, bringing in Tony Taylor and Ruben Amaro with the first two runs of a five-run outburst.

Short's pitching, meanwhile, didn't suffer. He held the Cardinals to six hits while striking out 12 and walking one.

The victory was his 16th — he has seven losses — tying him with Jim Bunning as the team's winningest pitcher. The southpaw's earned run average — 1.89 — is second only to Sandy Koufax' 1.74 among NL pitchers.

Short's over-all performance was particularly vital because the victory boosted the Phillies' lead to six games over St. Louis, Cincinnati and San Francisco.

A defeat would have moved the Cardinals to within four games of the top with the Phillies facing an important three-game series starting in San Francisco tonight. No one has been as close as four games behind Philadelphia since Aug. 15.

The Reds blanked Pittsburgh 3-0 Friday night while the Giants knocked off Los Angeles 5-1. Milwaukee nipped New York 7-7 and Chicago edged Houston 4-3 in National League afternoon games.

Johnny Callison's two-run homer climaxed the Phillies' early, but winning, rally, which was aided by errors by Ken Boyer and Dick Groat. The Cardinals scored their lone run in the second on a walk to Boyer, a single by Charley James and Bill White's double.

Bob Purkey, 10-8, pitched a five-hitter against the Pirates. The Reds scored all of their runs in the sixth inning. Bob Friend hit Pete Rose with a pitch, then gave up singles to Vada Pinson, Frank Robinson and Deron Johnson for two runs. The last run came across on a force play.

Billy Pierce, making his first start of the season, allowed six hits before needing relief help from Jim Duffalo in the eighth inning. Pierce, 3-0, singled across the last Giant run in the seventh. Jim Hart cracked his 27 homer, a two-run blast, in San Francisco's first inning.

Larry Jackson became the majors' second 19-game winner, scattering eight hits before needing relief help from Lindy McDaniel in the ninth inning.

The Colts rocked Jackson, who has lost 10 times, for three runs in the sixth, but the Cubs rallied for three runs in their half of the inning. Ernie Banks doubled across two runs and later scored on a wild pitch by reliver Hal Woodeshick.

The Braves snapped a 4-4 tie against the Mets in the eighth inning on Lee Maye's fourth straight hit, a single, and Rico Carty's 17th homer. Felipe Alou doubled home what turned out to be the winning run in the ninth.

Converted Linebackers Helping AFA Defense

By LOY HOLMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Editor

Anytime a team drops a baker's dozen lettermen through graduation the loss is going to be felt severely. That's especially true when they include such players as All-America mentioned Terry Isaacson at quarterback veterans Todd Jagerson and Dick Morris at guards and a trio of centers.

A couple of those centers, Joe Rodwell and Dave Sicks, were also mentioned for national honors — with Sicks making the list on at least one All-America squad. This twosome formed one of the most respected and valuable line backing teams in the country.

It was no secret that Rodwell and Sicks were the hub of the Air Force Academy's defense and without them in the lineup it undoubtedly would have been an impossibility for the Falcons to come up with their surprisingly good 7-3 won-lost record.

As has been the style of many modern collegiate teams, a "funnel" defense was used with the rest of the linemen protecting the flanks and pushing opposing runners into the eager grasp of these on-coming linebackers, who played a catch-as-catch-can roving position.

Naturally, this position became a critical one to fill when this pair pinned on gold bars of a second lieutenant at graduation. But those close to the practice field at the Acadmy in early drills this fall feel there may be a couple on their way towards plugging this gap by the time the first game rolls around.

Currently back-stopping the line with the No. 1 defensive unit for the Falcons are letterman center Wendell Harkeroad and converted fullback Larry Tollstam. Both are seniors with two seasons of varsity play behind them. Harkleroad, from Whitwell, Tenn., weighed in at 202 pounds ,and Tollstam, from Lansing, Mich., is four pounds heavier.

Actually, Harkleroad was in Coach Ben Martin's plans all along to step into one of the regular linebacking jobs. He was one of the strongest on the team at guard a year ago,and when switched to his new position last spring he proved to be one of the most bruising tacklers with the AFA.

Tollstam, however, has been one of the most pleasant surprises on the squad. And the transition to a defensive specialist has been smoother than some had expected.

Somewhat like the two outstanding defenders mentioned above, Tollstam started his Air Force football career as strictly an offender. Tollstam was a near sensation at fullback as a sophomore, using his powerful legs to churn off 414 yards in rushing to rate tops on the team in that department with a 4.7 yard average. He reeled off 50 more yards than even the great Isaacson that season.

Sicks, a fullback, and Rodwell, who once was a fine Freshman quarterback, also had their day to shine on offense. But when the team's need dictated, they used their talents to the best advantage of the defense.

Last year Tollstam was still among the leaders in the Falcons offense, dashing for 284 yards on 70 carries. But toward the latter part of the season he was playing less and less, while such eager newcomers as Steve Amdor and Ron Murray were taking over the ball carrying chores.

So at the start of this fall's drills, Tollstam had a choice to make. Either he would have to beat out Amdor, who ended up the '63 season as Martin's regular fullback, plus promising sophomore John Ondrejko, a 204-pounder from Yukon, Pa., or try to help the team and himself by concentrating on defense.

This was perhaps a difficult decision for Tollstam; giving up the glory that naturally goes to the offensive backs in favor of the often thankless task of stopping opponents in the middle of the line. But it also was a decision to earn a spot where he would be able to play in more games.

To make things even tougher for the AFA's newest linebacker, he had seldom seen action on defense before. Oddly enough, he was one of the players to head for the sidelines when the ball changed hands and the Falcons went on defense.

But this season Larry seems to have made up his mind that smashing people to the ground can be just as satisfying as carrying the ball. At least that's the impression from the scrimmage sessions in the first few weeks this autumn.

Tollstam obviously has taken on a new, more aggressive attitude. And it's paying off in playing time for him and a much more solid defense in the middle of the line than at least some observers anticipated for the Cadets this year.

So unless injuries should interfere between now and a week from this Saturday (Sept. 19) when the Air Force Academy goes on defense against the University of Washington in the opener for both schools at Seattle, a husky converted guard and a one-time offensive leader at fullback will be plugging the line from one of the key positions on the team.

BOLSTER FALCON DEFENSE—Larry Tollstam, 206-pound senior fullback from Lansing, Mich, has been switched this season to almost exclusive defensive action for the Falcons of the Air Force Academy. Tollstam was the leading ground gainer for the AFA as a sophomore and second in rushing to quarterback Terry Isaacson last year. But a shortage at the linebacking position made it necessary for someone to take up the speciality —and so far Tollstam seems to have fit the bill. The AFA opens up a week from Saturday against the University of Washington at Seattle.

Battle of Sexes Scheduled For RMKC Feature Tonight

The boys will be racing the girls at the Rocky Mountain Kennel Club tonight as they run the featured race over the Peak Course in a match styled "The Queens versus the Kings."

Always a popular subject for discussion as to whether it is the male or the female of the specie that is the stronger, there will be the opportunity to decide the argument, at least in one race tonight, as the four outstanding greyhounds of each sex running in the current meet at RMKC take to the oval.

Greyhounds that will break the boxes, (in post position order), are; Another Johnny from the Frank Pierce Kennel; Cecil Wilson's Mr. Cane; Miss Whirl from the Larry Hughes' Kennel; Oscar Evers' El Camino Rose; Friend W. from the Shamrock Kennel; the Cen-Tex Kennel's Miss K. Dex; Nixon Go who has a home in Mrs. Frank Hall's Summit Kennels; and S. W. Pat's Boy from the Joe Mamino string of greyhounds.

Thursday night in the 10th race, F. B. Stutz's Scrooge Mosher came in for his sixth straight money win from as many starts. He broke last from the number five box but finished a good 2½ lengths ahead of G.A. Alderson's Time Honor. Scrooge Mosher paid $7.60, $3.40 and $2.40 with Time Honor paying $7.80 and $3.60. The 5-6 Quinlela combination paid $16.60.

In the featured ninth race it was the Cen-Tex Kennel's Dutez, whose two efforts have been two wins at the top. Pay-off was $5.80, $5.00 and $4.40.

Racing is being held at RMKC where their 16th annual meet will present its 180th program of the season tonight. RMKC is located north of downtown Colorado Springs on the Denver highway and racing is held nightly, except Sundays. RMKC will close its season on Oct. 31, which will also mark the close of the greyhound racing season in Colorado for 1964.

Orioles Maintain Lead With Win Over Senators

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The bases are loaded and your best hitter is up. He bangs into a triple play, but you don't worry. A run scores on the play and that sort of thing happens only to winners.

As long as Hank Bauer's Baltimore Orioles are winners, he can take the triple plays in stride. Especially if they produce runs. That's what happened in the midst of Baltimore's 12-5 victory over Washington Thursday night.

The Orioles had scored eight runs in the fourth inning and looked to be ready for some more in the fifth when Jerry Adair, Luis Aparicio and Boog Powell opened with consecutive singles loading the bases. Brooks Robinson, who had seven straight hits was the batter.

Robinson bounced to Senator shortstop John Kennedy and Adair scored as Kennedy flipped to Don Blasingame, who relayed to Joe Cunningham to complete the seemingly routine double play. But when Aparicio tried to score too, Cunningham's throw to catcher Mike Brumley caught Aparicio and produced the American League's first triple play of the season. Four triple plays had been previously recorded in the National League.

The victory kept the Orioles one game in front of Chicago, which went 10 innings before nipping Minnesota 3-2, and 1½ up on third place New York, which used home run power to drop Detroit 5-2. In the only other American League game played, Cleveland edged Boston 5-4.

Robinson had a big night except for the triple play. He rapped three singles and a double in the 17-hit Oriole attack, scoring two runs and knocking in two.

Sam Bowens contributed a three-run homer in the Orioles' big inning and also had a run-scoring double. Milt Pappas parlayed the heavy support into his 15th victory and seventh in a row.

Ron Hansen rifled his 17th homer of the season off loser Jim Kaat in the 10th inning for Chicago's victory over Minnesota. Hansen's shot came on a 3-0 pitch.

Sox starter Joel Horlen and Kaat had dueled through eight innings before Horlen left for a hitter. Hoyt Wilhelm finished up and won it for Chicago.

Elston Howard crashed a three-run homer and that was all Al Downing needed for his 12th victory as the Yankees kept pace. Joe Pepitone also homered for New York.

Downing limited the Tigers to five hits, one of them Al Kaline's 14th homer.

Pitcher Sonny Siebert and rookie Chico Salmon ripped home runs for the Indians and Don McMahon's tight relief protected the victory over the Red Sox. Dick Stuart belted his 31st homer and Tony Conigliaro got his 21st, both with a man on for Boston.

Eddie Crowder Orders Stiff Drills for Buffs

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Coach Eddie Crowder, displeased by performances in a scrimmage Thursday, ordered stiff workouts today and Saturday for Colorado's football team.

The first three teams romped to a 30-6 victory over the other squad members but the results failed to satisy Crowder.

There were two bright spots for the first team. Quarterback Hale Irwin and halfback Bill Symons teamed on long gaining pass plays and fullback Ben Howe broke loose on a 56-yard touchdown run.

Cheyenne Tennis Team Defeats Pueblo South

The Cheyenne Mountain tennis team won its second straight match of the season when the Indians defeated Pueblo South Wednesday in Pueblo, 7-1.

This was the second win over a Pueblo team from Coach Bob Grive's Cheyenne club as the Tribe dropped highly regarded Pueblo Central last week.

In the singles competition against South, Bill Pearce (Cheyenne) defeated Marvin Wilson, 6-1, 8-6; Steve Walrod (Cheyenne) downed Fred Arnold, 6-4, 6-2; Ed Greenhood (South) defeated Dick Miller, 6-4, 6-3; Fred Ritchie (Cheyenne) defeated Ron Ferguson, 7-5, 6-2; and Scott Lewis (Cheyenne) topped Lonnie Crombe, 6-3, 6-0.

The Cheyenne duo of Miller and Ritchie defeated Wilson and Arnold, 7-5, 8-6; and the Tribe's Lewis and Mack Mays topped Crombe and Ron Truman, in one-set victory, 8-6. In singles exhibition play, Ken Ormond of Cheyenne defeated Truman, 8-6, 6-4.

The Indians meet Harrison in their next outing Tuesday.

NFL's 45th Year Promises Tight Race in Two Divisions

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Football League opens its 45th season this weekend and the right combination of old faces and new attacks could produce two of the tightest division struggles in league history.

Dallas and St. Louis jump the gun with the early opener Saturday night at Dallas. All other teams get started Sunday with Chicago at Green Bay, New York at Philadelphia, Cleveland at Washington, Baltimore at Minnesota, Los Angeles at Pittsburgh, and Detroit at San Francisco.

In the Western Division, Green Bay looks for the return of Paul Hornung, pro football's Golden Boy, to lead the Packers back to the top of the heap. Green Bay finished second to the Chicago Bears in 1963 with Hornung sitting out a season-long suspension for betting on games.

The Bears, NFL champions a year ago, were dealt a stunning blow in the early stages of the training season when Willie Galimore and John Farrington were killed in an auto accident.

The Packers are rated the slight edge in their clash with the Bears Sunday, mostly on th strength of Green Bay's 21-7 exhibition victory over Chicago.

Returning along with Hornung is Alex Kareras, the mammoth Detroit tackle who could make the Lions a title threat. Detroit poses a formidable defensive line but age could be a factor with seven starters over 30. The Lions visit San Francisco with the 49ers rebuilding around young George Mira, the Miami, Fla., quarterback flash.

An aging defense also could be the stalling factor for Baltimore's Colts, another Western hopeful. But the years don't seem to catch up with quarterback Johnny Unitas, who enjoyed an oustanding exhibition season. Fullback Tony Lorick keeps the defenses honest, too. The Colts get a stern test in their opener, meeting Minnsota.

The Vikings enjoyed an undefeated exhibition season, finishing 5-0. Fran Tarkenton and Ron VanderKelen handle the signal calling with Tommy Mason the chief threat on the ground.

The Los Angeles Rams, rebuilding under Harland Svare, could start moving up the Western Division ladder with a tou defensive line anchored by ex-New York Giant Roosevelt Grier. The Rams open against 1963's Eastern Division runners-up, the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Steelers have been slow egtting started but have some tough runnrsin Dick Hoak, ex-Giant Phil King and John Henry Johnson. The loss of middle linebacker Myron Pottios, out for the season with a broken arm, should hurt, though.

The Giants have undergone a face-lifting with familiar names like Sam Huff, Dick Modzewleski and King gone. The defending Eastern titlists still depend on aging Y. A. Tittle for their offensive punch with a corps of Eagle's to the Bald pass-catchers keyed patterns.

New York opens against rebuilding Philadelphia which was the most active trader during the off-season. The Eagles provided the Giants with their only exhibition victory, 28-17.

The Cleveland-Washington esting Eastern lid-lifter of all. The Browns unleashed a massive passing attack and rolled up heavy scores during the exhibition season. The Redskins did well. They have a newly-created attack built around quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, acquired from Philadelphia, and end Angelo Coia, picked up from Chicago.

The Browns have been throwing the ball and using Jimmy Brown, the NFL's all-time ground gaining leader, as a secondary weapon so far. Huff, picked up from the Giants, anchors a toughened Redskin defense. His ex-teammate, Modzewleski, is with Cleveland.

St. Louis, has a tough air game built around quarterback Charley Johnson and pass catchers Sonny Randle and Bobby Joe Conrad. The Cards' defense is something of a question mark.

The Cowboys promise an explosive attack with pass catchers Buddy Dial, acquired from Pittsburgh, and Tommy McDonald from Philadelphia but quarterback Don Meredith's bad knee could throw a monkey wrench into it.

Cities' Tug of War Has Cleveland Club in Middle

CLEVELAND (AP) — With other big cities trying to pull the Indians out of Cleveland, the city's newspapers, officials and fans are starting to tug in the opposite direction.

Seattle wants the Indians. Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul says he has been approached by 10 to 12 other cities. Paul said the Indians' losses this year are expected to exceed the $1.2 million the club lost in 1963.

"I don't intend to go broke in Cleveland," Paul said.

Paul planned to meet today with Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who said that a "high-level" meeting of Cleveland's top business and industry leaders would be called soon by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Indians' 15-year lease at the stadium ends Dec. 31. The Tribe declined to renew its option in June.

Paul has said repeatedly he has made no commitment to any other city — at least not yet.

Earlier this month the Cleveland Plain Dealer started a campaign to get people to come to the Indians' remaining home games. The result was an outpouring of letters to the newspaper, urging the Tribe to stay in town. Many letters contained money for tickets.

The Plain Dealer today printed a coupon on its sports page, asking fans to check off one of five plans for 1965 season tickets, then to mail the coupon.

The Plain Dealer baseball writer, Russell Schneider, writing from Seattle, said the Seattle Chamber of Commerce is promoting a vigorous campaign to sell 8,000 season tickets to lure a major league franchise.

In a story today, Schneider said Royal Brougham, sports editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, is "practically sure" the Indians will move to the Pacific Northwest.

"This campaign to lure the Indians is no wild dream," Brougham told Schneider. "It's a well planned campaign to get them."

In Cleveland last week, City Council President James V. Stanton suggested that the city offer the stadium to the Indians rent free until the club can pull out of the red.

Locher backed Stanton's plan but chief counsel Daniel J. O'Loughlin said Thursday the plan was not legal. He suggested, instead, a graduated rental that would follow the ups and downs of the Indians' attendance.

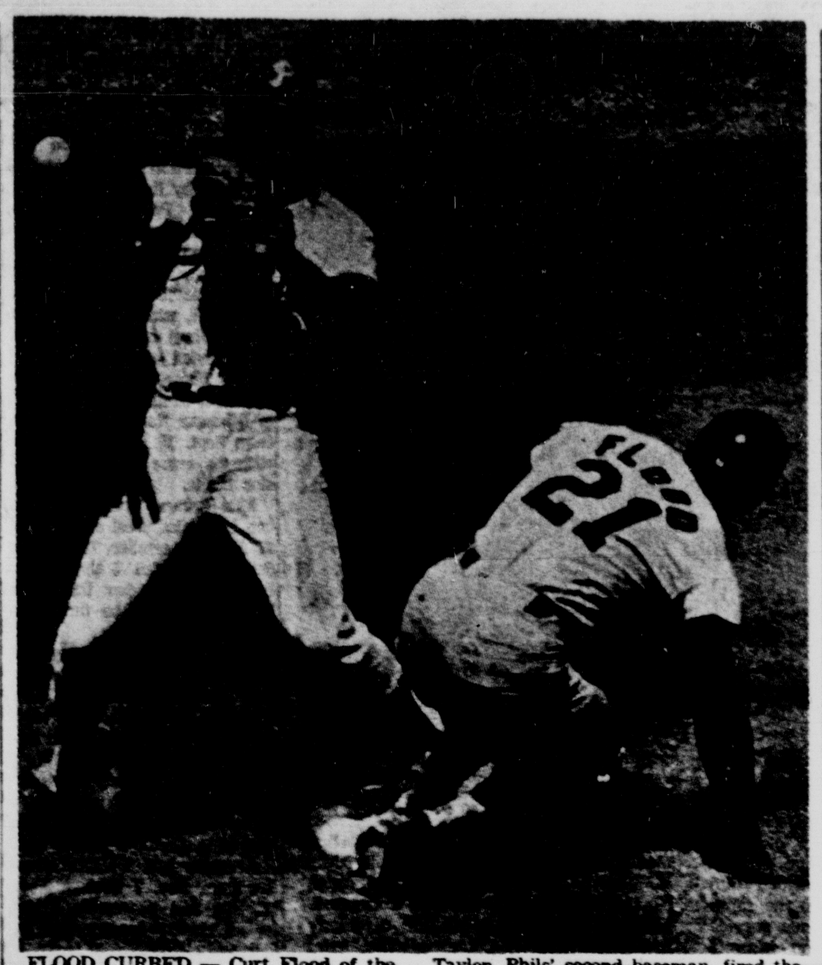
Cleveland attendance has dropped steadily from 1,335,472 in 1954 and hit an 18-year low of 562,507 last season. Attendance to date is 564,058.

Paul said he has found it difficult to come to a decision on whether or not to keep the Indians in Cleveland. He hopes to come up with a decision at a board of directors' meeting late this month.

Finley Threatens Sale of Club To Outsiders

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charles O. Finley says he'll sell the Kansas City Athletics to outsiders if Kansas City people don't buy the baseball club within two weeks.

His asking price still is $8 million, Finley said Thursday by telephone from his Chicago office, but the club doesn't have to be sold.



FLOOD CURBED — Curt Flood of the St. Louis Cardinals was forced out on the front end of a first-inning double play Thursday at Philadelphia. Tony Taylor, Phils' second baseman, fired the ball to Vic Power at first base to get Dick Groat, who hit the ball to Ruben Amaro. (AP Wirephoto)

One Night Racing at PP Speedway

Stock car racing will resume on Saturday night only this weekend with fans enjoying two nights of action at the Pikes Peak Speedway. Some of the best racing of the season was seen last Saturday as 64 cars entered the pits and about half that many left some four hours later in not as good condition.

The first race of the night, the Phil Long Ford trophy dash, saw Vern Root lose control on the very first lap and roll three times in front of the east grandstands. Root was not hurt, but his car didn't fare so well.

Some time later Lewis Carson hit the fence in front on the judges' booth, demolishing the electronic timing equipment and snapping off the light pole which holds the public address system. The wires held it up for the remainder of the evening.

Also, one car rolled in the south turn while yet another shewed up the fence posts in the same turn like they were pretzels. Last but not least, Mehlon Saunders was leading the 30 lap main event and on the 28th lap when a loose wheel forced him to lose control and his auto hit the fence in front of the flag stand, losing his right front wheel along with various other essential parts.

It took a crew 20 hours to put the track back into running condition for Monday's Labor Day special races.

The double point Labor Day races were almost as spectacular. Dennis Webster rolled his car in the back stretch during one of the races and Larry Jacobs ended up beneath the overturned auto.

The Phil Long trophy was won by Jacobs on Monday night, with Dave Faires carting home the B trophy. This was the first trophy victories for both drivers. The track record was also broken during the time trials as Ron Cogdill turned in a time of 16.48 seconds for the one-fifth mile oval.

Over 60 cars were on hand for the racing and the excitement was marred by an accident in the pits when a mechanic was burned by a blown radiator.

Hugh Powell was given the victory flag in the main event 30-lap feature, but the judges ruled he was one lap behind and the win was awarded to Saunders. A Figure 8 race was held and only three of the starting field of 14 cars were able to continue to the finish.

Racing will continue this Saturday with time trials starting at 7 p.m. and the races at 8. Pikes Peak Speedway is located three miles east on Highway 24, on the right side of the road.

Twin D Pays Off 172 Grand

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Robert Froner, his wife of four months, his in-laws and two friends drove out to Roosevelt Raceway in a 1956 Oldsmobile Thursday night.

They could have used a Brink's Truck to get back to their Brooklyn home.

Froner, a 22-year-old architectural draftsman who was trying his hand at the Twin Double for only the second time, rode off with the biggest payoff in TD history — $172,726.80.

The youngster, who has been married only four months, said he had taken his father-in-law's advice betting the last two races after the 4-1 combination had left him with 42 live tickets after the first half of the twin.

"We wheeled six horses in the eighth race and seven in the ninth," he said. "I was standing by the escalator in the last race and when they headed into the stretch and I knew that Roslyn J. was in front, I just prayed."

Froner, his wife Mary, his in laws, Mr. and Mrs. Gaspari Iaci and the third couple, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Cardile, all of Brooklyn, had bet on War Haven, $19.70, in the sixth race and The Operator, $8.40, in the seventh. Their mammoth victory was completed when Don Roberto, $75.80, won the eighth and Roslyn J., $17, took the ninth. The winning numbers were 4-1-8-8.

Thursday night they won — but good.

Here are the five largest twin double payoffs on record. All are for a $2 bet. Winning numbers also listed.

1. $172,726.80, Sept. 10, 1964, Roosevelt Raceway, harness track, 4-1-8-8.
2. $122,232.60, April 28, 1964, Roosevelt Raceway, 7-5-12.
3. $91,691.20, April 30, 1964, Gulfstream Park, 2-7-5, only one live ticket going into last race of the TD, so holder got entire pool even though he didn't have the last winner.
4. $91,161.80, March 7, 1964, Gulfstream Park, 3-5-3-4.
5. $91,161.80, March 30, 1964, Gulfstream Park, 3-5-3-4.

Lowest twin double payoff on record—$65.10, March 2, 1964 at Roosevelt Raceway, 8-3-4-5.

Fay Leads Way Into Third Round

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's Ernie Fay, with 15¼ points, led the way into the third round of the U.S. 5.5 meter championships today.

Fay, skipper of Pride and representing the host Texas Corinthian Yacht Club, was 2¼ points ahead of his brother, Albert Fay, skipper of Flame.

Jim Murphy Seeks Olympic Spot

As lean Jim Murphy, the Air Force Academy's great distance and cross-country runner, left this week for the Olympic Trials in Los Angeles, there were a few mixed emotions arqund the AFA.

The Olympic Trials, slated for this Saturday and Sunday, will determine whether "Mercury Jim" will be on hand to lead the Falcon harriers into their 1964 cross-country season — or whether he'll bring the Academy greater glory and representation on the U. S. Olympic squad in the Tokyo Games this fall.

The finest distance runner ever to enter the Academy, Jim will be seeking a berth in the 5000-meter event.

If he is successful, the Air Force's 1964 cross-country schedule will be even tougher. Among the Falcon opponents this fall are Washington, New Mexico, Notre Dame, Oklahoma State, Michigan, and UCLA — all of whom have the potential to place among the top 15 teams in the nation.

However, Coach Arne Arnesen has six lettermen back from last year's squad, and should provide a stiff test for all opponents whether or not he has Murphy at his disposal. According to Arnesen, "The responsibility and challenge if Murphy is not available, can make the other members of the squad into a better team."

Murphy, a native of Chicago, Ill., was undefeated last year in cross-country competition as he led the Falcons to an outstanding 6-1-1 season.

The 1964 Cross Country Schedule: Sept. 19 — Washington at Seattle, Sept. 26 — Western Michigan and Kearney (Neb.) State at AFA, Oct. 3 — New Mexico and Colorado State U. at AFA, Oct. 10 — Notre Dame at AFA, Oct. 17 — Oklahoma State and Idaho State at AFA, Oct. 24 — Boston College at Boston, Oct. 31 — Arizona at AFA, Nov. 7 — UCLA at Los Angeles.

McKinley Faces Rival Emerson in Finals

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — For the third straight year Chuck McKinley is within two steps of the National Tennis Championship, and this time he thinks he may go all the way.

"I feel that I've been improving with every match," the thick-legged acrobat from San Antonio, Tex., said today. "I am very optimistic about my chances of winning the title."

McKinley, the nation's No. 1 ranked player but fourth seeded in this tournament, entered the semifinals Thursday by beating left-handed Roger Taylor of England 13-11, 9-7, 6-1.

His opponent Saturday is an old rival, Roy Emerson of Australia.

They have another date later this month in the Davis Cup Challenge Round at Cleveland. Emerson advanced Thursday with a 13-11, 8-6, 6-2 triumph over fellow Australian Tony Roche.

"The last time I played Emerson was in the Davis Cup at Adelaide last December," Chuck recalled. "We split the first two sets and I had him 4-1 in the third but let him get away."

McKinley and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., wrested the Cup from the Aussies last year but they figure to have a tough time keeping it from an improved Australian team in Cleveland Sept. 25-27.

The No. 2 Aussie, Fred Stolle, played Ralston, America's other singles player, in the quarter-final today at the West Side Club. The winner must take on the survivor of the match between Britain's Mike Sangster and defending champion Rafael Osuna of Mexico.

Carol Hanks, a scrappy St. Louis miss, knocked out her second seeded player, No. 6 Ann Haydon Jones of England, 7-5, 2-6, 8-6, and went into the semifinals against defending champion Maria Bueno of Brazil, a 6-4, 6-1 victor over Robyn Ebbern of Australia.

The other two quarter-final tests today matched a quartet of Americans, making possible an All-American final Sunday. Third-seeded Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., plays Nancy Richey of Dallas, No. 5. Karen Hantze Susman of San Diego, No. 11, faces Carole Caldwell Graebner of Santa Monica, Calif., No. 9.

The McKinley-Emerson battle may provide the key to America's chances of keeping the big international trophy which has resided in Australia most of the time since World War II.

"Sure, I'm thinking of the Davis Cup this week — you can't help it," McKinley said. "If someone told me I had a choice of either winning the singles championship here or keeping the Cup, I'd say let us keep the Cup.

Perreault Replaces DeLuca for NY Giants

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — Coach Weeb Ewbank has named guard Pete Perreault to replace injured Sam DeLuca on the New York Jets' roster.

DeLuca was placed on the injured deferred list Thursday and will be out of action for two weeks. He suffered a twisted left knee during practice this week. Perreault was on the Jets' reserve squad last season.

Series May Not Have Day for Travel

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1964 World Series will be unique in at least one respect, and possibly in two.

There will be no travel day if only eastern or only midwestern teams are involved, breaking the pattern of recent years, and refuting, says Commissioner Ford Frick, the contention that the travel day was inserted in the Series program just to assure a Sunday television game.

Thus, if the Series is between the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League, and the Baltimore Orioles or New York Yankees of the American League, the Series will start Wednesday, Oct. 7, in the Phillies' park for two games, and move immediately to the American League park for the next three games.

If one team were to win four straight in the best four-out-of-seven the Series could end on Saturday. If the Series is between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds or St. Louis Cardinals there also will be no open day.

Representatives of the three closely bunched American League teams White Sox, Yankees, and Orioles met in Frick's office Thursday with the four National League contenders, the front-running Phillies, plus the Reds, Cardinals, and San Francisco Giants.

These facts were fixed:

The Series will open Oct. 7 in the National League park for the first two games, followed by three in the American League park, then two more if needed in the National League park; Ticket prices will be $12 per game for box seats, $8 for reserved, $4 for unreserved and standing room, and $2 for bleachers, in all cases tax included; All games start at 1 p.m., local time; There would be a travel day between changes except in the situations listed.

The second way this Series could be unique is this:

The American League race is so close there could even be a three-way tie for first. In that case there would be a round-robin elimination, teams dropping out after losing two games.

This could run six days. Even if this could be started on Monday, Oct. 5, the day after the regular season closes, and there were no weather delays, it could run through Oct. 10.

Then there would be an open day, and the Series would start Oct. 12, by which time there could be snow in the air in such cities as Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and possibly Baltimore, and the college and professional football seasons would be approaching the midway point.

If it is just a two way tie in either league, the winner would be settled by a best two-out-of-three playoff. Frick authorized the Yankees, Orioles, White Sox and Phillies to print tickets — an expensive procedure. Frick's office must pay for all tickets printed by clubs that don't make the Series. Last year this cost between $35,000 and $40,000.

TWO MEDALS IN A DAY — When Maj. Frank F. Shelby (right), an Army Air Defense Command training staff officer, completed his tour of duty in Colorado Springs, the Army and the Air Force agreed that he had done a good job. Both services awarded him their Commendation Medal on the same day, citing him for meritorious service reflecting "great credit upon himself and the United States Army." Shelby, who is leaving for the Defense Language Institute at Monterey, Calif., helped program and supervise radar bomb scoring services furnished by Army Nike missile units to combat bomber crews of the strategic Air Command. He is shown receiving the Air Force Commendation Medal from Air Force Maj. Gen. Dorr E. Newton, assistant chief of staff, North American Air Defense Command. Minutes separated a similar ceremony in which the Army Commendation Medal was presented to Major Shelby by Army Maj. Gen. D. B. Johnson, deputy commanding general, ARADCOM.

Hunting and Fishing

By DICK MOORE

Seasons for sage and sharptail grouse, blue grouse and ptarmigan and chukar partridge were set by the Colordo Game, Fish and Parks Commission meeting recently.

Sage and sharptail grouse are legal game west of Highway 87 from September 12 through September 14, with a bag and possession limit of two and four. An extended season will be held in Rio Blanco County and part of Moffat County south and west of Dinosaur National Monument from Sept. 15 through Sept. 20 with the same bag and possession limits.

Blue grouse and ptarmigan can be hunted west of Highway 87 from September 12 through Sept. 20 and Oct. 3 through 11. Bag and possession limits for both seasons will be three and six of each species.

Chukar partridge may be taken on the western slope, except in the Escalante Creek drainage, from Sept. 12 through Sept. 27. In Montezuma and Dolores counties, the season will be Sept. 12 and 13 only. A post season will be held on chukars on the west slope except for the Escalante Creek drainage and Montezuma and Dolores counties from Nov. 7 through Nov. 22. Bag and possession limits for all chukar seasons will be four and eight.

Wild turkeys can be hunted statewide from October 3 through 11 with a bag and possession limit of one and one on the eastern slope and two and two of the west slope. In addition, turkeys can be hunted in Garfield County, part of Mesa County and the Uncompahgre Plateau from Nov. 21 through 29. Bag and possession limits for this season are two and two for part of Mesa and all of Garfield counties and three and three for the Uncompahgre Plateau.

No hunter is allowed more than three turkeys under any circumstances during 1964, so if you got a turkey during the early May spring gobbler season this year, you may not hunt the eastern slope and may take a maximum of two turkeys only during the fall western slope seasons.

Word has been received that Nancy Shockey, 12, of Colorado Springs caught a 15-pound (42 inch) Northern Pike while vacationing in Bemidiji, Minn. She caught the fish at a lake nearby Bemidiji on minnow.

If mallards are in short supply these recnt years, it's through no fault of their women-folk. Hounded by drought-stricken marshes in the North, and predator-plagued shorelines farther south, the mallard hen remains one of the most persistent nesters of all waterfowl, according to Dr. George Burger of Remingyon Arms wildlife management department.

A classic example of such obstinance in the face of odds comes from Remington Farms, on Maryland's Eastern Shore, where biologists engage in intensive studies of ways to increase wild waterfowl nesting. Back in late March, the heroine hen of this story set up housekeeping in a specially designed nestbox on a remote pond, as scores of her kind were doing all across the 3,000-acre Farms.

Being a determined type, Miz Mallard was incubating a whomping big clutch of 20 eggs by the end of April. She was safe from nest robbers in the protected box, but eyes other than those of Remington's biologists kept track of her progress. When the great day came in May and 12 downy fluffballs drifted to the pond from the nestbox and bobbed away after Momma, the owners of those eyes licked their collective chops and moved in.

Crows, horned owls, snapping turtles, raccoons, black bass, bullfrogs — nearly all things, it seems — love duckling dinners and this pond had more than its share of such critters. In 24 hours there were no more fluffballs.

And Momma? Mad, maybe, but not dimayed. There were eight eggs left in the nest, and by the next morning she was back to them with her life-giving warmth. By all odds these eggs should have been infertile, or any spark of life they contained long since extinguished. But patience and persistence can be rewarded in little lives, as well as big. Two days passed and the stubborn "Susy" emerged triupmhant with four more wee ones.

Predators are persistent, too. The next morning the four were two. Then one. Then none. This looked like the end. The hens of most duck species would have hollered uncle long before. Even many mallards would have been content to join a more successful sister and her brood, or retire to the reeds to molt and feed, free from the cares of tending young 'uns.

But not our gal. No moth-eaten gang of duckling-gulpers was about to foil her family plans, not if it took all summer. So, back to the old nest-box, now somewhat battered and askew, nearly empty of nest material and slightly on the ripe side from those four eggs that never made the grade. Out with the bad eggs, and on with the job at hand! It was June when she began anew; July by the time she was incubating the eight eggs of the fresh clutch.

July, when heat, not cold, threatened the tiny embryos, when her body shielded the eggs from the sun, from temperatures in the 90's, that made the outside of the box too hot to touch!

It seemed unlikely that the eggs would hatch. Even if they did, wouldn't the ducklings disappear just as they had twice before. Could the dogged duck make it against thes odds. She could, and she did. All eight of those eggs hatched! Half the ducklings vanished.

But Dr. Burger reports that four youngsters — now nearly grown and past most dangers — dabble on that remote pond at Remington Farms. With them is a mighty proud — and probably mighty pooped — Momma.

Many waterfowl species may be in trouble these days. But if the heroine of this story and her sisters have anything to say about it, the mallard, for one, is a long way from defeat.

NOTTINGHAM — This English twon has had its driest year.

THANK YOU, MR. JONES

(We recently came across the following suggestions written years ago for Telephone Installers by L. C. Jones, who started his Telephone career in Chicago in 1898. They offer some old-fashioned wisdom to every one of us who works for a living.)

1. "Put up a 'good front.'" It is not necessary to advertise any tailor shop; neither is it necessary to go about your work looking like a coal heaver. Overalls can look as respectable as anything else but they must at least show that they are on speaking terms with the laundryman, and shoes must have a bowing acquaintance with the bootblack.

2. Make the liveryman wash and oil your wagon and harness and do not tie the harness up with wire longer than is necessary to get proper repairs. The same may be said of your suspenders and buttons.

3. Say 'good morning' or 'good evening;' it doesn't cost anything and shows you started out right at home.

4. Go about your business cheerfully and quietly. When you enter a residence, don't overlook the footmat. If requested to go around to the back door, don't consider yourself insulted but try to realize that the lady of the house may not have a maid, and is only trying to save work for herself.

5. If you ever believe that a subscriber is a crank, forget it. All of them are wise enough to tell when a telephone is not working right. Not every troubleman can do this.

6. Be courteous and polite, and don't be afraid to hand out a little jolly occasionally; it doesn't hurt anybody's feelings to be jollied a little.

7. Treat everybody as you like to be treated, not forgetting your horse, if you want to know the horse's side of it just take off your coat and hat some zero day, hitch yourself to the same post with your belt, and stand there about two hours. Hereafter don't forget his blanket.

8. Don't go pell mell through the streets regardless of pedestrians as though you were going after your salary check. The fact that man is always in a hurry doesn't always mean that he is accomplishing overmuch.

9. Cultivate the friendship of the people with whom you do business; it makes friends for the company, and friendship is essential to true success.

BEGINNER'S LUCK — Six-year-old Jeanna Williams Tuesday initiated the fishing outfit which her grandparents gave her by landing an 18-inch, 3½-pound trout at Eleven Mile Reservoir. She was fishing with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shive of Rural Route 2 when she snagged the big trout on worms. Her grandfather had to help net the fish. Jeanna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Williams of 6500 E. Highway 24. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

DIDN'T JUDGE GIRLS

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —The Miss America Pageant, which began in 1921, had its origin in the Floral Parade held in 1902.

The Floral Parade was made up of rolling chairs decorated with flowers, with a girl in each chair. However, only the beauty of the decorated chairs, and not that of the girls, was judged.

Jury Dismissed; Case Settled Out of Court

A $50,000 personal injury suit which was being tried in District Court since Tuesday was settled out of court Thursday. No details of the settlement were disclosed, and the jury was dismissed.

The suit was filed by Philip C. Engel, 1100 Rosemont Dr., against S. H. Heady, 1508 Rosemont Dr.

It was alleged that the plaintiff received severe injuries Sept. 21, 1963, when he was thrown throught the windshield of a pickup driven by the defendant.

According to the complaint, the two men were antelope hunting and Heady was driving at more than 50 miles per hour. Engel said his requests that Heady drive more carefully were ignored and that finally the vehicle went into a large drainage crossing.

Judge Hunter D. Hardeman was on the bench.

Florence May Use Cigaret Tax Money for Fire Truck

Florence city councilmen agreed Monday night to instruct the city's budget committee to consider a $600 annual increase for the Florence Public Library in 1965 and also to consider using cigaret tax monies to purchase a new city fire truck estimated to cost between $12,000 and $14,000.

The council approved a request by City Manager Frank Carochi to purchase an install a gas chlorinator for the reservoir filters and buy and erect 800 feet of hog wire fencing at Union Highland cemetery. Cost of the chlorinator was estimated at $1,130 and will be bought through the Denver Pump company.

Dr. Richard Rydberg, speaking to the council on behalf of the library board, pointed out to the council that despite major advances made by the library since 1958 the library is still operating on a skelton budget and has lost $300 in state aid because of lack of local participation.

He sited low salary figures for the librarian, lack of books for a minimum standard, need for more local financial and participation support for the state's withdrawal of aid funds.

The council agreed to ask the budget committee to hike the city's contribution to the library from $3,400 to $4,000 anually.

In his report to the city council, Manager Carochi noted that the new sprinkling system for Pioneer Park will be installed this month. The system, all steel pipe, will cost the city $1,690. After the system is installed the park will be landscaped either this fall or next spring. Cross walks will be black-topped next summer, the manager said.

Carochi told the council that current paving in the city is progressing on schedule and noted that water in the reservoirs is holding up well with 24 feet in No. 1-2 and 15 feet in No. 3. Last month the city pumped 9 millions gallons at its filtration plant and used 8.5 million gallons from the reservoirs.

Cigaret tax monies collected in August totaled $984 bringing the two-month total to $1,437. This fund, earmarked for capital improvements, is slated by budget commitee for consideration for a new fire truck.

Police fines for August totaled $244. The police department reported answering 156 calls and issued 27 traffic tickets.

Still under study by the council is the Home Rule plan and insurance for the new Pioneer Day museum building which is now owned by the city.

In his report to the council City Inspector Carl Meyers noted that building permit valuation for August totaled $7,900 with 22 permits issued. Of this total, 11 were for remodeling homes. He also noted that paving has been completed on Third street and also on Oriole Avenue in the Robin subdivision. Front street and Petroleum avenue are ready for black-topping and four blocks of alleys are about ready for paving, Meyers noted.

Wrongful Death Suit Starts in District Court

A $25,000 wrongful death suit started in District Court Thursday. The matter is being heard by a jury and Judge G. Russell Miller is on the bench.

It has been brought by Eldon W. Hobbs, Freemont, Calif. and Mrs. Hazel Weatherly, Clifton, Colo., against Jerry Alan Donley, administrator of the estate of the late Thomas Andrew Murphy and Adabel Murphy, Simla.

According to the complaint, the Hobbs' son, Dean Milton Hobbs, 16, was a passenger in a car driven by Mr. Murphy, Oct. 14, 1963. The vehicle was owned by Adabel Murphy.

It is alleged that the car crossed into the "opposite - going" lane of traffic, collided head-on with another vehicle and that Dean Milton Hobbs was fatally injured.

Singer Abbe Lane To Wed Theater Agent

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Abbe Lane, divorced three months ago from band leader Xavier Cugat, says she's going to marry Hollywood theatrical agent Perry Leff as soon as he gets a divorce.

"We haven't set a definite date," said Miss Lane. "We hope it will be in the near future."

"Well, wonderful," was the comment of Cugat, who also had some news. He's thinking about marrying Charo de Bru, the Spanish lass who's singing with his band.

"She has asked to marry me," said Cugat. "I have to give it some thought; she's only 18."

Cugat is 63.

Abbe was only 18 when Cugat married her. But that was 12 years ago.

Miss Lane, who's appearing at a New York night club, said she met Leff, 38, in July. He already was in the process of getting a divorce, she said.

The Palmer Lake Community Library announces that beginning Tuesday Sept. 8, the library will be open Tuesdays from 4 to 6 p.m. and Thursdays from 4 to 6 p.m., instead of in the mornings on these days. The other library hours will continue the same and are: Mondays, 4 to 6 p.m.; Wednesdays, 3 to 6 p.m.; Fridays, 4 to 6 p.m.; and Saturdays 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

New Juvenile books received are, "Fireman Save My Cat," by Tony Palazzo, "The Christmas Ghost" by Pearl Buck; "The Goose Girl" by M. de Angell; "Aviation" and "Geology" in Boy Scout Merit Badge Series, "Nursery Tales for Children," "The Christmas Manger" by McCandless and Little, "The Bible Story," "The Walker House Mystery" by Betty Rogers, "Ben Hur" by Lewis Wallace, "Kit Carson's Own Life Story," "There's Adventure in Astronautics" by Julian May, "P. T. Barnum, Circus Boy," "The Boy Who Braved the Unknown" by G. Van Riper Jr., "Richard Byrd," "Mystery of Hurricane Castle," and "Popular Crafts" by E. T. Hamilton.

William Dobson of Scott City, Kan., spent the Labor Day weekend with Col. and Mrs. Carl F. Duffner. Mr. Dobson is Mrs. Duffner's brother.

The Lee McKittrick family spent the holiday weekend at the family cottage in Palmer Lake.

Mrs. Janice Davis and sons, Robert and Rogers, spent Sunday with her parents, the Rogers M. McDonoughs. Mrs. Ona Allen of Colorado Springs also visited the McDonough home on Sunday.

Mrs. Raymond Purcell entertained The Little Art Group at luncheon on Thursday, September 3rd. Members and guests present were Ruth Staeben, Tony Ebbe, Nell McGinnis Hannon, Marian Holden, Mrs. Purcell's daughter, Leda Wilson, Thelma Finefrock and her sister Evalyn Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Baker, who have been visiting Mrs. Baker's brother-in-law and sister, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Meryl Finefrock, returned to their home in Arkansas City, Kan., on Sept. 8. The Finefrocks took their guests to Cripple Creek on Friday last and had dinner at Fisherman's Inn in Green Mountain Falls. Saturday Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Finefrock had lunch at the Broadmoor.

The first fall lesson meeting of the Little Art Group will be on Sept. 23 from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Palmer Lake Town Hall.

On Thursday, Sept. 17, Mrs. Meryl Finefrock will entertain at a morning Coffee at ten o'clock in her Pine Crest home. The honored guest will be Nell McGinnis Hannon.

Miss Ellen Little of Carmel, Calif., who has been visiting the M. Scott Carpenters, left for home last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Edwards returned to their home in Denver Monday. They will keep their Glen Park cottage open through the fall.

Palmer Lake Historical Society will meet at the Town Hall on Sept. 17. The program will be announced at a later date. Members are urged to be sure to save this evening and to bring a guest or prospective member.

Mother and Four Children Die in Home Explosion

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — The new homesite of a Henderson county family was a scene of charred rubble today. The mother and four children were dead as the result of an explosion and fire.

The blast ripped the roof from the trailer home of William Toombs, 55, and the whole thing burst into flames Thursday night, a witness said.

Toombs' wife, Mary, 30, died along with George, 4; Thelma, 3; Kenneth, 2, and William Jr., 1.

Toombs suffered burns, as did his niece, Sharon Albers, 19. They were hospitalized at Henderson.

The area is about 15 miles east of Henderson, in western Kentucky.

Two other children and a brother of Mrs. Toombs were in the yard at the time and escaped injury. They were Mary Ann Toombs, 6; James Ragillio, 10, a step-son; and John Snyder, 15.

The Toombs' moved to the area from Evansville, Ind.

Miss Albers said Toombs was attempting to repair a leak on a bottled-gas stove when the explosion occurred.

Authorities said Mrs. Toombs apparently survived the blast and perished when she threw herself across the children to protect them from the flames.

Premier of Japan Does Not Have Cancer

TOKYO (AP) — Daily medical examination have not uncovered any evidence that Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda has cancer, his doctors said today.

The prime minister entered the National Cancer Center Hospital in Tokyo for tests.

Ikeda's personal physician, Dr. Yoshisato Hiki, said Wednesday the prime minister has chronic laryngitis. Hiki said he believes the condition is caused by fatigue.

Goldwater Says He Will Remain Ham Operator

Seattle, Wash. (AP) — If Sen. Barry Goldwater gets to the White House he hopes to spend some leisure time conversing with heads of state from his ham radio shack.

That's what the Republican presidential candidate told an amateur radio operator in Seattle as his plane winged its way eastward Thursday.

Jon Martin, 27, ham operator and an employe of radio station KETO, set up the conversation with Goldwater after meeting him at the airport when the Arizona senator arrived for a speech Wednesday.

"I told Barry I was representing hams in this area and we wanted to talk to him," Martin said. "I really wasn't, but I just said that.

"He stopped, but his wife urged him on. I gather she doesn't like ham radio too well. But Barry said, 'Just a minute, dear'."

Martin said when he went to Goldwater's plane to help get things ready for the talk, "I could see his wife groan. Then she got up and asked, 'Does anybody mind if I go back and sit with the press?' "

Martin is a Republican and a Goldwater supporter.

The two talked for about five minutes as the Goldwater party headed for Boise, Idaho.

Here is their conversation:

Martin: "I want to ask how you pronounce the name of your ship."

Goldwater: "The name of the ship is 'Yai Bi Ken.' It's an Indian name, meaning 'house in the sky.

Martin: "I'd like to ask you how you enjoyed your stay here in Seattle."

Goldwater: "I enjoyed my stay in Seattle immensely. My wife and I have been to Seattle many times. We have been on some very nice fishing trips out of there and up into Vancouver (B.C.) and the inlets. We've been up there to visit friends, and I'm always thrilled to get back to this great city in the Northwest. I'm particularly happy to be at the Boeing flight line because I've flown in almost every Boeing that's ever been built, and I have a great respect for them. You can tell folks — your listeners — that I really do enjoy visiting the city and I look forward to coming back many times in the future."

Martin: "Persuming that one day in the near future you will be in the White House, will you have a ham shack there, Barry?"

Goldwater: "Roger, Jon. I would expect to have one just to spend what leisure moments the President might have working with the fellows around the country. It's a great relaxation, and there are several heads of states in other countries and particularly a monsignor in the Vatican that use the service and like it immensely." (at this point the recording became inaudible, but Martin remembered the conversation thusly:)

"Martin: "Do you have any opinion on the recent FCC (Federal Communications Commission) ruling regarding charging of fees for modification or renewal of amateur and commercial radio station licenses? And would you expect if you were in the presidency, any changes in the FCC regulations from what they are at present?"

Goldwater: "I think the FCC is doing a fine job and I'm satisfied with the way it is being operated at the moment."
